PREFATORY NOTE.

H/Genealogical-22.50 (4 Vols)

At the suggestion of many Subscribers to the original quarterly publication of "Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica," the present work was started to appear under the same Title, but at more frequent intervals, and at a reduced price.

The Editor has every reason to be satisfied with the reception which has been accorded to the present volume; and it is not proposed to prolong the existence of the larger Miscellany beyond Volume II., which is now nearly completed. It may be convenient to state, in this place, that the Quarterly and Monthly series have been kept quite distinct as regards their contents. There has been no reprinting.

The number of Subscribers continues to increase, and it is gratifying to the Editor to find that his labours are appreciated not only in this country but also in the United States. It was, indeed, to be expected that a periodical containing so large a proportion of inedited matter, extracts from church registers, tabular pedigrees and the like, illustrating the descent and arms of the more modern British families, should be found deserving of encouragement by those zealous students of genealogy whose number is daily increasing in the older English settlements of North America.

The Volume now completed will be found to contain many original documents of interest, and in particular several early wills, grants of arms, and notes of curious deeds and seals, presenting, it is hoped, attractive matter to the antiquarian public in general.

To all those friends whose contributions so liberally placed at his disposal have materially furthered the design, the Editor for himself, and on the part of the whole body of Subscribers, must offer his very cordial thanks.

No efforts will be spared to render the continuation of the work deserving of the kind patronage which has been extended to the portion now completed.

CHAPMAN.

The following memoranda‡ relate to the family of Sir John Chapman, Kt., the well-known Lord Mayor of 1688, whose pedigree is very imperfectly exhibited in the Baronetages. Lord Macaulay (Hist. of England, ii. 557) graphically describes the fatal agitation of the Lord Mayor when Lord Chancellor Jeffreys was dragged before him, in the riots which followed the abdication of King James, although he omits to mention his name. He says, "The Mayor was a simple man, who had passed his whole life in obscurity, and was bewildered by finding himself an important factor in a mighty revolution. The events of the last twenty-four hours, and the perilous state of the City which was under his charge, had disordered his mind and his body. When the great man, at whose frown, a few days before, the whole kingdom had trembled was dragged into the justice-room begrimed with ashes, half-dead with fright, and followed by a raging multitude, the agitation of the unfortunate Mayor rose to the height. He fell into fits and was carried to his bed, whence he never rose." It may be doubted, however, whether Macaulay has done justice to the political experience of Sir John Chapman, for Sir John was one of the six aldermen of London, who were displaced in 1687 for opposing the address in favour of the Declaration of Indulgence; and his contemporary Dr. Scott, the Rector of St. Giles-in-the-Fields, praises in high terms the wisdom and prudence of BELLOT.

I have found in my muniment-room an old paper giving the pedigree of one generation of the Bellot family of Moreton, temp. H. 8. As it corrects some errors in the pedigree given by Ormerod, and supplies some interesting particulars, it may be worthy of a place in the 'Miscellanea.'

The Family of Trevor, etc.*—Since writing the account of the above family in the pages of your truly valuable and interesting miscellany, I beg leave to correct a mistake I made at p. 79 and to append a few further particulars. At p. 79 I stated that Justin MacCarthy married secondly a daughter of Sir Thomas Hawes, Knt.,

* 'Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica,' vol. i. pp. 78–80.

of London. Now Justin was a member of the family of MacCarthys of "Gleann a-Chroim," or the "Vale of Crom," and it was his brother Denis (eldest son of Denis MacCarthy, Esq., of co. Cork, and of Squire's Mount, Hampstead, by his cousin Mary), who was father of Sir Charles Justin, Governor of Ceylon. Sir Charles married, in 1848, Sophia Brunel, eldest daughter of Sir Benj. Hawes, K.C.B., Under Secretary of War (M.P. for Lambeth 1832–47 and for Kinsale 1848–52). He was appointed Auditor-General of Ceylon in 1847, Colonial Secretary of that island 1852, Governor in 1860, and died October, 1864. Daniel, nephew of Charles Justin, author of the 'Life and Letters of Florence MacCarthy Reagh, Tanist of Carbery,' married Harriet, daughter of Admiral Sir Home Popham.

James MacCarthy, a Lieutenant in the 21st (Royal North British Fusiliers) regiment of the line, died at Barbadoes, January 23, 1842, leaving issue by his wife, Isabella Gowland, four sons and a daughter, viz. 2, Edward Fredk. Augustus, late of H.M.'s 24th (2nd Warwickshire) and 35th (Sussex) regiments; 4, Thomas James, born 1840, died of cholera at Morar Gwalior in 1861; 5, James Justin; 1, Henrietta Louisa, born 1835, died 1838; 3, Eliza Sarah Ann, married, in 1865, Dr. Glen, a surgeon to the Indian Government. The father of James MacCarthy was Edward, born 1768, married Sarah Bull, at St. Ann's, Westminster, 29th November, 1789. He served in the 50th (West Kent, or Queen's Own) regiment, and afterwards as Assistant Engineer of the Third Division, under Lieut.-General Sir Thos. Picton, and was severely wounded at the storming of Badajos, at the storming of Fort Napoleon, Almarez, and the battle of Corunna. He had issue,— 1, Sarah, born May 15, 1793, died at Slough, April, 1865, unmarried; 2, Edw. Denis, born June 24, 1795, died of dysentery and fever while Lieutenant commanding 1500 men in the bush against the Ashantees, buried at Cape Coast Castle, married; 3, William Justin, born July 24, 1797, late 84th (York and Lancaster) regiment, retired Lieut.-Colonel, now living at Bedford, married; 4, James born 24 August, 1801, died of yellow fever at Prince Rupert's Bay, Dominica, December, 1841, while serving as Lieutenant in the 3rd West India regiment.

Dr. MacCarthy, another member of the same family, now or latterly resided at Wellington, Salop.

CHURCH REGISTER.—I have in my possession part of a church register, and give a short description of its contents, since I am anxious to restore it to the book from whence the leaf has been torn out.

The fragment when folded forms four narrow folio pages, the first entries being,— "October 1670. the wife of M^{r} Jeames Whelar was buryed the 21 day.

"October 1670. from the Swann. John Maynard was buryed the 26 day."

I extract a few others:—

"December 1670 John Rennolds was buryed the 9 day.
"Jeames the son of Jeames Wheler was buryed the 29 day.
"January. the wife of Edward Cotwell was buryed the 25 day.
"Abrill 1671 Mary the wife of Abell Stannard was buryed the 6 day.
"Lawrante ffinch was buryed the 22 day.
"July Rose Wilbe widdo was buryed the 24 day.
"Elisebeth daughtar of Jeames Harrison by Rose his wife was buryd the 28 day.
"August Johanna Osborne widdo was buryed the first day."

On satisfactory proof being furnished, I will, with pleasure, restore the fragment to its proper place.

Eastry.—(1.) In the List of the Vicars of the Parish of Eastry there is a gap between the year 1455, when John Craller, Rector of Hartleport, dioc. Lincoln, exchanged with Robt. Dekyn, Vicar of Eastry (Reg. Bouch. f. 60 b, Lambeth), and the year 1517, when Richard Maister was collated to the vicarage, then vacant by the death of the last incumbent,—name not mentioned (Reg. Warh. f. 363 b); and although I have been able to fill up this gap partially with "Sir" William Craller in 1479 and Master Thomas Aschowe in 1487, from wills, yet still there remains a gap between 1507, when Aschowe died, and 1517, when Maister was instituted. Can you or any of your readers supply the name of the missing vicar?

A.D. 1455, John Craller.
A.D. 1487, Master Thomas Aschowe; died 1507.
A.D. 1517, Richard Maister, S.T.B.

(2.) Again, Thomas Sawyer was appointed vicar in 1553 (Hasted), and John Lawson in January, 1557, o.s. (Reg. Pol. f. 76 a); but in the same register, Robert Hill, who resigned, is mentioned as the predecessor of Lawson. Query, in what year was Hill collated to Eastry?

(3.) Also, in what year was Peter Lymiter (whose name and date of death, A.D. 1580, we gather from the parish register) appointed?

(4.) Can you give me any information respecting the family of Samuel Nicols, appointed Vicar of Eastry 1590, died 1638/9? He seems to have been possessed of some land in the parish, as he is mentioned in an old rental of 1633, and in the terriers also, as the owner of lands adjoining the glebe. His daughter married one of the Paramors of Statenborough. I judge from the fact of his having bought (?) or inherited (?) lands in the parish that he must have been a man of property, and perhaps also of family. Prior to his being Vicar of Eastry, he appears to have been Rector of Little Mongeham in 1588.

If you or any of your correspondents can throw any light on the matters above mentioned, I shall be very glad. W. F. S.

Frodsham.—Formerly a small bell was suspended outside the tower of Frodsham Church, Cheshire, and was called the "Dagtale" Bell, being rung (immediately after the ordinary bells had ceased ringing) by a man, posted at a window or opening in the tower, when he saw the vicar coming to celebrate service. What was the origin of the practice, and word "Dagtale"?

2. Under the battlements on the east face of the same tower is a tablet, in relief, containing the letters "Bho"; what do they signify? On the south side of Kirkby Malgdale (Craven?) Church-tower are the letters "G N R." The ages of all are perhaps of about the fifteenth century,—maybe much earlier. Double Christian names were unknown, otherwise these initials might have belonged to some builder or restorer of the churches. Is it possible they are the initials of the several surnames of restorers?

3. Can any correspondent refer me to any evidence of the founder of the family of Sir Christopher Hatton, K.G., being brother of Nigel, first Baron of Halton, Cheshire, and of such family being descended, maternally, from the old Counts of Britagne and Dukes of Normandy?

4. I am also desirous of knowing of what family were the Downes of Manby (Lincoln) and Stockwell (Surrey), John the Regicide being of this stock.

T. Helsby.

Names of Places.—I wish to determine accurately the origin of the following names of parishes in Essex:—Stifford, Grays, Little Thurrock, Chadwell, West Tilbury, East Tilbury, Mucking, Stanford-le-Hope, Corringham, Fobbing, Horndon-on-Hill, Laindon Hills, Bulphan, Orsett, North and South Ockendon, Rainham, Wennington, Aveley, West Thurrock. Morant's derivations are often unsatisfactory. Hints and references in respect of the above, or any of them, will oblige,

Webb alias Wood.†

The readers of the Chapman Pedigree (printed at page 6) will have observed that Sir John Chapman, the Lord Mayor, and his son Sir William, both married into the family of Webb, & that their wives were descended from a sister of Sir Henry Wood, Kt. and Bart., of Loudham Park, in Suffolk. Sir Wm. Chapman was one of the Directors of the South Sea Company, and his estate was confiscated by Parliament in 1721, on the collapse of that unfortunate scheme: but his sons inherited considerable wealth from their mother's family. Sir Henry Wood, by his will and settlement, both dated in May, 1671, had settled his great estates in Suffolk on his daughter Mary, afterwards Duchess of Southampton, in strict settlement; with remainder to his brother Thomas, Bishop of Lichfield, in tail; with remainder to his sister Lady Mary Chester in tail male; with remainder to his sister Elizabeth Webb in tail male; with remainder to his own right heirs. On the death of Charles Cranmer, alias Wood, Esq., in September, 1743, the last tenant in tail under these limitations, the ultimate remainder to the heirs of Sir Henry came into effect, and the Wood estates were

STRANGWAYES.*

Dr Sr

Being at Whitby last Saturday I got yr Letter in the Afternoon, & after my Return home, as soon as time wd permit, fell to work with my own Parish-Register Books—The first of which is not very legible, but however, I have made out all things there that relate to yu we have no Inscription in the Church, nor Stones in the Churchyard wth ye name.

What I have found in Sneton-Register wch was made the first of Februarie in the yeare of our Lord God 1581, is as follows :

1592. James Strangwayes* Esquire as Sponsor or Surety October 1st & in many other places of the Register upon the like occasion, wch I omit for Brevitys sake, or rather because I imagine it may be of no use to you.

* Richard Strangwayes Esquire, Father of the said James is said to have been Lord, not only of the Manour of Sneton, but of Uggle-Barnby, Sleights, & Newton in this Neighbourhood.

1602. Henrye Strangwaye, consponsor, as is there called.
1604. Margrett Strangwayes, Sponsor, (wife of the above mentioned James Strangwayes, as I believe), often mentioned before upon the like Occasion.
1650. James son of Mr Henry Strangwayes, bapt. December 5.
1652. Mary, Daughter of Mr Henry Strangwayes, bapt. June 17th.
1653. Thomas Sonne of Henry Strangwayes Gent. bapt. April 28th.
1654. Henry ye Son of Henry Strangwayes Gent. bapt. June ye 22.
1655. Margaret Daughter of Henry Strangwayes Gent. bapt. Sept. ye 6th borne August ye 30th.
1656. John the Sonne of Henry Strangwayes Gent. borne Febr. ye 13th bapt. Feb. ye 17th.
1657. Dorothea Daughter of Henry Strangwayes Gent. bapt. Feb. ye 16th borne Feb. 9th.
1659. Jane Daughter of Henry Strangwayes Gent. borne May ye 13 baptised May ye —
1660. Charles son of Henry Strangwayes Gent. bapt. December ye laste 1660.
1662. August 20. William Son of Henry Strangwayes Gen. bapt.
1664. October 20. Katharine daught. of Henry Strangwayes bapt. Oct. 20.
1650. Henry Strangwayes of Sneaton Gent. & Mrs Margaret Mitford of Kirkeby Misperton marryed March ye 31st.
1588. Mistris Isabell Strangwayes was buried the 17 Daye of June An. D'ni 1588.
1598. James Strangways of Sneton Esquire was buried 21st Daye of Januarie Anno D'ni 1598.
1605. Margaret Strangwayes the wife of James Strangwayes Esquire of Sneton was buryed the 18th Day of December 1605.
1646. Arthur Strangwais buryed the last of August 1646.
1647. James Strangwayes Gentleman dyed ye 30th buryed ye 31 of August.
1665. Mrs Alice Strangwayes bur. Sept. 1.
Alice Wilson* the Daughter bur. Novr 27.

* Alice Wilson was the Daughter of Mrs Alice Strangwayes, as I suppose ; otherwise I do not know what it means.

1680. Dorothea Strangewayes of Hollinn's bur. May 18th 1680.
1681. Henry Strangwayes* of Hollin's Gent. was buryed in the chancell of the Church of Sneaton, march ye 27. 1681.

* This Henry Strangwayes removed from Sneton to a Place called Hollins (in the Parish of Whitby) about 3 miles from Sneton. He was grandfather to one Strangwayes Mead now of Sneton, & alive.

1693. One Thomas Strangways* Esquire granted a Warrant (as appears from the Parish Register of Sneton) to destrain for the Penalty of neglecting to bury in Woollen.

* This Thomas Strangways was of the Same Family & liued at Pickering, & probably died there. He was father to the late Justice Robinson of Pickering who changed his name, from Strangways to Robinson, upon the Account of some Estate left him by an Uncle.

1710. January 16 Margaret Strangeways buried.

This Sir is all the account I can meet with at present of the family of the Strangwayes, either from the Parish Register or from Report, w^{ch} I have Sent you to peruse; if it does not prove Sufficient, only write me word, & I will use my best endeavours to procure from the Parish Register of Whitby, if I can but have the perusal of it: if not, I shall not know what to do; for tho' their Parish Register is not so old as ours, yet it must be larger because of the Number of Inhabitants, & therefore will take up a great deal more Time.

My wife joins with me in Compliments to you, M^{rs} Strangwayes & y^{r} Sister.

I am, D^{r} S^{r}

W^{m} Herdsman.

Calvert of Cockerham.—Arms: Sable on an inescutcheon within an orle of owls argent, three guttées of the field. Crest: An owl argent, guttée sable.

John Calverley, 4th son of Sir Walter Calverley, Knt., farmed the manor and rectory of Cockerham, co. Lanc. He married a daughter of . . . Skillicorne, of Prees Hall, co. Lanc., Esq., and had issue—

William Calverley, of Cockerham. He married . . . daughter of . . . Cansfield, of Robert Hall, in Tatham, co. Lanc., Esq., and had issue—

Thomas Calverley, lord of the manor of Cockerham. He married Isabel, daughter of William Kirkby, of Rawcliff, Esq., and had issue—

John Calverte, alias Calverley, Esq., of whom hereafter.

Thomas Calverte, of Forton, in the parish of Cockerham, whose descendants remained here until early in the eighteenth century, when this line appears to have ended in an heiress.

John Calverte, alias Calverley, Esq., ob. 17 Jac. I. (1619–20), seized of the manor and rectory of Cockerham. He married Jane, daughter of Roger Dalton, of Pilling, Esq, and had issue—

Richard Calverte, eldest son and heir, æt. 14, Visit. St. George, 1613.

John Calverte, married Bridget, daughter of Thomas Stanley, of Great Eccleston, Esq., natural son of Henry, Earl of Derby.

Anne, married Roger Downes, of Wardley, co. Lanc., Esq.

Jane, Bridget, Elizabeth, and Alice.

The manor of Cockerham, parcel of the late monastery of Prees, in Leicester, was rated by the Crown, in 1557, for Thomas Calverte, in whose family it remained in 1650.

Can any of your correspondents furnish me with further particulars and descent of this family?

Joseph Gillow, junior.

Everard.—I am anxious to learn some particulars of the family of Everard. I find one buried at Bungay, in Suffolk, in 1658, and the latest date I can trace them to is 1665. One of them afterwards became Governor of North Carolina, under the lords proprietors. The arms were, argent a fesse wavy between three estoils.

C. Golding.

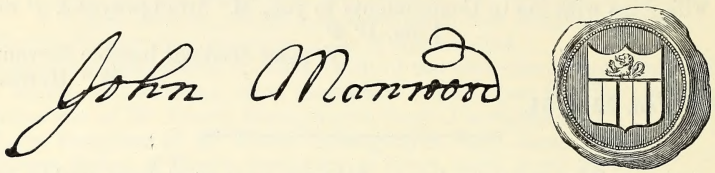
Paddington.

Richard de Haldingham, circa 1300–20.—Any information relating to this former Prebendary of Hereford and Lincoln Cathedrals would be highly valued. He was the author of the celebrated 'Mappa Mundi' preserved at Hereford, which will shortly be published. Is the time or place of his decease known?

Francis T. Havergal.

Stones.—Rev. Samuel Stones, Curate of Saddleworth in 1768, appointed Incumbent of Rawden, near Leeds, in 1780, and died there in 1823, aged 78. I am desirous of ascertaining where he was born, at what university and college he matriculated, and—as he is said to have had two wives, one named Bagshaw—the dates and places of marriage.

James Rusby.



Manwood.—I am anxious to obtain some information respecting the Manwood family, seated at the commencement of the eighteenth century at Bromfield, in Essex. The signature and seal of John Manwood, of Bromfield, occurs on a deed in my possession, dated 30 October, 1704. Mention is made in this deed of Katherine, wife of the said John Manwood.

A pedigree of the Manwoods is given in the Visitation of Kent, 1619, which ends with the issue of Peter Manwood, of St. Stephen's, Knight of the Bath, by Frances, daughter of Sir George Hart, of Lullingston, Knt. On a seal used by Roger Manwood, eldest son of this Peter Manwood, the pallets are represented as engrailed.

R. M.

Lucas.—Can any of your readers give information respecting William Lucas, born in England (perhaps Essex) about 1640, and emigrated to Middletown, Conn., about 1660?

James R. Lucas.

St. Paul, U. S. of America.

Portrait.—I possess an oil-painting, half length, 26 inches by 30, of a gentleman in wig and red gown, with long frill neckcloth and richly embroidered vest. In the dexter corner is the inscription,—

"Ætatis suæ 69
Anno dom.
Philo. Piscator."

In the sinister corner is the remains of the coat of arms, Sable, a "Fret" argent; crest, a talbot's head erased argent, collared and langued; motto ending "mo." Can any one give information as to whom the portrait might represent? There is to be seen in Chipping Norton, Oxon, churchyard, a gravestone with the inscription,—

"Here lyeth the body of Mr John Fisher Gent.
Jan. 23d An. Dom. 1658
In Mare Myrtoum
Incidit Piscator."

Jenner Marshall.

POWELL FAMILY.—Any information concerning Haslett Powell, whose descendants are given in the accompanying pedigree, is requested.

Haslett Powell, supposed to be of London, owner of land at Luton, co. Bedford, farmed by one Hopkins. = Ann.

- Ann, born 3 Sept[r] 1735. A . . . Mercer. ward of the Comp[y] of Needlemakers. Married A. Hall, died 1812. See obituary notices of her in the 'Gentleman's Magazine' for 1812, part. i. pp. 94, 198, 237.
  - Will[m] Mercer. died s. p.
  - A dau'r married Thomas Price & had issue John Price married Dora-Isabella dau. of Gen[l] Beatson Governor of S[t] Helena.
- Elizabeth. born 8 Sept. 1736. Ment[d] in will of her husband 1812. = Duncan Dallas, uncle to the Judge Sir Robert Dallas. Will dated 13 Feb[y] 1812, proved in C. P. C. 29 July 1814. Humphrey Hall executor. Died 19 July 1814. (Buried at Hornsey ?)
  - Harriet married to . . . Bush living 1812. Ment[d] in her father's will. =
    - Atkinson Bush.
    - James Bush.
  - Sophia married Peter Bernard and died v. p. He is mentioned as living in the will of Duncan Dallas 1812.
- . . . . a son born 8 June 1738 died young.

Ment[d] in Will of Duncan Dallas 1812.

GEORGE W. MARSHALL.

Weacombe, Bicknoller, Taunton.

WILLIAMS OF ABERYSTRUTH, OR BLAINA GWENT, MONMOUTHSHIRE.—The founder of this family was Caradoc ap Brane, or Cradocke Vraich-vras (strong arm), Duke of Gloucester, Earl of Hereford, Brecknock, and Radnor, Prince between the Wye and the Severn, called by the Romans, Caractacus, King of the Silures. He married Tegiruron, daughter and sole heiress to King Pelinor, and drove the Scots and Picts out of all her dominions. The arms of Williams are—Sable a chevron between three spears' heads argent, embrued proper (denoting descent from Caradoc) ; on a chief of the second, argent a wyverne's head erased vert, langued gules, holding a sinister hand in its mouth proper, dropping blood (denoting descent from Pelinor).

Oliver Cromwell comes down in a parallel line with this family from Sir Richard Williams, whose sister married Thomas, Lord Cromwell, Henry VIII.'s Chancellor. This Sir Richard Williams, after the execution of Lord Cromwell, assumed the name of Cromwell, and Oliver was his great grandson ; but Sir Richard's brother refused to change his name, and from him the present family are descended. Thomas, Lord Cromwell, had a sister, who married a Morgan Williams, whose son was ordered by Henry VIII. to take the name of Cromwell, and he became Sir Richard Cromwell, and was the grandfather of Oliver Cromwell. The arms borne on the private carriage of Oliver Cromwell were the same as those which are borne by Williams. Williams of Llangibby formerly bore the same arms, but on marrying into the Adams family they have adopted the arms of Adams.

Any information respecting the family of Williams whose ancestors resided at Havodavel, in the parish of Aberystruth, in the county of Monmouth, will be most thankfully accepted.

A. W.

LAWRENCE.—Can any of your readers tell me the name of the father and mother of Major-General Stringer Lawrence, who lies buried in Westminster Abbey ? He was born at Hereford in 1697.

L.

Cholmondeley Arms.—In an ancient pedigree roll, temp. Henry VII., or earlier, and in another ancient roll, being "Ye Kircke Role of ffrodesh': of alle y^e^ Seates yn the Kyrke of S. llaur'. ther' & y^e^ Chapelles thereof in Vigil' Assenc' dom' Anno rr. Henrici septimi X.," are window-shields for several families belonging to the parish and of others connected therewith: among them, Cholmondeley, bearing "gules three garbs or." Anciently, I believe, the charges were gules two mitres or in chief and a garb or in base, and so I took the blazon on these rolls to be, until a closer inspection convinced me of the two chief charges being garbs and not mitres. Can any of your correspondents inform me of any other instance of a similar blazon? The date of these would be about the opening of the fifteenth century in the one case, and as early as the beginning of the fourteenth century in the other. They are certainly intended for the Cholmondeley arms, and may have been borne some time before the two mitres were adopted, which in their turn were supplanted by the esquires' helmets.

T. Helsby.

Westcott Family.—The seal figured in the woodcut is appended to an indenture, dated 18 January, 1716, between "Mary Susanna Westcott of the parish of S^t^ Margaret in the liberty of Westminster, widow, Relict and Executrix and Devisee named in the last will and testament of Samuel Westcott late of the city of Chichester in the county of Sussex gentleman deceased late one of the Lieutenants in Brigadier Holts Regiment of Marines and son & heir of John Westcott late Citizen and Apothecary of London deceased who was son and heir of John Westcott of Ham in the parish of Kingston upon Thames in the County of Surrey maultman deceased of the one part and William Balfour of Thames Ditton in the said County of Surry Esquire of the other part," relating to the sale of a Tenement "now in the occupation of Mary Westcott widow & relict of the said John Westcott and mother of the said Samuel Westcott, being at Ham which was purchased by the said John Westcott the father, of Nicholas Lane of Balley Kelley in the Kingdom of Ireland by deed dated 19 July 1658."

The autograph of Mary Susanna Westcott is in the fold of the deed. Can any of your correspondents refer me to a pedigree of the Westcott family, and also say whether this seal, used by Mary Susanna Westcott, bears the arms of the family.

G. A. W.

Cosin. Skinner.—In a pedigree of Dr. Cosin, Bishop of Durham, 1660–1672, in Surtees's 'History of Durham,' i. pt. i. p. cvi, it is stated that one of his sisters, Mary, married . . . Skinner. This lady appears to have been baptized at St. Andrew's, Norwich, 27 April, 1606. I wish to obtain proof of this marriage, as well as some further information regarding Mr. Skinner, and shall feel greatly obliged by any communication on both or either points addressed direct to myself. The marriage has been searched for at St. Andrew's, Norwich, but without success.

† The same pedigree is found in Harl. MSS. 1552, f. 64, b, with the following slight variations: Richard B., who married Jane Andrews, is styled "S^r^ Richard Bolter;" and in the list of his children, Ursula becomes Priscilla.

Copies of monumental inscriptions to some of this family in the chancel of St. Etheldred's, Norwich, are given (incorrectly) in Blomefield's 'Norfolk,' iv. 74. They are to the memory of Richard Bolter, gentleman, of South Creake, who died 30 [Sept.] 1622, aged 63; Mr. William Bolter, who died 10 Dec. 1639, and Margaret, his wife, who died 24 Feb. 1664. I am indebted to Mr. John L'Estrange, of Norwich, for obtaining me correct copies.

Elizabeth Bolter is not mentioned in the pedigree of Bickham of Narford in the Visit. of Norf. (Norf. Arch. Soc.), p. 8.

* This inscription is on a flat stone in the old churchyard at Hackney.

† This monument is now lying in pieces in the Rowe Mausoleum at Hackney, and might be restored at a very small expense.

[The arms of Chester, as granted on 22 May, 1467, by William Hawkslow, Clarencieux, to William Chester, of London, were enclosed "within a bordure engrailed gules bezanty;" but the bordure was disused by Sir John Chester, the fourth baronet, and his descendants, although it appears on the monument of his brother, Henry Chester, Esq., at East Haddon, who died in 1726.

Sir Francis Chester is in all the baronetages confused with his son. He was the fifth son of Sir John Chester, fourth baronet, by Anne, daughter and coheir of Wm. Wollaston, Esq, and was born at Shenton Hall, in Leicestershire, the seat of the Wollaston family in 1693. He married, on 4 March, 1717–18, his cousin, Bethia Webb, of whom and her son full particulars will be found in the pedigree of Webb at page 15. On 25 May, 1755, he succeeded as the eighth baronet on the death of his nephew, Sir Charles Bagot Chester, but he did not succeed to the Chicheley estate, for it was alienated by the will of Sir Charles from the blood and family of Chester. Sir Francis survived his only child, and died a lunatic at Chelsea, 18 December, 1766. He was the last male descendant of the fourth baronet, and on the death of his cousin and successor, Sir Anthony Chester, the ninth baronet, 17 May, 1769, the male line of Chester became extinct.]

WILL OF HUMPHREY HALL OF GOLDINGS IN THE PARISH OF BENGEO, CO. HERTFORD, GENT. DATED 30 JANUARY, 1690.

To be buried in Bengeo chancel, a fair stone or monument* to be set upon the wall and a plain stone on my grave to keep it decent, forty pounds to be laid out upon the monument. £50 to poor of Bengeo to be laid out in the purchase of land the rent to be paid to them yearly on S^{t} Thomas's Day. To my loving kinsman and nephew Danyell Hall my brothers son my messuage called Goldings wherein I live with the lands etc belonging, my lands at Branfield, lands at Haven end in the parish of Standon, and lands at Wormeley for life, and to his first &c and

* This passage in Chauncy's 'Antiquities of Hertfordshire,' folio ed., p. 269, refers to the above monument:—

"There is no Gravestone, nor other remark in this Church, (Bengeo), more than that Mr. Humphrey Hall, who had a fair House in this Parish, called Thomsons, where he lately died, and was buried in this Parish-Church; his Executor as I am informed has provided a fair Marble to cover him; but I could not obtain a sight of the Inscription, therefore cannot insert it; however I ought to let the World know that he frequented the Church, was beloved by the Gentry; just to his Neighbour, and Charitable to the Poor; and by his Will dated 30 Jan, 1690, gave 50l to be laid out in a Purchase of Fifty Shillings per Annum to be paid Yearly to the Poor of this Parish." See also Salmon's 'History of Hertfordshire,' under Bengeo; Clutterbuck's 'History of Co. Hertford,' vol. ii. p. 29. Thomsons was another name for Goldings, for in the Register of Burials at Bengeo, the interment of Humphrey Hall's wife I find thus entered:—"1689. July 5. Mrs. Hall of Goldings alias Tomsins in y^{s} Parish, Aff^{t}."

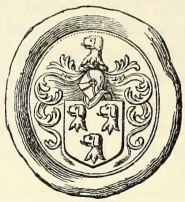
"May y^{e} 2nd 1717. Memorand. Tis agreed at a vestry this day held y^{t} y^{e} vicar & churchwarden & overseers for y^{e} poor of our par^{sh} of Bengeo shall ha' power to employ a proper Attorney to sue for y^{e} Legacy left to ye poor of our par^{sh} by Humphry Hall Gent deceased."

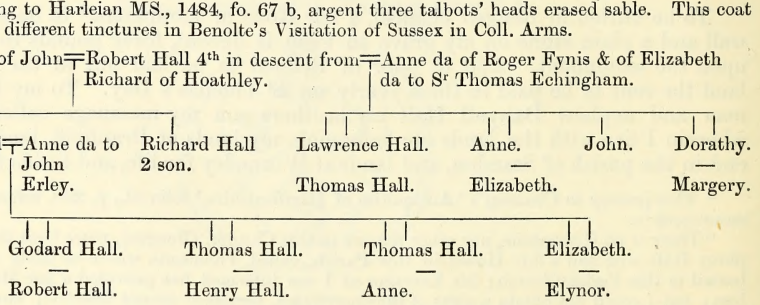
What may have been the result of this resolution I am unable to say; but Humphrey Hall's charity is not now known in Bengeo.

every other son &c in tail male, remainder over in default of such issue to the poor Children of Christs Hospital in fee. Furniture in House at Goldings to said Danyell Hall for life and if he leaves a son to such son he paying to my neice Dorothy Hall the daughter of my nephew £200. If Danyell Hall dies without a son my pictures shall always go with the house to remain therein and not be removed elsewhere. My desire is that if my estate ever happens to come to the said Hospital that they will endeavour to have a tenant or other good person of my name (Hall) to live in Goldings house. Witnesses, Thomas Gouge, Jo Chauncy* Sen^{r}, John Chauncy Jun^{r}, Ann Handcock. Proved in the Prerogative court of Canterbury by Daniel Hall, 17 Dec^{r} 1701. (Dyer 168.)



The above cut is taken from the seal to the original will, and is curious as affording a presumption that it was of much older date than 1690. Humphrey was the son of Thomas, and grandson of John Hall, who respectively recorded their pedigrees at the Visitations of London in 1568 and 1633. Vide 'Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica,' vol. ii. p. 255. In both the arms are entered as, argent three talbots' heads erased sable between nine cross crosslets gules. The seal of Humphrey Hall, however, altogether omits the cross crosslets, and shows merely the three talbots' heads erased. It is, however, evident that Humphrey did not purposely omit the cross crosslets; for on his monument, now remaining in the old parish church of Bengeo, they appear plainly enough, and have been ever since used by his descendants. This naturally suggests the inquiry as to whether he was entitled to the coat without the cross crosslets. Had the seal been engraved for Humphrey Hall, the omission of the cross crosslets might have been an error of the engraver; but I incline to think this was not the case for two reasons: first, because the appearance of the impression is, in my opinion, that of a seal of older date than Humphrey Hall's time; and secondly, because I can show some probability that he was descended out of a family who bore for arms three talbots' heads erased without the addition of cross crosslets. The cross crosslets may have been merely a mark of cadency assigned by the Heralds. The Halls of Henwick, co. Worcester, and of Leicestershire, who were of the same family, bore them azure instead of gules; thus affording a strong presumption that they were differences added to the original coat for younger branches.

John Hall, before mentioned, was son of Thomas Hall, of Warnham, co. Sussex, and I conjecture that he was one of the descendants of Richard Hall, of Howland, in Hoathley, co. Sussex, who bore, according to Harleian MS., 1484, fo. 67 b, argent three talbots' heads erased sable. This coat is given with different tinctures in Benolte's Visitation of Sussex in Coll. Arms.



These latter must have been living about the same time as Thomas of Warnham, and were of Horsham. (See references to various copies of above pedigree in Sims's Index to the Herald's Visitations, under Hall of Horsham, and Hawle of Ore, p. 289.) John Hall, grandfather of Humphrey, was of kin to a Thomas of Horsham,† but in what degree I have not as yet been able to ascertain ; and I think it highly probable that the latter may have been one of the Thomas's mentioned in the pedigree. I need scarcely say I shall feel much obliged to any of your correspondents who will aid me in finding out whether my conjectures are right or wrong.

* There was probably a connection between the Chauncys and Humphrey Hall. Anne, sister to Sir Henry Chauncy, married Henry Hall, of Poplar, who bore the same arms as Humphrey Hall. The Halls of Poplar I believe to have been descended from Daniell Hall, citizen and clothworker, of London, who was buried at St. Nicholas Acon, 25 June, 1625. He may possibly have been a brother of John Hall, of London, draper, who was grandfather of Humphrey Hall. I shall be glad of any information as to the Halls of Poplar, who were subsequently of Wickford, co. Essex, where they remained till the latter end of the last century.

VAWDREY INSCRIPTIONS.

Bowden Church, Cheshire.*

[These inscriptions were discovered a few years ago on the occasion of rebuilding the church. The one commemorating William Vawdrey has since disappeared, but probably it may only be turned over.

Owlerbarrow is distant about half a mile from Bowden Church, and is in the township of Hale.

In 1761 the estate of Owlerbarrow was advertised for sale by the then owner, Mr. Thomas Ashley, and consisted of 24 acres, a pew in Bowden Church, and subject to a small chief rent of 10*d.* per year. The house is a plain building of brick, having been rebuilt shortly before 1761.

Bank, or Bank Hall as it is now called, also in the township of Hale, is of brick, rebuilt about 1761, but showing some slight remains of an older brick building. During some repairs, the date 1607 was found on a beam, but was thoughtlessly thrown among the firewood and burnt. A portion of the moat still remains.]

Manwood (p. 22).—R. M. may be pleased to learn, in reference to the "Manwood" family, the following notes:—

Thomas Manwood (son of John Manwood) of the Prior's Mansion, in Bromfield, Essex, married Ann Love. This Thomas M. died 20 September, 1650, aged 63, and left three sons and six daughters.

John Manwood (one of the three sons) married Diana Gold. This John M. died 11 April, 1705, aged 63, and left one son and two daughters, viz. Thomas, Diana, and Katherine.

Katherine married the Rev. Oliver Pocklington of Chelmsford, and had one son and three daughters, viz. Katherine, Thomas, Diana, and Ann.

Thomas was the only one alive in 1728.

Manwood (p. 22).—There is an inscription against the north wall of Bromfield Church commemorating Thomas Manwood, who is stated to be the son of John Manwood, Esq., compiler of a learned treatise on Forest Laws, and nearly allied to Sir Roger Manwood, Kt., Chief Baron of the Exchequer temp. Elizabeth. This inscription is printed at length in Wright's 'Essex,' vol. i. p. 187.

Coke or Cooke.—Does any late Visitation of London, or other genealogical MS. pertaining to the Metropolis, throw light on the following?:—

circa 1686.

Samuel Cooke of Charing Cross, London, vivens 1699. = Jane, dau. of Thomas Tilby of Farnham.

Anne Cooke obijt 1729. = William Hill Esq^{r} of Featherstone, co. Stafford, and of Kilmallock, co. Limerick.

Mary C. Jane C.

William Hill, progenitor of Helen Hill—mother of Rev. Samuel Hayman.—Vide Burke's 'Landed Gentry.' [Article, "Hill of Doneraile."] other issue.

"My uncle Samuel Cooke lived at Charing Cross, London, with whome I lived 4 yeares. I went over to him in the year 1699, ab^{t} 2 yeares before King William dyed. My uncle was married to Jane Tilby, Thomas Tilby of Farnham's daughter, and had two daughter's Mary Cooke and Jane Cooke."

[Any information about this branch of the Coke or Cooke family will much oblige; and the above note may help to identify it.]

Samuel Hayman.

Tuke.—A fine of £1095 was remitted to Samuel Tuke, of Curzon Temple, in Essex, and he made Baronet for finding thirty footmen in the army. Dated 16 Charles II. Who now represents this family?

London.

Bridges Family.—I shall be much obliged for any information relative to the persons mentioned in the following extract from the parish register of Bengeo, co. Hertford:—"Martha daughter of Jonath. & Mary Bridges bapt. March 1683–4." Was this Martha subsequently drowned off the coast of Holland?

Hall of Worcester.—Richard Hall, of Worcester, clothier, married Elizabeth Bomrer. I shall be glad of Information concerning him. He was grandfather to John Hall, Bishop of Bristol.

George W. Marshall.

John Flamsteed, the first Astronomer Royal.—Will any one kindly give me the names of the parents of this celebrated man? They certainly lived at Derby, although John, their son, was born at Denby, a neighbouring village, whither, for a short time, they had fled from the plague. In the parish register of St. Alkmund's, Derby, occurs the following entry:—

"1654. Buryed Elizabeth the Wife of Mr. Steeven Flamsted."

Query.—Were this Steeven and Elizabeth the parents of the astronomer? None of the biographies I have yet consulted give their names; and (according to Lysons) the register at Denby has no record of John's baptism. He was born 19 August, 1646.

William Beresford.

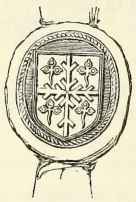
Clarke, of St. Ives.—I possess several old papers relating to the Clarke family, of St. Ives, Huntingdonshire. To several there is the signature with the armorial seal of Robert Clarke, described as "the elder of S^{t} Ives gentleman." Two of these bonds are dated April 1686. I should be glad of some information relating to the family.

St. Ives.



Seal of Robert Clarke the Elder, of St. Ives, gentleman, to bond dated 1686.

Mauduit.—Can any of your readers give me a clue to the parentage of Isaac Mauduit, of Exeter, merchant, whose son, the Rev. John Mauduit, B.D., of Exeter College, Oxford, was Senior Proctor in 1649, and was one of the ejected ministers at the visitation of the Parliament and a sufferer among the royalists? He afterwards had the living of Dr. Hammond, at Penshurst, Kent. At the Restoration, being obliged to quit this living, he went to his relations at Exeter and afterwards to Ottery St. Mary. He died in 1674.

Was he connected with the Mauduits who came over with the Conqueror and one of whom was Earl of Warwick?

SKIPPON FAMILY.

The celebrated Major-General Philip Skippon commanded the infantry, for the Parliament, at the battle of Naseby, and was grievously wounded. He had £1000 a year lands of inheritance assigned to him by the Parliament. The Duke of Buckingham's estate at Bletchley, co. Bucks, was given him, but at the Restoration it reverted to the Crown. He had an estate at Foulsham, Norfolk, devised to him by his uncle, Wm. Skippon, Esq., of Tavistock, co. Devon.

The family Bible of the General is now the property of Nathl. Barnardiston, Esq., of the Ryes, near Sudbury, Suffolk, and the numerous entries by the General and his son, Sir Philip Skippon, are, with his leave, copied from it. It is the quarto "breeches" Bible of 1610, ancient embossed black leather binding, with brass clasps, red lined, and texts very much marked under with ink, many of them applicate to the political as well as religious enthusiasm of the Skippons.

In addition to the genealogical evidence given by the entries, it may be stated that the son, Sir Philip, was buried at Ketton, in Suffolk, 14 August, 1691, and his daughter Mary at the same time, with the ancestors of his second wife, the ancient family of Barnardiston. The only surviving son of Sir Philip by his first wife, sold the Foulsham estate, 1715, and was buried at Edwardstone,* Suffolk, 10 September, 1716, as "Philip Skippon Esq^re^." He appears to have been the last male of the name.

The Major-General was son of Luke Skippon, who died 1638, and had another son, Luke, Vicar of South Lynn, Rector of Wissingset, Norfolk, and Master Elect of Peter House, Cambridge, whose four children named in Blomefield's 'Norfolk' appear to have died without issue, and one not named, Susan, married Clement Heigham, Esq., and was buried at Barrow, Suffolk, 1695.

Sir Philip Skippon married the niece of Saml. Barnardiston, the first Roundhead† who was created Baronet after the Restoration. It was for passages in letters to Sir Philip that Sir Saml. Barnardiston was impeached and tried before Judge Jeffreys, 1683, and fined £10,000, and long imprisoned. (See 'State Trials.') It is remarkable that on the trial no use appears to have been made of the fact that the intercepted letters were to his nephew, therefore the charge of "maliciously and seditiously" writing them was the more unreasonable. This case of oppression has lately been alluded to in the House of Lords, with reference to reflections on Ministers of the Crown, in letters.

In Ketton Church is a handsome mural monument for Sir Philip Skippon, with his arms quartering the arms of both his wives:—

1 and 4. Skippon. Gules, five annulets, or.

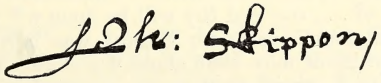
2. Brewster. Sable, a chevron between three etoiles, argent.

3. Barnardiston. Azure, a fesse dancette ermine, between six crosses crosslet, argent.

The notes at the beginning of the Bible are written by Major-General Skippon and those at the end by his son Sir Philip.

In extreamitate maxima me juvit et juvabit Jehovah.

This Bible mentioned in my testament is for my sonne Luke Skippon, let him haue it.



* Mary, daughter of Sir Thos. Barnardiston, Bart., sister to Anne, Lady Skippon, married Sir Josh. Brand, Kt., of Edwardstone, and there were several other marriages connecting the Skippons with the family of Brand.

At the end of the volume:—

Philip Skippon and Amy Brewster were married together in Wrentham Church in the County of Suffolke by M^r^ Hen. Wotton, minister of the Parish, on Thursday the 1^st^ of April 1669.

On y^e^ 2^d^ of Dec. 1676 The Lord tooke out of this sinfull world my most deare & louing Wife. O God! sanctify this heavy affliction She was buried at Wrentham in y^e^ County of Suff.

It pleased God after my Poore Wife had miscarryed foure times to heare our prayers and bestow upon us Our First Son Francis Skippon who was borne about 8 of y^e^ clock on tuesday morning y^e^ 15^th^ Oct. 1672 (my Wife hauing a speedy & safe delivery) at Wrentham Hall and was baptized y^e^ 30^th^ of Oct. following. On the 9^th^ of March 167$\frac{4}{5}$. This child dyed at London & was buried at S. Giles in y^e^ Fields.

The Lord gives and the Lord takes blessed be his Name It is good for me that I have bin afflicted. Psa. 119. v. 71.

After y^e^ Birth of our 1^st^ son God afflicted us w^th^ my Wives miscarrying 3 or 4 times more, And then Hee appeared in great mercy, my wives Breeding and being past y^e^ usuall time of her miscarriage, when our Son Fra. departed this life, and the gracious Preservation support & comfort wee had then experience of is most remarkable, for my Wife tooke a uery hazardous journy downe from London into the Country but three weekes before She was delivered of our second Son Phillip Skippon who was borne at Wrentham on Munday the 12^th^ July 1675 about 4 in y^e^ afternoone, after y^e^ Mothers hard travell for 4 or 5 houres: But y^e^ God and Author of Being did mercifully & wonderfully p'serve both Mother and Child. juvit & juvabit Jehovah. to whom be all praise, Honour & glory for ever. Amen. On Tuesday 27^th^ July following He was baptized by M^r^ Wotton of Wrentham

O Lord make this a child of Mercy and Comfort.

About Midsummer 1676. This Child was weaned, hauing suckd of a Nurse, who was of a passionate temper, w^ch^ most friends did beleive was y^e^ occasion of y^e^ Childs frequent Crying fitts that usually frighted us by his holding his Wind till he looked black & was allmost dead: but after he was weaned hee never had any of those Crying Fitts, & he did thrive exceedingly, hauing a better colour in his face &c. O God lett me never forget thy mercies to me & mine.

Philip Skippon and Anne Barnardiston were married in S. Brides church, London, by M^r^ Kidder Minister of . . . 1679. O. Lord Blesse us both with spirituall and temporal mercies.

24 March 167$\frac{9}{80}$. About 10 a Clock at Night after above five hours sharpe paines My Wife was safely delivered through y^e^ goodnesse of God of a Daughter who was baptized at Wrentham by M^r^ Wotton on the 4^th^ of April 1680 & Christned Mary. Blessed be thou O God the Father of mercies for thy favour shewne to Mother & Child.

11 Aug. 1681 About 12 a Clock at noone my Wife was safely delivered of a Daughter, (y^e^ sharpe paines not lasting much aboue halfe an Hour) baptized at Wrentham by M^r^ Wotton & christned Ann.

Deut. 28. v. 3. If thou shalt hearken unto y^e^ voice of y^e^ Lord thy God v. 4 Blessed shall be y^e^ fruit of thy Body.

16 June 1683. about 5 a clock in y^e^ afternoone After about 3 or 4 houres labour (tho her greatest paines did not continue long) my Wife was safely delivered of my Son William who was baptized on Munday 18 June 1683 by M^r^ Beck minister of S^t^ Margarets parish in Ipswich. The Blessing of the Lord be upon every one of my Children!

4 Dec. 1683 The Lord suddenly tooke away this louely sweet Babe being well & dead in 2 or 3 minutes time. He was buried at Ketton in y^e^ county of Suff. O God who art terrible in Majesty, thou alone art to be feared. Sanctify this breach after breach & preserve y^e^ lives of my other children, if it be thy holy will.

7 Octob. 1683 The allwise God who disposes of all as he pleases tooke out of this miserable World my most Deare & Louing Wife Ann. O Lord humble me under this sad Dispensation & sanctify all Afflictions to me & other Relations! She was buried att Ketton in y^e^ County of Suffolke.

Blessed is y^e^ man whom Thou Chastnest O Lord & teachest him out of thy law.

MARRIAGE.

1655. 5 ap^l^, Rich^d^ Meredith Esq^re^ eldest son of Sir W^m^ Meredith of Leeds, Co. Kent, B^t^, mar^d^ unto M^rs^ Susannah dau^r^ to the Right Hon^le^ Major Gen^l^ Philip Skippon, by Sir Tho^s^ Thorowgood, in a public congregation. M^r^ Philip Nye at the same time praying and teaching upon this occasion.*

Morton.—The marriage of Emanuel Morton, of Ackworth, Yorkshire, with Ann Bradley, of Bawtry, is recorded in the Bawtry registers. This marriage took place in January, 1656. Cornelius, their eldest son, was baptized November 5, 1657, and Thomas, another son, was buried July 2, 1673. Ann Morton was buried April 9, 1679, being then a widow.

I especially wish to ascertain the name of the father and mother of Emanuel Morton; also date of baptism. Any entries from the Ackworth registers relating to this family will be most acceptable.

William Morton, of Masham, who was baptized January 10, 1741, son of George Morton, of Babworth, co. Notts, by Ann Bingley, his wife, married, at Farnley, near Leeds, Elizabeth (Myers?). I should be glad to have more certain information as to the wife's surname and date of marriage.

Edward Morton.

Malton.

Langman.—I shall be glad of any information respecting the family of Langman. Ralph Langman was created York Herald in 1567, and bore arms "Argent on a pile between two water-bougets sable a portcullis of the first."

Philip Langman.

* Some Royalist has struck out "the R^t^ Hon^le^" and written "Traytor," and over "Sir Tho^s^," "Knave."

Luff, John.—The following extract is taken from C. S. Gilbert's 'History of Cornwall,' vol. i. p. 135; I shall be glad to know of any library which contains the work in question:—

"In 1604, John Luff, a retainer of Sir Reinold Mohun, dedicated a small work on armoury, or heraldry, to his patron. It is in quarto, but of no great value, except for some arms of Cornish gentlemen, taken out of church-windows, etc., and not to be met with in any other work."

W. Prideaux Courtney.

Hyde, or Hide, of Finchley, Co. Middlesex.—I should be very glad to learn further particulars about this family, and especially whether it was a branch of Lord Clarendon's family. One member of it, Elizabeth Hyde, married, on the 2nd of January, 1695, Richard Capper, of Lincoln's Inn, and died 26th of May, 1727, in the fifty-second year of her age. The marriage allegations only contain the name of her mother, Elizabeth Hyde, then a widow and living at Finchley.

C. J. Robinson.

Rusby.—At page 389 of Miller's 'History of Doncaster,' amongst the list of mayors of Pontefract, are given,—

Edward Rusby, anno 1583.
Edward Rusby, anno 1627.
John Rusby, anno 1668.
John Rusby, anno 1682.
John Rusby, anno 1683.

Can you or any of your correspondents inform me the dates of birth, marriage, or death of these individuals; also their place of residence, parentage, armorial bearings used by them, and any further information regarding them or the family of Rusby?

M. Hubbard.

Hesketh Quarterings.—It may be worth noting that the quarterings of De Baux, Anjou, and Luxembourg, which form the twenty-third and twenty-fourth of the shield of Hesketh ('Miscellanea Genealogica,' Vol. II. p. 149) have no business there. Jaqueline of Luxembourg, Duchess of Bedford, and afterwards wife of Sir Richard Widvile, Lord Rivers, from whom so many English families descend, was not an heiress in blood. Her brother Louis, Constable of France, had issue Peter, who, by Mary of Savoy, left a daughter and sole heiress, Mary, wife of Francis de Bourbon. So long as any descendant of Henry IV. of France exists, no one descended from the Countess of Rivers can quarter the arms of Luxembourg in her right. Again, Margaret de Baux, wife of Peter de Luxembourg, was not an heiress in blood, nor was she daughter of Francis de Baux, by Beatrix of Anjou, but by Justine de Ursini, his third wife, and could have no pretensions to quarter the arms of Anjou.

Thompson.—Captain Edward Thompson, R.N., whose MS. Journal, 1783–1785, is noticed in the 'Cornhill Magazine' for May, 1868, pp. 610–640, died 17th of January, 1786, aged 40, when Commander of the Grampus, and Commander-in-Chief of H.M. Squadron on the coast of Africa: supposed to be from Hull, or Beverley, or that locality. In his journal he speaks of a married "sister Wright," and of his "brother-in-law" and "half-brother, Christopher Pryme, of Hull." Any information as to his parentage, or family, etc., will oblige (by direct communication with)

Charles Jackson.

The Underhills of New Place.—William Underhill, the owner of the house at Stratford-upon-Avon which afterwards became the residence of Shakspeare, was the second son of Edward Underhill, of Nether Eatington, in South Warwickshire. He was born in 1522 or 1523. His elder brother, Thomas, who is included by Fuller among the 'Worthies of Warwickshire,' was celebrated for his exemplary life, hospitable disposition, and (though last, not least) family of twenty children.

The subject of the present notice having studied the law, became a member of the Inner Temple. He is incorrectly described as "Clerk" in a pedigree preserved in the College of Arms.

About 1544, under the will of his grandfather, John Underhill, he became entitled to a property in Staffordshire (the family originally came from Wolverhampton), and some eight years later he married Ursula, the youngest daughter of John Congreve, Esq., of Congreve. Of this lady it is recorded that "her life was a spectacle unto all honest, virtuous, and obedient wives." The names of five children are given in the Herald's Visitation as the issue of this marriage,—William, Dorothy, Elizabeth, Margaret, and Anne.

In 1551, Edmund Bury passed to his brother-in-law, William Underhill, the manor of Barton-upon-the-Heath, which place, it will be remembered, is referred to in the introduction to the 'Taming of the Shrew.' This transfer seems to have been made for family reasons only, as the estate reverted to the Burys at a later period.

In September, 1556, he presented Dr. Roger Clerke to the living of Idlicot, of which he held the patronage.

In May, 1561, his wife died and was buried at N. Eatington, and, after a time, he married again. His second wife was Dorothy, widow of Richard Newport, and only sister of Christopher Hatton, who subsequently became Lord Chancellor.

In 1567 he purchased the mansion in Stratford-on-Avon known as "New Place," and the following year, bought the manor and estate of Idlicot. At that time he was described as William Underhill, gent., of Newbold Revel.

Malone, in referring to certain Stratford records relating to the transfer of land, mentions an indenture, executed May 30, 1568, between William Clopton, Esq., of the one part, and Sir Robert Throgmorton, Sir Thomas Lucy, Edmond Plowden, Esq., William Underhill, Esq., of Newbold Revel, and others, of the other part.

Under date January 26, 1569, the Council-book of Stratford-on-Avon has the following entry, which probably refers to him:—"Item payd for a dyner for M^{r} Underell at the Swanne 17^{s} 4^{d}."

Still acquiring property, he purchased, in 1569, the manor of Loxley. The same year his wife, Dorothy, died. Her will, made with the sanction of her husband, directs that the property which had come to her on the death of her son John Newport should pass to her second husband, in consideration of the advances he had made for the payment of her debts.

Dugdale states that William Underhill died March 31, 1570. In his will, made on the previous December, he described himself as of Newbold Revel, and directed that he should be buried at N. Eatington. To his heir he left the third part of all his manors, lands, and tenements, the rest—the manor of Idlicot being held in capite—to his executors, to fulfil the intents and meaning of his will and to bring up his children.

His marble memorial has portraitures in brass and escutcheons of the arms of Underhill impaling those of Congreve. The inscription is given by Dugdale.

Of his daughters it may be added that one was married to John Harman, of Morehall; and another, Anne, to George Mathew, of Berkswell.

William Underhill, the only son and heir of the foregoing, was born in 1554, and was in his seventeenth year at the time of his father's decease. About 1577 he married his cousin Mary, daughter of Tho. Underhill, of Eatington, and resided at New Place. In 1578 his eldest son and heir, Fulk, was born. In 1583 he presented, as patron, a clerk to the living of Idlicot. On the 25th of November, 1585, the registers of Stratford state that "Elizabeth d^r of M William Undrell" was baptized. The following year, according to the Stratford records, a writ of capias was issued against him as bail for one Francis Stone, and at the suit of Richard Dixon.

A survey taken in 1590 states that at that time "Willielmus Underhill, gen. tenet libere quandam domum vocatam" The Newe Place "cum pertinentiis per reddit. per annum 12^d sect. cur." The same survey informs us that he also held in "Walker's strete unum horreum," etc.

In 1595, declining to pay to the corporation of Stratford the rent of the tithes of Little Wilnecott,* which had been leased to him, a bill of complaint was lodged by the bailiff and burgesses, and to this he put in his answer and demurrer in February, 1596–7.

Under date March 11, 1597, the Stratford records allude to an action brought by "William Underehylle gent." against John Smith, vintner, on a plea of debt.

On the 8th of April, in the same year, Walter Bassett, gent., and Sconsolate, his wife, bind themselves, under a penalty, to William Underhill, of Utlicote, co. Warwick, Esquire, in respect of the manor of Hints, near Lichfield.

About the same period one Tho. Huntbach filed a Bill in Chancery against William and Foulk Underhill, to enforce the agreement made to sell him a farm and lands at Shustoke.

In Easter term, 1597, William Underhill sold to Shakspeare, for £60, the house at Stratford known as "New Place." The property is described as consisting of one messuage, two barns, and two gardens, with their appurtenances. It had been in the Underhill family thirty years.

William Underhill is said to have been poisoned at Fillongley. He made his will July 6, 1597, and it was proved in London in the following month. In the Inq. p. m. taken at Wolverhampton, where he held property, he is described as of Fillongley: the original is preserved in the Rolls Office. To his eldest son, Fulk, he gave all his lands, and to each of his remaining sons £200,—they were Hercules, Timothy, Ludowick, William, and Simon: of these, Hercules was knighted, and became heir on the death of Foulke in 1598, and of him Shakspeare purchased a messuage in Stratford-upon-Avon in 1602.

The arms of the Stratford Underhills were "Argent a chevron gules between three trefoils slipped vert;" and the crest is usually given as "a hind lodged or on a mount vert," but an old seal of the Underhills in the possession of Mr. Evelyn Ph. Shirley exhibits it as "a buck trippant."

LUCAS (p. 22).—William Lucas, of Middletown, married Esther Clark, July 12, 1666. She died April 15th, and he died April 20th, 1690, leaving issue William Lucas, born April 26, 1667; John Lucas, born October 14, 1669; Mary Lucas, born 5th December, 1672; Thomas Lucas, born . . . 1676; and Samuel Lucas, born April 15, 1682. A Mr. Lucas resided at Newhaven in 1643 with a family of six, of whom no more is heard. A Lucas family of good estate in New England is of French descent. They came not very early across the ocean. The first emigrant, Augustus Lucas, writes of himself,—"I married 6th January, 1696, at St. Malo, in Bretagne" (see James Savage's 'Genealogical Dictionary,' vol. iii.). Several of the name of Lucas resided at Colchester some two hundred years ago, but I cannot find that any of them emigrated to New England at the time corresponding with the above William. There was a John Lucas, Abbot of Waltham, co. Essex, in 1460: he died 1475. I should feel glad to learn some account of that individual,—as to what branch of the Lucas family he belonged, and where he was buried. I have a rubbing of a monumental brass from Lofts Wendon Church, Essex, with this inscription upon it:—"Hic jacent Will'us Lucas et Katerina Uxor ejus, quorum animabus PPicietur Deus, Amen." Cole, in his MS. vol. xxxv. p. 28, states the following:—"Under this ere y Figures in Brass of 4 sons and as many Daughters (w^{ch} in the sketch on y opposite Side I have mede too large in Proportion), the eldest Son is habited as a Bishop or Abbat, with a Mitre on his Head & a Crosier in his left hand, & giving his Benediction with his right: But as there never was a prelate of that name of Lucas except John Lucas, who was chosen Lord Abbat of Waltham ab^{t} 1460, & who died 1475, this determines it to be meant for him: in all probability, therefore, this was his native Place, this account I sent to my Friend Brown Willis Esq." The arms and date are quite gone.

Waltham Abbey, Essex.

Mauduit (p. 36).—"In the spring of 1669, Cosmo III., Grand Duke of Tuscany, visited Exeter on his way from Plymouth to London." . . . He was "lodged at the New Inne (sometimes called Merchants' Hall), and . . . for the more orderly doing thereof, M^{r} Mawdett, M^{r} Brodridge, and M^{r} Sparke were desired to assist the Receiver therein."—'Act Books of the Chamber of Exeter,' vol. ix. p. 86; quoted by Dr. Oliver, 'History of Exeter,' p. 135.

"Isaac Mawditt" was Mayor of Exeter in 1673, and again in 1681. Did he, then, die in 1674, or were these two Isaacs, father and son?

"Isaac Mawditt and Stephen Olivean" were Sheriffs of the County of the City of Exeter in 1663, and Isaac Mawditt again in 1670.

"Nongecot (near Tiverton) anno 27 of King Henry 3, belonged unto Robert Mauduit; whom followed John, anno 24 of Kinge Edw. 1.; & hym Robert Mauduit, in anno 8 Kinge Edw. 2, & anno 19 of Kinge Edw. 3."—Pole, ed. 1791, p. 215.

"Southwood, in the parish of Exminster, was, in anno 27 of Kinge Henry 3, the land of Thomas Mauduit; & anno 30 of Kinge Edw. 1, John Franceis held it."—Ib. p. 253.

Oldaport, in the parish of Modbury.—"William de Heanton, of Oldport, which by Jone his wief, daughter and heire of Walter de Sweinthill, had issue Jone, wief of Richard Malduit, called Somaister."—Ib. p. 313.

The pedigree of "Somaster [of Pensford]" is thus given by Westcote, p. 551:—"Richard Maldyt, called Southmaster,* of Exon, married Joan, daughter and heir of William de Henton, and had issue Robert; who married Margaret, daughter and heir of John Herward, of Bothkison, and Joan, his wife, daughter and heir of John le Cornu, by whom he had issue Ralph, William, Adam. This Robert died before his father; he sealed with the gate: which arms came to him by his mother, whose grandmother was daughter and heir to De la Port [of Oldaport]. William, of Netherexe [close to Exeter], second son, had a daughter and heir married to [John] Limpenny.—From Adam Somaster is descended Somaster of Pensford," whose pedigree Westcote gives at p. 500, and the arms,—"Argent, a castle triple-towered between eight fleurs-de-lis [sable]. Crest,—A portcullis, with chains, argent. This part was granted for a crest by Clarence Cooke, 14th March, 1586, under his hand and seal."*

I find no notice of Ralph: William, the second son, married Alice daughter of John Prideaux, of Adeston, near Modbury, and had issue William, whose son John died without issue. Netherexe passed to John Limpenny, mentioned above, and was sold by him to William Hurst, of Exeter.—Pole, p. 190.

Probably the Exeter Mauduits were a branch of this very ancient family.

Everard (p. 21).—In the reign of Edward III., an Edmund Everard was the Rector of the parish of Colsterworth, and must have been a person of considerable importance from the following:—

"Calendarium Inquis. post mortem. Ric'us de la Bere pro Edmundo Everard p'sona Eccl^ie de Colstreworth

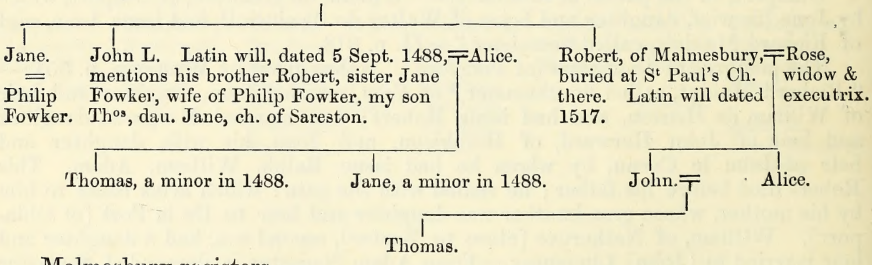
Lawrence and Washington.—At a Wiltshire Archæological Meeting held some years ago at Malmesbury, the shields with the arms of Lawrence quartering Washington, the North Wilts family, were exhibited. These came from a church at Malmesbury, the monuments to which they belonged, being removed when that church was restored. Can any of your readers tell me where those shields are now to be found, and to what branch of the Wilts Lawrences they belong? The only Malmesbury Lawrences I know of are the following:—



Jane. = Philip Fowker.
John L. Latin will, dated 5 Sept. 1488, mentions his brother Robert, sister Jane Fowker, wife of Philip Fowker, my son Th^os, dau. Jane, ch. of Sareston.
Alice.
Robert, of Malmesbury, buried at S^t Paul's Ch. there. Latin will dated 1517.
Rose, widow & executrix.
Thomas, a minor in 1488.
Jane, a minor in 1488.
John.
Alice.
Thomas.

Malmesbury registers:—

"Rob^t Lawrence & Joane Hollins both living in Charlton Parish were married at Malmesbury by the Alderman M^r Edward Waite Aug. 13. 1655.

"William L. of Westport & Eliza Galer of Milborne in this parish were married by M^r John Hodges Vicar 15 Oct. 1665.

"A child of John Lawrence of Westport buried 7 Jan. 1667.

"Th^os L. of Westport a lawyer & landholder bur^d 4 A. 1672."

A stone monument to the memory of Sir Lawrence Washington is now, I hear, at the Rectory, Garsdon, three miles from Malmesbury, which originally was put up in the church at Garsdon, and was removed there when the church was restored about ten years ago.

I am anxious to find out, first, the connection between the Lawrences and Washingtons (a North Wilts family); secondly, would be glad if any one could add any information to the above Lawrence descent.

Arms.—Among the papers of a deceased relative which have lately come into my possession there is a square of parchment emblazoned as follows:—

Sable between four fleurs-de-lis or a cross argent, charged with five pheons azure, impaling gules a lion rampant or.

Crest (on the helmet of an esquire): On a mount vert a stag argent, antlered and hoofed or, behind him a tree vert, lambrequin argent and gules.

Wreath, argent and sable. No motto.

There is no name or writing of any sort giving any clue to the ownership. If any of your readers can supply it, I shall feel obliged.

Crow of Goldington and Disher of London.—To the settlement on marriage of Dorothy Crow, of London, spinster, one of the daughters and coheirs of William Crow, late of Goldington, Bedfordshire, gentleman, with William Disher, of London, merchant, dated 23 March, 1699, are the seals of Dorothy Crow and William Disher. That of Dorothy Crow is here given. The seal used by William Disher is much mutilated. The arms appear to be a chevron between three double-headed eagles displayed. Crest, a centaur passant reguardant drawing a bow and arrow.

I should be glad to know whether there were any descendants from this marriage.

I may mention that the mother of Dorothy Crow was Anne Crow, a widow at date of execution of the settlement.

H. D.

John Hilles, D.D.—Can any of your readers inform me what arms were borne by John Hilles, D.D., Master of Catherine Hall, Cambridge, and Archdeacon of Lincoln, who died in 1626? He mentions in his will, made in 1625, his sons John, Heigham, Robert, William, and Thomas, also his daughters Anne, Susan, and Jane. Anne married Edward Aylmer, D.D., of Claydon Hall, Suffolk, a grandson of the Bishop of London. Information respecting any of his family will greatly oblige.

C. W. H.

Richard Stoneley.—Information is requested respecting Richard Stoneley, one of the Tellers of the Exchequer, originally of Warwick, and who purchased—in the year 1579, of the Oxford family—Dodinghurst, in Essex. He married (see Burke's 'Commoners,' "Taylor of Clifton") Anne, daughter and coheir of John Braunche, Esq., by Ellen, daughter and coheir of Francis Hampden, and had issue two daughters, coheiresses,—Dorothy, married to William Dawtrey, of Moor House, Sussex, and Anne, the wife of William Heigham, of East Ham, Essex.

The arms of Stoneley were,—Azure on a fesse between three bucks' heads caboshed or a fleur-de-lis of the first between two demi-roses gules. And Anne (who married Heigham) and her descendants quartered with this coat,—Azure a fesse between three scythe-blades (or horns) or.

This quartering does not agree either with the arms of Braunche or Hampden; it is more like the coat of Brayne of Gloucestershire. Can any of your correspondents offer an explanation?

C. W. H.

Smith.—The Rev. Barnabas Smith, Rector of North Witham, married the mother of Sir Isaac Newton; he died about the year 1656. I shall be glad of any information concerning him or his family.

Sir George Smith, Knight.—I am extremely anxious to establish the identity between the Sir George Smith (or Smythe), of Matford, co. Devon, knight, alluded to in Westcote's 'View of Devonshire,' 1845, pp. 187, 470, 631: and Burke's 'Landed Gentry,' title "Granville of Wellesbourne:" the Sir George Smyth, of Motford, co. Dorset, referred to in the Harleian MSS. 1166, fo. 9; 1451, fo. 17; 1539, fo. 96: and George Smith, of Mudford, co. Somerset, whose name occurs in Hutchins's 'Dorset,' first edition, 1774, vol. i. p. 151; second edition, 1796, vol. i. p. 248; third edition, 1861, vol. i. part iii. p. 408. All the Sir George Smiths above mentioned lived in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. I presume that Matford, co. Devon, Motford, co. Dorset, and Mudford, co. Somerset, are in reality the same place, and that a clerical error has been committed by the transcribers of the Harleian MSS. I may add that I have private reasons of my own for coming to this conclusion, but I wish to be confirmed in my view of the case. My object would be fully attained if I could ascertain the names of all the daughters of Sir George Smith, of Matford, and of the gentlemen of quality to whom they were married.

Thomas Parr Henning.

P.S.—I find upon consulting Westcote, p. 631, that Sir George Smith formed two matrimonial alliances. Perhaps this circumstance would assist in throwing light upon the point in question.

MEMORANDA RELATING TO THE ARCHBOLD FAMILY OF ALNWICK.‡

The Archbolds were a family of importance in Alnwick for at least a century and a half. William, the first recorded, was at South Park in 1650, and John, the last of them in Alnwick, died there in 1805. Successive members of the family were bailiffs to the Earls of Northumberland, tenants of Cawledge South Park —still called Archbold's Park,—and owners of considerable property in the parish of Alnwick. St. Thomas's lands, formerly part of the possessions of Alnwick Abbey, and other fields, and several burgages in the town belonged to them. They loom largely in Alnwick Church : on the monumental limestone slab "Gulielmi Archbold," their arms, a lion rampant between six fleurs-de-lis, and crest, a fleur-de-lis, are grandly sculptured, and they appear, too, with the initials I. A. and date 1711, on the lintel of a doorway of one of the burgages which belonged to them.

The Archbolds were a long-lived race. William, the first of them, died in 1700, aged 82 years ; John, the next, died in 1730, aged 76 years ; Edward, the third in succession, died in 1764, aged 79 years ; and John, the last of them, in 1805, aged 83 years : so that the united ages of four successive generations amount to three hundred and twenty years.

Haworth or Howorth Pedigree.—A branch of this ancient family migrated from Haworth, in the township of Hundersfield, near Rochdale, on the borders of Yorkshire and Lancashire, and settled in Snaith for some generations, and then came to Hull in the latter half of the seventeenth century.

Dr. James, in the 'Iter Lancastrense,' written 1636, thus describes his visit to Haworth Hall:—

"To Robin Howorth from whose Familie Great Noble Peers derive their progenie."

This Robin Howorth was born in 1600 and succeeded his father, Edmund Howorth, of Howorth, and is mentioned by Sir Richard St. George in his Visitation of Lancaster in 1613. He was the twenty-second in lineal descent from Osbert Howord de Howord, who was Master of the Buck-hounds in the time of Henry II., and who received certain lands in Howord for his good and faithful services to his sovereign.

The Snaith and Hull parish registers contain the following entries:—

"Adam Hawworth married 1540 Allyson Greene." (Snaith.)

"Hen. Haworth married 1568 Agnes Lambert." (Whitgift.)

* Communicated by John Fetherston, Esq., F.S.A.

"1573. Julie. Item the nynthe day, James Asheton, Clarke, Curate at Snaithe, and Barbara Heworthe of Snaithe.

"Thomas Haworth married in 1592 Mary Baynton." (Snaith.) Baptized 1572. Died at Rawcliffe or Rocliff, parish of Snaith 1641.

(Howorth)
Peter (Haworth), died 1672. (Will at York.) = 1st, Jane . . . died at Snaith 1641.
2nd, Maria Dunn, Sept. 1657. (Snaith.)

Joshua Haworth, baptized 1635, died 1677. (Snaith.) = Dorothy Stephenson, of Swinefleet. She died 1717 at Hull. (Will at York.) Mentioned in Dugdale's Visitation of Yorkshire (1655).

Thomas Haworth, baptized 1663. (Snaith.) Died 1704. (Will at York.) = Mary . . . died at Hull. (Will at York 1733.)*

Thomas Haworth, baptized 1691. (Hull.) = Mary Blaydes, 1713. (Hull.)

Benjamin Haworth, 1756. = Anne Booth, heiress of the Lincolnshire Booths, descended from the second son of Sir Thomas Booth, of Barton, Lancashire, called "Tomalin of the Boothes," tempore Richard II. and Henry IV.

The registers at Snaith are defective in several places, and in some years no entries were made, e.g. from 1657 to 1661.

* I much wish to ascertain the names of the father and mother of Mrs. Mary Haworth and date of her marriage.

Also the date of the marriage of Joshua Haworth and Dorothy Stephenson.

Also the date of baptism and the parentage of Peter Haworth, of Rawcliffe and Snaith, and some further account of his first wife, Jane.

I shall be especially thankful for any particulars respecting the early members of the Haworth family who settled at Snaith, so as to connect them directly with the family, and later owners of Haworth Hall during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries.

Also for information, from the Court Rolls of Snaith or otherwise, as to Henrie Heworth or Haworth, who married Agnes Lambert, and Thomas Haworth, who married Mary Baynton.

The arms of Stephenson of Swinefleet, near Snaith, were—Gules on a bend argent three leopards' faces vert.

The arms of Haworth same as Haworth of Haworth, viz. Azure a bend between two stags' heads couped or. Crest: A stag's head couped gules, attired or, with a wreath about its neck argent.

B. B. Haworth-Booth.

John Withie and Richard Mundy.—Can any of your correspondents inform me where I can find any biographies or notices of John Withie or Richard Mundy, the well-known transcribers of the Heralds' Visitations in the seventeenth century, so many of which are in the Harleian Library in the British Museum? Had they any appointment under the heralds, or were the transcripts made for any particular library?

G. J. A.

Clarke of St. Ives (p. 36).—The seal of Robert Clarke, elder, of St. Ives, 1686, appears to be compounded with the arms of Lawrence of St. Ives. On reference to the pedigree of the latter family, it will be observed that a lady of it married a Clarke early in the seventeenth century.

L. A.

Pedigree of Best (p. 44).—In a pedigree in my possession I find mention of Edward Turner (son of Thomas Turner, of Gray's Inn and Canterbury, by Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Edward Boys, of Fredvile), who married, about 1670–80, Elizabeth Best. I am anxious to know whether there was issue of the marriage.

W. J. L.

Lascelles.—The following is the only entry relating to this family in the parish registers of Langton, near Malton:—

"1657. M^{ris} Lassells of Thornthorp buried February y^{e} 6th."

And in the church of St. Leonard's, Malton,—

"M^{r} Swinburn Lascelles, Attorney at Law, was Buried in Woollen the 27th of December 1729."

Edward Morton.

Thurston.—Information wanted as to the ancestry of Edward Thurston, born in England about 1617, emigrated to the colony of Rhode Island, in New England, before 1648, and died in Newport, R. I., in 1707.

Charles M. Thurston.

New Rochelle, New York, U. S.

Sir Isaac Heard, Garter.—I have a fine China bowl bearing the arms of Sir Isaac Heard, Garter King of Arms. I think it must have been presented to him for some particular service; but as I am uncertain, I should be glad if any one could give information on the subject.

E. M.

Arms (p. 47).—To "C. J. B." I suggest that the emblazonment he inquires about may posssibly pertain to the name of Banks. The arms on the dexter side are nearly those of Banks, of Aylesford, co. Kent, which are said to be Sable on a cross between four fleurs-de-lis argent five pheons azure. The bearing impaled, gules a lion rampant or, was that of D'Albany, Albney, and Albini.

Charles Jackson.

Doncaster.

Smeaton.—Can any of your correspondents inform me where a pedigree of the family of Smeaton, living at Kirk Smeaton, near Pontefract, about 1400, is given; or state what arms they bore? Also whether John Smeaton, the builder of Eddystone lighthouse, who was born at Austhorpe, near Leeds, in 1724, was descended from that family?

James Rusby.

* Also ancestor of Lords Abinger and Campbell, Sir A. J. Lawrence, K.C.B., etc. The author of the papers referred to is a good general guide, but not a faithful genealogist, for on an examination of the Lawrence wills it will be seen that he sometimes entirely suppressed senior lines to make room for junior.

White Family.—John White came to Ireland, from England, in a year between 1695 and 1702. I have some faint recollection of hearing that he came from Kent. He purchased lands which had been forfeited by the adherents of King James in 1702, in the counties of Limerick and Tipperary, in which a Mr. John Marshall was a partner for a part. He lived and died at Cappagh, in the county of Tipperary, which is still called Cappagh White, after him. He died in 1718. His first wife was Susanna, sister to Richard Newport, Esq., of Longford, in the county of Limerick; she died 7th December, 1700, and was buried in the family vault at Toem, co. Tipperary. His second wife was Catherine Mann, a widow: she was sister to Lord Muskerry (Deane). His children by his first wife were Richard, Newport, Rebecca, and Catherine.

Rev. Newport White married Fanny Forster. His sons were,—John, married Catherine Hunt; Richard, died at Smyrna, in Asia Minor; Newport, married Mary Ievers.

Newport's youngest son, Benjamin, married Catherine, eldest daughter of Newport White, eldest son of John and Catherine. His three sons were Rev. Newport Benjamin, Rev. Henry Vere, and John Davis.

John White, first named, had three half-brothers, who came to Ireland at the same time as he did. His mother's name was Schuldam. They were the children of a Miss Hamilton. Their names were Benjamin, William, and Hamilton. Benjamin was ancestor of the branch of the family known as the Whitehall branch, Finch White, of Kincora, near Killaloe, being the representative; William, of the Whites of Greenhall, New Ross, and Manister; Hamilton, of the Bantry family (Earl of Bantry).

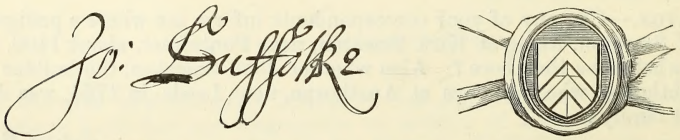
When Richard White was created Baron Bantry, he of course applied for a grant of arms. The heralds gave him the arms of Sir Thomas White, of Rickmansworth, who was Lord Mayor of London in 1555, and these arms are now adopted by every branch of the family. I think the arms should more properly have been those of Sir William White, who was Lord Mayor of London in 1489, —in which there are three covered cups, and three martlets upon a chevron, as I was told that there was some old family plate which had "covered cups" as part of the arms.

The following arms are on the seal used by John White attached to a lease made by him:—A chevron between three roses; Crest, An arm embowed holding a sword. There was an old family of Whites in Clonmel, and on a tombstone belonging to one of the family, date about 1550, the arms were the same as on the seal used to the lease.

I am anxious, if possible, to ascertain if there is any tradition among any family of my name in any part of England, of four brothers, as above named, having come to Ireland about the time named; and also whether by the aid of what I have stated about the coat of arms, my family can be identified with any of the name at present living in England.

John Davis White.

Saint Dominick's, Cashel, Co. Tipperary.



Seal and Autograph of John Suffolke, senior, of Nuneaton, to a bond dated 1624.

Information required respecting the descent of John Suffolke, senior, of Nuneaton, gentleman, whose signature and seal, appended to a bond in the possession of the Corporation of Coventry, dated 5 November, 1624, are given above.

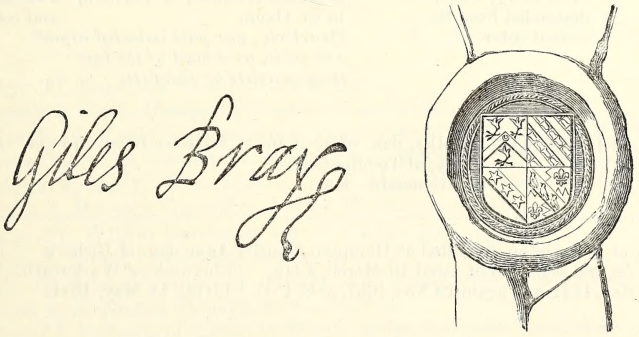
GENEALOGICAL MEMORANDA RELATING TO THE FAMILY OF BRAY OF BARRINGTON, CO. GLOUCESTER AND BERKS.

Compiled from the Records of the College of Arms, London, and from other authentic sources of information, by G. E. Adams, Esq., Lancaster Herald.

A deed, dated 3 May, 1633, relating to this ancient family, is in the possession of Charles Golding, Esq.

It appears to be the settlement made shortly after the marriage of Reynald (sic) Bray, son and heir apparent of Sir Giles Bray, of Barrington, Knt., with Martha, daughter of Peter Humble, late of Goosehayes, co. Essex, Esq., deceased, whereby the said Sir Giles settles his manors of Great and Little Barrington and his lands there on trustees (viz. Sir Robert Quarles, of Romford, co. Essex, Knt., and John Hide, of London, gent.) to use of himself for life, remainder to his wife Dame Anne for her life, remainder to said Reynald Bray for life, remainder (as to the capital mansion and part of the estate) to said Martha for her life, remainder to issue of said Reynald in tail male, remainder to Edmund Bray, second son of said Sir Giles, for life, and his issue in like manner; and (as to the residue of the estate after the death of said Reynald Bray) to the issue of the said Regnald in tail general, with remainder to said Edmund and his issue in like manner, remainder (as to the whole) to the right heirs of the said Sir Giles Bray.

This Reginald Bray died in his father's lifetime, leaving a son, Edmund, who had inherited his mother's lands in Essex before 16 March, 164$\frac{0}{1}$, as Sir Giles, by his will of that date, desires the Court of Wards to raise money for him out of those lands and not out of his (own) lands, co. Gloucester, Oxon, and Berks. This will was proved by Dame Ann Bray, 14 May, 1641, and again 19 November, 1657, by Edmund Bray, Esq., son and next of kin to testator, who appears to have been afterwards made a knight.



Signature and Seal of Sir Giles Bray, of Barrington, Knight, from Deed dated 3 May, 1633.

The seal appended to deed is quarterly of four coats, of which the first and second are both the well-known coats of "Bray." The third quarter is for "Monington," and is allowed by Cooke, Clarenceux, temp. Eliz., to "Monington, formerly of Cornwall" [query if not Cornwall in Oxfordshire]. In the Visitation of Herefordshire made in 1569 it is quartered in the second and third quarters by the Moningtons of that county, and stated in a marginal note to be the coat with which Sir John Lawton, Knt., sealed (temp. Ed. III.), whose daughter and heiress, Eleanor, married into the family of Monington. The fourth quarter is for "Harman," though, strangely enough, it also is quartered in the second and third quarters by the Harmans of Taynton, in Oxfordshire,—the first and fourth being "Sable three currycombs argent."

A short pedigree will show more clearly how these quarterings are brought in, and the relationship of the different parties to one another and to the ancient family of Bray, Lords Braye.

SKIPPON FAMILY.

Skippon Family (p. 37).—In the notice of the Skippon family introductory to the entries copied from the Bible and given in the July number, it is said that Philip, the grandson, buried at Edwardstone in 1716, appears to have been the last male of the name. This is not strictly correct, for although he was undoubtedly the last male descendant of the Parliamentary General, there were persons who bore the name, and whom I believe to have been descendants of collaterals, living within the present century, and the name is not extinct in Norfolk even now.

Of the immediate line to which the General belonged the following additional particulars may not be unacceptable:—

William Skippon, Esq., who died at Tavistock on 1 January, 1633/4, was possessed of an estate at Foulsham, Wood Norton, and Bintry, in Norfolk, which, by his will, dated 5 August, 1631, he devised "to Captaine Philippe Skippon, eldest sonne of my brother Luke Skippon," and the heirs male of his body. Luke Skippon, brother of said Philip, and Francis Skippon, son of Francis Skippon deceased and testator's nephew, were in remainder. Luke Skippon, the testator's brother and heir at the time of his death, was sixty years old.*

Luke Skippon, of West Lexham, gent., the brother, died there 20 September, 1638; Philip Skippon, described as "of Foulsham, Esq.," his son and heir, being forty years of age.† On the same day, 20 September, 1638, probate was granted to Anne Skippon, his relict, of "notes taken for the making of the last will and Testament of Luke Skippon of West Lexham gent,," dated 4 September, 1638, by the Archdeaconry Court of Norwich. In these, Philip, his son, was the principal devisee. He also mentions Luke Skippon, his grandchild, and his grandchildren, William, Luke, and Christopher Shene. Mary, his daughter, had married Christopher Shene, Rector of Cockley Cley.

The General's will, dated 20 February, 1659, and proved 25 October, 1660, is referred to by the Rev. Thomas Quarles in the 'History of Foulsham.'‡

Upon this I shall be much obliged for answers to the following queries:—

Who was Dame Katherine (Phillips), his second wife?

Which of the daughters named in the Bible entries was Mrs. Bragge, who had been the widow of Colonel Rolfe; and who were these two husbands?

Which other of the daughters besides Mrs. Meredith was married, and to whom?

On the monument in Acton Church to the memory of Mary, the first wife, Skippon quarters the following coats,—2. Azure a chevron between three crosses pattee or; 3. Barry of eight argent and vert, a griffin segreant or: and impales—Ermine three lions passant in pale gules. A knowledge of these may lead to the discovery of his maternal descent.

Luke Skippon, the General's brother had been presented to the Rectory of Hingham, in 1638, by Sir Thomas Wodehouse, the patron, on the erroneous supposition of the death of the incumbent, who reappeared; and in 1642 he was presented, by the same patron, to the Rectory of Litcham, which he appears to have held until 1662, during some part of which incumbency he resided in the adjoining parish of Mileham; and there six children, by Elizabeth, his wife,—two sons, both of whom died in infancy, and four daughters,—were baptized, the first on 7 January, 1642/3, and the last 2 November, 1650. He had the degree of D.D. conferred upon him in 1660, by Royal licence. In 1662 he was Vicar of West Bradenham as well as of South Lynn. His will, wherein he is styled Rector of Wissingsett,§ is dated 3 August, 1674, and was proved in the Archdeaconry Court of Norwich ‡ Published by Cundall, 1842, p. 93.

§ His name does not appear in Blomefield's List of Rectors, and the registers of Whissonsett of that period unfortunately are not in existence.

12 July, 1676, by Elizabeth, his widow and relict. Frances, his eldest daughter, was then wife of John Franklin, Rector of Tittleshall; Susan, wife of "Mr. Clement Higham, Rector of Scalthorp;" Jane, wife of Roger Hainesworth, of West Lynn; and his other daughters, Mary and Anne, were also then living, of whom both died unmarried. Dr. Skippon, in his will, also names "his noble kinsman, Sir John Bladwell, of Rougham," and his nephew, Mr. Philip Skippon, of Wrentham. The three married daughters all left issue. Upon the monument of a single daughter in Swaffham Church, he is described as "eminent for his piety, learning, and loyalty." In the last named virtue a striking contrast with his brother.

I have many notes of persons of this family of earlier date, derived from wills, court rolls, and parish registers. The prevalent baptismal names were Luke and Bartholomew. Bartholomew Skippon was living at East Lexham in 1541, as in the same year was Thomas Skippon at Weasenham; the latter had a brother Luke, and they continued in those parishes for several generations, but I have been unable at present to trace the ascending link connecting William and Philip, the first before mentioned, with any of them. I also find the name in several other parishes in Norfolk. A Luke Skippon was residing as recently as 1808 at Crimplesham, where several of his children were baptized.

Can any of your readers inform me whether William Skippon, who died in January, 1633/4, resided at Tavistock in any public capacity? The family seems to have had some early connection with the south of England, as another William Skippon, a yeoman, who died at East Lexham in 1578, gave legacies to the towns of Chard and Cullington.

In Memory of Mary Dymoke, widow of Edward Dymoke of Wadingworth Esq^{r}.
She was first married to John Booth of Market-Raisin Esq^{r} who lieth interr'd near this Place, and was one of the Daughters & coheiresses of John Loddington of Fonaby Esq^{r} in Lincolnshire, who died the 22nd
Aged 90 Years.

John Booth, Esq., of Market Rasen, by will, dated 15 March, 1685, and proved 26 June, 1686, devises his lands in Killingholme and East Halton, and the Rectory there, to his executor, for bringing up his younger children until his eldest son shall come to twenty-one years of age. He gives legacies to his second son, Thomas, his third son, William, and to his daughters Ann and Mary; and makes Mary, his wife, executrix.

Probably his eldest son's name was John, as by deeds of 17 and 18 of December, 1710, John Booth, of Market Rasen, Esq., eldest son and heir of John Booth, late of Market Rasen aforesaid, and heretofore of Harpswell, Esq., deceased, conveys to Henry Andrews, of Osgodby, Esq., and his heirs, a manor and lands in Killingholme.

The daughter of the said Henry Andrews married a John Booth, Esq., who died in the lifetime of his said father-in-law, leaving three sons, Henry Booth, John Booth, and Thomas Booth; and administration of the goods of the said John Booth, deceased, was granted on the 5th of August, 1719, to the said Henry Andrews, as grandfather, guardian, tutor, and curator lawfully elected and admitted for his said grandchildren. This appears from the will of the said Henry Andrews, dated December, 1727, and proved at Lincoln 9 July, 1731.

Henry Andrews in his said will devises his rectory and tithes and lands in East Halton to his said grandson Henry Booth and his heirs, and also devises lands in Killingholme to his grandsons John Booth and Thomas Booth respectively.

The last mentioned Henry Booth was of Thorpe Hall, co. Lincoln, and sold the Halton estate to the first Lord Yarborough, and had an illegitimate son, John Booth, a merchant of Hull, who was living there in 1802.

John Booth, brother of Henry Booth, lived and died at Hull, a merchant.

Thomas Booth, the younger brother of Henry Booth, died Vicar of Market Rasen in 1764, as is already mentioned. He and Anna Maria, his wife, were first cousins.

Their son John Booth was of Spilsby, co. Lincoln, and married to his second wife at Boston, co. Lincoln, 16 February, 1779, Elizabeth Worley, of Boston. He was buried at Boston, 1st January, 1783, aged 40, and left a surviving son, Henry Booth, baptized at Boston 24 May, 1781, who in 1804 was a Lieutenant in the 2nd West Yorkshire Militia.

Lawrence and Washington (p. 46).—"R. G. L." will find in the 'Gentleman's Magazine' (1815-16 and 1829) a series of papers on various families named "Lawrence," by my kinsman, the late James Lawrence, author of 'The Nobility of the British Gentry.'

In these exhaustive—or nearly so—papers (albeit full of errors) occurs a match between a Lawrence of Ashton Hall and a Washington of Washington, both in co. Lancaster.

The late Geo. Lawrence, of Cowerfield, Wilts, was not of a Wiltshire family, but, like the author in question, was descended from John Lawrence,* of Jamaica, son of Henry Lawrence, President of the Council of State under the Protectorate.

The whole of these latter genealogical matters will be found in the Lawrence wills, recorded in the Lyon Office, Edinburgh, etc. J. H. L.-A.

Lawrence and Washington (p. 46).—At the Malmesbury Meeting of the Wiltshire Archæological Society in August, 1862, the following appears in the List of Articles exhibited at the Temporary Museum :—

"By the Rev. W. Chambers, Garsdon (since deceased),—Slab, bearing an inscription to Sir Lawrence Washington, Knt., Chief Register of the Chancery, who died in 1643, aged 64, from Garsdon Church. Sir Lawrence was the purchaser of the manor of Garsdon from the Moody family. Also three shields with the arms of Washington." See Aubrey's 'Wilts Collections,' edited by the Rev. J. E. Jackson, p. 242.

It is presumed the present Rector of Garsdon can furnish all the information required by your correspondent. The Rev. T. A. Methuen (Rector at the publication of the last 'Clergy List') is also deceased. E. Wilton.

* Also ancestor of Lords Abinger and Campbell, Sir A. J. Lawrence, K.C.B., etc. The author of the papers referred to is a good general guide, but not a faithful genealogist, for on an examination of the Lawrence wills it will be seen that he sometimes entirely suppressed senior lines to make room for junior.

NOTES TO HALES PEDIGREE.

[1] The Rev. A. N. Sanderson was the son of Anthony and Elizabeth Sanderson, and was baptized at Hammersmith, 12 September, 1730. He had issue by his wife, Mary, five sons and two daughters. Only one of the sons left male issue, namely, Edward (see [5]), who was baptized at Newton Longueville in 1773. Mary, the widow of the Rev. A. N. Sanderson, died at Rose Place, Claines, co. Worcester, on the 6th January, 1831, aged 84.

[2] Died unmarried, at Lisbon, before 1812.

[3] Died unmarried, at Cheltenham, 4 March, 1861; buried at St. Peter's Church there.

[4] Captain (afterwards Lieut.-Colonel) Wilkie and his wife both died at Bath Easton, near Bath, and were buried there. Their only son, Captain Edward Charles Hales Wilkie, late of the 1st Dragoon Guards, married Miss Elizabeth Wood, of Chiselhurst, Kent, and has issue, Major Hales Wilkie, 29th Regiment, the Rev. Christopher Wilkie, Kenyon Wood Wilkie, barrister-at-law, Captain Edward Hales Wilkie, Ramsgate Volunteers, and two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth.

[5] Harriott married (at St. George's, Hanover Square) her cousin Edward Sanderson (see [1]), of Rose Place, Claines, co. Worcester, Captain in the 3rd Regiment, and a magistrate for Worcestershire. He died 4 March, 1849, and she died 13 June, 1862, both buried at Claines. They had issue,—

1. Harriet Hales, living at Cheltenham, unmarried.
2. Catherine Elizabeth Sophia, died young.
3. Edward Scott, living at Claines, co. Worcester, unmarried.
4. John, Captain, R.N., married, in 1857, at Leamington, Alice, daughter of George Woodroffe Franklin, Esq., M.P.; died 27 June, 1859, in command of H.M.S. Archer, off the West Coast of Africa; buried at Loango. No issue.
5. Henry, died unmarried at Cheltenham, 31 December, 1863; buried at St. Peter's Church there.
6. Frederick, living in London, unmarried.
7. William, Captain, Somersetshire Volunteers, married (in 1846 at Goodrich) Mary Ann, daughter of John Preece, Esq., and has issue, Emma Hales, William (merchant in Trinidad), and Edward John (Royal Navy).
8. Arthur, died unmarried, at Melbourne, Australia, June, 1856.
9. George Septimus, merchant, Brixton, Surrey, married Frances Ward, daughter of John Monkton, Esq., son of Rear-Admiral Monkton, and has issue five children, Francis George, Alfred John, Mary Edith, Harry Slade, and Ada.
10. Octavus Hales, living at Claines, co. Worcester.
11. Mary Ann Hales, living at same place, unmarried.
12. Fanny, living at same place, unmarried.
13. Adelaide, died young.

[6] Sophia, married Captain (afterwards Colonel) Charles Lewis Phipps (Queen's Bays), of Dilton Court, Westbury, Wilts. They died without issue, and are both buried at Dilton Church.

The Sanderson family claim descent from the Saundersons of Yorkshire and Notts, of whom a pedigree is given in Thoroton's 'Antiquities of Notts,' p. 474; of this family was Robert Saunderson, Bishop of Lincoln, and the Saundersons, Viscounts Castleton. James, the sixth Viscount, was created a Peer of England in 1714 as Baron Saunderson of Saxby, and was advanced to the Earldom of Castleton in 1720. Upon his death, s. p., in 1723, all the honours became extinct, and he bequeathed his large estate to his cousin (on his mother's side), the Earl (third) of Scarborough, who thereupon, by Act of Parliament, assumed the additional surname of Saunderson.

The arms borne by the late Captain Sanderson and by his father and grandfather are,—Paly of six argent and azure a bend sable. Crests:—1, A hound passant argent, armed and langued gules; and 2, A palm-tree, from the branches on either side pendant a hawk's lure.

Names of Places (p. 12).—The term "Langdon Hill" is a pleonasm, Langdon being="long hill" (lang-dun). Chadwell was named from St. Chad (Cedda). Tilbury probably means the fortification on the river Till: conf. Tilburg, a town of the Netherlands; Tilbrook, Beds; Till, a river of Northumberland, i. q. the Sill, i. e. Ill with a sibilant prefixed, from the Welsh lli, a stream. Grays and Thurrock were doubtless named from the respective owners: the former name is probably derived from Gray, in France, dep. Saône; the latter would seem to be an augmentative of a surname, Torr or Thor. The name Aveley is from a proper name, Alvid, Alfwith, and Saxon leag, a pasture, meadow. The first part of the name Horndon is probably a corruption; it may have the following meanings, thorn, tower, water, heron. Ockendon signifies the oak (ac-dun); Rainham, the dwelling on the Rain, perhaps the ancient name of a neighbouring stream, from ran, ren, rin, run, found in fluvial names, and=water, stream; conf. the Rhine, the Reno, fiume principale del Bolognese. Mucking may mean a "great meadow." Stanford-le-Hope was named from a stone or paved ford, and the old Norsk hóp, óp, a recess (the bay formed by the winding of the Thames is called by seamen the "Hope"). Wennington might translate the "marsh town" (conf. the Cornish win-nick, a marsh), or it may be from gwyn (Welsh, id.), "white." There is a Wennington, cos. Lancaster and Hunts; and Winnington, cos. Chester and Stafford. Bulphan, or Bulfan, might possibly translate "bull's-fen;" Stifford, "steep-ford"; but I am disposed to consider it another form of Stafford, which I take to be from stead-ford, the ford of the place (A. S. steda-ford). The first syllable in Fobbing (Domesday Phobinge) is doubtful. In the time of Edward the Confessor, Corringham is said to have belonged to one Sigar, and was, perhaps, originally Sigarham, afterwards Scigarnham, and finally corrupted to Curringham and Corringham; Corringham is, however, the name of a place in Lincolnshire. The last syllable of Orsett may be from sett, a place, and the first syllable from or =water; or it would corrupt from Horseheath. Horseheath, in Cambridgeshire, is commonly pronounced Horsett.

Gray's Inn Square.

Archbold.—The arms of Richard Archbold, of the Middle Temple, Esq. (third son of Edward Archbold, of the College of Worcester), who entered his pedigree in the Visitation of London in 1634, having then two sons living, were,—Argent a lion rampant between six fleurs-de-lis sable.

Argent semée of fleurs-de-lis, a lion rampant sable, is the coat of William Archbold, D.D., sometime Vicar of St. Peter's, Cornhill, London, whose son, Henry Archbold, also entered his pedigree in the above-named Visitation. Jane, widow of Dr. Archbold, and daughter of William Billingsley, of Stepney, co. Middlesex, gent., died January, 1635, her funeral being recorded in the College of Arms.

G. E. Adams, Lancaster.

Arms.—On a cup in my possession are the following arms, to whom did it belong? Per pale or and azure, on a fess between three greyhounds courant counterchanged a fleur-de-lis between two lozenges gules, impaling azure a chevron or between three hedgehogs of the last. Crest: On a wreath or and azure an arm embowed or holding a stork, wings expanded proper. Motto: "Virtus semper viridis."

E. Morton.

Chavasse.—Can any correspondent give the arms of this family? The founder in England, Claude Chavasse, is believed to have come from Dauphiné.

Guildhall, Worcester.

Leigh of Rushall.—A pedigree of this family, with several additions in MS., will be found in the copy of Shaw's 'History of Staffordshire' in the British Museum, press-mark 1854 b. This family, which was the elder line of the Lords Leigh of Stoneleigh, is now, I believe, quite extinct. Lewis Leigh had issue, according to Shaw, Edward and Richard. This Richard married Elizabeth, daughter of John Clark, of Newark, co. Notts, and had issue Richard (miscalled William by Shaw), who married Ann, daughter of Josiah Jarvis, of Atherstone, co. Warwick, by whom he had the Rev. William Leigh, Rector of Pulham, co. Norfolk, and Frances, wife of William Gray, by whom she had an only son, William, who died s. p. The Rev. Wm. Leigh married Mary, daughter of . . . Proud, and died s. p., 11 of April, 1858, and was buried at Pulham, St. Mary.

A. Leigh.

Bath, Prior Cantlow.—Prior from 1489–1499. Archbishop Morton visited Bath in his time. He restored St. Catherine's and St. Mary Magdalene's Chapel, near Bath. Can any one tell me more about him?

CRANMER OF WARWICKSHIRE.*

It has long been a problem to those who have studied the genealogy of Archbishop Cranmer, whether the Cranmers of Warwickshire can be descended from the Cranmers of Aslacton, in Nottinghamshire. The name constantly occurs in the registers of Tanworth, and of the adjoining parishes in the rural deanery of Alcester from 1626, but there is no clue to their earlier history, although the registers of Tanworth are said to begin in 1558. It is, at least, a curious coincidence that Samuel Cranmer, Alderman of London, who died in 1640, seised of the manor of Upper Itchington in Warwickshire, and whom we know to have been descended from the Archbishop's eldest brother, is said on his monument at Astwood Bury (Bucks) to have been born at Alcester about 1575. The Alderman was an only son, and his father John Cranmer was born and bred at Aslacton, so that it is difficult to connect him with the Warwickshire family: still the fact remains, that his father was living at Alcester in 1575, and that there were families of the same name in the same district fifty years later. The following extracts supply materials for a pedigree of the Cranmers of Warwickshire, and will, I hope, induce some local antiquary with greater knowledge and opportunities to pursue this interesting inquiry.

Extracts from the Parish Registers of Tanworth, near Henley-in-Arden, Co. Warwick.

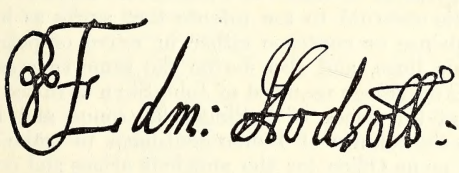
HODSOLL.



Seal and autograph of Edmund Hodsoll, of St. Mary Cray, to a deed dated 24 November, 1703, relating to lease of a messuage at Old Street, within the parish of Ash, next Farningham.

In the Ordinaries the following coat is assigned to Hodsoll of Kent:—Gules a fess wavy between three stone fountains argent. There does not, however, appear to be any special grant on record.

The following inscriptions relating to the family are copied from ledger-stones in St. Mary Cray Church:—

"Here lyes the body of Jane wife of Sam^{l} Attwood Rector of Ash near Wrotham in this County Youngest daughter of Edmund Hodsoll of this Parish Gent. who departed this life Sep^{r} 18th 1734 Aged 50 years." Two shields above inscription; on one the arms of Attwood,—a lion rampant within an orle of acorns,—the second bearing the Hodsoll coat.

"Here lieth the Body M^{rs} Helena Hodsoll* eldest daughter of M^{r} Edmund Hodsoll late of this parish She departed this life the 17th of December 1756 in the 83rd year of her Age." Above the inscription are the Hodsoll arms within a lozenge.

RAVENSCROFT.—Can any one tell me what the arms and crest (and quarterings, if possible) are of the Ravenscrofts of Ravenscroft Hall, Cheshire, one of the coheiresses of which family married a younger son of John de Croxton, of Croxton Hall, and brought the Ravenscroft estate into that family? QUERANS.

* The register of burials states she was buried 24 December, 1756.

* It is remarkable that notwithstanding the grant by Hervy, 10 July, 1557 (see preceding page), to this John Skynner and his posterity of "the owlde and auncient armes of his auncestors," his son and descendants should have made use of quite a different bearing, viz. argent a lion rampant sable within an orle of eight crescents gules: crest,—on a ducal coronet argent a falcon of the last, beaked and legged gules. These arms occur as being allowed (though no grant of them appears) at the Visitations, and they are also upon some of the family monuments at Goxhill and Thornton-Curtis. In 1609 we meet with a letter from Sir V. Skynner to the Earl of Salisbury sealed with the arms of Skynner of Norwich, viz. three cross-bows.

† Information as to what became of this William Skinner is required (see letter from Mr. Jackson, of Doncaster, to the 'Lincoln Mercury,' 2nd September, 1870). Nothing has been made out

THE CROSFIELD OR CROSSFIELD FAMILY.—I have in my possession a Bible, the entries in which are as follows:—

New York June 23, 1758, I, Stephen Crosfield (son of William and Elizabeth Crosfield of the town of Dorton* in Lancashire in Great Britain) entered into the holy state of matrimony with Mary, youngest daughter of Johannes and Margaretta Kerfbyl of this same city of New York.

July 10, 1765, was born our beloved son Stephen and baptized by Rev. John Oglevie in St. George's Chapel. Witnesses Mr. Andrew Gautier and Elizabeth his wife.

July 16, 1769 My beloved wife Mary departed this life in the 44th year of her age, and was the next day interred in the family vault of Andrew Gautier Esq., in Trinity Churchyard.

May 21, 1777 I, Stephen Crosfield married my second wife, Hannah Disbury of New York, daughter of Griffin and Hannah Disbury of New Jersey.

February 20, 1778, was born our beloved son William, and baptized by the Rev. Mr. Bagley. Witness Henry Newton and Ann Crosfield.

August 15, 1780, Our beloved son William departed this life, and was next day interred in the family vault of Andrew Gautier Esq. in Trinity Church yard.

August 23, 1782 was born our beloved daughter Elizabeth, and baptized by the Rev. Mr. Benjamin Moore. Witness, Henry Newton, Ann Crosfield and Elizabeth Dunbar.

May 4, 1790 My beloved son Stephen departed this life aged 24 years and 10 months, and interred in the family vault of Andrew Gautier Esq., in Trinity Church yard.

This Stephen Crosfield came to New York prior to 1745, accompanied by three sisters,—Elizabeth, who married Andrew Gautier; Mary, who married William Newton; and Ann, who died a spinster.

Can any one give me information of this family in England?

JOHN S. GAUTIER.

respecting him beyond the mention of him in the wills, 1648 and 1657. It has been supposed that he may be possibly identical with Wm. Skinner, merchant, and Alderman of Hull, who died 19 September, 1680, in the fifty-third year of his age, according to the inscription on his gravestone in the church of Holy Trinity, Hull. Proof of identity is so far, however, not forthcoming. Alderman Skinner used the same arms that were granted to John Skynner, 1557. Any facts tending to establish a connection between him and the Thornton family will oblige, and may be communicated direct to Mr. Jackson. The date of the age of Alderman Skinner on his monument may not be quite correctly given. Monumental inscriptions are not always to be entirely depended upon as evidence. An instance occurs in this family. William Skinner, of Thornton College, son of Sir Vincent, is stated on his monument to have died "the 7th day of August, 1626," whereas the entry of his burial in the register is on the 8th of August, 1627; the latter year being supported by his will, which, dated 3rd August, 1627, was proved at Lincoln, 1st February, 1627–8.

‡ De la Pryme, the Yorkshire antiquary, in his MS. History of Hull, says,—"1639. In this year Mr. Andrew Marvel, Lecturer of this town, a very learned and ingenious and florid man, going over the Humber in a small boat or skiff, with Madam Skinner, of Thornton College, and a young couple who were going to be married, a storm rose on a sudden, which, in a little time, overset the boat, so that they were all drowned, and never found or heard of afterwards." The term Madam and Mistress was the usual description of young unmarried ladies of position formerly.

* There is no township of Dorton in Lancashire, but there are three townships called Dalton,—one in Furness, one near Wigan, and a third near Kendal. If the Crosfields were Quakers, which, from the printed extracts, does not seem to have been the case, Dalton-in-Furness, which is near George Fox's adopted home, was probably the place from which they sprang.

FAMILY OF D'ARANDA.

I have just compiled the following pedigree of this family, entirely from original and authentic sources, and should be glad of any additions to it. It was undoubtedly of French origin, although the later members of it appear to have given the name a Spanish termination. It is desirable to know whether the male line is extinct.

JOSEPH LEMUEL CHESTER.

Rev. Elie D'Arande, Minister of the French Church at Southampton. Died 13th and buried 15th May, 1633, at St. Mary's, Southampton. = Elizabeth Bonhomme.

            - Benjamin D'Aranda, baptized at Putney 24 May, 1730.
            - Mary, died at Putney, in 1798, unmarried.
        - William Henry D'Aranda, "younger and only brother of Paul." Buried at Shoreham, Kent, 30 March, 1713, aged 24.
      - George D'Aranda, living 19 Oct. 1712, apparently married.
      - Esther,* baptized at Patcham, Sussex, 14 May, 1654.
      - Elizabeth,* born 1st and bapt. 10 April, 1664, at the French Church at Canterbury.
    - Peter D'Aranda, born 26th and bapt. 29 May, 1669, at the French Church, Canterbury.
    - = Elizabeth Oliphant, of Petersham, Surrey, spinster, aged 27. (Mar. Lic. Vic. Gen. 11 May, 1734.)
- = Frances, dau. of Benjamin Pickering and Frances his wife, of West Hoadley, Sussex, where she was born. Married at the French Church, Canterbury, 25 Feb. 1665–6. Living 19 Oct. 1712. (2nd wife.)
- Peter D'Arande, born 18 and bapt. 21 May, 1626, at the French Church at Southampton. Died 8th and buried 10 Dec. 1628 at Southampton.

* Both of these daughters were living 19 October, 1712; one married to . . . Strayherne.

† Any information respecting her family is greatly desired.

SIR ISAAC HEARD, GARTER (p. 59).—I have a china bowl with the arms of Sir Isaac Heard, it is of Lowestoft china, and it appears to me probable that, as Lowestoft china was fashionable at the beginning of the present century, Sir Isaac might have had a service from that place, of which "E. M.'s" and my bowl may have formed a portion. G. W. M.

CROXTON OF CROXTON HALL AND NORLEY BANK, CHESHIRE.—I should be glad to know if John Croxton, Esq., of Norley Bank, Cheshire (whose daughter Emma married Rev. Rowland Egerton, who assumed the additional name of Warburton in right of his wife, niece of Sir Peter Warburton, Bart., and of Elizabeth, his wife, daughter of Edward, eleventh Earl of Derby), was descended from the ancient family of Croxton of Croxton Hall, Cheshire, and, if so, why the descendants of the above Rowland Egerton-Warburton quarter the arms of Croxton as "Sable a lion rampant argent, debruised by two bends engrailed or," whereas the coat of Croxton of Croxton is "Sable a lion rampant argent, debruised by a bend componée or and gules." QUERANS.

SKIPPON (pp. 37, 64).—15 Edward II., Adam Skippon, miller, occurs on court roll of manor of Burnham, Norfolk. W. RYE.

JENKINS.—Can any of your readers connect and complete the following pedigrees? The first is extracted from Visitations of Yorkshire and the second is taken from a private MS. of a late herald.

First Pedigree.

Toby Jenkins of Grimston co. York. = Anthonia Wickham.

- Mary dau. of Charles 1st Duke of Bolton.
- = Toby Jenkins of Grimston co. York. †
- = . . .
- Henry Jenkins died in Spain 1665.
- William Jenkins born 1650.
- daughters.

- William Jenkins bapt at Dunnington near York 3rd Oct. 1708.
- Anthonia bapt 18 June 1710.

Second Pedigree.

Toby Jenkins of . . . co. York. = . . .

- William Jenkins. = Anne youngest dau. of Joseph Kettle of Northfield co. Worcester & sister & coheir of William Kettle d. 1728 believed to be buried at Northfield.

- John Killick of Cheam co. Surrey.
- = Elizabeth* dau. & coheir (I find she m. at Woodmanstone co. Surrey 1741 d. Augst 1793 aged 78).—F. G. W. †
- Sarah.
- Mary. = Benjamin Chillingworth. †

I am also anxious to find the arms of Kettle. In the MS. above referred to I find Joseph Kettle was buried at King's Norton, co. Worcester, and that he married a daughter of . . . Hagham, of Salop. His father was the Rev. William Kettle, of Barnbrook End, co. . . .; he married a daughter of Thomas Spencer, of Upton, co. Warwick (query son of Sir John Spencer, of Althorp). Any information relating to the above will much oblige.

F. G. W.

* Arms on John Killick's tomb, borne in right of his wife, are the same—viz. Or a lion rampant reguardant sable—as those borne by Jenkins of Grimstone.

Salvin.—John, second son of Sir Roger Salvayn, of Herswell, died s. p. 19 Hen. VI., leaving his property to the son of his eldest sister, Alice, who married Henry Wilton. She had two sons by Henry Wilton, viz.—

1. John Wilton, alias Salvin, who inherited his uncle John Salvin's fortune, but died, aged 16, 21 Hen. VI.

2. Henry Wilton, alias Salvin.

Can any correspondent acquainted with Durham genealogy inform me what were the arms borne by Henry Wilton, who married Alice Salvin, or by the sons of the said Alice, viz. John Wilton, alias Salvin, or her second son, Henry Wilton, alias Salvin?

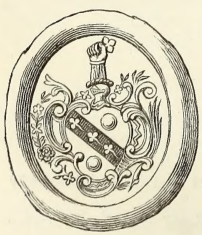
A Somersetshire family named Wilton appears, from an Alphabet of arms in the Heralds' College, to have borne, Sable three water-bougets argent; which coat is also found (but given to another name) in a splendid shield of Percy quarterings in Edmonson's 'Baronagium.'

It is a curious coincidence that the Salvayns descended from a coheir of Robert, Lord Ros of Warke, with which name three water-bougets are, with variations of tincture, constantly associated.

In indexes to pedigrees, and, perhaps, in Visitations duly enrolled, the name Wylton and Witton are considered synonymous; perhaps arising from some self-evident, but slight alteration in crossing both the l and the t in entering the name.

Wye-town and Wily-town have each an aqueous derivation, and this is recognized in the water-bougets which both Wiltons and Wittons assume as partly or entirely their armorial bearings.

There is a family of Johnson using the same arms as the Wiltons, viz. Or a water-bouget sable, on a chief of the second three bezants. E. W.



Palmer.—. . . Palmer, of Lincoln's Inn, King's Messenger, married Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Bate,† of Ashby de la Zouch, gent. This Mr. Palmer had an estate in Ireland. His seal, a woodcut of which is here given, is now in my possession. Arms: Argent a bend sable charged with three trefoils slipped of the field between two pellets. Crest: An arm erect holding a trefoil. I should be glad to have some account of this Mr. Palmer and his antecedents.

* Numbers of these names are not in the pedigree, and the majority, no doubt, belong to collaterals.

† The pedigree says, "Borne 1578." No other entry appears. Possibly this Thomas was the eldest son, and dying an infant, the name was perpetuated in the Thomas of 1578. By a marriage-settlement of 1708, and by the wardens' books, this Thomas and his father, Randle, were the first to settle in Kingsley (about the end of Elizabeth's reign), where they occasionally dwelt, as did John and Randolph, the sons of Thomas, at the Banke House, the Brooke House, and Kingsley Grange, or Hurst.

‡ Along with "Ric. Stanley fil. Thome." Edward Stanley and Jane, his second wife, of Alvanley, were living about this time. He was of the house of Hooton.

§ He was co-warden of Frodsham parish, and his father, Thomas, made a curious settlement, providing that if he refused the office his moiety of certain lands should go to his second brother, Randolph. In 1672, his son John was also Churchwarden, along with Willm. Hyde, of Cattenall, in Kingsley, Esq., a junior branch of the Hydes of Hyde, a quo the younger house of Clarendon, temp. Jac. II.

‖ The registers being very rough from 1642 to 1670, this Randolph is described in a duplicate entry as of Kingsley.

* This Nathaniel was afterwards of Parsing House, in Eccleston, near Rufford, in co. Lanc., where he died, and is described in his will, dated 12 June, 1709, as a husbandman. He there (after referring to a balance owing by his father's will) mentions his brothers John, James, and Richard, and sister Martha; and gives his "Rasiers to Mr Oulton," and appoints his "Loveing Kinsman Leonard Grantham of the City of Chester Gentl. sole Executor." Witnesses,—John Mercer, Elizabeth Brooke, Ri. Armstriding.

† Died in infancy.

‡ These curious entries are the only entries of the kind in the whole of the registers, which says much for the parish in the matter of runaway marriages.

This, together with other Settlements, is by a counterpart Indenture, dated the 5th day of May, 1770, covenanted to be produced to certain purchasers.

* The son of Dr. Gastrell, Bishop of Chester, author of 'Notitia Cestriensis.'

† She must have reached an extreme old age, as she was married in the reign of Henry VII., and this may account for the somewhat special form of entry, although her age is not mentioned.

‡ These appear to be two Joans, probably mother and daughter; but query whether it really means Joan, the widow of John Helsby, gentleman. Among several other entries of death in a Breeches Bible of 1610 are the three, Blanche, Margery, and Joan, in August and September, 1590, and they are there described as the daughters of Randle Helsby, of Helsby.—*And see pedigree, Miscell. I, the Reverend William Charles Cotton, Clerk, Master of Arts, Vicar of the Parish and Parish Church of Frodsham, do hereby certify that I have examined the Extracts above mentioned relating to the family of Helsby, of Helsby, Kingsley, Alvanley, Frodsham, and Overton, and compared the same with the original Entries in the Register Books of the said Parish, and do hereby declare the same to be true and correct copies thereof. Dated at Overton, this tenth day of December, one thousand eight hundred and seventy.

Wm. Chas. Cotton, M.A.,
Vicar of Frodsham.

* A double entry, on separate pages.

† This description, "Motehouse," must refer, not to James, but to Randle, who occasionally resided there, but which residence for nearly the whole of the seventeenth century was let as a farm. In the registers and parish accounts it is occasionally called "Helsby Hall" and "Helsby House," though another Helsby House existed in Alvanley, also an occasional residence of the family. In 1637, John Blimston occupied a pew on the north side of the parish church for "Helsbey House" (meaning the Moathouse or Hall), as tenant, after the wooden and oldest portion of the mansion had been destroyed by fire, temp. Jac. I. The remains of the building, being of stone, were then let as a farm, and in "1732. April 6. Mary Burgess of Helsbey Hall" (the wife or daughter of the then tenant) is mentioned in the registers as being buried; but some time afterwards a second fire reduced the place to ashes.

‡ In A.D. 1639, "Mr. Randle Helsby and John, Lord Viscount Savage," are mentioned in an old "Seat Role" as holding certain pews in the north-east corner of Frodsham Church, or the Helsby Chapel, and several other pews in other parts of the church were then held by other members of the family; but before 1749 all the north-east pews were in the hands of purchasers, and only one or two remained. Notwithstanding all this and Frodsham evidently being the principal burial place (Alvanley Chapel was another), not a scrap of memorial-stone is to be found, though the aged sexton says that the remains of a rotten escutcheon and two banners (which had from time to time dropped in pieces on the site of the high-altar) on being taken down, crumbled to dust, with their staves, in the hands of his father upwards of half a century ago, when the church was undergoing its accustomed whitewashing. One remote branch of the family attributes this absence of tombstones to a fancied fraud, and tells an amusing story of his father some sixty years since taking down his attorney (or, perhaps the attorney taking down his father) to Frodsham and Runcorn, where they discovered the gravestones turned upside down, appropriated to other uses, with their inscriptions defaced, registers mutilated, and other signs of malpractices, all for the purpose of keeping them out of certain estates, which, it is needless to say, belonged to another line, and which generation after generation had wasted away, till the sale of the last acre a century ago and the removal of the family to another part of the shire.

The firste payment therof to begynne at the firste terme of the forsayde fowre termes nexte and immediatlie after my decease. And if yt happen the sayd yerelie Annuytie of foure markes to be behinde vnpayde in parte or in the whole at eny of the feastes aforesayd in which it oughte to be payde by the space of xx dayes, then I will that the sayd Anne my doughter shall freelye haue possesse & enioye, to her proper vse duringe her naturall lyfe my two fieldes belonginge to my mansion howse, the one cauled Shepefielde and the other called Pondefield. Prouyded alwayes that if the sayd Anne do sell, bargaine, alienate, exchange or otherwise do awaye the sayd yerelie annuytie of foure markes without the consente of my Executor, then this my gifte to her to be voyde and of none effecte. The residewe of my goodes movable & Cattalles not before geven & bequethed, my debtes Legacies and ffuneralles fulfilled p'formed & payd I geue & bequethe to John Houenden my eldeste sonne, whiche John I ordeine constitute and make my sole Executor of this my laste will & Testament. And of this my last will and testament I do also ordeyne and appointe Stephen Sharpie Ouerseer, and he to haue for his paines in that behalfe twentie shillinges.

This is the laste will of me Robert Hovenden concerninge the disposic'on of all my landes and tenementes Rentes Reu'sions and Servyces set lyenge & beinge in the Parishes of Cranebroke and Haukehurste in the countie of Kent or else where in the Realme of Englande, ffirste I will that Anne my wyfe shall haue my two ten'tes set lyinge and beinge in the towne of Cranebroke with all the Londes to them belonginge duringe her lyfe if she contynew sole & mary not. So that the sayd Anne do kepe and repayre them sufficientlie, and pay the rentes goinge oute of the same to the Lorde of the ffee beinge due & of righte accustomed. And after the deathe of the sayd Anne or after the time of her mariage, then I will the sayd two ten'tes withe theire Appurtenaunces shall wholly remayne to Richarde Hovenden my soonne & to the heyres of his bodye laufullye begotten. And if he dye before he come to the age of xxi yeres and withoute heires of his bodie laufullye begotten, Then I will the sayd two tenementes with all & singuler theire appurtenaunces shall remaine to Thomas Hovenden & Gyles Hovenden my soonnes and to theyre heyres equally to be devyded betwene in lyke maner & forme as Coparteners do by the ordre of the comon Lawes of this Realme. And if the sayde Thomas & Gyles dye before they comme to theire laufull ages of xxi yeres with oute heyres of theire bodies laufullie begotten Then I will the sayd two ten'tes or messuages with all & sing'ler theire appurtenaunces shall wholly remaine to John Hovenden my soonne & to his heyres for euer. Item I will that Richarde Hovenden my soonne at his age of xxi yeres shal haue my messuage or ten'te called Hodes with xiv Acres of Lande be it more or lesse, and other the appurtenaunces set lyinge & beynge in the Parishe of Cranebroke, & one woode called ffoxerige withe the Appurtenaunces in the sayd parishe of Cranebroke, to him & to the heyres of his bodye laufullie begotten. And if he die before his age of xxi yeres, & with oute heires of his bodie laufullye begotten, Then I will the sayd messuage or ten't called Hodes with the xiv acres of Lande, and the woode called ffoxeridge with th'appurtenaunces shall wholy remayne to Thomas and Gyles my soonnes, and to the heyres of theire bodies laufullie begotten, in maner & forme as I haue willed the ten'tes or messuages willed to my wife after her estate determined. And if hit fortune the sayd Thomas and Gyles before theire laufull ages & withoute heyres of theire bodies laufullye begotten to decease, Then I will that the sayd messuage or ten'te called Hodes with the xiiij Acres of Londe & the woode called ffoxeridge shall wholly remaine to John Hovendon my soonne and to his heyres for euer. Item I will that Thomas my soonne at his laufull age of xxi yeres, shall haue my two ten'tes or messuages with theire appurtenaunces lyenge & beinge in the p'ishe Hawkehurste aforesayde to him and to his heyres of his bodye laufullye begotten. And for defaulte of suche Issue, I will the sayd two ten'tes or messuages with theire Appurtenaunces shall remaine to Richarde & Gyles my soonnes & to the heyres of theire bodies laufully begotten accordinglie and vnder such maner and forme as I haue willed my messuage called Hodes the xiiij Acres of Londe and the woode called ffoxeridge lyenge in the Parishe of Cranebroke. And if it fortune the sayd Richard & Gyles to dye withoute Issue afore they come to theire laufull age, then I will the sayd two ten'tes or messuages lyenge in the Parishe of Hawkehurste aforesayde shall wholy remaine to my soonne John Hovenden & to his heyres for euer. Item I will that my two ten'tes or messuages lyinge & beinge in Hasildenwoode in the p'ishe of Cranebroke with theire Appurtenaunces shalbe & remayne to my soonne Gyles Hovenden at his full age of xxi yeres & to the heyres of his bodie laufully begotten. And for lacke of suche Issue I will the sayd Tenementes with theire Appurtenaunces shall wholie remayne to my soonnes Rycharde and Thomas and to the heires of theire bodies lawfully begotten in the same ordre maner & forme as I haue willed my two ten'tes or messuages lyenge in the Parishe of Hawkehurste. And if the said Richard and Thomas dye withoute Issue of theire bodyes laufully begotten, Then I will the sayd two ten'tes with theire appurtenaunces shall whollie remaine to my soonne John Hovenden and to his heires for euer. Item I will that Anne my wyfe shall take the yssues and proffettes of all my landes and ten'tes w^{ch} I haue willed to my iij yonger soonnes Richard Thomas & Gyles durynge theire nonages therwithe to exhibite and finde them honestlye. And when they and eyther of them shall come to theire laufull ages, Then I will my sayd wyfe Anne shall make an Accompte to them, & suche monye as shall remayne of the profittes of the sayd Landes to deliuer it to them & euerie of them as they shall attayne and come to theyre seuerall laufull eges of xxj yeres And if my wyfe fortune to mary agayne, my sayd iij yonger soonnes or eny of them beinge within age, Then I will my sayd wyfe shall put in sufficient sureties in a convenient some of mony to be bownde to my executor for the true delyuerie of suche monye as shalbe receyued by her of the profittes and Issues of my sayd Landes assigned to my thre yonger soonnes, And soche monye as shall remayne vpon her accompte shall deliuer to suche of my sayd iij soonnes as shall come to theire laufull. Ages and if my wife refuse or if it shall shall fortune her to decease before the sayd laufull ages of my sayd three soonnes, Then I will my soonne John Hovenden shall receyue and take the yssues & profettes of all suche landes ten'tes & wooddes as I haue willed geuen and bequethed to my sayd iij younger soonnes duringe there sayde nonages. And the sayd John Hovenden my sonne to deliuer to euerie of my sayd iij yonger soonnes, when he or they shall come to theyre laufull ages soche somes of monye as he shall receyue of theire landes and ten'tes. The necessarie charges and expenses spente vpon eu'ie of my sayde iij yonger soonnes duringe there nonage firste allowed to my sayd soonne John. Item I will that my principall messuage and all the Landes belonginge to the same lyenge in the p'ishe of Cranebroke whiche I boughte of Thomas Hartridge, all suche landes as I boughte of John Tebolde in the sayd Parishe of Cranebroke, and also that my myll & Landes with the Appurtenaunces in the sayd parishe of Cranebroke w^{ch} I boughte of Will'm Coorthopp & all other my landes & ten'tes before in this my laste will not geuen willed nor devysed shall wholie remaine to my sayd sonne John Hovenden and to the heyres of his bodye laufully begotten for euer And I will that nether my wyfe duringe the tyme that she shall receyue and take the Issues and profyttes of suche lands & ten'tes as I haue gyuen to my three yonger soonnes, by vertue of this my will, nor my soonne John Hovenden of the sayd landes & ten'tes shall come to his handes & occupacon to the vse of my sayde three yonger soonnes duringe the tyme of theire sayd nonage shall not medle with any of the woodes or vnderwoodes growinge vpon the same, But suffre them to be and remaine vpon the same to and for the vse of my sayd three yonger soonnes when they shall come to theire severall ages of xxi yeres eny thinge in this my will contayned to the contrarie not withstandinge. And if my sayd wyfe shall attempt to do the contrarye then I will that she shall not medle with the receipts of the Issues and profittes of the same landes appoynted to my younger soonnes But that my soonne John Hovenden shall receyve the sayd Issues and profittes to the vse of my sayd three yonger soonnes, trustinge that he will see & cause to the wooddes to bee kepte & preserved to the vse of his sayd yonger brethrene. Carew.—Dame Alice Stamford, widow of Sir William Stamford, Knt., Justice of the Common Pleas, who died in August, 1558, married, secondly, Roger Carew, Esq., of Monken Hadley (circa 1560), and by him had an only son, Henry Carew, Esq., also of Monken Hadley, who died unmarried December 12, 1620, and was there buried. A Roger Carew was one of the burgesses of St. Alban's from 5th to 13th Elizabeth. Wanted to ascertain to what branch of the Carew family the said Roger and Henry belonged. F. C. Cass.

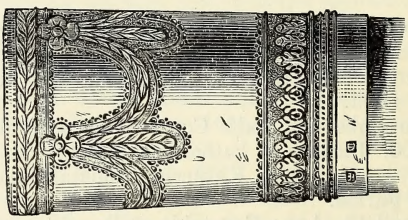
Fouke or Fowke.—There was formerly in Staffordshire a family of the name of Fouke or Fowke. One of them, Roger Fowke, of Brewood, bought Wyrley Grove from his relative, John Leveson, and married Joan Fowke. Their son Thomas married Mary, daughter of Henry Ferrers, of Baddesley Clinton, co. Warwick, and had issue Ferrers Fowke, of Little Wyrley, who married Frances, daughter of Morton Briggs, of Haughton Hall, co. Salop. Can any one supply the issue of this match and, if any, what became of them? J. Fetherston.

Gibson of Welburn.—At Welburn Hall, in North Yorkshire, a little more than a mile from Kirbymoorside, resided James Gibson, Esq., Town Clerk of London, whose daughter Elizabeth (query, Judith) married Thomas Strangways Robinson, of Pickering, Esq.,—she died 1751. The last of the Robinsons who occupied the old hall was the Rev. John Robinson, lineally descended from Sir James Strangways, who, in the time of Henry VI., married Margaret, the elder of the two coheiresses of the last Lord D'Arcy Meinill. The younger married Sir John Conyers, ancestor of the present Duke of Leeds. The name of Strangways was exchanged for that of Robinson in accordance with the will of Luke Robinson Esq., of Riseborough, and M.P. for Scarborough.



The woodcut represents a fine gold mounting to a lady's Malacca walking-cane, with crest on the top. I should be glad to know to whom this cane belonged. I got it from a cottage in the village of Welburn, and it was said to have been the walking-cane of "Johanna Gibson." Edward Morton.

Malton, 21 November, 1870.

Captain Newsom, R.N.—Can any correspondent throw light on the parentage of this gentleman? In Schomberg's 'Naval Records,' vol. i. p. 340, he is thus mentioned:—"Rear-Admiral Stevens blockading Pondicherry, sent the boats of his division, headed by Captain Newsome, who cut out two frigates with great gallantry." In 'Gentleman's Magazine for 1759, amongst the vessels which sailed from Kinsale is named the 'Roman Emperor,' of twenty guns, commanded by Captain Newsom. In his will, dated October, 1787, he is styled Captain Wm. Newson, R.N., and mentions his four daughters,—Sarah, wife of Ambrose Corderoy; Mary Ann, wife of Geo. Paterson; Caroline, wife of . . . Davis; and Elizabet, subsequently wife of John Strongi'th'arm, engraver, of Pall Mall (see Gent.'s Mag.). There can be little doubt of the present firm of Strongi'th'arm of Pall Mall being either descendants or collaterals of this last marriage.

CASAMAJOR WILLS.*

Clementina or Clemence Casamajor, of Bristol, 1749.

Clementina or Clemence Casamajor, alias Clementina La Peyre, widow, of the City of Bristol. Will (originally written in French) dated 28th of June, 1749. A Codicil added, dated 2nd April, 1755. Sworn to by the La Roches, under affidavit 5th January 1768. (she died 3rd November, 1760), and administered to, the 19th January the same year, there being no execution mentioned. Leaves property to her three daughters Mary, Elizabeth, and Ann Casamajor. By Codicil leaves £100 to Mary Casamajor, her grandchild, which she gives to James La Roche and Clemence his wife, another of her daughters, for the use of the said grandchild. James La Roche is described as of Bristol, Esq. The will is extremely short, and ends by her particularly enjoining friendship and unity among the children and family.

Mary Casamajor, of Bristol, 1756.

Mary Casamajor, of the City of Bristol, Spinster. Will dated 19th February 1756. Codicil dated 13th Nov. 1763. Administration granted to her sisters Elizabeth, and Anne Casamajor, 12th Octber 1799. Desires to be buried near her Father. Gives a small estate at the foot of College Green, and her house without Lawford's Gate to her Brother in law La Roche, of which he is to receive the rents, until he shall be paid the sum of £117 „ 17 „ 6, lent to the said Testatrix. Mentions "obligations under which she laboured to him and her dear sister Laroche." Leaves a Walnut cabinet to the said sister in token of her love. Bequeaths to her niece Mary Casamajor her diamond Earrings and a locket in which is the Cypher D. M. C. To her niece Hannah Casamajor, her Pearl Necklace, To her nephew Lewis John Casamajor her Gold Watch, and the residue of her estate to her sisters Elizabeth and Anne Casamajor, to be equally divided between them. By her Codicil she desires, that, as her sisters and herself had purchased and built a house in Queen's Square, a third part of it after her and their decease, might devolve to her eldest niece Maria Casamajor.

(A seal of arms is attached.)

Elizabeth Casamajor, of Bristol, 1778.

Elizabeth Casamajor, Spinster, of the City of Bristol. Will dated 2nd September 1778. Proved 26th June 1780. Mentions property in St Austins Back, also in Queen Square. Bequeaths the bulk of her property to her Sister Anne who is made sole executrix. To Mary her Sister £20 only, To her nephew Henry, the property in Queen's Square after her Sister Anne's death, To her nieces Anne and Henrietta Casamajor £750 each. Appoints her niece Maria residuary legatee. To her niece Harriot she leaves £50 only "not on account that she loves her the least, but because Sir William and Lady East having taken her, she hopes that she will be thus provided for," To the four nieces above mentioned she leaves £10 each, also to her nephew Henry and to her niece Elizabeth Goodwin £10 a piece.

Hannah Casamajor, of Marylebone, 1779.

Hannah Casamajor, widow, of the New Suffolk Street, Marylebone. Will dated 4th December, 1779. Proved 17th December 1782. Mentions her husband John Casamajor deceased, and Justinian and John her sons. Leaves her house in New Suffk Street, near to Middlesex Hospital, to her son John, who is nominated her sole executor. Alludes to property or Government securities, especially a sum of £5000, in which her late husband's sisters have some interest, after whose decease she allots three-eights of the said sum to Justinian her son, and five-eights to John, her son. Mentions a sum of upwards of £3000, advanced to her son Justinian. Leaves to her friend Mr Mary Bush, £30. Desires if she dies in London to be buried near her husband in St James Church.

Rebecca Casamajor, of Marylebone, 1785.

Rebecca Casamajor, widow, of Queen Anne Street West, Marylebone. Will dated 25th October, 1785, limited probate 17th November 1788. Additional entry in the margin under November 25th 1851. Mentions her only son James Henry Casamajor of Fort St George in the East Indies, and Rebecca Casamajor, his natural daughter. The addition of Probate (1851) mentions a James Archibald Casamajor as a son (probably of the James Henry Casamajor mentioned above), it also mentions John Powney and William Cook. Testatrix desires to be buried in Chiswick Churchyard, near to her grandmother Elizabeth Powney and her aunt Mary Powney. All her property is devised to her only son James Henry, with the exception of £200 a year in the Consolidated Long Annuities, which she leaves to Rebecca her granddaughter, the natural daughter of her son James Henry Casamajor, who, it would appear was abroad. She appoints the two persons named to act should such a contingency occur. She specifies a request that her granddaughter may not return to India.

Ann Casamajor, of Bristol, 1787.

Ann Casamajor, Spinster, of the parish of St Stephen, in the city of Bristol. Will dated 1st March 1787. Proved 9th February 1808. Mentions Elizabeth Casamajor, her sister, deceased.

* Communicated by the Right Honourable Earl of Enniskillen.

Property is mentioned in S^{t} Augustine's Back, and in Queen Square, the latter she leaves to her nephew Henry Casamajor. Desires to be buried in the "Mayors Chapple" wherein many of her kindred lie. Maria Brian, her niece, styled a widow in the Probate, is left sole Executrix. As her late niece Ann had not in her disposal any of the £750, left to her by her Aunt Elizabeth, the Testatrix leaves £750 to each of her nieces Harriott and Henrietta, sisters of the said Ann. She likewise bequeaths £10 to each of them for mourning &c.

JOHN CASAMAJOR, ESQ., OF GOLDEN SQUARE, 1747.

John Casamajor of Golden Square, County of Middlesex, Esq. Will dated 16 April. Proved 27 May 1747. Mentions his wife Anne, living and enceinte at the date of the Will. Also three children (names not given) under age at the same date. Leaves to his brother Henry £1500, to his three sisters Mary, Elizabeth and Anne, £50 annuity each. To his mother he leaves an annuity of £250. The executors named are Valens Comyn, Joh. Windham, Nicholas Magens, and James La Roche.

JOHN CASAMAJOR, OF MARYLEBONE, 1795.

John Casamajor Esq. of Suffolk Street, Marylebone. Will dated 27 June 1795. First Codicil 1 July 1800. Second Codicil 14 Feb. 1804. Proved 26 March 1814. Desires to be opened after death and embalmed, but a Codicil revokes the embalming but directs the opening. It also revokes a certain clause relating to the investment of a sum of money in Trustees, and finally Augustus Hankey Esq., Banker of Fenchurch Street is instituted sole Executor. To his Housekeeper, by one of his Codicils, he leaves an annuity, This said annuity is signed by Justinian Casamajor jun^{r} of Potterells County Hertford as a witness. Probably his nephew, son of his brother Justinian, who owes him under a Bond, upwards of £3000. Alludes to property in the Government Securities. Leaves the bulk of his property to his five nieces, Mary, Anne, Elizabeth, Henrietta and Caroline.

JAMES HENRY CASAMAJOR, ESQ., OF LONDON, 1805.

In the Prerogative Office there.

James Henry Casamajor Esq. of Wimpole Street Manchester Square co. Middlesex. Will dated the 20th of June 1805. Codicil 5th of October 1811. Proved the 11th of October 1815. He died the 23rd of January in the latter year, aged 70. Leaves £300 to his wife Elizabeth, daughter of Sir James Campbell of Inverary, for mourning, to each of his children for mourning £100, and £50 to his natural daughter Rebecca for the same purpose. Mentions property in Government Tontine shares; in Westminster Assurance, in Grand Junction Canal Shares, Legacy to the servant of his deceased mother, at Madras—mentions in the list of his Executors "my Cousin John Casamajor Esq^{r}." "my Cousin now of Suffolk Street." Further Probates were granted the 21st of March 1818 and 27th of March 1837 at which latter period his Cousin John Casamajor appears to have been dead.

The Codicil provides that as by the Will a great many are left Executors who are resident in London, a certain number resident at Madras shall be further appointed among whom is one John Casamajor Esq. The Codicil is dated at Madras. An affidavit as to his handwriting describes him as James Henry Casamajor Esq. of Manchester Square.

JUSTINIAN CASAMAJOR, ESQ., OF HERTFORDSHIRE, 1816.

In the Prerogative Office, London.

Justinian Casamajor Esq. of Potterells in the Parish of North Mimms co. Hertford. Will dated 2nd September 1816. Two Codicils Proved 29th August 1820. Mentions his sons Justinian, George-John, Louis-Duncan, William-Charles and his daughters Emma, Henrietta, Caroline, Lydia and his son in law John Vernon Esq. Desires to be buried as near to the remains of his Wife as possible, but the Codicil specifies that if he die at Pitton in Devonshire he is to be buried there. Alludes to Property in Bristol and some share in a Tontine property. His grandson Justinian, son of his son-in-law John Vernon Esq. to assume the Arms and name of Casamajor. Leaves Justinian, John, and William his sons Executors, but by Codicil revokes the appointment of Justinian, Also a M^{r} Newman his friend, who is the Executor that proves, power being reserved to the others. Mentions also considerable property in the Island of Antigua. John by the concluding portion would seem at that time to have been abroad in the East Indies. The Will is of great length, and particularizes the disposition of some of his Jewels and Rarities with some articles of Vertu, of which he appears to have had a costly stock. The celebrated Macklin Bible is to continue as a heirloom in his family, also some Globes left him by General Hervey, and Valuables from Lady Carhampton. Potterells would seem to have been devised by his friend Charles (or C. L. S.) Delach, to him and another as tenants in common. Various legacies are also bequeathed especially to his servants. The second Codicil affords the reason for excluding Justinians name as one of the Executors, viz. not from any diminution of love, but that he, Justinian, is already much engaged. The property would seem to be generally in the Counties of Hertfordshire, Middlesex, and Lincoln.

LOUIS-DUNCAN CASAMAJOR, ESQ., 1820.

In the Prerogative Office, London.

Administration to the effects of Louis-Duncan Casamajor Esq. late Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of S^{t} Petersburg. Granted the 1st December 1820, to James Newman Esq., one of the Executors of the late Justinian Casamajor Esq., the natural and lawful Father of the deceased, he dying before him. Sworn under £3000.

JOHN CASAMAJOR, ESQ., 1821.

In the Prerogative Office, London.

Administration to the Estate of John Casamajor Esq. Bachelor, late of Madras in the East Indies. Granted the 2nd October 1821 to his brother William Charles Casamajor Esq. Sworn under £100.

JUSTINIAN CASAMAJOR, ESQ., OF LONDON, 1821.

In the Prerogative Office there.

Justinian Casamajor Esq. of Great Suffolk Street, London. Will dated the 3rd of May 1821, attested, as Testators handwriting by Edward Pike of Parliament Street the 13th September, and proved the 17th of September, the same year. Commences by fearing that he has mislaid a former Will to the same effect as the present one, made some time ago. Leaves all he possesses to Sarah Pallett, his servant, who has lived with him for these 10 years past, and whose conduct he eulogizes at some length. Knows of no one who has more claim on him than she. Had but little to bequeath to her & wishes it were more. Leaves Jewelry Pictures Furniture &c. to her. To his Executors Philip Augustus Hanrott Esq. Solicitor, and Mr Thomas Poole his former Landlord he leaves £50 a piece. Entreats Sarah Pallett to give Emma £20 if she can afford it.

HENRIETTA CASAMAJOR, OF RAWLEIGH, 1823.

In the Prerogative Office, London.

Henrietta Casamajor of Rawleigh in the County Devon formerly of County Hertford Spinster. Will dated the 9th of June 1823. Proved the 19th of March 1824. Makes bequests to Caroline-Lydia and Emma Casamajor out of money coming to her from her brother John and General Harvey's legacy; remainder to her brothers William, Charles and George-James. Mentions her two sisters Anderdon and Vernon, and her two godchildren Caroline Vernon and William Manning Anderdon, who are left some money when they come of age. Alludes to her Cousins, the Whites.

The Will is a short one & is accompanied by two Codicils and an attestation of Testatrix handwriting. The Executors named are Emma and Caroline Lydia Casamajor and William Charles Casamajor.

HENRY CASAMAJOR, ESQ., OF BATH, 1824.

In the Prerogative Office, London.

Henry Casamajor Esq. described as of Richmond Terrace, Walcot division of Bath-forum co. Somerset formerly of Great House, Upper Tockington co. Gloucester, bachelor. Will dated 4th of January 1824. Handwriting attested to, the 1st Jany, & proved 4 March same year. Desires to be buried at Newton St Loe, co. Somerset, in the ground which he had had prepared near the grave of his Sister Mrs Henrietta Davies. Leaves a sum of money to keep the said graves and monuments in repair, as also those of Mr Gooden & his wife, & desires a wooden tablet to be set up in the said church of Newton St Loe with the bequests painted thereon. Leaves to his only surviving sister Harriett whose income is much greater than her expenditure £300. Bequests are also made to Wm Charles Casamajor of Potterells, co. Herts son of the late Justinian Casamajor Esq. & to Mrs Casamajor of Fort St George. To his housekeeper Margaret Richards spinster, he leaves various sums of money together with his furniture as mentioned in a schedule annexed to the Will. To his niece Mrs Mary Ann Tonge wife of Wm Norris Tonge Esq. a legacy. To his nephews Sir Gilbert East and Augustus Henry East Esq. a legacy. To his niece Mary Lady Clayton wife of Sir Wm Clayton a legacy. The residue to the daughters of the said Sir William and Lady Mary Clayton viz. Catherine Amelia, the wife of Mr Manley of Manley Hall co. Stafford, proved at London with two Codicils the first being the schedule of the Plate, Trinkets, Miniatures &c. including portraits of his father & mother bequeathed to his only sister Harriett, the other a schedule of the furniture bequeathed to his housekeeper. In the attestation to his handwriting this Will is stated to have several interlineations & erasures and is described as found in an Escritoire after Testators death.

Inscription upon a Tablet in the Church at Newton St. Loe, Co. Somerset.

Donation
Henry Casamajor, Esq., bequeathed to the Rector and Church Wardens of this Parish One hundred Pounds,
3 per Cent., upon Trust, to apply the dividends in repairing the Graves, Iron-Railings, Base and Tombs respectively of the Testator, Mrs Henrietta Davies and Robert Gooden, Esq. and Elizabeth his wife, and in preserving this Tablet and to distribute the remainder (if any) within 14 days after received among such Poor of this Parish, as they in their con sciences should think right and proper.
The Rev. Richard Warner of this Parish, and John F.
Davis M.D., Royal Crescent, Bath, Executors. Stock invested in the joint names of the Rev. Peter Gunning, Rector, and Mr Thomas Balne Church-Warden.
Will proved 4th March 1824.

Elizabeth Casamajor, of London, 1835.

In the Prerogative Office there.

Elizabeth (Rebecca) Casamajor, widow of Manchester Square. Will dated 20th February 1835, proved 1st February 1837. Mentions her son James Archibald Casamajor, and his daughter Amelia married to Henry Russell Esq., Elizabeth, married to John Studholme Brownrigg Esq., Harriott married to Rev. Henry Higginson, Louisa married to Charles Farquharson, Esq. and Agnes Margaret, unmarried at the date of the Will. By an addition to the Will providing for her son's three daughters, should he James Archibald marry again, it is probable that he was a widower at the dating thereof. The daughters names are given as Jane, Mary, and Elizabeth.

The two witnesses who sign the Will are named Campbell. She alludes to portrait of her uncle Sir Archibald Campbell as also to her own. Mentions a house No. 10 Manchester Sqre also a considerable amount of property. Her son James Archibald Casamajor, with Messrs Russell Brownrigg Higginson & Farquharson are appointed Executors.

HAYDON, WARHAM, PARSONS, AND WILCOXON.—Let me inquire through your columns if any of your readers can give information respecting William, John, or James Hayden, or Haydon, believed to be brothers, who emigrated from England (the first supposed from Devonshire) to Massachusetts, America, in 1630 and 1635; or of Rev. John Warham, who was "an eminent minister of the Church of England in Exeter, Eng.,"—emigrated with William Hayden, 1630; or of Joseph Parsons, supposed of Great Milton, Oxfordshire, who emigrated about same time; or of "W^m Wilcoxson, Lynen Wever," who, with wife and one child, emigrated, 1635, from St. Alban's Parish, Hertfordshire, with certificates from parish minister and from magistrates, "according to the Lord's order." Any information of these persons and their antecedents will be thankfully received.

HORACE EDWIN HAYDEN.

Pt. Pleasant, West Virginia, U. S.

WRIGHT.—Peter, Nicholas, and Anthony Wright, brothers, emigrated from England to New England about 1636–7, and settled first at Sangus (now Lynn), Massachusetts, afterwards at Sandwich, and subsequently removed to Oyster Bay, Long Island, N. Y. Were they of the family of Edmund or of Nicholas Wright, of East Lexham, Norfolk, temp. Henry VIII., who married sisters, daughters of Edmund Beaupre, of Beaupre Hall, Norfolk? Nicholas is said to have had five children: what were their names, and what became of them? Edmund married a second wife, Jane, daughter and coheir of Thomas Russell, brother to John, Earl of Bedford, by whom he had six children, William, Edmund, George, Thomas, Edward, and Bridget.

There was a William Wright, one of the Incorporators of Plymouth, in New England, in 1633, who removed to Sandwich, in Massachusetts, where he died in April, 1648. Was he the son of Edmund above named? I. J. L.

HERON FAMILY OF GODMANCHESTER (p. 43).—In 1588, Edward Heron, of Stamford, was Recorder of the borough. He was afterwards knighted. Purchased Cressy Hall of the Noels; and, in 1607, appointed one of the Barons of the Exchequer. From the registers of St. George's, Stamford, I append the following extracts:—

1583. Anne Heron y^e^ wife of M Heron, bur. y^e^ xiij day of May.
1584. John Heron, the sonne of M^r^ Heron bapt. the xj day of Aprill being Wednesday.
1600. The tenth day of October, Annabella Heron, the daughter of M^r^ Edward Heron, gent. was bapt.
1618. Robart Heron & Isabel Walker were mar. the 14 of Nov.

Sir Edw. Heron was one of the Commissioners appointed, 21 Jac. I., to inquire into the charities of the co. of Lincoln; and in 1582, Edw. Heron (the same person), by deed dated 4th April, enfeoffed certain trustees therein mentioned and their heirs of a toft and barn, with the appurtenances, in the town and fields of Tallington (in this county), in trust, to apply the rents and profits towards the relief of the poor people of Tallington, and towards easing them from any assessment to be made for repairing the nave or body of the church, and for repairs of bridges, and towards payment of subsidies and ease of the poor people aforesaid, upon any assessment, fifteenths, or other lawfull, necessary, and charitable payments, and rights, and for any other use, necessary and lawful cause whatsoever.

JUSTIN SIMPSON.

Stamford.

RAVENSCROFT (p. 79).—The arms of Ravenscroft are given in a pedigree of the Chambre family in my possession. They are, Argent a chevron between three ravens' heads erased sable. Martha the daughter of William* Ravenscroft, of Ravenscroft, married Hugh Chambre. This accounts for the introduction of the Ravenscroft arms in the Chambre pedigree. R. CHAMBRE-VAUGHAN.

* In some pedigrees the Christian name of the father of Martha Ravenscroft is stated to be George.

PECK FAMILY.—Any information relating to the Peck family of Hingham, Norfolk, and Beccles, Suffolk, will be most acceptable to IRA. B. PECK.
Woonsocket, Rhode Island.

WILLIAM DE LA MORE.—English Grand Prior of the Knights Templars in 1310: of what family was he, what were their armorial bearings, and what was the seal of Office of this Grand Prior?—that of one of his predecessors is attached to Magna Charta. In case any of your readers have this information, they might save my time by addressing me direct. JOHN YARKER.
43, Chorlton Road, Manchester.

WOODRUFFE OF ALVINGTON, CO. GLOUCESTER.—Seal and autograph of Robert Woodruffe, of Alvington, co. Gloucester, Esquire, to a transfer of lands in Alvington from the said Robert Woodruffe to "William Compton of Clannye within the parish of Alvington Esquyre, Lord of the Manor of Alvington aforesayde," dated 18 April, 1603.

HYDE FAMILY (p. 41).—Some years ago the original marriage-settlement of Dodding Braddyll, of Conishead Priory, Esq., M.P., was in my hands, and I remember his wife's name was Mary, and that she was a daughter of Samuel Hyde, of London, Esq., deceased, and, I believe, Mary, his wife, then a widow; the date was the 13 Anne, A.D. 1714. I had also the original pedigree, by Heard, Norroy, and Brooke, Rouge Croix (date the close of last century, and which recited that the first eight or nine descents were copied from an ancient parchment roll in the possession of Wilson Braddyll, of Conishead Priory, Esq.), which stated that Mary (Hyde) Braddyll died in 1771, and was buried at Woodford, with her husband, who was born in 1689 and died in 1748. The emblazoned arms were those usually borne by the Hydes (azure a chevron between three mascles or), but whether they came from Lancashire or were of the Clarendon stock, I regret, I cannot say; but I may observe that both before and after this marriage, the Braddylls held tenements in or about Chancery Lane and other parts of London, some of which may have come from the Hydes. A privately printed 'History of Samlesbury,' about to be issued from the Chiswick Press, will give a little fuller information; and a copy of the pedigree of Braddyll, intended to be published in a future number of the 'Miscellanea Genealogica,' (Quarterly Series,) will also show the marriage to which I allude. T. HELSBY.

RICHARD DE HALDINGHAM, circa 1300–20 (p. 22).—Mr. Havergal will find an Aldingham in Lonsdale, in Lancashire, once possessed by the Harringtons of Hornby Castle. It is not at all improbable that the shire which gave to the Diocese of Hereford a ruler in a Lancashire man, Charles Boothe (the nephew of the brothers William and Lawrence Boothe, Archbishops of York, 1464–1480), should also have given to Hereford a prebendary a century and a half earlier. I think the first known Harrington was—according to a very good Blackburne pedigree, extracted from the Heralds' College (Norfk. X. and XXI.)—John de Harrington, of Aldingham, Parliamentary Baron (per writ), 18 Edw. II. to his decease 21 Edw. III. Perhaps this information may lead to the discovery of an Aldingham pedigree and the identity of Richard de (H)aldingham. T. HELSBY.

Grantham: Skinner.—In vol. xlvii. of the publications of the Surtees Society (Dean Granville's Letters, etc.), at page 119, is a letter of advice from the Dean to Mr. Corbett Skinner upon his going to sea in April, 1683. In this communication the writer exhorts young Skinner to do his duty "to S[r] Tho. Grantho," and others of the ship. I incline to think this is a mistake for Grantham. I shall be obliged by information as to this Sir Thomas Grantham, or Grantho, if such really is the name,—what ship he commanded, when and where he died, etc. Also as to Corbett Skinner,—who he was, and what became of him.

Charles Jackson.

Langman (p. 40).—A John Langman was Rector of Langton Herring, Dorset, from 1457 to 1465. Vide Hutchins's 'History of Dorset.' J. C. B.

Jenkin Family of Yorkshire (p. 84).—I send you the following extract from our Cathedral register:—

1714. January 29, John Jenkins Gent[n] of Wood Leath in y[e] County of York & Alice Wagstaffe by Licence.

1689. Oct. 22, Alice Dau. to Peter Wagstaffe of Manchester Baptized.

These Wagstaffes were descended from an old family long resident in the parish of Glossop, Derbyshire. John Owen.

Manchester.

Parvish Family.—In Cooke's 'London Visitation of 1568' (Harleian Society), Henry Parvish, of London, merchant, is shown to have a son Thomas. Are any notices of this son extant, and where, if so, are they to be met with? One of the name, and probably the person noted in the pedigree of the Colstons, was Head Master of Chester Grammar School from 1567 to 1578, and was, in other ways, evidently a man of some mark. T. Hughes, F.S.A.

Chester.

Arms.—The following arms, surmounted by a cardinal's hat, are from a seal in my possession:—On a saltire between four leaves (? holly) a heart pierced with an arrow; surrounded by this inscription, "not. apost. f. m. e. k. a." I am anxious to know to whom this seal belonged. Philip Langman.

Latton, Daunce, and Sychevyle Families.—I should be greatly obliged if any information can be afforded me concerning the families of Latton, Daunce, or Sychevyle. Several members of the two former are buried in the church of St. Michael, Blewbury, Berks, and the brasses on their tombs still remain in good preservation. From one of these it appears that Sir John Daunce was "Counsellor & Surveyor General" to King Henry VIII. The Lattons seem to have come originally from Latton, in Wilts, thereafter to have resided in Bucks, and subsequently to have settled at Upton and Chilton, Berks. I have been able to hear nothing of the Sychevyles, but their arms, viz. ermine three crossbows or, are quartered with those of Latton, Estbury, and Percy, on one of the brasses before mentioned.

I also enclose a copy of a shield of arms, apparently a chevron between three geese or swans, from the porch of the old manor-house of East Coker, Somerset, and I should be glad to know to what family it may be assigned.

Wm. H. Richardson.

Mudd Family.—I have a deed, between Strangeways Mudd, citizen and stationer, of London, and William Martyn, of London, gentleman, relating to estates in the City, dated 1687. The deed is witnessed by Sol. Chilcott and John Bradshaw. I should be glad of any information of the family of Strangeways Mudd. Edward Morton.

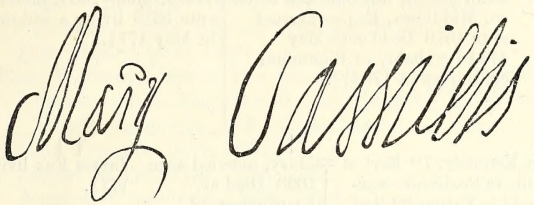
GENEALOGICAL MEMORANDA RELATING TO THE FOX AND WELD FAMILIES.*



The above is a facsimile of the signature of Mary, dowager Countess of Cassilis (the widow of John, 7th Earl) appended to a deed of bargain and sale, now in the possession of Dr. Fox, of Brislington, co. Somerset.

It is remarkable that this lady is wrongly described in all the Peerages. In Wood's edition of 'Douglas's Scotch Peerage,' published 1813, she is described as "Miss Elizabeth (or Mary) Foix," and there is a curious note showing that the claim of peerage made by her and Lady Mordington was not allowed by the House of Lords, on 29 April, 1745, against any prosecution for "suppressing the public gaming-houses kept by the said Ladies." This deed, which is dated 2 May, 1711 (10 Anne), as between Mary Fox, widow relict of John Fox late of Lincolns Inn fields co. Middlesex Esq., & dau. of Thomas Weld, late Citizen & Grocer of London dec^{d} of one part; Robert Fox, eldest son & heir, Mary, Countess Dowager of Cassilis, one of the daughters, James Fox & George Fox, two other sons, Anne Fox, Sp^{r} & Joyce Fox Sp^{r} two other of the dau's of the s^{d} Mary Fox of the second part; and Daniel Dodson of Bernard's Inn, London, Gent. of the 3^{d} part. After reciting that the s^{d} Thomas Weld, by his will dat. 12 April 1678, devised 2 newly built messuages in Lombard street & Sherborne lane, London, in the parish of S^{t} Mary Wolnoth, to his wife Joyce Weld for her life, with rem. to his dau. the said Mary Fox, and that the said Joyce Weld is long since dead. It witnesseth that the s^{d} Mary Fox, with consent of her said children, conveys the s^{d} premises to the said Daniel Dodson in trust for the said James Fox & Anne Fox equally.

The Countess's signature is witnessed by "Richard Bradley, next door to y^{e} Lady Cassilis at Hammersmith," and by "William Shand, Lady Cassilis' Gentleman."

The seal for all parties is the same, viz. "A cross, between 4 fleur de lis;" the crest being "an eagle's head couped." Query if not the coat and crest of Banks of Yorkshire?

The following pedigree, which shows the ancestry of the Countess, is compiled from the Visitations of London in 1664 and of Hertfordshire in 1669 (both printed in italics), and from the will of Thomas Weld in 1678, the above deed, and other authentic sources.

PHILLIPS OF WITSTON (Quarterly Series, Vol. II. p. 159).—The Rev. John Beynon has kindly forwarded me the following particulars relative to the family of "Phillips of Witston":—

"No. 1. William Phillips Gentleman and Mary his wife,
He died September 20, 1719, aged 53 years,
She died March 21, 1709, aged 43 years.
No. 2. William Phillips Esquire died Sep. 30, 1789, aged 100 years.
Richard Phillips Esquire died Jan. 14, 1781, aged 40 years.
Rebecca Phillips his wife died June 7, 1785, aged 64 years.
No. 3. William Phillips Esquire died May 25, 1836, aged 86 years.
Elizabeth* Phillips his wife died Feb. 28, 1848, aged 82 years.
No. 4. William Phillips† is still alive aged about 75 or 76.
No. 5. Reginald Phillips son of No. 4 is alive aged 21."

"The above No. 1–2 & 3 are copies taken from the family monuments in Witston Church this 9th day of November 1870 by me

JOHN BEYNON Vicar of Witston."

Mr. Beynon has likewise given me (October 28, 1870) the subjoined corroboration of the marriage solemnized between Charles Price of Somerset House, Esq., and Miss Phillips of Witston, mentioned in my former note:—

"Miss Mary Phillips was I have no doubt married in the Church of this Parish about the date you mention" (1780) "or a year before, but unfortunately the Old Register of Marriages of this Parish is lost. We have no entry of Marriages in our present Register prior to 1816, and to prove this fact I was summoned on a trial brought by Price in the Guild Hall London, when the marriage of Mary Phillips with Charles Price‡ was proved to satisfaction of the jury from family documents."

* Elizabeth, the wife of William Phillips of Witston House, co. Monmouth, Esq., J.P., was the daughter and coheiress of Thomas Richards, of Stow Hill, Newport, co. Monmouth, Esq.

CHARLES SOTHERAN.

FOSTER FAMILY.—Renol or Reginald Foster came to New England about 1638, bringing with him five sons and two daughters, viz. Abraham, Reginald, Isaac, William, Jacob, Mary, and Sarah. He died in Ipswich, Massachusetts, 1681. Traditions say he was born in Exeter, Devonshire; but a careful search has failed to establish the fact. Can any of your readers furnish any clue to the date of his birth and marriage?

FLOYER FAMILY.—The subjoined pedigree of a branch of the Floyer family was found by me among the family papers at Whitfield, in this county (the seat of the Rev. * Mr. Hunter had a suspicion that the second wife was the sister of the first. There is some allusion to an intrigue between Mr. Jenkyns and Lady Elizabeth Pawlet in the letters of Rachael, Lady Russell. The old Baronetages, under Goodrick, speak of Mr. Jenkyns's first wife, showing that he had a second. The register at Dunnington calls the two children merely the children of "Tobias Jenkyns, Esq.," not mentioning any wife.

† His seal shows a lion rampant regardant, with Monro on an escutcheon of pretence. Crest: a lion passant. Supposed to have been the Wm. Jenkyns who went on the Carthagenian expedition, 1739, and to have been an officer in Colonel Robinson's Marines, raised in Yorkshire, afterwards in the Horse Guards. Colonel Robinson was distantly related to W. J.'s family.

Laughton Family (Quarterly Series, Vol. II. pp. 258–9).—The following extract from a letter of the Rev. John-Haldenby Clark in reference to the family of Laughton may not be uninteresting:—

"Though, as you observe, the name does not seem to have been of any great importance in Lincolnshire, it occurs tolerably early. In 3 Eliz., Thos. Laughton and Gilbert Greene were Churchwardens at Aslackby in that co.: about the same date Peter Laughton was Curate of Ewerby (Peacock's 'Church Monuments,' pp. 31–2 and 80), and a William Laughton was ejected by the Act of Conformity from the living of Westborough, co. Linc. At Gainsborough in later times it seems to have obtained some hold; for the mother of James Cawthorne (born 1719) of Clare Coll. Cambridge and Master of Tonbridge School was Mary d. of Mr. Edward Laughton of Gainsborough. Cawthorne's father was Thomas C. of Sheffield (Hunter's 'Hallamshire,' orig. ed. p. 176) and at the election of 1832 (Northern Division of Lincolnshire) two Laughtons voted for freeholds at Gainsborough—John Laughton of Gainsborough and Wm. Laughton of Doncaster. As to the later generations of the Laughtons of Eastfield, I find that Edmund Laughton when he voted at the Great West Riding Election of 1841 is described as of Douglas, Isle of Man, so that his descendants, if he left any, may be found, perhaps in that Island. At the same time a W. (Eastfield) Laughton voted whose residence was Tickhill. Whether Eastfield refers only to his residence, or was his Christian name, which the Poll Book seems to assert, I am not aware."

I conclude with portion of a communication from Charles Jackson, Esq., of Doncaster:—

"There were some Laughtons in the part of the country called the Isle of Axholme, viz. about Epworth, Belton, etc., co. Lincoln. I have seen the name in deeds occasionally, but I have no notes concerning them."

Charles Sotheran.

* William Floyer was appointed Prebendary of Church Withington in Hereford Cathedral in 1716, and was succeeded in his stall by William Willim in 1752.

Notes.

By the following extracts from the Royalist Composition Papers in the Public Record Office, it would appear that Francis Woolfe held some official receivership :—

WILL OF ELIZABETH SWAYNE, OF LONDON, 1624.*

Communicated by Edmond Chester Waters, Esq.

It will be useful to those who are interested in the genealogy of Swayne to know, that at the end of the sixteenth century there were two distinct persons of the name of Elizabeth Swayne, both living in the parish of St. Lawrence, in the Old Jewry, London, and in no way related to each other. One of them, Elizabeth, widow of William Methwolde, married there 3 April, 1581, Edward Swayne, of All Hallows, Honey Lane, by whom she had several children. (Some account of her and her children by her first husband will be found in the 'Herald and Genealogist,' vol. vi. p. 599.) The other was buried there 6 February, 1625–6, as "Elizabeth Swayne, widow," and an abstract of her will, from the Commissary Court of London, is printed below.

Elizabeth Swayne of London, widow. Will dat. 6 Aug. 1624. proved 3 Feb. 1624 (1624–5) by Christopher Lee.

Wentworth.—Godfrey Wentworth, of Woolley, co. York, who was baptized there 27 October, 1678, married Anna Maria, daughter of Giles Clark, of the Temple, Esq. Who was Giles Clark, whom did he marry, and what were his arms? G. J. A.

Kirklees Park, Brighouse.

Jenkins (pp. 84, 122).—I have deeds, as trustee, connected with this family, who, in fact, are related to us: all being well, I shall presently have to go through them. They had relatives in Yorkshire. I am quite certain as to the following, —John Jenkins, of Saltley Hall, Warwickshire; . . . Jenkins, of Northfield (whose descendants have still property there); Lucius Chattock Jenkins, late of Sutton Coldfield, and others. There are also Kettles in the same neighbourhoods. Some of the family are still living, and I will make a point of seeing them.

Christopher Chattock.

Legh, Tomard, and Lee.—Is there any M.I. at Halifax to the Rev. George Legh, LL.D., Vicar of Halifax, 1731–75, and to his wife?

Is there any M.I. at Bedfont, in Middlesex, to the Rev. Dr. Tomard, who was Rector there in 1745, and to his wife?

Is there any M.I. at Ackworth, near Pontefract, to Rev. Timothy Lee and his wife Penelope, who were living there in 1751?

Any genealogical details of these clergymen, their wives, or their children, will be welcome. Tewars.

Moule's "Heraldry of Trees and Birds."—In the 'Gentleman's Magazine' for August, 1851, is a memoir of Thomas Moule, in which it is stated that he left in manuscript a work entitled "The Heraldry of Trees and Birds." As his work 'Heraldry of Fish,' published by Van Voorst in 1842, is a most interesting book, as well as beautifully printed and illustrated, it is a pity that the companion work should remain unpublished. Can any of your readers say in whose possession the manuscript now is? A. W. M.

Robert Sotheron (or Sotherene) of Ampleforth, co. York, son of William and Katherine Sotheron (or Sotheran) of Newcastle-on-Tyne, and brother of William Sotheron of Holm-in-Spaldingmore, who was viv. 1622 and was the ancestor of the "Sotherons of Darrington": Robert Sotheron was mentioned in the will, dated 1582, of his uncle John recording the foundation of Heryngham Priory by William Dawtree, the Monasticon thus speaks: 'The latin word Ripa, was in Norman writings generally meant for a river, without relation to Ripa a bank. The Romans called it Haultrey. There was an ancient family of knights, owners of much lands in these parts, and of fair possessions, even in the very bosom of the high stream from which they took their name, and were called De Haultrey.' The ancient house here alluded to was the stem of many important branches, the most flourishing of which was that planted in the county of Sussex, at Moor House in Petworth, not very far from Battle Abbey itself. It produced a series of knightly generations, which held the highest rank in their country, and intermarried with its noblest families. . . . Another branch, sprung from De Alta Ripa, is now represented by Benjamin Dealtry, Esq., Lofthouse-hall, co. York."—vide 'The Roll of Battle Abbey, annotated by John Bernard Burke, Esq.,' 1848, pp. 48–9. William De-Alta-Ripa founded 1185 a Cistercian Nunnery at Gokwelle, co. Lincoln, which was granted, 30 Henry VIII., to Sir William Tirwhit.

* He was stated—'Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica,' Quarterly Series, Vol. II. p. 260—to have died in 1761 and to have been Member in the National Irish Parliament for Athy; this is an error, it was his kinsman James Mac Manus of Maynooth, Esq., who died in that year and was the Member for Athy.

† "Bellisle, described in 1834 as—one of those graceful, incipient ruins in which—'Decay's effacing fingers—Have swept the lines where beauty lingers,'—is now restored to more than its pristine elegance. The mansion, though plain, is substantial and commodious, commanding, we believe, the finest view which can be obtained (except from a considerable and uninhabitable elevation) of the upper Lake" (i. e. Lough Erne) "and its numerous isles. The plantation is old, and comprises several yew groves, which are venerable enough to have furnished bow-staves to the warriors and hunters of the Mac Manuses, who, in the days of the red deer and wolf, lorded it over this island as their home and citadel. Tradition places a monastery, with which the old yews have probably some connexion, upon this island. . . . Whether a monastery existed here or not, Bellisle, or rather Bally Mac Manus, the old name of the place, is interesting as having been the residence of Cathal Maguire, a learned writer, who here, in the 14th. century, compiled one of the best collections of the Annals of Ireland which we still possess, and which are known as 'The Annals of Ulster.'" vide 'Wakeman's Lough Erne,' pp. 64–5.

‡ At Gola, near Lough Erne, was a monastery founded by Mac Manus, Lord of the place, and granted at the suppression of the monastic houses, to Sir John Davis, Knight.

Notes.

The following incident in the escape of Charles II., whilst under the guidance of Richard Penderell, is taken from the 'Worcestershire Miscellany' (Worcester, 1831, Edwin Lees) :—

"They reached Madeley about midnight, and proceeded to a large stone mansion then inhabited by a royalist gentleman of the name of Woolf who, however, tired of the confusion and insecurity of the times (his son being at that moment a prisoner at Shrewsbury), on being roused from his sleep, refused to compromise his safety for any person less than the King. Richard Penderell upon this discovered Charles, who was rather uneasy, but had no cause to repent this confidence, as the old cavalier instantly paid him every attention; but as on former occasions the hiding places of the house had been discovered and republican troopers were in the neighbourhood, it was deemed most prudent to shelter him in an adjoining barn, behind the corn and hay. During the remainder of the night and the whole of the next day, here Charles and Penderell remained; but in the dusk of evening Mr. Woolf and his son, who had been released from captivity, came and brought them some refreshment, but advised the King by no means to attempt the passage of the Severn, as it was strictly guarded and the boats seized. Charles instantly decided for a return to Boscobel, thinking he should then hear of Lord Wilmot, with whom he had still an idea of reaching London. Leaving Madeley, therefore, Mrs. Woolf having first darkened his face and hands with walnut leaves, they set off in the dark, at eleven o'clock, to avoid the Evelin miller, waded through the stream that turned his mill, reaching Boscobel House about five o'clock, having first heard at John Penderel's in their way, that Lord Wilmot was concealed at Mr. Whitgreave's of Moseley Hall, eight miles distant, and that Major Carlis, having escaped from Worcester (where Blount says he saw the 'last man kil'd'), was now at Boscobel House for safety, thinking his own residence of Brom Hall, in the vicinity, insecure."

This account may have been derived from the following sources:—"The Civil Warres of Great Britain and Ireland, containing an exact history of their occasion, original, Progress, and happy end": London, 1661. "Boscobel or the compleat History of His sacred Majesty's most miraculous preservation after the Battle of Worcester": 'Gentleman's Magazine,' v. 59, 1739; and Worcester, 1769. "An account of the preservation of King Charles 2. after the Battle of Worcester, drawn up by himself": Glasgow, 1766, from a MS. in Mag. Coll. Cambridge. From this latter account it appears that the younger Woolfe had been released and arrived at home before the King left.

Phillips of Witston (pp. 121–2).—The three annexed corrections are necessary to my notes on the Phillips Family, pp. 121–2 of this vol.

I. The Rev. John Beynon has inadvertently given Miss Phillips's christian name as Mary instead of Elizabeth, in his corroboration of her marriage with Charles Price, Esq.

II. p. 122, lines 3 and 4, for—" Grace-Rebecca, the wife of Arthur-Troughton Roberts of Cholmendey, co. Flint, Esq.," read—" Grace-Rebecca, m. 1849 to Arthur-Troughton Roberts (nat. 1815 and s. of Hugh Roberts, Esq.) of Coeddû, co. Flint, and Glan-y-Menai, co. Anglesey, Esq., D.L."

III. p. 122, lines 7–11. The note on Mr. Charles Price should more correctly read—" ‡ Charles Price of Newport, co. Monmouth, and afterwards of Somerset House, London, Esq., ob. 1821, æt. 67, and was bur. in Old-St.-Pancras Churchyard, co. THE YARKER FAMILY OF YORKSHIRE.

Although, so far as it goes, the pedigree of this family is correctly given by Sir Bernard Burke in his 'Landed Gentry,' it is, nevertheless, defective in collateral branches, and therefore it is hoped that the present contribution of authentic materials may lead to others investigating the subject.

The family is supposed to have sprung from a soldier of fortune, who came to England from the Low Countries during the Wars of the Roses, and probably about 1471, in which year Edward IV. landed a body of Flemish auxiliaries in Yorkshire.*

The elder line of this family has occupied Leyburn Hall, Yorkshire, for four centuries, during which period it has given off, it appears, only two branches, viz. one settled on the borders of Durham circa 1500, and the other in Westmoreland circa 1656. From these three there can scarcely be a question that all of the name in England are descended, considering local circumstances and the extreme rarity of the name.

* Parents of William, who had a son in 1549 (?).

† From one of these probably descend the Yarkers of Barton, Ovington, and Rookby.

‡ The Cumberland Hodgsons—represented by David Hodgson, Esq., of Scotby, J. Yarker, Jr., of Manchester, and General Hodgson—are believed to be of Yorkshire descent, settled in Cumberland circa 1500, and connected with the Lascelles and other old Yorkshire families.

§ From her will, at Carlisle, it would seem that her family name was Winter, and that she had a brother-in-law, Henry Yarker, who probably had a son, as a Thomas was resident at Kirkby Stephen about 1761. Michael and Henry, there is no doubt, would be near relatives of John Yarker, whose issue by marriage with Anne Leyburn are recorded by Burke. John Yarker (died 1753) left three sons: I. Robert, the ancestor of the Yarkers of Ulverstone and Isleworth. II. John (born 1730, died 1809), married (1762) Margaret, daughter of John Bradley, gentleman, Knipe, and his wife Jane Nicholson, and left issue,—I. Thomas (born 1766, died 1841); II. William (born 1770, died 1814), married (1803) Anne Day, of London, and has issue Rev. Wm. Yarker, Vicar of Ravenstonedale, co. Westmoreland. 1st, Elizabeth (twice married at Whitehaven); 2nd, Jane; 3rd, Anne. Their eldest son Thomas married Grace, daughter of John Steely, and his wife Margaret Stoddart, statesmen, Great Salkeld, and had issue an only son, John Yarker, of Manchester (born 1809), married (1832) Anne, daughter of John Fell, statesman, and his wife Mary, daughter of John Bewley, by his wife Julian Hodgson, sole surviving heiress of John Hodgson (married Julian Howord), elder brother of Field-Marshal Studholme Hodgson, who married Catherine, daughter of Field-Marshal Sir Geo. Howord. They were sons of John Hodgson, collector of Customs, Wormanby. The third brother, Thomas (born 1740, died 1806), married and had issue.—Thomas, George, John, James, from whom descend the Yarkers of Westmoreland, now represented by Robert, of Cambridge University, and Richard, of Shap.

Note to Chaddock Pedigree (p. 134).—The writer of this note would be exceedingly obliged by any information respecting the family of Chaddock or Chattock. He has more than a thousand documents from temp. Henry II. to the present time, containing some eight thousand names, from which he would be most happy to reciprocate, as he has already done with more than one reader of this Miscellany. There is a seal appended to one of them (anterior in date to this Visitation), with the cross of these arms upon a shield. Fairbairn's 'Crests' has for Chadock, "on a ducal coronet or, a martlet gules." Dugdale never saw these charters and deeds, but Mark Noble did, as he was decidedly of opinion that the name origi-

* Dr. Vaughan stated in the 'Athenæum' in 1861, that this chapel, Spreswell, Ovington, was the place where Wycliffe was born. He quotes John Chapman, a gentleman of respectable position in Gainsford, as saying,—"Spreswel, or Speswel, stood close to the river Tees, half a mile from Wycliffe and on the same side of the river. There was a chapel there, in which were married William Yarker and Penitent Johnston, and their son John related the occurrence to me, his grandson, many times. The above couple were the last married there, for soon after the chapel fell down." There seem to be many scattered descendants of this couple living in the North Riding of Yorkshire and one of them settled in Manchester, from Barnard Castle, fifty years ago.

† His will, proved at York, 1763, mentions his cousins William Yarker, of Ovington, and Wm. Yarker, of Barton, yeomen.

nated from the Chad of the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle (p. 55, Ingram), and Chad of Lichfield; if so, which is most probable, a brother, or nephew, or cousin of the Bishop must have settled in the diocese. The etymon of "Chadshunt," Warwickshire, is clearly indicative of the presence of a layman of that name. The following short scheme is confirmatory of Noble's opinion:—

In the 'Teutonic Name System' of Ferguson it states that "there is perhaps no more ancient or interesting name than Catomore.—Catumerus mentioned as the chief of a German tribe by Tacitus. Grimm ('Deutsche Grammatik') holds this name to contain the most ancient form of Chad.-War. We have names exhibiting the various corresponding forms, viz. Chad, Chaddock, Chattock, Chatto, and Catto. So I do not think there is any thing fanciful in the suggestion that we have a name which can be traced up to the time of Tacitus. Ock comes to us through the Anglo-Saxon." The "more" in Catomore is a suffix, and means illustrious. See also Forstemann's 'Altdeutsches Namenbuch.' "No language has dealings in meaningless terminations. In ancient Celtic oc means young. Ock, like ing, is a genetival suffix."—Philological Society's Papers. "According to historical origin, the syllable ock is Anglo-Saxon and Gothic."—Dr. LATHAM, Professor of the English Language.

The diminutive ock in Chadock is a genetival suffix, expressive of cadency, the same as the diminutival suffix ock in hillock means a little hill. The simple transition from Chadock to Chattock in the spelling is orthographically correct. In the infancy of all languages, and particularly early English, d and t were as legitimately interchangeable as i and j are now. "The letters most closely allied in phonetics are the most frequently interchanged in grammar."—Professor LATHAM. In old English, the words father and mother were spelt "fader and moder." This gives Chatock. The occurrence of the double t in Chattock is also strictly correct. "The reduplication of the consonant after a vowel, as in spotted, merely denotes that the preceding vowel is short."—Professor LATHAM. The name is even now daily spelt Chaddock and Chattock, according to true orthoepy or otherwise. The charters and deeds relating to the Chattock property commence temp. Hen. II., and it appears from their contents that the original tenure was booked or chartered Saxon free land (see Wilkins, 'Leges Anglo-Saxonicæ'), and one of these documents (a list of properties formerly held by the family) records one of them at Little Sutton, bearing towards Lichfield, and called "Chadd[h]alle Felde," which had an ancient red-sandstone residence upon it in 1550. The old parish plans show that land was also held by the family at Sutton Coldfield, Penns, and Erdington, all in a direct line to Castle Bromwich. The family name of Chad must have been thoroughly impressed upon the diocese of Lichfield (formerly archiepiscopal and containing Chester and the whole of Mercia), for after only two hours' search in the registers there, besides Chaddock and Chattock, the following related names were found, viz. Chading (son of Chad), Chadd, Chadborn, Chatborn, and Chatfield. This is the only search as yet of public records; but viewing the case as it at present stands, either in an etymological or genealogical light, the soundness of the conclusion that Noble arrived at is apparent.

There is no such place as Chaddock, excepting Chaddock Hall, the seat of this branch of the family (see Baines's 'Lancashire and Ordnance Map'). Chatborn or Chadborn is doubtless from a female descent, corresponding with Chadock in the male; Chatfield, from the foregoing "Chadd Feld"; Chetwind, from a village in Salop (see Harwood's 'Erdswick,' pp. 55–6); Chadwick, from the village of that name (see Shaw's Staff.), and so late as 1480 the affix "de" to this name was not discontinued; and Chetwood, from the name of a wood (see Kemble's 'Codex Diplomaticus Ævi Saxonici'). These places, together with Chat Moss, were all named from a Chad (see Baines, sup., as to latter). It is remarkable that the heralds assign arms to Chad, Chaddock, Chadwick, Chetwind, Chetwood, and other kindred names, corresponding with the affinity in their etymon. Dallaway, p. 362, says that marshalling by inescutcheon is sometimes on account of inheritance and special concession, as well as marriage.

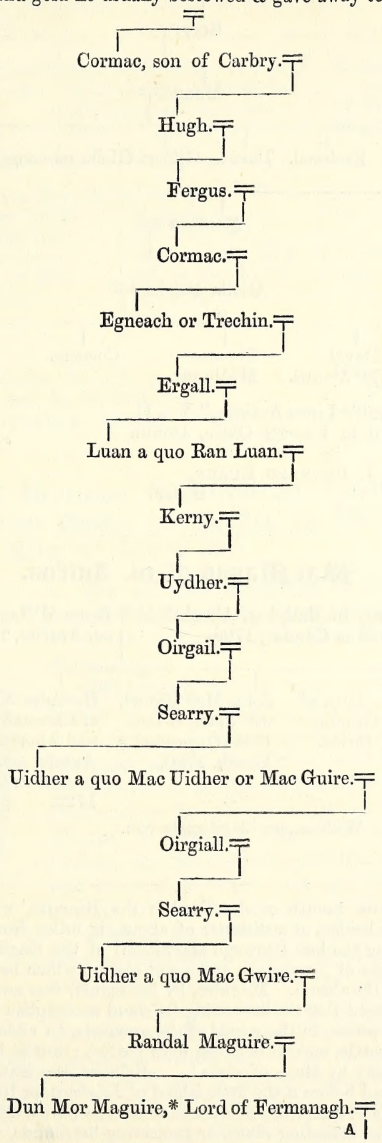
Genealogy of Mac Manus and Maguire.

Carbry son of Eochy, and the lineal descendant of Colla da Crioch third son of Achaius, second son of Carbreus Liffechar, 107th Monarch of Ireland, called An Dainh Argid, from the many presents and gifts of silver and gold he usually bestowed & gave away to all sorts of people.



* The accompanying extract descriptive of the scenery, etc., of part of Upper Lough Erne, county Fermanagh, the home of the Maguires and Mac Manuses, is taken from a letter inserted in the 'Enniskillen Advertiser' of April 28, 1870, and signed "W. F. Wakeman":—"We pass the barrack point, . . . and are soon abreast of that old stronghold of the Maguires, Princes of Fermanagh, the Castle of Enniskillen. This once important fortress has stood many a siege. In 1595 it had been taken from Maguire by the English, under Sir William Fitzwilliam, the Lord Justice. The Lord of Fermanagh, Aodh Maguire, aided by Aodh, the red O'Donnell, Donal Gorm Mac Donnell, and Mac Leod of Arran, at once besieged the English, who were destined to suffer a siege of the duration of two months and a half. This affair led to the celebrated battle of Bel-atha-na-m

Briosgaidh, or, of the place or 'mouth of the Ford of the Biscuits,' which occurred on a ford of the Arney, near Drummane bridge, at a distance of about six miles from Enniskillen. It appears that the Lord Justice, fearing the loss (through starvation) of the English Garrison of Enniskillen, collected an immense quantity of provisions, arms and stores, which he forwarded under the escort of an army to the relief of the Castle. Maguire, by his scouts, was aware of everything that was going on, and he wisely thought that the best thing he could accomplish was to intercept the convoy. This he did at Drummane, where, in the words of the annalists, 'a violent and fierce conflict, and a strenuous and determined battle, ensued between both parties; but at length the Maguire and his forces defeated the other party by force of arms.' . . . Belview, the seat of John Cullum, Esq., may be seen a little further on, and before it the little island of Iniskeen, or the 'Beautiful Island,' which, by the by, contains the ruins of a church, in ancient times the parish church of the district in which Enniskillen stands. . . . After rounding rinns, or projecting headlands, without number, we pass by the rich island of Cleenish, anciently Claen-inis, or the 'sloping Island,' where in the sixth century, saint Sinnell founded a monastery, which was destined in later times to become very famous, and some remains of which were to be seen late in the last century. Alas for ecclesiologists! its walls were removed as building materials for the fort" (a portion of the monument erected near the town of Enniskillen in honour of General the Honourable Sir Galbraith-Lowry Cole, G.C.B.) "on Cole's Hill! The wind freshens as we glide past Inismore Hall, and soon after passing Carry Bridge, and rounding a point, we catch a sight of Bellisle, once the seat of Lord Ross, but at present the charming residence of J. G. V. Porter, Esq. Here it was that in the fourteenth century Cathal Maguire" (Cathal Mac Manus Maguire, canon of Armagh and dean of Clogher, the original compiler of the Annals of Ulster, who died in 1498), "a learned antiquary, compiled the famous annals of Ulster. The Island was formerly styled Bally Mac Manus, from the name of the clan by which it was occupied."

AFFIDAVIT MADE BY SIR ISAAC NEWTON, BEFORE A MASTER IN CHANCERY, IN PROOF OF AND ACCOMPANYING HIS PEDIGREE.*

Sir Isaac Newton, of St. James's parish in the county of Middlesex Knight, and Master and Worker of Her Majesty's Mint, voluntarily maketh Oath that this Deponent hath a deed of feoffment of John Newton, who was (as he hath reason to believe) his great grandfather's father dated the 19th day of December, in the fourth yeare of Queene Elizabeth in the yeare 1562, wherein by the name of John Newton of Westby in the County of Lincoln he settled his Estate in Wilstrope, in the parish of Colsterworth in the said County, on his five sons, Richard, George, Robert, Symon and William Newton, and their heirs successively; Which said John Newton, by agreement of time, and being called of Westby, he verily believes to have been the same person with one John Newton, whom he finds by an attested extract of the register of Basingthorp cum Westby aforesaid, to have been buried in that Church on the 22nd day of December, Anno Dom. 1563, being the yeare after the said feoffment, and likewise to have been the same person mentioned in a Visitation of Lincolnshire made in or about the year 1634, now remaining in the Herald's Colledge in London, there called John Newton first son of John Newton of Westby aforesaid, and Brother of Thomas Newton, Richard Newton, and William Newton, of Gunnerby, great grandfather of Sir John Newton, of Hather in the said County, Baronet; he having by tradition from his kindred ever since he can remember, reckoned himselfe next of kin (among the Newtons) to Sir John Newton's family, and having also, about fifty-four or fifty-five years ago, heard his grandmother Ascough (with whom he lived at Wylstrope aforesaid alias Woolstrope, till he was about eleven years old, and who at that time frequently conversed with the Deponent's great Uncle Richard Newton) say, that he, this Deponent, was or had been next heir att law to Mr Newton, of Hather, until the birth of Mr Newton's children, who were then two or three infants, and that he and they were cousins two or three times removed, or words to that purpose, and he, this Deponent, believing that his said Grandmother, upon the marriage of her daughter with his father, might learn the kindred, and that his grandfather Newton, to promote the marriage, might be forward to speak of itt, representing himself cousin once removed, and next heir to said Mr Newton, att that time six or seven years under age, afterwards father to Sir John Newton. And further this Deponent saith, that Richard Newton first above mentioned is great grandfather and first son of the second John Newton, enjoyed the said estate at Woolstrope, according to the said Settlement, as appears by a deed in this Deponent's possession, of settlement of the said estate on this Deponent's father and mother, dated the 30th day of December, in the 15th yeare of King Charles the First, 1639, made by Robert Newton, the eldest son of the said Richard, and this, Deponent's grandfather, wherein are these words (and which formerly descended and came unto the said Robert Newton after the death of Richard Newton, father to the said Robert Newton), and this Deponent saith, that he finds by an attested copy of the register of Colsterworth cum Woolstrope aforesaid, that one Richard Newton was buried there the 30th day of April 1588 whom he believes to be the same Richard, his grandfather's father. And the said Robert Newton he finds to have been buried at Colsterworth aforesaid by the said extract, on the 20th day of September 1641 leaving issue three sons, first, Isaac Newton, mentioned in the said deed of settlement of the 15th of King Charles the First, and whom he finds by Colsterworth register to have been baptized the 21st of December 1606; secondly, Robert Newton, baptized likewise the 27th of September, 1607, who lived afterwards at Counthorp in the same county, and whose issue are still living: and thirdly, Richard Newton baptized likewise there the 9th of April 1609, who lived at Colsterworth, and left issue still remaining there. And further this Deponent saith, that the said Isaac, this Deponent's father married Hannah daughter of James Ascough of Market Overton in the County of Rutland, Gentleman, and that he was buried at Colsterworth aforesaid, on the 6th day of October, 1642, seized of the said estate of Woolstrope, which is descended to, and now is enjoyed by, this Deponent his only child, who was born the 25th of December, and baptized the 1st day of January in the said yeare 1642. This deponent's mother, Hannah Ascough remarried to Barnabas Smith, Rector of North Witham in Lincolnshire, by whom she had issue Mary, Benjamin, and Hannah, each of which have issue remaining.

In witness whereof this Deponent hath hereunto put his hand and seale, this two and twentieth day of November, Anno Dom. 1705.

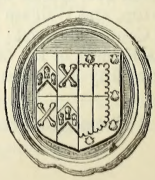
Coram me Mag'ro Cancell. S. Keck.

CERTIFICATE OF SIR JOHN NEWTON, BART., ACCOMPANYING SIR ISAAC NEWTON'S PEDIGREE.

Sir John Newton, of Thorpe in the parish of Hather, in the county of Lincoln, Baronet, aged about fifty-three years, certifieth that his deponent hath heard his father Sir John Newton Baronet aged about seventy and three years at the time of his death, speak of Isaac Newton Master of Arts and Fellow of Trinity Colledge in Cambridge now Sir Isaac Newton Knight, Master and Worker of her Maties Mint in the Tower of London and of St. James's Parish in the County of Middlesex, as of his Relation and Kinsman. And this deponent saith, that upon his view of a coppy of an entry of the family of Newton, said to be entered in a visitation of the said county of Lincoln, made in or about the year 1634, and said to be now remaining in the Herald's Colledge in London, he finds one John Newton of Westby in the said County, mentioned to have had four sons, viz. John Newton, Thomas Newton, Richard Newton, and one William Newton of Gunnerby in the said County, which said William Newton was his great Grandfather, and believes the said Sir Isaac Newton to be descended from the said John Newton, son to John Newton of Westby, the Common Ancestor, and first mentioned in that entry, but knoweth not in what particular manner, but that the said Sir Isaac hath alwaies been reckoned by him of the same name and blood with his family.

In witness whereof the said Sir John Newton hath hereunto set his hand and seal this 21st day of November, in the year 1705.

Jo. Newton



Skynner, or Skinner, of Bolingbroke, and Thornton College, Lincolnshire.—I wish to take an opportunity of correcting the two first descents in this pedigree as printed in 'Miscellanea Genealogica et Heraldica,' Monthly Series, October, 1870 (antea, p. 81). Since that communication was made I have by chance discovered, at Lincoln, the will of John Skynner* of that city, merchant, dated 30th December, 1545 (date of probate torn off), who died, as appears from his Inq. p. m., on the 11th of October, 1545. From these documents it is now plainly seen that he—and not John Skynner, the Receiver of the Honor of Bolingbroke and grantee of the arms in 1557—was the father of Sir Vincent and Henry Skynner. It furthermore appears that the grandfather of the two latter was not Robert Skynner, of Exeter, but a Robert Skynner, also of Lincoln, whose will is printed at length in 'Notes and Queries,' 1st ser. x. 377. These circumstances explain the discrepancy alluded to in my note (p. 81) as to the arms borne by the Thornton College family, to whom those forming the subject of the grant by Hervy do not seem to belong. The pedigree should commence thus:—

Robert Skynner, of the parish of S[t] John in Wykeford in the City of Lincoln—Will dated 2[nd] Jan. 1535. proved at Lincoln 24[th] May 1536, and also registered in P. C. C. London. desires to be buried in parish church of S[t] John Evangelist afs[d]—leaves to church of Thorpe in the Marsh where he was born,—to Allhallows church, Waynfleet, where his father lyeth, and to Spilsby church where his mother lyeth—appoints his brother W[m] Palfrayman supervisor of his will. = Alice, dau. of .... named executrix of her husband's will, with sons John and Richard, which she and John proved, reserving right of Richard.

John Skynner, 1535, by his father's will had lands in Thorpe and Wainfleet when at lawful age. Of the city of Lincoln Merchant at date of his will made 30[th] Sept. 1545, of which he appoints his wife Elizabeth executrix, and his brother in law John Dyghton supervisor. Died 11[th] October 1545. Inquisitio post mortem taken 4[th] May 1546. = Elizabeth, d. of John Fairfax, of Swarby, co. Lincoln.

Stewart: Gilbert: Ward: Harvie.—Where may I find any particulars of Lieut.-General James Stewart, who—according to the 'Gentleman's Magazine,' 1798, part i. p. 446—died at Williamstown, near Dublin, on the 1st of May in that year?

Some genealogical information respecting Dr. Claudius Gilbert, who was Vice-Provost of Trinity College, Dublin, 1716–35, and a very liberal contributor to its noble library, is desired. Having been appointed to the rectory of Ardstraw, in the diocese of Derry, in July, 1735, he died in October, 1742; and his executors were the Rev. Dr. Hodson, of Omagh, Richard Warburton, Esq., of Donnycarney, near Dublin, and Dr. Thomas Kingsbury, of Anglesea Street, in that city. For particulars of his benefactions, see 'The Dublin University Calendar,' 1871, p. 340.

In what church or where was the Rev. Dr. Michael Ward married to Mary Margetson, and where may an entry of the marriage be found? It is supposed to have been solemnized in Dublin, or the neighbourhood, 1674–8.

Captain Roger Harvie. Frequent and honourable mention of this officer is made in 'Pacata Hibernia, or a History of the Wars in Ireland during the Reign of Queen Elizabeth.' His death is minutely described in vol. ii. p. 645 (Dublin, 1810). To what family did he belong, and are any members of it still resident in Ireland, where there are many of the name? B. H. B.

Smith (p. 48).—Newton Smith, nephew of Sir Isaac Newton, was under age in 1712. He afterwards married Catherine, the daughter of William Wimberley, son of William Wimberley (long residents at Bitchfield), postmaster of the district between Stamford and Grantham, who resided at Witham. On July 20, 1716, was baptized at Witham, Catherine, the daughter of Newton Smith and Mrs. Catherine; on April 7, 1718, Isaac Newton Smith, son of the same; and on Feb. 25, 1719, Sarah, daughter of the same. These baptisms are from the register of South Witham. They afterwards lived at Barrowby, near Grantham, and to the father, Sir Isaac Newton was guardian. The signature of Benjamin Smith, with the date 1723, is on the cover of the Witham parish register, which commences in 1686. In the King's Silver Office is the record of a fine, Trinity Term, 1761; William Manners, plaintiff, and Benj. Smith, clerk, and Benj. Brown and Sarah, deforciants, of messuages, cottages, and lands in South Witham. Mrs. Sarah Brown, widow of Mr. Benj. Brown, of Owston, Leicestershire, and daughter of Newton Smith alluded to above, and sister of Isaac Newton Smith, had a fine original picture of Sir Isaac Newton, by Kneller, which she sold to the Duke of Rutland about the year 1786. A pedigree of the Newton family is given in Turner's 'History of Grantham.' Justin Simpson.

Stamford.

Frost.—William Frost emigrated to New England prior to 1655, in which year he removed from Boston and united in the settlement of Cromwell Bay, on Long Island. In 1667 he removed to Matinecock, in Oyster Bay, L. I., where he died about 1698 or 1699, leaving two sons, William and Wright Frost. By his will, made March 28, 1698, he directs that in the event of the death of both these sons without issue, his estate shall "return to any of the Frosts that descended from George Frost, born in Bensteed, two miles from Farnham, in Hampshire, in Old England—to the first heirs or heiresses so descending." Any information from parish registers or other sources which throw light on the genealogy of George Frost, presumed to be the father of William above named, would be very acceptable. I. J. L.

Smith.—Richard Smith, of the parish of Bramham, West Riding of Yorkshire baptized 10th May, 1593, buried 19th November, 1647, had an only son, Richard baptized 15 October, 1626, married to Ann Yeates, by Paul Beale, Alderman of York, 25 February, 1653, died at Bramham 1688. A MS. of his grandson says of the second R. S., "he was educated for the Gowne, but y^e^ troubles in England at that time prevented his Proceeding." He became one of the Proprietors of West New Jersey, in America, whither his sons went, and where his descendants continued for a long time to fill important public offices,—one of them (Richard Smith) representing the province in the Continental Congress in 1776. Could the pedigree of R. S., No. 1, be traced? A seal used by his great-great-grandson Samuel Smith, author of a valuable History of the Colony of New Jersey, published in 1765, bears these arms,—Argent a lion rampant gules, crowned, sceptred and orbed or. Thos. Stewardson, Jr.

Germantown, Philadelphia.

Chaddock (pp. 134, 155).—It would seem probable that the name Chad is derived from the O. G. cat (hat)=bellum, militia, prælium (O. Sax. guth, Franc. gund, Ice. gudur, W. and Corn. cad, Gael. and Ir. cath, Basq. cudu, Sansk. yudh, yodh. Conf. also the ancient name Catvalda and the inverse Vellocatus=bellipotens; and Cædmon, miles, bellator, vir belli); and Chatto and Catto are doubtless O. G. forms of the same name; although Catto may also be from Catto, co. York. Chaddock, Chattock, and Haddock, may be diminutives of Chad [Conf. the Italian diminutives in uccio, uccia; as casuccia]. The names Chadborn, Chatborn, and Chat Moss do not appear to be connected with the other mentioned names. The two former are doubtless derived from a river name, Chad, Chat, or Ket, i. q. Gade, a river, co. Herts; Göte, a river of Sweden; from a Su-Gothic word. The name Catomore may not always be from Catumerus=bello clarus. Catmore and Catmur may be from Catmere in Berks. As a rule, heraldry is of little value in deciphering proper names. The arms of the Celtic name Liverpool are "argent a liver (bird) azure"; on the town-seal of Hartlepool a stag is represented in a pool; whilst a Robins family (whose name is clearly derived from Robert) has for crest "Three Robins." R. S. Charnock.

8, Gray's Inn Square.

P.S. Since writing the above, I have been in communication with Mr. Chattock, of Castle Bromwich, who thinks the name Cerdic contains all the elements of the name Chadock; thus—Cerdic, Cherdic, Chardoc, Chadoc, Chattock. But whence the name Cerdic? I can suggest no other etymology than from her-teoche, which will translate both "war leader" and "renowned leader." Conf. the German her-zog.

WILLIAMS.

The following extracts from the registers of Oswestry and Nannerch relate to the family of Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, Bart. William Williams, Esq., with whom the Oswestry extracts begin in the year 1700, succeeded his father, the Right Honourable Sir Wm. Williams, Bart., in his title and large estates. The latter had been Speaker of the House of Commons in 1679–80. Edward, the eldest son of William Williams, Esq., as will be seen, died a child. Watkin, the second son, succeeded—under the will of his kinsman, Sir John Wynn, Bart.—to the extensive estates of Wynnstay, and assumed the additional surname of Wynn. Upon the death of his father, Sir William Williams, Bart., he became the first Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, Bart. Robert, the second son of Sir William, married Merryel Williames, represented in Parliament the county of Montgomery, and died without issue. Richard, another son, whose name appears in the Oswestry Register, was M.P. for the Flintshire Boroughs, and died in 1759. His name, and those of his wives and some of his children, will be found in the Nannerch Register and in the inscriptions upon coffin-plates in the vaults at Nannerch. For more also respecting him see 'Miscellanea Genealogica,' Monthly Series, No. II., page 19.

SEWELL WILLS.*

Robert Sewell, 6 April, 1660.

In the name of God, Amen. I Robert Sewell of Chatham in the county of Kent being in health of body and perfect memory do make this my last Will & Testament in manner & form following, viz. I bequeath my soul into the hands of God that gave it, And my body to the earth in assured confidence of a glorious resurrection by the Lord Jesus Christ my blessed Saviour & Redeemer in whom I trust. Next for my temporal estate wherewith God hath blessed me, I give & bequeath unto my eldest son John that messuage or tenement situate in the parish of Tonge in the county of Kent, and now in the occupation of John Batchelor. Item, I give to my younger son Samuel the sum of five hundred Pounds to be put out to the best advantage for his use by my executors hereafter named till he come to the yeares of one & twenty or matrimony. Item, I give to the son of my brother John Three Pounds, more to the son of my brother Thomas Three Pounds, more to the son & daughter of my sister Hannah each Thirty Shillings, and to the poor of Callgarth in Cumberland where I was born Three Pounds. Item, I give to my dear wife Judith all the Chattels Plate Household Stuffs, goods moveables or other goods whatsoever and also Four hundred Pounds in money, or the thirds of the whole which she shall like best. Item, my will is that if either of my sons shall depart this life before they come to the age of 21 years or matrimony then the survivor to enjoy the other's portion, or if they both shall die before the terms aforesaid then my will is that the estate to them hereby bequeathed shall fall to the eldest son of my brother John, the eldest son of my brother Will(iam or ford ?) the eldest son of my brother Thomas and the eldest child of my sister Jane to be equally divided among them or the survivors of them. Item, I give to the church whereof I am a member Five Pounds. Item I do hereby appoint and nominate Richard Hutchinson. Eq. and my dear wife to be executors of this my last Will & Testament, giving unto the first named Five Pounds. Item, Five (?) Pounds more to such of our relations as my wife shall nominate if she thinks fit, And lastly my will is that whatsoever shall remain above what I have here disposed, and funeral expenses I give the same to my two sons, that is to the elder two-thirds thereof and to my younger one-third or that totall to the survivor. In witness of all which I have hereto set my hand & seal this sixth of April in the year of our Lord one thousand six hundred & sixty, and in the twelth year of his Majesty's reign.

Rob^{t} Sewell.

Memorandum first to make a note under my hand what debts are due to me, secondly what I owe to any, thirdly to will my wife & sons to live in peace & love and thankfulness to God without murmuring Fourthly to stand fast to the principles they have been taught and to beware of seducers. By this note I give to John Bowyer of Chatham forty shillings.

Tenore præsentium &c.

John Sewell, 2 July, 1692.

In the name of God Amen I John Sewell of London merchant being sick of body but of perfect and sound mind and memory for which I do bless & praise the Lord do make & ordain this my last will & Testament in manner & form following, that is to say first & chiefly I do bequeath my soul to Almightie God that gave it hoping for salvation thereof through the merits of my Lord & Saviour Jesus Christ, And my body to be buried in Xtianlike manner as my Executors hereinafter named shall think fit, And for the worldly estate that the Lord hath been pleased to bless me withal I will give & bequeath the same in manner & form following, that is to say, Inprimis it is my xpress will & order that for and at my funeral there shall be mourning given only to my dear & loving wife Abigail, and to my sons John Sewell, Thomas Sewell, Robert Sewell, Samuel Sewell and my daughter Judith Sewell and to no other person or persons whatsoever Item I do will & appoint that my said loving wife shall hold & enjoy to her own use for and during the term of her natural life in full recompense of all her dower & title of dower to any of my estate all those my lands & hereditaments that I heretofore have settled as a jointure for her & no more. Item I do give and bequeath to my said loving wife the sum of 40 shillings in full of all parts & shares she may have or claim to or out of my personal estate I thereout intending her no more than the said sum of Forty Shillings and she having no right to any part of my personal estate by the custom of the city of London I being not a freeman thereof and I have otherwise provided for my said wife by the said jointure lands. Item all the rest & residue of my said personal estate my debts funeral charges & legacies being therout first paid I will give & bequeath the same to and amongst my said sons John Sewell, Thomas Sewell, Robert Sewell, Samuel Sewell when & as they shall respectively attain their several and respective ages of one & twenty years and my s^{d} daughter Judith when she shall be married or attain her full age of one & twenty years which shall first happen. And I hereby will & appoint that all my said personal estate shall be paid divided & distributed to & amongst my said sons & daughters at the said several & respective times in & by equal parts & portions & share & share alike, provided and I do hereby order will & appoint that out of my said personal estate shall be yearly & at all other times as there shall be occasion paid & laid out such sums of money as shall be necessary for the maintenance & education putting out & other necessary occasions of all every & either of my s^{d} sons & daughter according to their degree & quality till their said respective portions & shares shall be paid them respectively And further provided & I will & order that in case any of my s^{d} sons & daughter shall happen to die before his her or their s^{d} portions or shares shall be due or payable that then the portion or share of every such child so dying shall not go to his heir or their respective executors or administrators but shall go and be for the benefit of the rest of my said children share & share alike. Item it is my express wish and desire that none of my own or my said wife's kindred or relations shall be in any ways admitted or constituted to be guardian or guardians to or for any of my said children or have any administration of my estate during any of their minorities and lives but if there shall be occasion for any such guardian or guardians in respect of any of my said children's minorities then to prevent partiality to any of my children I do will & desire that some other fitter person or persons at the nomination of such child or children as there shall be occasion to have a guardian for to be admitted & constituted to be such guardian or guardians And I do hereby constitute nominate & appoint my said first & second sons John Sewell & Thomas Sewell full & sole Executors of this my will during their joint lives And from and after the decease of either of them my said Executors Then I do constitute and appoint my said younger children Robert, Samuel & Judith to be Executors of this my will together with survivor of my said sons John and Thomas And lastly I do hereby revoke & make void all former wills by me heretofore made declaring this only to be my last Will In witness whereof to two parts of this my Will being both of one tenor & date and written in two sheets of paper and this piece of a sheet I the said John Sewell the Testator have put my hands to each sheet and to this piece my hand & seal thereof whereof either of them being duly proved the other to remain only as for a copy dated this second day of July Anno Domini 1692 & in the 4th year of the reign of our Sovereign Lord & Lady William & Mary by the grace of God of England Scotland France & Ireland King & Queen defenders of the Faith. Bt. John Sewell. Signed sealed published & declared by the s^{d} Testator to be his last will in the presence of Edmund Terry, Henry Ward, Sam. Thorowgood.

I John Sewell of London merchant do make this Codicil to my will Annexed hereunto To wit I give to my son John Sewell and his heirs from my wife's decease all my lands that I have heretofore settled on my wife for a jointure and he being to enjoy the same I hereby take out from him out of his part & share in & by the s^d^ will given him of & out of my personal estate the full sum of one thousand pounds And I do hereby give the s^d^ one thousand pounds to & amongst my younger children Thomas Robert Samuel & Judith when their portions in & by the s^d^ will are payable and so conditioned as their other portions are under And for all other my lands & hereditaments I give the same to & amongst my said sons John Thomas Robert & Samuel And my daughter Judith & their heirs for ever And my body I appoint to be buried in the church of Chatham in the county of Kent under the gravestone under which my Father's body was laid and I desire that this codicil may be added to & taken as part of my last will dated the second day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand six hundred & ninety two. John Sewell. Signed sealed published & declared in the presence of Edmund Terry, Henry Ward, Sam. Thorowgood.

And further I the s^d^ John Sewell the Testator for the further explaining of and adding to my will hereto annexed do ordain and appoint for sundry good reasons best known to myself that if any or either of my aforesaid executors of my said will shall offer to disobey my said will in or concerning the clause therein relating to my exemption & barring of all and every of mine & my wife's relations (except my children) from having anything to do in Law Equity or any Ecclesiastical Court concerning my estate and the clause mentioned in my will for that purpose then in such case I order that such child & children as shall offer to disobey my will in that purpose & clause shall have no share or benefit of my personal estate and in such case and if any or either of my executors shall nominate any of my or my wife's said relations to be his her or their guardian or guardians then I give the portions & shares of and in my personal estate of such of my said executors as shall do so to and amongst the others of my said children share & share alike any thing in my said will or former codicil to the contrary thereof notwithstanding. And I desire that this also may be taken as a codicil to and part of my last will Dated this 18^th^ day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand six hundred & ninety two. John Sewell. Signed sealed published & declared in the presence of Fran^s^ Thompson, James Kerby, Sam. Thorowgood.

I the within named John Sewell do make this codicil to my will hereunto annexed to wit for the preventing of all differences & disputes that may arise among my children or any of them touching a guardian to be chosen for them during their minorities I do by these presents nominate & appoint my loving friend William Heath of Limehouse in the parish of Stepney in the county of Middlesex, mariner to be full and sole guardian unto all my sons until they shall respectively attain their ages of one & twenty years and to my daughter until she shall attain her age of one & twenty years or be married which shall first happen And I do hereby direct & appoint that the said William Heath shall have the full and absolute ordering management & disposition of my children's portions & estate by me given unto them until the same shall become due unto them according to the true intent & meaning hereof. And I do hereby empower & authorize the s^d^ Will^m^ Heath to dispose & put out to interest at his own discretion the respective portions of my children in the name of him the s^d^ William Heath but to & for the benefit of my children And I do hereby will & direct that the s^d^ William Heath shall & may fully reimburse himself by and out of my estate all charges & disbursements whatsoever he shall be at or xpend in or about execution of the trust herein reposed in him and the maintenance and education of my children And I do hereby leave & commit the ordering of my funeral wholly to the discretion of him the said William Heath And anything within or in my last Will & Testament hereunto annexed contained to the contrary thereof in anywise notwithstanding And I desire that this codicil may be added to and taken as part of my last will dated this 15^th^ day of September in the year of our Lord 1692.

The mark of John Sewell. Signed sealed published and declared by the s^d^ John Sewell on the date of the date hereof in the presence of Fran^s^ Thompson, Hen^y^ Pugh; Willm. Hughes, Scrivener.

Ellis Family.—I am preparing a second Supplement to my 'Notices of the Ellises,' and should be obliged by the following information:—

Ancestry and descendants of Sir John Ellys, sometime owner of the manor of Totehill, co. Cambridge.

Parentage of the Rev. John Ellis, B.D., the first known ancestor of Baron Mendip, afterwards Viscount Clifden. He is described in his memorial in Waddesdon Church, co. Bucks, as "Eboracensis." He was Rector there, 1661, and was Fellow of Catharine Hall, Cambridge. He died 1681, æt. 75, and married Susannah Welbore.

Ancestry and descendants of Sir William Ellis, appointed, 1731, Ensign in Brigadier Tyrrel's Regiment.

Ancestry and descendants of the following:—Thomas Ellis, Esq., ob. 1735, æt. 92, Groom of the Chamber to James II. Hugh Ellis, Esq., ob. 1749, æt. 98, formerly Secretary to the Duke of Marlborough. Richard Ellis, Usher of the Court of Wards and Liveries, 1617. Right Honourable Sir Henry Ellis, K.C.B., formerly Ambassador to the Court of Persia, ob. 1855. Descendants of Rev. Thomas Ellis, Minor Canon of Ely, who died 1764, and of his relative, Rev. Seth Ellis, Incumbent of Brampton, co. Derby.

And I should be glad to know by what matches the following coats were brought in and quartered, viz. Quarterly of four, 1, a chevron between three cinqfoils (? Woodhouse of Suffolk); 2 and 3, three lions passant; 4, on a cross sable five crescents (Ellis), on an escutcheon of pretence, a lion passant. Crest, a lion passant. Motto, Nemo me impune lacessit. They occur on a seal formerly in the possession of Thomas Ellis, who died 1802. He was descended of the Ellises of Orford, in Suffolk, who bore a lion passant. This family is supposed to be an offset of Ellis of Chesterfield, a branch of those of Kiddall, who bore or on a cross sable five crescents argent. The lion passant was granted 1587, to Ellis of Alrey, co. Flint, and was probably erroneously assumed by Ellis of Orford.

GRANT OF ARMS TO REV. BENJAMIN HOADLY, D.D. (SUCCESSIVELY BISHOP OF BANGOR, HEREFORD, SALISBURY, AND WINCHESTER), 1715.*

To ALL AND SINGULAR to whom these Presents shall come S^r^ John Vanbrugh Kn Clarenceux King of Arms, and Peter Le Neve Esq^r^ Norroy King of Arms, send Greeting. Whereas the Rev^d^ Benjamin Hoadly, Doctor in Divinity, Rector of S^t^ Peter's Poor London, and of the Church of Streatham in the County of Surrey, now nominated by his Maj^ty^ to the Bisoprick of Bangor hath made Application to the R^t^ Hon^ble^ Henry Earl of Suffolk and Bindon, one of the Lords of the King's most Hon^ble^ Privy Council and Deputy (with the Royal Approbation) to his Grace Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal and Hereditary Marshal of England, for Our Devising, and (after his Lordships Approbation) Assigning unto him such Arms and Crest as may be lawfully born by him and his Descendents and the other Descendents of his Grandfather M^r^ John Hoadley who was sometime Chaplain to General Monk in Scotland, to whom he was subservient in promoting the Kings Restauration and died at Rolvenden in Kent 28^o^ June 1668 leaving two sons surviving. Viz^t^ Samuel Hoadly Father to the said D^r^ Benjamin Hoadly late Master of the Free School in Norwich and John Hoadly (Uncle to the said D^r^ Hoadly) now Rector of Halstead in the aforesaid County of Kent: And forasmuch as the said Earl of Suffolk and Bindon considering the Premises did by Warrant under his Hand and Seal bearing Date the Tenth day of this Instant February, Order and appoint Us to devise, and after his Lor^ps^ Approbation Assign unto the said D^r^ Benjamin Hoadly such Arms and Crest accordingly. Know ye therefore that We the said Clarenceux and Norroy in pursuance of the Consent of the said Earl of Suffolk and Bindon, signified as aforesaid & by Virtue of the Letters Patent of Our Offices to each of Us respectively granted, under the Great Seal of England have devised and do by these Presents (with his Lo^ps^ Approbation) Grant and Assign, unto the said D^r^ Benjamin Hoadly, the Arms and Crest hereafter mentioned, Viz^t^ Quarterly Azure and Or in the first Quarter a Pelican of the Second, vulning its Breast Proper and for the Crest, On a Wreath of his Colours upon a Terrestial Orb or a Dove the wings expanded holding an Olive Branch in the Beak proper, as the same are in the Margin hereof more plainly depicted. To be born and used for Ever, hereafter by him the said D^r^ Benjamin Hoadly and the Heirs and other Descendents of his Body and also by the other Descendents of his Grandfather M^r^ John Hoadly aforesaid lawfully begotten with their due and respective Differences according to the Law and Practice of Arms without Lett or Interruption. In witness whereof We the said Clarenceux and Norroy, Kings of Arms, have hereunto Subscribed Our Names and affixed the Seals of Our respective Offices, this Twentieth day of February in the Second year of the Reign of Our Sovereign Lord, George, by the Grace of God King of Great Britain France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith &c. HENRY WRIGHT.—Who was Henry Wright? He was created, in 1660, a Baronet, as Sir Henry Wright, of Dagenham, Essex. Was he connected with the Wrights of Kelvedon, Essex, or the Wrights of Kilverstone, Norfolk? What arms did he bear? He married Anne, daughter of John, first Lord Crewe of Stene. Was there any issue of that marriage? It is probable that he did not long survive his marriage, as his widow married Edmund Pye (ancestor of the Pye's of Farringdon), and had several children by her second husband. Any information respecting this Sir Henry Wright will greatly oblige C. W. H.

Tuke (p. 35).—In the number of your Journal for June, 1870, "C. G." asks, who now represents the family of Sir Samuel Tuke? In the Heralds' College there is a pedigree, sworn to by Sir John Evelyn, on the 8th of April, 1742, showing that at that date only one of Sir Samuel's descendants was living, namely, his second daughter, Theresa, the widow of Charles Trender, Esq., of Bourton-on-the-Waters, co. Gloucester (who died 1718), she being then resident at Ligny, in the Duchy of Bar. Sir Samuel ob. January 28, 1670–1, his will being proved in London, by Mary, his relict, in 1674. He mentions, but does not name his children, and leaves his wife sole executrix. She died at Lisbon, 1705.

The above-mentioned pedigree gives three children,—Charles, at whose death, at the battle of the Boyne, the title became extinct; Mary, the eldest daughter, who died unmarried, 1740, and was buried at Cambray; and the above-named Theresa.

This pedigree traces the family from Sir Brian Tuke, through Thomas Tuke, of Layer Marney (stated in Harl. MS. 1541 pedigree to be of Aldersgate Street, and having a son Thomas, born 1612), who by his second wife, Judith, daughter of Edward North, of Walkeringham, co. Notts, had Samuel, the first Baronet, who is said to have had a son Samuel, the second Baronet. This agrees with Courthorpe; but Samuel Tuke was only knighted March 3rd, 1663, and created baronet March 31, 1664, and in the will above referred to he is styled "knight and baronet." Further, in 1664, Evelyn, who only appears to refer to one Sir Samuel Tuke, mentions his marriage; in 1666, the death of his wife; and again, in 1668, his [second] marriage. Quere. Does not this show that Courthorpe and this pedigree are incorrect in making two baronets of this name?

W. M. Tuke.

ETHEREDGE.

GENEALOGICAL MEMORANDA RELATING TO THE ETHEREDGE FAMILY, COPIED FROM THE ETHEREDGE BIBLE,* IN THE POSSESSION OF P. C. S. BRUERE, ESQ.

An Accompt or Genealogie of my first Deare wifes family according to an Accompt I find written w^th^ her own hand.†

John Moore‡ the sonne of Ralph Moore was baptised the 23^d^ of October 1577; as it is recorded in the Regist^r^ booke of Beaconsfeild in the County of Bucks: and departed this life vpon Sunday the 21^th^ day of January 1654: in the 77^th^ yeare of his age, & leyes buried att Marlow, w^th^ a stone over him engraven w^th^ his Coat of Arms.

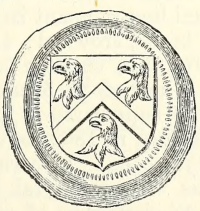
Ravenscroft (p. 79).—The enclosed extract from a Chester paper of July 1849, will give "Querans" the information he seeks:—

"Middlewich.—An Old English Signet Ring.—Greek and Roman Rings.—Some labourers, while removing a hedge at Ravenscroft, near Middlewich, in the spring of 1842, found an antique signet ring of fine gold (technically of 24 carats fineness, the modern quality being 18 carats), on the face of which was engraven an heraldic shield, bearing arms which are or were borne by the two families of Ravenscroft and Vaudrey. The ring, which weighs 14 dwt. 10 grains, is now in the possession of Mr. James Beardoe, of this town, and an impression of it having been forwarded to Dr. Ormerod, the able historian of Cheshire, he writes as follows respecting it:—'I thank you for the impression of the ring. The arms, 'Argent a chevron sable between three ravens' heads erased of the second,' are indisputably those of Ravenscroft of Ravenscroft, whose heiress, Margery, brought that estate to Roger de Croxton in the time of Edward III. If the seal had been of the period of a Ravenscroft of Ravenscroft, I conjecture that it would have been circumscribed 'S.: Warini de Ravenscroft,' or as the case might be. From its aspect, I do not think that it is earlier than the beginning of Elizabeth's reign or later than the Revolution. In this opinion, I think it probable that it was the seal of some Croxton of Ravenscroft, who fancied using the arms of his female ancestors; or it might be the seal of some collateral descendant of the old line, Ravenscroft of Bretton for instance, who might lose it when visiting his kinsman. The first idea seems to me the most probable. Within the period that I have mentioned, Ravenscroft produced one well-known proprietor, Thomas Croxton, Colonel of one of the Cheshire regiments raised to oppose Duke Hamilton in 1648, one of the members of the Court Martial which condemned the Earl of Derby in 1651, and the officer who closed the gates of Chester Castle against Sir George Booth in 1659. It may have been his ring.'"



The Ravenscroft and Croxton estates adjoin. Cicily Croxton, a spinster, was the last of the Croxton owners of Ravenscroft, and for many years, in my recollection, her ghost was said to haunt the old mansion.

In the reign of Elizabeth, John Croxton de Ravenscroft, gent., held certain lands and tenements, with the appurtenances, in Kinderton, of Thomas Venables, lord of that manor, by service (inter alia) to find for the said Thomas Venables and his heirs one hangman, to hang murderers and felons within the manor when required. The Kinderton Court Rolls (6 Sept., 34 Eliz.) contain a presentment by the jury that the said John Croxton rendered this service by hiring one John Lingard, for the sum of five shillings, to hang Hugh Stringer, for the murder of Ann Cranage and her daughter Ciciley Cranage. B. Ll. Vawdrey.

Barbor Family (Quarterly Series, Vol. I., p. 58).—From a recent examination of the parish register of North Luffenham, Rutland, I am enabled to forward the following extracts relative to that family; also some additional ones respecting other families who were by marriage connected with them:—

1655. Catherine Weaver, wife of John Weaver, bur. Dec. 24.
1656. Katherine, dau. of M^r^ John Weaver, bapt. May 18.
1658. Hester, dau. of John Weaver, bapt. Sept. . . .
1659. Jonathan, son of John Weaver, bur. July 17.
1666. Doctor Samuel Winter, bur. Dec. 26.[1]
1670. M^r^ Christ. Broughton & M^rs^ Frances Markham, mar. Aug. 11.[2]
1672. Rebecca, dau. of Richard Markham, esq., bapt, May 9.[3]
1682. M^r^ Henry Markham & M^rs^ Esther Weaver, mar. Nov. 7.
1683. John son of M^r^ Gabriel Barber, bur. in wollen only April 11.
1687. M^rs^ Bridgett Barber, bur. in linnen Sept. 7.
1688. John Weaver, esq., bur. in wollen only March 28.[4]
1703. Elizabeth wife of M^r^ Gabriel Barbour, bur. in wollen April 21.

[1] This individual was Rector of Cottingham, co. York, who went to Ireland, in 1650, as Chaplain to the Commissioners for the settlement of that country, and soon afterwards was constituted Provost of Trinity College, Dublin. On the south wall of the chancel of this church (Luffenham) is a marble table, having on it these arms,—Chequy sable and or, a fess argent, impaling or, on a fess argent, two garbs of the first; and this inscription,—"Samuel Winter, D^r^ of Divinity, eminent for piety & learning, late Prouost of Trinity College near Dubline. He deceased the 24th of December in the yeare 1666 & in y^e^ 63 yeare of his age. He married Elizabeth y^e^ daughter of Christ. Weaver, esq., who out of her entire affection for him caused this to be set up in memorial of him."

[2] Mr. Christopher Broughton was of Longden, Stafford, and Mrs. B. was the third daughter of Robt. Markham, the first Baronet, of Sedgebrooke, Notts.

[3] On the south wall of the chancel of this church is a marble tablet bearing this inscription,—"Under the stone below lyeth interred the corps of Colonell Henry Markham, who departed this life at Ketton in this county the 15th day of January 1672 in the foure and fifty year of his age, whose widow (Hester, y^e^ daughter of Christ. Weaver, esq.) out of her deare affection to his memoriall hath caused this monument to be erected 1673." On the tablet are these arms,—1, (azure) on a chief (or), a demi-lion rampant issuant (gules); 2, chequy, over all a bend; 3, on a fess two lions' heads, crowned; 4, on a bend cottised three bears'? heads couped; 5, a cross saltire; 6, a chevron between three bucks' heads; 7, a lion rampant; 8 as 3. Crest, a lion of St. Mark, sejant guardant, winged (or), circled round the head (argent) supporting a lyre of the first, Markham. The stone in the chancel was in existence in 1862, but, owing to the recent restoration effected in the chancel, it was removed. It bore this inscription,—"Here lyeth Col. Henry Markham, who was very instru'tal in y^e^ happy restauration of K. Charles y^e^ 2^d^, & was one of y^e^ 48 gentlemen of y^e^ Privy Chamber to y^e^ said King of ever blessed memory."

[4] Mr. John Weaver was for several years representative for the Borough of Stamford in Parliament, and also a benefactor to its charities. I am disposed to think he was the eldest son of Christopher Weaver. Justin Simpson.

† Mrs. Lockey's will appears to have more than common interest, and an abstract is therefore given, for the most part in her own words, but with the spelling modernized. The disposition of her daughters, and the provision made for their maintenance and education, throws a curious light on the manners and customs of the period.

In the name of God Amen, I Anne Lockey of Ridge, Co. Hertford, Widow, in reasonable good health, "but not knowing how soon or sudainly it maie please the lord to call me hence." Soul to God; my body, if I die at Ridge, to be buried near my most dearly loving and beloved husband and four children in Ridge church; and 40/ to be given to the poor of Ridge. If I die elsewhere, 20/ to be given to the poor there, and 20/ where I shall be buried. I give £10 towards procuring an able and conscionable minister to preach a sermon in the afternoon of the Saboth days at Ridge. To my dearly beloved sisters M^rs^ Wilmer, and M^rs^ Woodrof, for a remembrance of my love—to my sister Wilmer my furred cloak and my sute petticoat; and to my sister Woodrof my sute of cut silk grogram, my petticoat with two gold and silk laces, my best ruffe and ruffes and apron. And also something which was mine, to my well beloved nephews M^r^ Samuel Wilmer and M^r^ John Vaux and their wives, and also to my nephew M^r^ John Wilmer. And also to my dear friend M^rs^ Elizabeth Southcote; and if she pleases to bring up my daughter Martha, I should think her well placed, but not to charge her. To each of my servants 10/ besides their wages. To my son John Lockey "as followeth, as a token of my dear loue and affection for him, and assuredly hopeing he will approue himselfe after my departure, as euer heretofore he hath, a louing and dutifull Sonne in his christian and faithfull loue and care for his Sisters, both for their educacon, and for their preferment to the uttermost of his power, takeing a ffatherly care over them in all things wch ptain to their good for soul and body; I saie I give him all his ffathers and my books of lawe, or other learning, saueing and my will is he give each of his Sisters a bible, a testament and a psalm book, and such of my divinity books in english as are fittest for their vse; and some of my french bookes, if any of them have skill therein. I giue to him my ffather his grandfather, and Vncle Stubbs their pictures, wishing thay may allwaies mind him of their vertues for ymitacon of their worthy and religious courses." I give him also that piece of ground called Sextons grove, which I took up in his name at Tittenhanger Court: also my wedding ring and my best furniture of my curtays and vallance embroidered, feather bed, blankets, bolster and pillows at the Temple, and one of my best pair of sheets and pilloberes, and tablecloth and napkins and towels; also the money I disbursed for his Chamber and for his buildings, and the £38 I discharged. To my daughter Anne Lockey my necklace of gold and pearl which hath her and my name in greek letters, my gold tablet enamelled, and the piece of 4 ducats; and for a remembrance of her good grandmother, my dear mother, her picture to mind her of her vertues; also the purled silver bowl, also the nutt tipped with silver, and the gilt bowl which was hers, also her best arras coverlet, the long pillows wrought with Crostick, and a tablecloth and napkins of that linen which hath my mothers mark; also my damask petticoat, and also half of my apparel: the rest of my apparel most of it to my daughter Mary, at the discretion of their aunts: and my confidence is that my two elder daughters will shew themselves loving and mother-like to their younger sisters. I give to my daughter Mary as a remembrance of her careful and loving attendance on me, my pearl border and necklace of pearls and garnets, and my bracelet of pomander and pearls, and two 15/ pieces. I give my daughter Martha as a remembrance of her loving affection to me, my ring with rubies and a diamond, and my seed pearl buttons with the pearls which should be at the tops of them, also one of the best of my pearl and coral bracelets and two Ducats, and the half ducat. I give my daughter Elizabeth my 14 little gold buttons and the little jewel with the pearl which belongs to it, and the other pearl and coral bracelet, and the pistolet and Scotch piece. The rest of my jewels unbequeathed I give betwixt them two, and their elder sisters, to keep them until they come to the age of 15 years; and if any of them be lost they to make them good, also all my wearing linen, and such like things, to be divided amongst them at the discretion of their aunts and my executors, and the angel gold to be divided amongst them for to mind them of their duty to their father and me. My will is that my daughter Ann, if her aunts think so fit, be put out for half a year or a year, and my daughter Mary two years, to learn what they are wanting in; and £14 a year to be allowed to each of them for their education and maintenance, and afterwards to be put to some honest service, and £5 a year to be allowed for their better maintenance; their placing to be at the discretion of my loving sisters their aunts: and for my two younger daughters my will is that £8 a year be allowed them till they come to the age of 12 years, and then £12 a piece to put them to school for two years, and after £14 a piece for their better education and maintenance, and then to be disposed to some honest service, at the discretion of their aunts, and of my executors if they be deceased, and then £5 a year be allowed for their better maintenance. And if any of my daughters live unmarried till they be of the age of 23 years, then to have 40 marks allowed yearly until they are 30 years, then to have £32 each yearly for their maintenance till they marry or die; with benefit of survivorship. "But if any of them, wch the lord for christs sake I trust will keepe far from them, should not carry themselves vertuously, or should refuse to bee guided in their courses or matches by their loueing Aunts," or by my executors, they that are found faulty shall have but three score pounds for their portion, the rest of their portion to be divided amongst my children which are virtuous. My son to have the land I have purchased in his name in Essex, if he will pay £540 towards his sisters portions within two years after my death, allowing them in the meantime £7 in the hundred, but if he refuse, the same to the best use of my four daughters; and they to have the residue of my goods unbequeathed. My funeral to be in a seemly manner: my daughters portions to be payable at 18 years if God directs of a good match for them. I appoint my son John Lockey sole executor, and I give him my treble soverayne, which was the last bequest of his grandmother to me. If he should not live to perform my will, I appoint my nephew M^{r} John Wilmer my executor, and give him as a remembrance of my love my purse wrought with gold and silk, and two fine shirts and a gold ring. My brother Woodrof to be overseer. In witness whereof I write all this with mine owne hand, if I live not to alter it, for my last will and testament, this 22nd January 1626.

ANNE LOCKEY.

Proved in Prerogative Court of Canterbury November 3 1626, by John Lockey, son and executor of deceased.

Registered Skinner 116.

‡ As the will is short, an abstract may be given:—In the name of God, amen. I John Lockey of Barking in the county of Essex, Esq.: sick in body: soul to God; body to the earth. To my little daughter Abigail, all my messuages &c. in the town and county of Nottingham, to her and her heirs for ever, with remainder in case of her death unmarried, to my son John Lockey. To said Abigail £200, to be paid when she is 16. To Elizabeth Gisling, widow, my loving sister, £200, she releasing to my wife Abigail Lockey all right or interest she may have to or in my real or personal estate, or to any legacies given her by Ann Lockey her mother. Residue of estate to Abigail, my loving wife, she to be executrix: dated March 25 1651: signed John Lockey, in presence of William Ames—John Gartrand, and Edward Keighly: proved April 3rd following, by Abigail Lockey the widow: registered Grey 70.

Mr. Lockey was probably buried at Barking; the Register was not kept regularly at the time of his death, and there is no entry of his burial.

§ Nothing further has been ascertained of William Lockey's children, nor does it seem to be known whether he has any descendants. The Lockey wills recorded after 1699 would probably furnish valuable information, but they are not open to literary inquiry.

2. Richard Woodward, of Fulham, co. Middlesex, in the Commission of the Peace for that county. Buried at Fulham, 25 July, 1719. Limited administration 1 August, 1743, at C. P. C. Married (ante 1678) Mary, daughter of . . . She was buried at Fulham, 4 November, 1720.

Any information as to the parentage and marriage of the above-named Hester and Mary would oblige. T. D. P.

HENRY WRIGHT (p. 188).—Henry Wright, first baronet, was only son and heir of Laurence Wright, M.D., of Dagnams, in the parish of Romford, co. Essex (not Dagenham, which is a totally distinct place). He married, in March, 1658, Anne, daughter of John, Lord Crewe, and sister of Nathaniel, Lord Crewe, Bishop of Durham, by whom he had Henry, only son and heir, and Anne, only daughter. He was created a baronet in June, 1660; and died February 5, 1664, aged 27; and was buried in the family vault at South Weald. Anne, his widow, survived until 1708. She did not remarry, as stated by C. W. H. Sir Henry Wright, of Dagnams, second baronet, died unmarried in 1681, aged only 19, and was buried with his father at South Weald; Anne, his sister and heir, married in February, 1689, Edmund Pye of Farringdon. She married secondly, William Rider, Esq.

Dr. Laurence Wright was third son of John Wright, of Wrights Bridge (an adjacent estate to Dagnams), who was grandson of John Wright of Kelvedon.

The Wrights of Dagnams and Wrights Bridge bore Azure, two bars argent, in chief three leopards' faces or—granted, in 1590, to John Wright, of Wrights Bridge.

These brief notes appear to give an answer to most of your correspondent's questions; should he require further information of the Wrights, it is probable that I shall be able to gratify him. EDWARD J. SAGE.

Belle Poule, Jan. 17, 1778; and on his return to the Bienfaisant, was in the action between Keppel and d'Orvilliers off Ushant. He was also present at the capture of the Caraccas convoy, the defeat of Don Juan de Langara, and the relief of Gibraltar by the fleet under Sir G. B. Rodney. In the following August, he captured off Kinsale the Comte d'Artois, a large privateer of 44 guns, after a smart action in which the enemy had 21 men killed and 35 wounded, and the Bienfaisant 3 killed and 20 wounded. It was a remarkable circumstance that in the following month, the Bienfaisant captured another privateer called the Comtesse d'Artois. At the close of 1780, Mr. Sotheron removed with his gallant Commander into the Artois frigate, which was considered to be the finest vessel of her class in the world. This ship formed part of the force employed to watch the motions of the Dutch squadron, which was then ready for sea in the Texel; and our young officer was consequently present in Aug. 1781, at the engagement off the Dogger Bank between Sir Hyde Parker and Adm. Zoutmann. On the 3d Dec. in the same year, the Artois captured the Hercules and Mars, Dutch privateers, mounting 24 nine-pounders and 10 cohorns each; and she also formed part of Adm. Barrington's fleet, which intercepted a French convoy bound to the East Indies, on which occasion the Pegase of 74 guns, L'Actionnaire a 2-decker armed en flute, and ten sail of transports, fell into the hands of the British. During the remainder of the war Mr. Sotheron served in the Artois off the Irish coast. He afterwards proceeded to Newfoundland, where he was promoted to the rank of Lieutenant by Adm. Campbell, in 1783, and served in that capacity on board the Danaë and Æolus frigate during the ensuing three years. We subsequently find him in the Kingfisher sloop, from which vessel he removed into the Trusty 50, bearing the broad pendant of Commodore Cosby on the Mediterranean station. Mr. Sotheron's next appointment was about 1792, to be first Lieutenant of the Romney, another 50-gun ship, carrying the flag of Rear-Adm. Goodall in the Mediterranean: and in the course of the same year, he obtained the command of the Fury of 14 guns, employed in affording protection to the trade between England and Portugal. He subsequently accompanied the expedition under his old patron Rear-Adm. M'Bride and the Earl of Moira, sent to assist the French royalists in Normandy and Brittany, and assisted at the capture of La Vipere, a national corvette mounting 18 guns. Capt. Sotheron was advanced to Post rank Dec. 11, 1793; and in the following year, we find him commanding the Monarch, a 74-gun ship bearing the broad pendent of Sir James Wallace, with whom he removed into his old ship the Romney, on that officer being appointed Commander-in-Chief at Newfoundland. Towards the latter end of 1796, a French Squadron, under the orders of M. de Richery, invested that settlement, and destroyed property to a considerable amount. The enemy's armament consisted of seven sail of the line and three frigates, on board of which were embarked 2000 troops. Sir James Wallace, however, by his judicious arrangements, aided by the bravery and vigilance of Capt. Sotheron, and the other officers of his small squadron (consisting of the Romney, 2 frigates, and 2 sloops), completely baffled the designs of the enemy, who, after a fruitless attempt to obtain possession of the colony, returned to Europe. Capt. Sotheron's next appointment was to the Latona frigate on the Newfoundland station, where he continued during the two following years. Subsequently to his return to England, he was actively employed in the North Sea, and occasionally commanded a light squadron off the coast of Holland. In the autumn of 1799, the Latona formed part of the expedition sent against the Helder; and after the surrender of that fortress, went with Vice-Adm. Mitchell to attack the Batavian ships of war lying at anchor in the Vlieter channel, but which surrendered without making any resistance, in consequence of the spirit of disaffection manifested by their crews. For his services on this occasion, Capt. Sotheron, in common with the other officers of the fleet, received the thanks of both Houses of Parliament. Capt. Sotheron continued in the North Sea during the remainder of the war, and was fortunate enough to capture several of the enemy's armed vessels. In the spring of 1802 he was sent abroad with dispatches, and some time after the renewal of hostilities obtained the command of the Excellent, 74, attached to the Mediterranean fleet under the orders of Lord Nelson, by whom he was entrusted with the defence of the Bay of Naples, on which service we find him at the time when the ancient Neapolitan Government

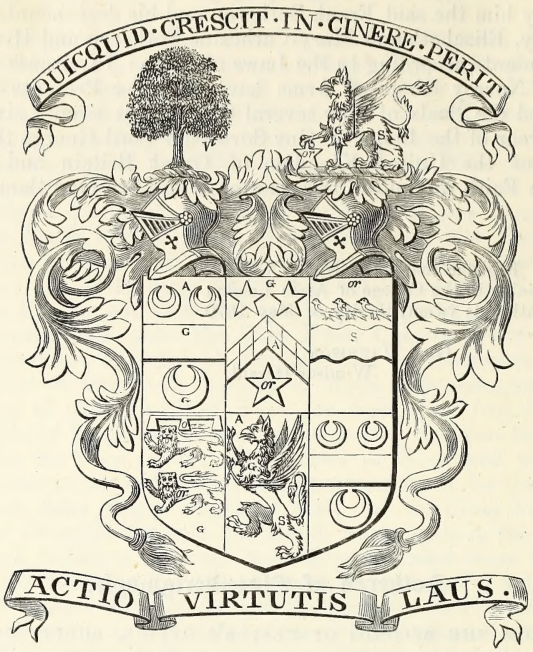
Ashburner.



I and II. Ashburner. II. Moulson, or Moulton, of Moulton, Co. Chester. III. Rosengrave of Rosengrave? IV. Orbs? V. Hargrave of Hargrave.

The only known quarterings in the above shield are 1st and 6th, Ashburner, argent a fesse between three crescents gules (the Indian branch carrying three mullets or, on the fesse, for difference); 2nd, Moulson (or Moulton), gules a chevron componée or and sable (left argent with the lines of division, in the oil-painting mentioned below) between three mullets of the second; 5th, Hargrove of Hargrove (vel Hargrave), Cheshire, argent a griffin segreant per fesse gules and sable, beak and claws or. As to what families the 3rd and 4th quarterings belonged I am unable to say. They were, however, brought in by the Moulsons, and I think one of them will be for Rosengrave (probably the 3rd), the 4th being like some of the early Plantagenet coats, and intended, no doubt, for Orbs. According to the letter of the French Commodore Moulson, from Dunkerque, 1788, to his cousin, Mrs. Mary Ashburner (née Moulson), the Moulsons in early times married the coheirs of Rosengrave, Orbs, and Hargrave, which is corroborated, as far as I can see, by a well-executed old oil-painting of the quarterings, crest, and motto, of about the reign of Queen Anne, formerly in the possession of the late Mr. George Ashburner of Kensington, and from which I copied these Moulson quarterings many years since. Ormerod's 'Cheshire' describes the same quarterings as existing on the old tomb of a Moulson of Wheelocke, near Sandbach, and on referring to Burke's 'General Armoury,' I find the 2nd and 5th quarters to be the coats of the families I have mentioned. The direct ancestor of the Moulsons was Lord Mayor of London in 1634; but although Commodore Moulson refers in his letter to a pedigree in the College of Arms, I have been unable, after a tolerably long search, assisted very kindly by the late York Herald, Tho. Wm. King, Esq., F.S.A., to discover either the Mayor's name or the slightest mention of the names of Moulson, Rosengrave, Orbs, or Hargrave,—all anciently well-known Cheshire families, excepting Orbs, of which I know nothing. A very old roll of the Ashburners was in existence some years since, and although going back to the days of the Plantagenets, I do not remember among its emblazonry any other quarterings for Ashburner.

The griffin crest is for Moulson, no doubt taken from the Hargreave coat, and the Moulson motto is that engraved at the foot of these quarterings.—T. H.

COPE FAMILY.

The following entries occur on the first leaves of an old MS. common-place book in the possession of the Rev. Edward Higgins, of Bosbury House, Herefordshire. The Copes intermarried with the Hoptons of Canon Frome,* in the same county, and it is just possible that the volume may have come into Herefordshire in that way. The writer was a daughter of Francis, first Earl of Westmorland.

C. J. Robinson.

Norton Canon Vicarage, Hereford.

My deare husband S^{r} John Cope changed this life for a better upon Saterday morning y^{e} 13th of October 1638.
[Here follow some pious speeches made by him before his death.]

* Richard Hopton married Elizabeth, widow of William Gregory, and daughter of Thomas Geers by Elizabeth, daughter of William Cope by his wife, who was the writer of these notes. One page in the book bears the signatures "Eliza: Cope," "Eliza Gregory," in later handwritings.

William Cope* & Elizabeth Cope were maryed y^e^ 3^d^ day of January 1643 in y^e^ chappell att Brewerne by M^r^ Robert Haris off Hanwell.

My sonne Henery was borne at Brewerne y^e^ 23 of Octob. being Wedensday in y^e^ yeare 1644, betweene 3 & 4 a clock in y^e^ afternoone. he was baptized on y^e^ 12^th^ of Nouember by my Lady Wilmott, the Earle of Bath & Sir Thomas Pope (my son Ant' was deputy for my Lord of Bathe).

My daughter Elizabeth was borne at Tangly y^e^ 13^th^ of Nouemb. being satterday in y^e^ yeare 1647 betweene 6 & 7 in y^e^ morning, she was baptized on y^e^ 30^th^ of nouember by Sir Edmond Bray, y^e^ Lady Lacy & y^e^ Lady Jenkinson.

My sonne Richard was borne at Tangly y^e^ 30^th^ of Decem. being satterday in y^e^ yeare 1648 betweene 4 & 5 in y^e^ morning, he dyed y^e^ friday seuenight after & was buried in y^e^ chapell at Brewerne upon satterday y^e^ 13^th^ of January.

My daughter Rachell was borne at Tangly y^e^ 13^th^ of June being thursday in y^e^ yeare 1650 betweene 5 & 6 in y^e^ morning, she was baptized on y^e^ 5^th^ of Jully by the Countesse of Bath, the Lady Darcy & y^e^ Earle of Westmorland.

My sonne William was borne at Brewerne y^e^ 4^th^ of Sept' being Thursday in y^e^ year 1651 about 12 a clock at night, he was baptized on y^e^ 23 of Sept' y^e^ witnesses were M^is^ Childe, my sonne Anthony Cope & S^r^ William Walter.

My sonne Ant' Copes eldest sonne was borne at Aston in Yorkshire upon wedensday y^e^ 16 of March 1652 about 4 a clock in y^e^ morning, he was baptized John & dyed y^e^ munday seuenight after.

his seconde Sonne was borne at Aston on thursday y^e^ 5^th^ of January 1653, was baptized Anthony y^e^ next day, he dyed about a fortnight after.

his 3^d^ Sonne was borne at Tangly on Wedensday y^e^ 13^th^ of Decem. 1654 betweene 7 & 8 in y^e^ morning, he was baptized Henry on Satterday y^e^ 16. y^e^ witnesses were y^e^ Lord Vicount Faulkland, S^r^ Edmond Bray & my selfe. He dyed y^e^ 8 of June 1662 [note on margin].

his first daughter was borne at Tangly y^e^ last of Aprill 1656 & was baptized Mary, y^e^ witnesses were y^e^ Lord Gerard, y^e^ Countesse of Westmorland & y^e^ Lady Kilmurrey.

In addition to the above entries is one on the margin of the first page :—" M^r^ Cope's daughter Anne was borne y^e^ 6^th^ day of Feb. 1627 at Brewerne." This, of course, refers to the only child of John Cope's first marriage with Mary, daughter of Chief Baron Walter. C. J. R.

Isaac Head, Gent. & Catherine Harris md April 15. 1758.

* This Mr. John Harris was in the Cornwall Militia. His Commission as Lieutenant to the company of his brother-in-law, Captain William Beauchamp, bearing the date 1714, is still preserved by Sir Frederick Williams of Tregullow, Baronet. Both Mr. Harris and his father appear, from family papers, to have lived at St. Daye, in Gwennap, and there is therefore good reason for assuming them to have derived from the Richard, son of John Harrys of St. Issye, mentioned in the preceding will.

Hals in his 'History of Cornwall' mentions Richard Harris, Gent., of Trevance, in the parish of St. Issye, who married Vivyan of Tollskiddy, his father, Moyle.

There is at Tregullow a deed of release "between Elizabeth Harris Widow on the one side. and Edward Harris of Gunwalloe Gent. John Harris. Catherine Head wife of Isaac Head Esqre controller of H.M. Customs in the Islands of Scilly, and Susanna Williams, wife of Michael Williams of Gwennap. Gent. children of Henry Harris of Gwennap. Gent. recently deceased, who died intestate, on the other side," which corroborates these latter entries. The armorial bearings on the seals attached to this document are identical with those of Harris of Radford. It is dated 1768. M. W.

American Genealogy.—In the British Museum there is a work called "Memorials of the Descendants of William Shattuck, the Progenitor of the Families in America that have borne his name. By Lemuel Shattuck, Member of the Mass. Historical Society, and of the American Antiquarian Society, etc. etc. Boston: Printed by Dutton and Wentworth for the Family, 1855."

On pages 57 and 58, it states that "he was born in old England in 1621, and died at Waterton, Mass., 1672," and that "his exact origin and early history are involved in obscurity. The first lot of land granted to him is described upon the records as follows, 1640: 'William Chattuck, an Homstall,'" etc. etc.

The work is written to ascertain the English origin of the family, and contains a perfect pedigree of the descendants of this William Chattuck down to 1855. If the "legal personal representative" will write me as below, he "may hear of something to his advantage," and that, too, not merely in a genealogical point of view.

Castle Bromwich, Warwickshire. C. Chattock.

Freer Pedigree.—A short pedigree of this family appeared some time ago in 'Miscellanea Genealogica.' In it, Helen Blair, wife of the Rev. Geo. Freer (c. 1660–1720), is stated to have been "of a good family in Perthshire." She was a daughter of James Blair of Ardblair, and died 11th December, 1751 (see 'Fasti Ecclesiæ Scoticanæ,' part iv. p. 805). There is a tolerably good account of the Blairs of Ardblair in 'Douglas's Baronage.' Who is the present representative?

F. M. S.

Deall: Arthur.—Samuel Deall was born at Staines, Middlesex County, in 1713. He had a brother William, who died at Staines, in March or April, 1775. Samuel came to New York prior to 1758, in which year he married, in New York, Elizabeth Arthur, daughter of [Francis] Arthur, of Bisley, Gloucestershire, Eng.

Any information respecting the origin and pedigree of these two families, or either of them, is solicited by John J. Latting.

20, Nassau Street, New York, U. S. A.

Henry Wright (p. 188).—Pedigrees of the Wrights of Essex may be found in the Harl. MSS. 1083, fol. 63; 1432, fol. 131 b; 1541, fol. 3 and 56; 1542, fol. 86. But nothing occurs in either of them about Henry Wright.

Lawrence Wright, M.D., who possessed Henham Hall, was the father of Sir Henry Wright of the same place. The Doctor died October 3, 1657, and, with Mary, his wife, lies buried in the church of South Weald, co. Essex. His son and heir Henry was created a baronet June 11, 1660, and died February 5th, 1663, aged 27 years. He married Anne, daughter of Lord John Crew of Stene (which lady died September 27, 1708), by whom he had Sir Henry, who died (in 1681) at the age of nineteen, unmarried; and Anne, who, upon her brother's death, became a great heiress. She married first to Edmond, son of Sir Robert Pye, of Farringdon, in Berkshire, and afterwards to William Rider, Esq. Sir Henry, the first baronet, was buried with his father. Blomefield has given an elaborate pedigree (vol. i. p. 545) of the Wrights of Kilverstone, co. Norfolk, but no mention is made of this Sir Henry Wright, whose ancestors were of Kelvedon Hatch, co. Essex (see Morant's 'Hist. of Essex,' vol. i. p. 62; vol. ii. p. 568: Wright's 'Hist. of Essex,' vol. i., under Dagenham). The arms borne by this family are given in the sixth edition of Guillim's 'Heraldry,' p. 262,—"Azure two bars argent, in chief three leopards' heads or." These arms were borne by Sir Henry Wright of Dagenham, and also by Sir Benjamin Wright of "Cranham Hall." I think it should be Henham Hall, in the same county of Essex. "Argent two bars azure, on a chief of the second three leopards' faces of the field, was borne by the name of Wright." It was allowed and confirmed by William Flower, Norroy, December 18, 1583, and in the 26 of Eliz. to Richard Wright, Serjeant-at-Arms, the son of John Wright of Bickley, in the County Palatine of Chester. Guillim refers to a MS. of grants in Ashmolean Lib., No. 844. A pedigree of this branch of the family is given in Ormerod's 'History of Cheshire,' vol. ii. p. 389.

For the pedigree of the Haldenby or Holdenby family, see Baker's Northamptonshire, i. 196. This shows that there were two marriages between the Holdenby's and the Mortemers of Grendon.

Domina Matilda who died June 10 is probably Maud d. & h. of William de la Carville of Isham, who married Robert Holdenby of Holdenby, and was mother of William Holdenby of Isham.

William Holdenby of Isham married Eleanor daughter of John Mortemer of Grendon.

NOTES TO TASWELL PEDIGREE.

Communicated by T. P. Taswell-Langmead, B.C.L., of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-law.

* This christian name is erroneously entered as "James," instead of "William." See next note.

† The baptism of James Tazewell is thus entered in the parish register of Buckland Newton :— 'Julii 1588. Vicesimo quinto die mensis prædicti baptizatus fuit Jacobus Tanswell (sic) filius Will'mi Tanswell de Buckland." His first wife Mary, daughter of — Hunt of Forston, Charminter, Co: Dorset, died in 1659, and was buried at Haselbury Bryan, Co: Dorset, in the registers of which parish is the following entry :—"Burials, A.D. 1659. Maria uxor Jacobi Tazwell Gen. obiit 19 Jan^{ii}." In the "Autobiography of William Taswell, D.D.," (his grandson), published by the Camden Society in 1852, it is stated (p. 8) :—

"In the same year, 1662, my grandfather James Taswell of Dorsetshire came to Town, aged 74, born in the year 1588. Staying a little time with us only, he soon returned into the country, and took his own servant to wife: he begat a son the same year of her. He departed this life 1663. On the day he was celebrating his wife's birthday, he drank too much wine, which threw him into a fever."

By his will (proved in the Court of the Archdeacon of Dorset in 1663), in which he is described as "James Taswell of Haselbury Bryan," he gives "to my sonne James Taswell one shilling;" "to my daughter Mary Young one shilling;" "to my kinsman Ralphe Taswell one sute of aparrell;" "to my kinsman Richard Taswell one sute of aparrell;" "all the rest of my goods moveable and unmoveable I give and bequeath unto my wife Aner whom I do make executrix of this my last will."

It appears, by Hutchins' History of Dorset, that the Hunt family held the Manor of Forston. On the death, in 1683, of Anne, daughter and heiress of Henry Hunt, Esq., of Forston, the estate descended to her issue by her second husband, George Browne, Esq., a younger son of the Brownes of Frampton.

‡ James Tazewell of London Merchant, and of Limington Manor, Somerset, married (1) 26 March 1649, Elizabeth daughter of — Upsal of Co: Dorset, (born 1624—died 1667), and (2) in 1673, Elizabeth daughter of John Kingsmill of Andover, Esq. (She died July, 1702, s.p.) He died 26 March, 1683.

In his son's autobiography (p. 25) we read :—

"Not long after the barbarous murther of Charles the First, James Taswell married Elizabeth Upsal, a person accomplished as to her person, sensible, and of a very good extraction. He was a considerable merchant in the Isle of Wight, and connected himself to her March 26, 1649."

Id. p. 7. "About the end of March 1655, James Taswell Esq., retiring from the Isle of Wight with his wife and three children settled at a sea-port Town, Brithamston, Sussex, where his mother-in-law, my grandmother, lived." . . . . "In June 1656, we took a journey to London. After residing in an house for the space of a year, in which time all of us were seized with the small-pox (1657), about the middle of summer we took a very grand house in Bear Lane near the Custom-House."

Id. p. 15. "1673, my father married Elizabeth Kingsmill, sister of one of the same name, with a fortune of £600, at Andover."

In 1663, James Tazewell, who was seised of the Manor of South Brent, Somerset, and of other lands in that county, and in the adjoining county of Devon, purchased the Manor and Advowson of Limington, Co: Somerset. He rebuilt the Manor House at Limington in 1672. The house was again rebuilt about thirty years since, and only a wing of the old building erected in 1672 is now standing. A stone with the name of "James Tazewell," arms, and date 1672, which formerly appeared on the front of the old Manor House, is now in the possession of Mr. T. P. Taswell-Langmead.

§ Besides the children enumerated in the pedigree, James Tazewell had :—Maria, born 29 Dec. 1649, died aged 8 months; Elizabeth, born 7 July 1653, and died soon after; Ann, born Nov., 1659, died soon after; and Maria, born Feb. 1667, died soon after.

Of the children mentioned in the pedigree, James the eldest son and heir, born 20 Feb. 1650, succeeded his father in the Manor of Limington. He married Ann daughter of — Kingsmill, Esq. and had three sons and three daughters. The eldest son James, died s.p. The second, John Taswell of Ch: Ch: Oxford, M.A., was vicar of Chewton, Somerset, (a living in the patronage of the Kingsmill family), and died without male issue. The third, William Tazewell, bap: 17 July 1690, emigrated to Virginia, America, in 1715, where he married in 1721, Sophia, daughter of Henry Hermanson by his wife Gertrude daughter of Col^{l}. Southey Littleton. He died in 1752, leaving issue, now represented by John Nivison Tazewell, Esq., of Norfolk, Virginia, U.S.A., son of the late Littleton Waller Tazewell, Governor of Virginia.

William Taswell, D.D., the second son, born 1st May 1652, was an eminent scholar and divine. Enrolled a King's Scholar of Westminster School, 1667; elected Student of Ch: Ch: Oxford, 1670; Professor of Greek, 1681; Rector of Woodnorton, Norfolk, 1691; Rector of S^{t}. Mary Newington, Surrey, 1698; Rector of S^{t}. Mary's, Birmingham, 1723. He died in 1731 and was buried in the Chancel of S^{t}. Mary's Newington. He married 21 May, 1695, Frances daughter and co-heir of Edward Lake, D.D., Archdeacon of Exeter, Chaplain and Tutor to the Princesses Mary and Anne, daughters of James II., and had issue. He is now represented by his descendant the Rev^{d}. George Taswell, M.A., of B. N. C., Oxford.

Stephen Tazewell, the third son, born Dec^{r}. 1656, resided at Limington, and married Barbara, daughter of John Pinny of Hardington, Co: Somerset, Esq, (born 1673—died 18 June, 1706). He died in 1742, leaving issue, inter alios, a son William Taswell, born 6 March, 1705, now represented by his descendants the Rev^{d}. Stephen Taswell Taylor-Taswell, of S^{t}. Mary Hall, Oxford, B.A., and Thomas P. Taswell-Langmead, of S^{t}. Mary Hall, Oxford, B.C.L.

Thomas, the fourth son, born 20 April, 1663, died at the age of 9 months.

Of the daughters, Elizabeth, born 14 Sept. 1654, died in 1703, unmarried.

Mary, born 6 May, 1658, died young.

Hannah, born 30 Jan^{y} 1660/, married — Lockyer, of Limington, and had issue.

American Genealogy.—Many readers will be interested in hearing that my former query under this heading has been instrumental in supplying a link missing for some two centuries and a half, and may probably lead to the discovery of another of a much earlier date. I should now be very pleased to hear of or from any one in America of the name of Chad, Chads, or Shad. The latter has appeared in lists of American surnames, and I believe is synonymous with Chad; and if so, it is a very curious coincidence that C should have interchanged with S in America, both in Chattuck and Chad, as in the Philological Society Papers for 1865, p. 47, it is stated that "in the new American Dictionary projected by Franklin in 1768, the soft sound of c is supplied by s." One of this family I know died in America about the year 1739.

GENEALOGY OF THE FAMILY OF PALMER, OF KENMARE CO. KERRY, IRELAND.

Compiled from old family documents, etc., in possession of Edward Orpen Palmer, Killowen, Kenmare, Co. Kerry, Esquire, the present Head of the Family, by his son, the Rev. A. Henry Herbert Palmer, of Monkstown, Co. Dublin.

Rev. Thomas Palmer.

Concerning the Rev^{d} Thomas Palmer, founder of the Palmer family of Kenmare, Co. Kerry, the following are the chief particulars recorded or known.* He was (it is stated) for some time in early youth in some way connected with or attached to Anne Hyde, wife of James II. At a subsequent period, the date of which is not exactly ascertained, he was admitted to Holy Orders, and for some reasons, only matter of conjecture, came over to Ireland and cast in his lot with the English settlers in that country. His name appears in the Visitation Book† of Diocese of Cloyne Oct. 27th 1669, as Vicar of Clonfert and Tullilease and Rector of Knocktemple. In 1670, as appears from a document in Rolls Office Court of Chancery, Dublin, he was appointed through royal favour to the Crown livings of Kilmare (now Kenmare), Kilgarvan, Templenoe, Kilcroghan, and Cahirciveen (Diocese of Ardfert and Aghadoe). He was appointed to the commission of the peace for the County Kerry on 15th May 1679. He was also Judge of the Admiralty Court of Munster, and of the Consistorial Court of Ardfert and Aghadoe. The most prominent event of his life was the defence of the Fort of Killowen, commonly called the "White House,‡" by the Protestant colony of Kenmare under his command, united with Richard Orpen, Esq., agent to Sir William Petty, against some thousands of the Irish forces of James II. Harassed by repeated raids of the native Irish on their cattle, farms, and homesteads, the whole Protestant population of the district, in fear of their lives and unable to procure any help, resolved to bring their families to a common place of safety, and associated§ themselves as a garrison of the fort with its outworks under the leadership of their Rector and his son-in-law Mr. Orpen. They expected an English army to land immediately in Munster for the rescue of the various colonies of Protestants scattered throughout the province, but the desired relief never came; and abandoned to their fate in a remote corner of the island, after a brief but stout resistance, during a siege

* There is some doubt as to his parentage, which is strange in the case of a man, as he was, of some note, and only to be explained by the almost total severance from kindred which emigration to Ireland in those times involved. It has been asserted that he is identical with the person named in the following extract from the Admission Book of Christ's Church College, Cambridge. "A.D. 1658, Julii 10th Thomas Palmer Johannis Leicestriensis filius, natus apud Harborough, ibidemque educatus sub ferulâ Mag^{ri} Berry, annos natus 14. Admissus est sizator sub Mag^{ro} Burnet, spondente Mag^{ro} Pepper." And who took his B.A. degree in 1662, and his M.A. in 1668. If so he comes of a very old family mentioned in A.D. 1447. Vid. Burton's History of Leicestershire, published 1623, pp. 54, 94, 95, 127.

But the belief has always obtained that he was the eldest son of a distinguished family in Northamptonshire, said to have died young, but did not. He came to Ireland owing, it is supposed, to some domestic difference, and chose to live and die forgotten in another land.

Any information or useful suggestion touching this matter will be gladly received. H. Herbert Palmer, Clk. Monkstown, Co. Dub.

† Vid. Dr. Brady's "Records of Cork," vol. ii. page 129. The entry in V. B. is as follows: "1669, Oct. 27th Thomas Palmer, V. Clonfert & Tullilease. & R. Knocktemple, per mortem Roberti Booth." His successor in these livings was Richard Davies, July 21st, 1671.

‡ Its ivy-clad ruins overhanging the banks of the beautiful river Roughty are still standing on the lands of Killowen in possession of E. Orpen Palmer Esq., the present head of the family.

§ The following is a verbatim copy of the oath. "Association. We the undersigned do hereby in defence of our lives and religion associate ourselves in a body within the Fort of Killowen against the enemies of the Protestant Church and will from time to time to the utmost of our power behave ourselves according to all such directions as shall be given us by Thomas Palmer and Richard Orpen for our management and safety until we are received into command of His Highness the Prince of Orange. In testimony whereof we have taken our oaths upon the Holy Evangelists and put our hands and seals this last day of January 168$\frac{8}{9}$."

which has attracted much notice,* they capitulated on honourable terms. These terms were however shamefully broken† by the enemy, and the brave but unhappy garrison, plundered, deceived, and crowded (only eight families of skilled iron-workers being held back by the Irish) into two small vessels, only succeeded at last in making their way to Bristol on March 25th, after much hardship and in sorry plight Mr. Palmer, it would seem, after a short stay in England, came back to his old home and work at Kilmare with his little band of settlers, and spent the remaining ten‡ years of his life and ministry among them.§ It was during this period, if not before, (Sir B. Burke and Dr. Brady erroneously, it is thought, say 1652) that he obtained several grants of land in estate, also some on lease renewable for ever, embracing the present town of Kenmare and surrounding district, which in 1770, through legal ignorance on the part of the then possessor, became the property of the Earl of Shelburne.‖

Rev. Thomas Palmer was married twice. First, in 1669 to Jane Mary, d. of Sir William (or Sir Richard) Aldworth of Duhallow or Newmarket, Co. Cork.

With an account of their erecting a fortress to defend themselves against the bloody insolences of the Papists. Also. The Way & Manner of their happy escape into England, together with the reasons why the Protestants there did not requit themselves and take the field, or make their flight sooner. As likewise. Some natural conclusions that plague and famine will arise forthwith in that Kingdom. By a principal manager in that action. By authority. London: printed for Thomas Bennet, at the Half Moon, in S^{t} Paul's Churchyard, and are to be sold by Randal Taylor, near Stationers' Hall, 1689."

‡ Rev. T. Palmer must have been dead in 1702, for his son in that year leased ground at Kenmare to Government for site of barracks. All the early parish Records of Kenmare were unhappily destroyed in a fire at the Rectory in early part of present century.

§ Much interesting information is contained in another rare pamphlet, also by Richard Orpen, in Library of Trinity College, Dublin, (marked, "Pamphlets" P. pp. 8.) entitled "The London Master or the Jew detected." It gives an account of the fraudulent and wilful shipwreck of a ship called the "Laurel" in the River Kenmare,—and contains a solemn statement by Rev^{d} Thomas Palmer "in verbo sacerdotis"—giving his opinion on the matter—relating also a grievous calamity which the shelter and lodging he gave to the shipwrecked sailors with their goods brought on himself, viz. the burning and robbing of his own house at the "Sound," Kenmare, at midnight, January 29th 1693 by the "Tories."

His life was saved on that occasion by the influence which his wife Julia, a native Chieftain's daughter, possessed with the Irish Robbers, but documents of the greatest value and interest were burned and lost.

‖ For further information about Mr. Palmer, vid. Burke's Landed Gentry, Article "Palmer of Killmare," Edition 1852.—Also Parliamentary Gazetteer of Ireland 1846, sub voce "Killowen." Reference is also made to him and M^{r}. Orpen, and a great number of Nobility, Dignitaries and Gentry by Archbishop King, who gives at length an Act of Attainder passed against them in the Irish Parliament, from which the following is an extract:—"An Act for the Attainder of divers Rebels, and for preserving the Interest of Loyal Subjects. Humbly beseech your Majesty, the Commons in this present Parliament assembled, That whereas a most horrible Invasion was made by your unnatural Enemy the Prince of Orange, invited thereunto and assisted by many of your Majesty's rebellious and traiterous subjects . . . . having likewise to obtain their wicked ends raised and levied open Rebellion and War in several places in this Kingdom, and entered into Associations and met in Conventions in order to call in and set up the said Prince of Orange. . . . That it may be enacted . . . that the persons hereafter named, being Persons who have notoriously joyned in the said Rebellion and Invasion, and some of which are upon Indictments condemned, some executed for High Treason, and the rest ran away, or abscond, or are now in the actual service of the Prince of Orange against your Majesty (viz.) . . . . . Richard Orpin of Gortkinlinny Gent. . . . . Tho. Palmer of Gortaglass Clerk, &c. all late of the COUNTY KERRY . . . . . every of them shall be deemed, taken & reputed, and are hereby declared and adjudged Traytors, and shall suffer such pains of Death, Penalties, & Forfeitures, respectively as in cases of High Treason are accustomed."

Provided however, the Act proceeds, that if the attainted Persons surrendered themselves to stand their trial by the tenth day of August, 1689, and shall be acquitted, that then and in such case they should be freed from the above pains and penalties. *Vid. WYNNE, OF PENIARTH, PEDIGREE.

Communicated by W. W. E. Wynne, Esq. of Peniarth.

In drawing up the following Pedigree, the compiler has not entered into the earlier descent of the Geraldine race from Other, a possessor of many Lordships in Surrey, Buckinghamshire, Berkshire, Middlesex, and Wilts, in the time of Edward the Confessor, nor the question of his alleged descent from the Gherardeni, ancient Lords of Tuscany. They are to be found in many of the peerages, and, in particular, in that valuable account of his own family by the present Marquis of Kildare.

Such as this Pedigree is, it has been compiled with much care; as to that part of it prior to the settlement in Wales of a branch of the Geraldines, from the best historical evidences which the compiler could obtain, and after the settlement of that branch in Wales, from a Tax Roll of the county of Merioneth of 1293–4 in the Public Record Office, Ministers' Accounts of the Crown during a long series of years, in the same Repository, the family deeds, and parochial Registers, and all these confirming the original Heraldic Visitation by Lewis Dwnn, in the Hengwrt collection, and many other pedigrees in the same collection and elsewhere.

"It has been said that the three most noble names in Europe are: the De Vere's of England, the FitzGerald's of Ireland, and the Montmorency's of France." (See Quarterly Review for April, 1860, p. 335.) Of these families, the first is extinct, the second yet occupies its former high position, as we believe does the third, in France.

It is well known to those conversant in Welsh history and genealogy, that a branch of the noble sept of the Geraldines, or FitzGeralds,—Osborn, surnamed "Wyddel" (the Irishman),—settled in Merionethshire in the thirteenth century, and was founder of some of the most distinguished families in that county. Of these, the powerful houses of Vaughan of Corsygedol, and Wynne of Ynysymaengwyn and Maesyneuadd, are extinct; the Wynnes of Peniarth continue to flourish.[1]

Some of the members of the Geraldine line settled in Wales have been distinguished for their literary attainments. Of these, Cadwalader Wynne, rector of Llanenddwyn, who died in 1684, translated from Latin into English, a work very scarce in its English form, entitled An Antidote against Sorrow, published in 1650. A more eminent literary member of this house was the well-known "Bardd Cwsg," the Rev. Ellis Wynne, rector of Llanvair-juxta-Harlech, who died in 1734; and since his time lived his relation, William Wynne, rector of Llangynhaval, a distinguished Welsh poet of the eighteenth century. Amongst the warriors of the house may be mentioned the celebrated David ap Ievan ap Einion, Constable of Harlech Castle during the Wars of the Roses, who is so honourably referred to in the Life of Lord Herbert of Cherbury. (See Life of Lord Herbert, pp. 7, 8, Strawberry Hill edition; and Pennant's Tour, vol. ii. p. 131, edition 1784, 4to; also Hist. of the Gwedir Family, 8vo edition, p. 76.)

It may be added that it is probable that Osborn Wyddel was much concerned in the building of the very interesting and beautiful church of Llanaber near Barmouth.

W. W. E. Wynne.

THE GERALDINES IN IRELAND.

PEDIGREE,

Showing how Osborn, styled by the Welsh heralds, "Wyddel" (the Irishman), was connected with the Geraldines of Desmond, if the belief of the late Sir William Betham, Ulster-King-at-Arms, after a search among his voluminous Geraldine papers, was correct, that Osborn was a son of John Fitz Thomas Fitz Maurice Fitz Gerald de Windsor, the first Lord of Decies and Desmond. It is, indeed, improbable that he was a son of any other Geraldine of Desmond. He could not have been son of an earlier one, and it is very unlikely that he was of a later.

> "Ye Geraldines! ye Geraldines! how royally ye reigned
> O'er Desmond broad and rich Kildare, and English arts disdained;
> Your sword made knights, your banner waved, free was your bugle call,
> By Glyn's green slopes and Dingle's tide, from Barrow's banks to Youghal.
> What gorgeous shrines, what Brehon lore, what minstrel feasts there were
> In and around Maynooth's[2] strong keep and palace-filled Adare!
> But not for rite or feast ye stayed when friend or kin were pressed;
> And foemen fled when 'Crom a boo[3]' bespoke your lance in rest."
> THOMAS DAVIS.

Gerald Fitz Walter De Windsor, Constable of the Castle of Pembroke, living in 1108. (See Powell's Hist. of Wales, p. 163: edition of 1584.) = Nesta, dau. of Rees ap Tudor, Prince of S. Wales, living in 1108. She had previously been the wife of Stephen, Constable of Cardigan.

- 1 William ancestor to the Lords Gerard and Marquises of Lansdowne.
- 2 Maurice Fitz Gerald, accompanied Rich[d]. Strongbow, Earl of Strigul, to Ireland, in 1168; died in 1177; buried in the Abbey of Grey Friars at Wexford. = Alice, dau. of Arnulph de Montgomery.
- David, Bishop of S[t]. Davids from 14 cal. Jan. 1147, to about May 1178.
- Angharad, wife of W[m]. de Barry, by whom she was mother of the celebrated Giraldus de Barry, styled Cambrensis.

- Gerald Fitz Maurice, Lord Justiciary of Ireland, ancestor to the Dukes of Leinster. He married Catherine, dau. of Hamo de Valois, and died in 1205.
- Thomas Fitz Maurice, surnamed "the Great," a grantee from King John of an estate of ten knights' fees; died in or before 1215. = Elinor, dau. of Jordan de Marisco, or Montmorency, niece to her sister-in-law's husband.
- Alexander.
- Maurice.
- Walter.
- Nesta, wife of Hervey de Montmorency, Constable of Ireland.

John Fitz Thomas; wardship and marriage of him granted 17 King John, to Thomas Fitz Anthony, the King's Seneschal of Leinster; was of full age in 1229; grantee of Decies and Desmond in 1259; slain at Callan in 1260[4]: founder of the Abbey of Tralee. = Margery, dau. and sole heir of Thomas Fitz Anthony, Lord of Decies and Desmond, first wife. = Honora, dau: of Phelim O'Connor Kerry, second wife.

- Joan, dau: of John, Lord Cogan. = Maurice Fitz John, second Lord of Decies and Desmond; slain with his father, in 1260.
- Osborn[5], surnamed by the Welsh heralds "Wyddel;" see below.
- Gilbert, ancestor of the White Knight.
- John, ancestor of the Knight of Glynn.
- Maurice, ancestor of the Knight of Kerry.
- Thomas, ancestor to the Fitz Geralds of the Island of Kerry.

Thomas Fitz Maurice, called "Nappagh" or "the Ape," third Lord of Decies and Desmond; by tradition only nine months old when his father was slain[6]. = Margaret, dau. of Walter de Burgo, son of Walter, Earl of Ulster.

Maurice Fitz Thomas, fourth Lord of Decies and Desmond, created Earl of Desmond, and Lord of the Palatine Regalities of the County of Kerry, by patent dated 27 August, 1329.

THE GERALDINES IN MERIONETH.

Osborn, surnamed "Wyddel" (the Irishman), see above, settled in Wales in the 13th century; assessed in the parish of Llanaber, co. of Merioneth, towards the tax of a fifteenth, in 1293 or 4.[7] = "He came into Wales in ye raigne of Leoline ye great Prince of Wales, about Anº. 1237 [probably some years later], with whome he was in such favor & credit yt he obtained great and large possessions." Peniarth MS. Nº. 6, in the autograph of Robert Vaughan, the antiquary of Hengwrt.

"Osburns other son called Cync. (Kenric) had Cors y gedol, & his porcion of his fathers inheritance, who left the same to his sonne Llewelyn." Peniarth MS. Nº. 6, in the autograph of Robert Vaughan, the antiquary of Hengwrt.

Jonet.

Jonet, wife of Sir Foulk Cholmondeley, of the County of Chester, Knt.

Einion ap Griffith ap Llewelyn, of Cors-y-gedol, Esq. Woodwarden of the Comote of Estimaner, at one time between 7 July 1382, and 12 Oct. 1385; captain of forty archers for the King, from the co. of Merioneth, 10 Rich. II.; living at Michaelmas 20. Rich. II. = Tanglwyst, dau. of Rydderch ap Ievan Lloyd, of Gogerthan, co. of Cardigan, "then and yet the greatest familie in that countie."[8]

B

Angharad, wife of David ap Grono, of Burton in Denbighshire: they, and their two daughters, Eva and Angharad, were living upon 7 Oct. 4 Hen. VI.

B

[9]Iorwerth ap Einion, Esq.; married Gwenllian, dau. of Kenric ap Rotpert, of Tegaingl, and relict of James Eyton, of Eyton, Co. of Flint. The Wynnes of Ynysymaengwyn were descended from them. He was farmer of the ville of Towyn (Lessee of the Crown Revenues in that ville) and of the office of Raglot (Governor, Ruler,) of the Comote of Estimaner, at Michaelmas, 1415; and held in farm, the office of Woodwarden of Estimaner, at Michaelmas 1425, for a term of two years, that being the first.

Ievan ap Einion, of Cryniarth, in Edernion, one of the Barons of Edernion, a juror in an inquisition held at Bala, 6 Oct. 1427; one of the Escheators of the Co. of Merioneth, at Michaelmas, 1432.

= Angharad, dau. and co-heir of David de Hendour, or Hendwr, Co. of Merioneth, called also, David son of Gwido de Hendor, & in Welsh pedigrees, David ap y Gwin Lloyd, Baron of Hendour.

Griffith ap Einion, of Cors-y-gedol, Esq. had two wives, but it is uncertain which was the first. They were, Laurea, dau. of Tudor Vaughan, brother of the celebrated Owen Glyndwr, and Mari Lwyd, dau. of Ievan Llwyd ap Grono ap Kenric ap Cynvelin. Laurea was also married to Robin ap Griffith Goch, of Rhos, but it is uncertain which was her first husband. Griffith ap Einion, at Michaelmas 1400, held on lease the office of Woodwarden of the Comote of Ardydwy for a term of two years, that being the second, & at Michaelmas 1415 he held on lease the office of Raglot of the same Comote. He, by his wife Laurea, in whose right he was Lord of Gwyddelwern, one of the Baronies of Edernion, was ancestor of the Vaughans of Cors-y-gedol.

Mali, wife of Howel Sele, of Nanney, ancestor to the Nanneys of Nanney; see "the Spirits Blasted Tree," notes to "Marmion." He was living at Michaelmas 1400. She was married secondly to Owen ap Meredith ap David ap Griffith Vychan of Neuaddwen in the now county of Montgomery, who was living 9 Decr. 1446.

Tibod, wife of, first, Howel ap Ievan ap Iorwerth, of Cynlleth; secondly, of Ievan Vaughan ap Ievan Gethin, who was living at Michaelmas 1400, & then held on lease the office of Raglot of Abertanatt; thirdly, of Griffith ap Blethin, of Mold, who was a juror in an inquisition at Bala, 6 Oct. 1427.

David ap Ievan ap Einion, "gentilman," the gallant Constable of Harlech Castle, referred to above. During his custody of that fortress, the unfortunate Hen. VI. found a refuge within its walls. David was of Cryniarth, in Edernion, married, subsequently to 21 Feb. 22 Hen. VI., Margaret, dau. of John Puleston, of Emral, Co. of Flint, and was living in 1468.

Rhys ap Ievan ap Einion, second son, foreman of the jury in an inquisition held at Harlech, in 27 Hen. VI., one of the jury in an inquisition held in 31 Hen. VI.

= Gwenever, dau. and heiress of Howel Vaughan, of Fronoleu, Co. of Carnarvon, lineally descended from Owen Gwynedd, Sovereign Prince of North Wales. She had previously been the wife of Ithel ap Howel, of Berw in Anglesea.

Griffith, third son, married Sabel, dau. of Ievan ap Adda, of Pengwern in Denbighshire, ancestor to the Mostyn family. Griffith was of Hendwr, in Edernion, and was living in 1461.

Thomas, fourth son, living in 1461.

John, youngest son, living in 1461.

Margaret, eldest dau., wife of Madoc ap Howel, and of John ap David Lloyd, of Penllyn, who is named a "supervisor" in the will of Rees ap Griffith ap Aron, of Peniarth, dated 20 May 1476. It is unknown which was her first husband.

Mali, wife of David ap Rees ap Ievan ap Llewelyn Ddu, Baron of Kymer in Edernion. He was living upon 6 Oct. 1427, and was dead upon 25 Oct. 1444. He held in chief, of the Crown, on the day of his death, a tenement called Pres, in the ville of "Llayellyn" (Llanuwchllyn), videlicet a 20th part of the Manor of Kemm (Kymer); remaining in the King's hands from 25 Oct. 1444, on account of the immature age of Rees, one of the sons of the said David. Ministers' Accounts of the Crown, for the year ending at Michaelmas, 1457.

C

Ievan ap Rhys, married probably before 1 Oct. 1499, as there is extant, a release to him, of that date, of certain lands, (now part of the Glyn estate), which are stated to have been previously pledged by Richard Bamville. Ievan ap Rhys was living upon 4 March 4 Hen. VIII. (1513.)

= Laurea, dau. and heiress of Richard Bamville, supposed to be a branch of the great family of Bamville, foresters of Wirral, in Cheshire. Through this marriage, Glyn, and much of the property in the parish of Llanvihangel, came into the family, but probably there was no mansion house at Glyn, at so early a period. Rich[d]. Bamville was living in 1 Rich. III.

Rytherch ap Rhys; had Fronoleu. He was living 20 July 1538, and died s.p. He was dead in 1563.

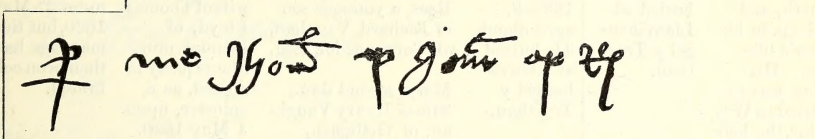
= Gwenuvar, or Gwen Gu, dau. of Griffith ap Edneved ap Howel, of Sylvaen, Co. of Merioneth, "gent;" sister & one of the co-heirs of Edneved Wynn, of Sylvaen. She was married secondly to Thomas ap Humffrey ap David of Berriew, Co. Montg. who was living 17 July 1576. She was living 4th June 1578.

. . . . wife of Morgan ap Robert.

. . . . wife of John ap Madoc Vychan.[10] He is lessee in a deed in which Rytherch ap Rhys, above, is lessor, dated 20 July 1538; & is witness to a deed to which John ap Ievan ap Rhys is a party, dated 31 Dec. 1521.

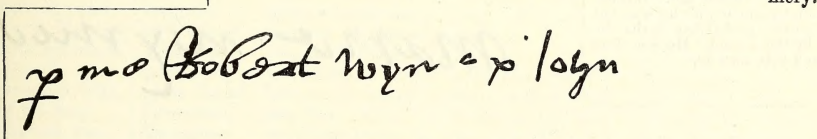


Robert Wyn ap John, of Glyn, Esq. Covenants, prior to his marriage, dated 10 and 19 Oct. 1544, died in 1592, between the 23 April and 24 May, inclusive.

= Katherine, dau of Ellis ap Maurice, of Clenenney, Co. of Carnarvon, Esq., who was sheriff of the County of Merioneth in 1541. She was living upon 4 Jan[y]. 1595.

Mary, wife of John Wynn ap Ellis ap William, of Trawsfynydd, "gent." He was brother to Evan Lloyd ap Ellis ap William, (father to Robert Lloyd, of Rhiwgoch, Esq., M.P. for the county of Merioneth), and is party to a deed dated 9 May 1565.

Margery, wife of Edward ap Howell, of Court Mynydd Deon, near Montgomery.



Marselie, dau. of Cadwaler, one of the younger sons of Meredith Wynn, of Gwydir, Esq. Covenants prior to their marriage, dated 4 June 1578: first wife.

= Maurice ap Robert Wynne, of Glyn, Esq. He signs his name "Moris Wynn de Glynn," but in deeds to which he is party, he is styled "Maurice ap Robert Wynne." The records of two trials at law, to which he was a party, show him to have been the heir of Ievan ap Rhys, above. He was Escheator of the County of Merioneth upon 19 Oct. 1604. He died between 9 Feb. 1609–10 and 16 April 1611, inclusive.

D

NOTES TO WYNNE PEDIGREE.

[1] It may be added, that the Rev[d]. John Wynne, who has recently resigned the vicarage of Llandrillo, in Edernion, is lineally descended from Osborn.

[2] Maynooth was one of the strongholds of the Kildare branch of the Geraldines.

[3] "Crom a boo" was the war-cry of the Kildare, "Shanet a boo," of the Desmond line of this sept.

[4] According to Sir W[m]. Betham, it was in 1260; in Smith's Kerry, it is said to have been in 1261; by the Calendarium Genealogicum, published under the authority of the Master of the Rolls, it appears to have been upon the Vigil of S[t]. James the Apostle, 45 Hen. III. (24 July, 1261.)

[5] Sir W[m]. Betham did not think that he had the same strong grounds for his opinion that Osborn was a son of the first marriage as for believing that he was a son of John Fitz Thomas; but he thought it more probable that he was so.

[6] The tradition is that Thomas Fitz Maurice was only nine months old when his father and grandfather were slain at the battle of Callan. The child was at Tralee, and on his attendants rushing out, alarmed at the intelligence, he was left alone in the cradle, when a tame baboon or ape took him up in his arms, and ran with him to the top of the tower of the neighbouring Abbey. After carrying him round the battlement, and exhibiting him to the frightened spectators, he brought the infant back to its cradle in safety. Thomas was in consequence surnamed "An Appagh" (in Irish), "Simiacus," or "the Ape." The Earls of Kildare, p. 21.

[7] M[r]. Vaughan, the eminent genealogist and antiquary of Hengwrt, in a MS. written in 1654, observes of Osborn, that he "was a nobleman's son of Desmond in Ireland, of y[e] famous family of the Giraldines." The arms as they have been borne by his lineal descendants, so long as there are examples of them extant, are precisely the same as those of the house of Desmond. The Crest too, is exactly similar to that of the sixth Earl of Desmond, with these slight exceptions: in the one, the boar is argent, in the other, ermine, in the one it is charged with a fret, in the other fretty. The crescent for difference, as borne by Osborn's descendants, would imply that he was a second son, but it is not known how long it has been used. It is so found in a MS. written by the well-known Welsh herald and genealogist, Griffith Hiraethog, between the years 1555 and 1562 inclusive. It is stated by Gutyn Owen, a genealogist of the fifteenth century, one of the most eminent of our Welsh genealogists, that Osborn accompanied from Ireland to Wales, Griffith, one of the sons of Ednyved Vychan, minister to Prince Llewelyn, Griffith being obliged to leave his country for a time, on account of some scandal regarding Llewelyn's princess and himself, having emigrated to Ireland. This is very probable, as Griffith was connected by blood with the Geraldines.

[8] History of the Gwedir Family, by Sir John Wynn, who died in 1626–7.

[9] "The ofspring or posteritie of these bretheren" (the sons of Einion) "did so multiply, y[t] from y[t] time they are called Tylwyth Enion, y[t] is y[e] progenie of Enion."—Manuscript in the autograph of the antiquary, Robert Vaughan, written in 1654. Wyth Enaid Tylwyth Einiawn—"eight souls of the sept of Einion," a poem of the fifteenth century, by Gutto'r Glyn, an eminent Welsh poet and genealogist.

[10] It would seem probable from a deed at Peniarth, dated 20 April 28 Hen. VIII., that Ievan ap Rhys had another wife, by whom he had a son named Morgan, and a daughter, Katharine, married to William ap Madoc Vychan, by whom she had a son named Rytherch; for by this deed, Katherine conveys to her son Rytherch, certain lands in Pennyved & Llandecwin, which had descended to her on the death of Morgan her brother. If by descended, descent in law, without a conveyance, is intended, she and Morgan could not have been own sister and brother to John ap Ievan, as the lands of Morgan would in that case have gone to John, even under the law of gavelkind, then prevailing in Wales.

[11] Sir Robert Owen was M.P. for the Co. of Merioneth in the 5[th] Parl. of Charles II. (1680–1), and for the Carnarvon Boroughs in the Convention Parl. (1688–9), and in the second (1689–90), and third (1691), Parliaments of W[m]. & Mary. He died M.P. for those Boroughs, 30 March 1698–9, and was buried at Selattyn, April 11.

GEO. HARRISON,
Windsor Herald,

NEWTON FAMILY (p. 191).—In reference to the notes on the Newton family, I may observe, that an aunt of Sir Isaac Newton's lived at a house in the centre of the village of Market Overton, Rutland. Sir Isaac is said to have been a frequent visitor at this house, and to have drawn a very large mariner's compass on the ceiling of one of the upper rooms. The house is now the property of John Wingfield, Esq., of Tickencote, Rutland, who, when he restored it a few years ago, carefully preserved the ceiling just mentioned. The house is now inhabited by W. Rowe, Esq., surgeon.

* Christopher Hovenden matriculated from All Souls' College, Oxford, Dec. 22, 1576, at the age of 15 (Col. Chester's collection, there spelt Ovenden); married Margaret, 4th daughter of Thomas Powys of Abington (see the will of his brother, Dr. Robert Hovenden, at p. 250, who, according to 'Brydgs' Peerage,' married Catherine, the 1st daughter). He was a Barrister, and held the impropriate Rectory of Staunton Harcourt, Oxfordshire, where he died 16 Oct. 1610. In Wood's 'Athenæ,' 3rd edition, vol. ii. col. 145, it mentions that in the chancel of Staunton Harcourt Church there was a tablet to his memory, erected by his brother Robert. Administration granted to his brother Robert, see p. 250.

† Cicilea, or Cicelie, married James Hussey, Esq. (Qy. of Blandford?).

‡ George Hovenden matriculated at Oxford, from All Souls' College, 28 Nov. 1581, aged 18 (Col. Chester's collection); installed Canon of the 10th Prebend of Canterbury, 1609 (Hasted, vol. iv. p. 619); Rector of Harrietsham, 1586; died at Oxford, 24 August, 1625. In Rawlinson' MSS., B. 397, Oxford, where the compiler, Dr .M. Hutton, is writing of St. Mary's Church, the following occurs:—

"In the Church yard, south side, upon a table of black marble against the Chancell wall this inscription—

"Piæ memoriæ viri spectatissimi Georgii Hoveden, ecclesiæ Cantuariensis Canonici, Collegii Omnium Animarum socii, qui anno salutis 1625, Augusti 24, ætatis suæ 63, pestis nuperæ Oxonii sævientis rabie sublatus, funus habuit meritis impar, quale in periculo summo festinatio metusque paraverant. Hoc marmor affigi curavit Elizabetha uxor fidelissima."

"Over all his armes, viz. Checky, Ar. sa. on a bend gu. 3 lyons heads rased, or.; the crest a dogs head."

§ Margaria married Sir Anthony Brabazon, Knt., and died August, 1636, leaving issue. In Burke's 'Landed Gentry,' 1863, p. 142, the following occurs:—

"The Hon. Sir Anthony Brabazon of Tallaghstown, co. Louth, Knt. (3rd son of Edward, 1st Lord Brabazon, and brother of William Lord Brabazon, who was created Earl of Meath, 16th April, 1627), married Margaret, daughter and HEIR of Christopher Hovendon of Chinor, co. Oxford."

There appears to be an error in describing this Margaret as "heir" to her father, Christopher, in as much as her brothers Robert and John were living at her father's death; her brother Robert dying possessed of Staunton Harcourt about 1652,—see his will at p. 289, as well as that of his uncle Dr. Robert Hovenden, previously referred to.

‖ Matriculated from Brasenose College, Oxford, 27 June, 1617, age 14.

 Elizabeth married Ed. Challoner, D.D., who died at Oxford, 25 July, 1625, of the plague (see Wood's 'Athenæ Oxonienses,' vol. ii. col. 378, where his wife Elizabeth is erroneously described as being the daughter of Robert Hovenden; this may be proved by reference to the will of her father, George, above referred to).

†† William died 1646, at Blandford St. Marie, co. Dorset,—see his will at p. 289.

COKE.

Clement Coke, of Mintinge, in the County of Lincoln, whose will was dated 10 March, 1609–10, died 20 July following; leaving Sara, his widow, and Roger, his son and heir, aged 23 years.—Inq. p. m., capt. 4 Oct., 8 Jac. Without regarding dates, he is liable to be confounded with Clement Coke, sixth son of the Lord Chief Justice, who was born in 1594, and whose wife was also named Sara, daughter and co-heir of Alexander Rediche, of Rediche, in Lancashire. Their identity, however, is manifestly impossible; nevertheless, the baptismal names, Clement and Roger, the latter that of Sir Edward's well-known grandson, indicate an affinity.† Can any correspondent afford information as to the nature of the relationship, or disprove it? A monumental inscription in the Temple Church, printed in Stowe, states that Clement Coke, son of Sir Edward, died 23 May, 1629, and the mother of Sara (Rediche), his wife, is there called Catherine, sole daughter and heir of Humphry Dethick, of Newall, County Derby. In Burke's 'Extinct Baronetage,' his death is given in May, 1619, and his wife's mother is said to have been the daughter and co-heir of Sir Robert Langley, of Agecroft, in Lancashire, from whom the estate of Longford, in Derbyshire, came into the Coke family. I shall be glad to know which account is correct. Clement was certainly living on 23 Dec., 1622, when he was party to a deed by which Sir Edward Coke, who himself was then seized in fee of Longford, settled the estate on Clement and his wife, and their two sons, Edward and Robert, retaining the reversion in fee on failure, as happened, of issue male of Clement. In the same deed the name of Sir Francis Coke, Knt. occurs as a party. He was, doubtless, of quite a different family, that of Trusley, in Derbyshire. I cannot at this moment lay my hands upon a pedigree of the Melborne Cokes.

G. A. C.

* By another account his name was Emanuel Hutchins.

† This may be only a coincidence. Clement was a family name in the Pastons, and of course was brought to the Norfolk Cokes through Sir Edward's first wife.

If Christian Piety, if warm Benevolence,
With all that Beauty, Youth, or Talents could impart,
To grace the female Form and dignify the Mind,
Had power to stay the uplifted Arm of Death,
Caroline Matilda! Thou hadst yet a while been spared,
To charm and edify thy Sex by thy Example;
To raise and cheer the Poor by thy Munificence;
To rear thy infant Daughter with Maternal Care;
To bless thy Husband with Fidelity and Love.
But God hath called thee to himself! Thy Husband bows,
In humble Resignation to the Will of Heaven.
He prays: "May Thy Child emulate thy Excellence, Caroline! where thou art, there may we be also."

Notes to Monumental Inscriptions, including Short Pedigrees of Belasyse and Braddyll.

(α.)—There are no sepulchral memorials to the memory of the members of the Sotheron family who were buried at Pontefract now remaining in All Saints' Churchyard, where, in the last century, all the Pontefract burials took place; this is probably owing to the fact, that when the new church of All Saints' was built, inside the ruins of the Old Abbey Church, many flat ground tombstones had to be removed and were lost, possibly among others those to the Sotherons. Several 17th and 18th century monuments to the Sotherans of Ampleforth and Oswaldkirk were to be seen in Ampleforth church, but like those at Pontefract, they were either lost or destroyed when the church was restored and partially rebuilt some years ago; the parochial registers of Ampleforth to the commencement of the 18th century are also missing, they are, however, known by persons now living to have been in existence a few generations since, and are reported to have been used for pipe-lights; there are, at present, only a few years of the transcripts of these registers to be discovered in the York Registry.

(β.)—In the account of Higham-Ferrers in Bridges' 'History and Antiquities of Northamptonshire,' it is stated—"Uppon a gravestone in the body of the church is a brass portrait of a man in a gown with long open sleeves and this inscription" (the above) "at his feet"; an engraving of this memorial-brass is given in Hudson's 'Monumental Brasses of Northamptonshire.' Haines, in his 'Manual of Monumental Brasses,' states that the inscription is now lost and that the brass is in the north aisle.

(γ.)—This epitaph, communicated to me by the Rev. Arthur-Charles Luard, B.A., vicar of Wadworth, corrects the misstatement made on page 220, as to the age of Lucy Sotheron at the time of her death, obtained from Hunter's 'South Yorkshire,' Vol. I. p. 254; the Wadworth Parish Registers contain the following entries:—"1727, Sept. 13, William, the son of William Sotheron, Esqr., and Lucy, his wife, baptised." "1726, Sept. 17, Lucy, the daughter of William Sotheron, Esqr., and Lucy, his wife, buried." It would seem that William Sotheron, Esq., was then temporarily sojourning at Wadworth, which is a small village near Doncaster. This would account for the notice of the name in the accompanying extract from Hunter's 'South Yorkshire,' Vol. I., p. 28, parish of Doncaster. "1727. Against the proclamation of King George II. it was ordered that the mayor, aldermen, and burgesses be mounted on horseback, the mayor and aldermen in their gowns; and that Sir George Cooke, Mr. Brian Cooke, Mr. Fountayne, Mr. Wrightson, Mr. Woodyeare, Mr. Childers, Mr. Copley, Mr. Sunderland, and Mr. Sotheron, with the gentlemen and best inhabitants of the town, be invited; and that four dozen of wine be taken up and three half-hogsheads of ale, and be drunk among the company. The liquor to be provided and taken up by Mr. Cowley, Mr. Mawhood, and the steward, and that they make a bowl of punch. The procession was to be in the following order. . . . ." John Sykes, Esq., M.D., F.S.A., of Doncaster, believes that the Mr. Sotheron thus noticed—"was probably William Sotheron, Esq., of Pontefract, who voted at the York County Election of 1741 in right of his freehold at Goole. The name has existed in the neighbourhood of Pontefract since Queen Elizabeth's reign. The will of George Jackson, of Knottingley, dated 23 March, 1596, was witnessed by Thomas Sotheron, of Little Kellingley, who is also mentioned in the body of the will. Margaret Acklam, widow and relict of Josias Acklam, of London, gent. in her will undated, desires to be buried in Howden church (co. York) near to her grandfather and grandmother: mentions her mother Arlush—her sister—her brother Arlush—her nephew John Sotheron—her father Arlush. The will was proved at York, 5 April, 1681." Charles Jackson, Esq., of Doncaster, writing on the same subject, says:—"I should think Mr. Sotheron could be no other than the gentleman who had the child Lucy buried at Wadworth in 1726 or 1727, and who was probably residing at the hall of that village at that period. In those days of slower communication, the Corporation would not be likely to invite gentlemen living beyond the immediate neighbourhood, and of whom the rest who were specified were the principal at that date residing within a few miles of the town. Wadworth is only about four and a half miles off." In Lawton's 'Collectio Rerum Ecclesiasticarum de Diœcesi Eboracensi,' p. 156, reference is made among the lost charities of the parish of Snaith, co. York, to "Sotheron's gift (no date), £1 per annum, mentioned in the return made in 1786." I am inclined to believe the donor was one of the Sotherons of Darrington, from the fact of members of the family having lived for some time at Hooke and Goole, near Snaith. The charity is now apparently unknown there, for the rector of Snaith some time since informed me, "There is no charity or benefaction connected with this parish under the appellation of Sotherons gift." The name of "Thomas Sotheran, of Holme-super-Spaldingmore, gent." appears in the list of "Nobility and Gentry which are, or lately were, related unto the East Riding of Yorkshire, with their Seats and Titles, by which they are or have been known," pp. 447–8 of 'Brittannia; or, a Geographical description of the Kingdoms of England, Scotland, and Ireland, with the Isles and Territories thereto belonging; and for the better perfecting of the said work, there is added an Alphabetical Table of the Names, Titles, and Seats of the Nobility and Gentry, that each County of England and Wales is, or lately was, enrolled with. The like never before published. London, Printed by Thos. Reycroft for the undertaker Richard Blome, 1673." Thomas Sotheran of Holm-in-Spaldingmore here mentioned ob. 1676, and was great grandson of William Sotheron of Newcastle-on-Tyne, merchant adventurer, viv. 1582; it has been satisfactorily shown (pp. 137–45), that the Sotherans of Ampleforth, and the Sotherons of Holm-in-Spaldingmore, Darrington, etc., are descended from this William Sotheron of Newcastle, but the reason of his sons Robert and William coming into Yorkshire has not yet been pointed out; there can, however, be no doubt that it was through their descent from the Belasyses of Henknoll, a house which in the person of Anthony Belasyse, as a reward for his services as a commissioner to inquire into the state of the Monastic Houses, had recently obtained from King Henry VIII. a grant of the Augustinian Priory of Newburgh in Yorkshire, founded in 1145 by Roger-de-Mowbray, Earl of Nottingham. William Sotheron of Newcastle, was the great-grandson of Margaret Belasyse, sister of Anthony Belasyse of Newburgh and wife of her cousin Anthony Smythe of Nunstainton (vide p. 137); by her descent from his ancestress Margaret Belasyse, his mother, Isabel Smythe, the wife of Christopher Sotheron, of Newcastle, was therefore the second cousin of Sir Henry Belasyse of Newburgh, who m. Ursula da. of Sir Thomas Fairfax, and whose father, William Sotheron's maternal grandfather's first cousin, Sir William Belasyse of Newburgh, m. Margaret da. of Sir Nicholas Fairfax of Gilling and Malton, co. York; irrespective of this alliance, William Sotheron could claim kinship with the Belasyses through his wife's family the Willys of Haughton-le-side, his brother-in-law Ralph Willy having married Jane da. of Christopher Chaytor of Butterby, co. Durham, Esq., and a great-grandda. of Thomas Belasyse of Henknoll, Esq., who was the father of Margaret Belasyse before named. Now, Robert Sotheron, a younger son of William Sotheron of Newcastle, was viv. before 1617 at Ampleforth, a parish adjoining Gilling and a few miles from Newburgh, and he must have seated himself there shortly after the Belasyses finally settled at Newburgh, and allied themselves to the Fairfaxes of Gilling, several of whom are noticed with their relative Thomas Sotheron (who ob. 1676), in the following abstract of a Newsom Will, communicated by Capt. Newsome, R.E. of Gravesend:—"In Will of Thos. Newsome of Riccall, co. York, dated 20th Septr. 1631—and pd. 30th Sept. 1631 at York occurs bequest—'to Thos Sotheron my mare called The World's Wealth and 26/- due to me by Mr Chrisphr. Constable.' This will is one of those curious old wills by Yorkshire Squires and Yeomen in which horses seemed to be, if not their principal wealth, their principal pride. The testator names Phillip Beckwith as brother in law, also Stephen Maskall, Robert Corney and Valentine Hawton in same relationship, Elizth. Fairfax wife of Ferdinand Fairfax and her son Edwd. Fairfax as legatees. Testr. styles himself yeoman. Will is witnessed by Phillip Beckwith, Stephen Foster, Thos. Sotheron. Signed Thos. Newsome. Sealed with seal of Stephen Foster, 'armorial,' 3 bugle horns, &c." (It is highly possible Stephen Foster was a connection of Richard and Alice Forster mentioned in the accompanying note from the pedigree of "Yarker, of Leyburn Hall, co. York:"—"John Yarker, of Leyburn and Carryheys, in the commission of the peace for the North Riding of Yorkshire; married 23 March, 1752, Alice, born in 1727, died 24 Nov. 1812, only daughter and heiress of Richard Forster, of East Witton, co. York, a descendant of Sir Michael le Forester, a retainer of Alan, Earl of Richmond, the nephew of the Conqueror, who created him forester of Richmond Forest, and knighted him. Sir Michael le Forester had afterwards a grant from the crown of lands in Coverdale, a part of which fell to his descendant, the before-named Alice Forster, by whom they were conveyed in marriage to the Yarkers," Forster of East Witton bore—'Argt. a chev. between three bugle horns, sa. stringed or.,' which arms are now quartered by Yarker of Leyburn Hall.) William Sotheron, junr., grandfather of Thomas, last-named, doubtless purchased the lands at Holm-in-Spaldingmore in 1603 so as to be at no great distance from his brother Robert, his cousins the Belasyses, and family connections the Fairfaxes. To elucidate the Sotheron and Belasyse descent more fully I subjoin a brief genealogy of

Sir Roger de Belasise, who by Joan, his wife, daughter of Sir Robert Harbottle, knight, had issue—John, married Mary, daughter of Roger Bertram; Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Madison of Unthank Hall in Weardale; and—

Sir Robert Belasise, son and heir, married to Ann, daughter of Sir William Gouldburne, and had issue—Mary, wife of John de Lambton; Anne, wife of Robert de Fowbray; Ursula, wife of James de Claxton; Frances, wife of William de Wickliffe; and—

Sir John Belasise, son and heir, who by Oswald his wife, daughter of Sir William Talbois, had issue—Thomas, married to Mary, daughter of Thomas de Whitwell; Dionysia, wife of Sir Gerard Salveyn, Knight; Jane, wife of Robert de Buckton; Elizabeth, wife of Hamon Byrd of Newcastle-on-Tyne; and—

John Belasise, son and heir, whose wife Alice, daughter of John de la Hay, was viv. a widow 1316, and by her had issue—John, married Maud daughter of John Doolard of Aukland; Mary, wife of William de Fetherstonhaugh; and—

William de Belasyse, son and heir, viv. 1317, and who by Maud, his wife, daughter and co-heiress of William Bellingham of Bellingham, had issue—Joan, wife of John Bussy; and—

Sir John Belasyse of Henknoll in the bishopric of Durham, Knight, son and heir, viv. 1391; it was on this Sir John Belasyse, it is said, that the distich so well known in the county of Durham was composed—

'Belasise, Belasise daft was thy nowle
'When thou gave Belasis for Henknole.'

tradition states this couplet, and the allusion in it refers to the exchange Sir John made with the Prior of Durham of his own good lands of Belasyse for the Prior's barren ones at Henknoll.—Fordyce, the historian of Durham, thus relates the circumstances:—"John de Belassis struggling between the obligation of a self-imposed vow to go upon the crusades on one hand, and a strong attachment to the hereditary lands of his family in the parish of Billingham on the other, resolved to break the tie which restrained him from his imaginary duty, by parting with his estates, which he effected by exchanging them with the convent for Henknoll, supposed before 1272 (?). It appears that he lived to return from the wars and repent of his bargain, the memory of which was long preserved in the following couplet, inscribed with the arms of his family, in one of the windows of St. Andrew's church (Auckland):"—

'Bellysis, Bellysis, daft was thy sowell
'When exchanged Bellysis for Henknowell,'

if this be the case, which may be doubted, his descendants had ample revenge in the part they took in the confiscation of church property at the time of the Dissolution of the Monasteries, and yet, like a protestant writer Sir Henry Spelman shows, in his 'End and Fate of Sacrilege,' of the other families who participated in the ecclesiastical plunder, so the Belasyses were neither brought happiness nor blessings in its wake—none of the family now remain but representatives in the female line, such as the Sotherans, Wombwells, Smythes, Bowes, Wynns, etc. The place of the Belasyses is vacant! their titles extinct! their ill-gotten spoil the property of others! Naught now exists of a great baronial family, but their name in old deeds and county histories; their monumental memorials and the like, and these for only the antiquary and genealogist to ponder over and moralise on. To return, Sir John Belasyse married Alice daughter of Sir Robert Hansard of Walworth, Knt., and by her had issue—Elizabeth, twice married, I. Thomas Brigham and II. Sir John Cramlington; Julian, twice married, I. John Fishburn of Fishburn, co. Durham, and II. Sir John Waddon, Knight; and—

Robert Belasyse, of Henknoll, son and heir, viv. 1407, and who by Alice, his widow, daughter of Robert Lamplugh, of Lamplugh, co. Cumberland, Esq., had—John, ob., 18 Hen. IV., and married Jonetta, daughter of Thomas Tipping, Esq.; Robert; Geoffrey; and—

William Belasyse, viv. 6, Edw. IV., and married to Cecilie, daughter and heiress of William Hoton, of Butterwicke and Hunwyke, co. York, by whom he had—

Thomas Belasyse, of Henknoll, son and heir viv. 1462, twice married, I., Margery, d. of Richard Dalton, of Auckland, and II., Margaret, daughter of S[r] Lancelot Thirkeld, of Melmerby, Knight—in the Constable Roll (Lansdowne MS. 205, fo. 235) a "Booke conteyninge the Armes or Cote Armers of the Nobylite and Gentyllmen frome Trent Northeward coppyde oute of a Nolde Roule of the Vysytasion of that Provynce by Sr. Marmaduke Constable Knight 1558" are given the arms of "Sr Lawncelott Thyrkelde Argent a maunch gules,"—the Pickerings, of Thirkeld, quartered these arms, and inherited the Thirkeld property from the marriage of "Willyam Pykeryng" with "Winefride, doughter and oon of the heyres of Syr Lancellot Thirkeld." Willm. Pickering was the third s. of James Pickering and Ann d. and h. of "Syr Christofer Moresbie," and grands. of James Pickering and Margaret, his w. "doughter and heyre of Lacelles," vide 'Tonge's Northern Visitation,' 1530. By his second w. Thomas Belasyse had issue—Richard, of Henknoll, s. and h. of whom after; Anthony Belasyse, of Newburgh Priory, co. York, Doctor of Civil Law, Master in Chancery, Archdeacon of Colchester, Chaplain to Henry VII., and Prebendary of Westminster and Lincoln, ob. 1532; Elizabeth, of whom after; Margaret, of whom after. The Priory of Newburgh and Sir Lancelot Thirkeld, father-in-law of Thomas Belasyse, are noticed in the original record of the ceremonial of attending the Princess Margaret, daughter of Henry VII., with her train of nobles, when she journeyed to Scotland on her marriage with James IV. of Scotland. "At two Mille fro the sayd Cite cam toward the sayd Quene, my Lord the Earle of Northumberlande well horst opon a fayr Corser, with a forr Cloth to the Grounde of Cramsyn Velvett, all borded of orfavery, his Armes vary rich in many Places upon his Saddle and Harnays, his sterrops gylt. With hym in hys company was many noble Knyghts; that is to weytt Sur John Hastyngs, Sur John Penynthon, Sur Lancelot Thirklekeld, Sur Thomas Curwen, Sur John Normanville, Sur Robert of Aske, all Knyghts, arrayed of hys sayd Liveray of Velvet with some Goldsmyth Wark; grett chaynnes and war well mounted, some of ther Horse Harnes full of Campanes, sum of Gold and Sylver, and the others of Sylver. Also there wass hys Officer of Armes, named Northumberland-Herault, array'd of hys sayd Liveray of Velvet, berring hys cotte sens the Mettyng tyll to hys departying thorough all the Entryng and Yssue of good Towns and Citez. . . . . And after this doon, She took hyr way to Newburgh the Priorie, to which place she was receyved by the sayd Prior and Religyous honnestly revested with the Crosse, at the Gatt of the Church." The Princess Margaret and her escort, to the number of two hundred nobles, with their retainers, were then lodged in Newburgh for one night, and, curiously enough, not so many years afterwards, the Priory in which she had been received with such magnificent hospitality was, with the estate contiguous thereto, granted by her unworthy brother Henry VIII. to a grandson of the very Sir Lancelot Thirkeld, who attended as one of her escort to Newburgh, and truly then—"desolation was in the place, where the voice of praise and melody had been heard."

Richard Belasyse, of Henknoll, son and heir of Thomas of Henknoll; he ob. 1540, and married Margery, daughter and heir of Richard Errington, of Morton Grange, co. Durham, Esq., and by her had issue—

Sir William Belasyse, of Newburgh Priory, son and heir, Sheriff of Yorkshire, 1574, ob. 1603, by Margaret, his wife, daughter of Sir Nicholas Fairfax, of Gilling and Malton, Knight, he had—Bryan second son, married to Margaret, daughter and coheiress of William Lee, of Brandon, co. York—a quo, Belasyse, of Morton House, co. Durham; and—

Sir Henry Belasyse, of Newburgh, Bart., son and heir, nat. 1555, and viv. 1625; he married Ursula, daughter of Sir Thomas Fairfax, of Denton, co. York, and sister to Ferdinando Lord Fairfax: —a quo Belasyse, Baron Fauconberg, of Yarum, co. York, so created by letters patent, 1627; Vis-Count Fauconberg of Henknoll, cr. 1643; and Earl of Fauconberg, in 1689 and 1774; also Baron Belasyse of Worlaby, co. Lincoln, cr. 1644, all extinct.

Elizabeth Belasyse, daughter of Thomas Belasyse (viv. 1462), married William Clervaulx, of Croft, co. York, Esq., had issue an only daughter, Elizabeth Clervaulx, the wife of Christopher Chaytor, of Butterby, co. Durham, Esq., Surveyor to the Queen for that county, 1575, had issue—

Jane Chaytor, thrice married:—I., Ralph Willy, of Haughton-le-Side, ob. circ. 1584; II., William Frankland, gent.; and III., Richard Tankard, gent., ob. ante 1592. Ralph Willy, her first husband, was the brother-in-law of William Sotheron, of Newcastle, and uncle of Robert Sotheron, of Ampleforth, and William Sotheron, of Holm-in-Spaldingmore.

Margaret Belasyse, daughter of Thomas Belasyse, viv. 1462, married her cousin, Anthony Smythe, of Nunstainton, co. Durham, Esq., second son of John Smythe, of Nunstainton, Esq., by his wife, a daughter of Hoton, of Hunwyke; Anthony Smythe had issue two sons:— . . . . Smythe, of whom after; and—

George Smythe, of Nunstainton, Esq., Inq., p. m. 15 Jan. 38 Hen. VIII., and thrice married, I., Jane (or Anne? vide Visitation Durham, 1575), daughter and coheiress of Ralph Booth, of Tunstall, ob. ante 1529, first cousin of Ralph, Earl of Westmoreland, and descended from John Booth, of Barton, Lancashire, Esq., ancestor of the Booths, Barons of Dunham-Massey (co. Cest.) of which family were William and Lawrence Bothe, successively Archbishops of York; II. Elizabeth, daughter of William Lambton, of Lambton, and grand-daughter of Rokeby, of Morton; and III. Anne, daughter of Thomas Lenthall, of Lachford, co. Oxon., widow of Sir Thomas Tempest, of Bowling, co. York, Knight. By Jane, his first wife, he had an only child, Anne, wife of John Swynburne, of Chopwell, co. Durham; and by Elizabeth, his second wife, he had issue—Cuthbert Smythe, inq. p. m. 4 Edw. VI., ob. s. p., and married to Rosamonde, daughter of Peter Frechville, of Staveley, co. Derby, and William Smythe, attainted 1570, viv. 1614, and married to Margaret, daughter and coheiress of Anthony Eshe, of Eshe—a quo Smythe, of Eshe, Baronet.

. . . . Smythe, the other son of Anthony Smythe and Margaret Belasyse, his wife; his christian name does not transpire in the Smythe pedigree, Surtees' 'History co. pal. Durham,' Vol. II., p. 338, but his five children are there given as—Isabel, wife of Christopher Sotheron, of whom after; Constance, wife of William Stellyng; Frances, wife of Robert Layton; Margaret, wife of Martyn Grimstone, Maria-Frances, twice married, α. George Coleman of Singapoor, Esq., and β. . . . . Napier, Esq.

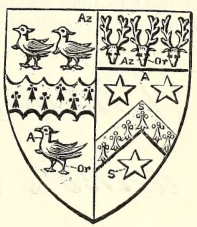
John-Edwards-Venables Vernon of Clontarf Castle, Esq., J.P. and D.L., second son of George Vernon of Clontarf; nat. 1813 and twice married, α. 1836, Louisa-Catherine, who ob. 1853, only daughter of Charles-Proby Bowles, of Park Lane, London, Esq., and β. by special licence 1856, the Hon. Rosa-Gertrude-Harriet Daly, daughter of James, first Lord Dunsandle, which lady ob. s.p. 1856; by his first wife he had issue—1, Edward, nat. 1838, married 1861, Miss Jane Brinkley; 2, Charles-Albert, nat. 1840; 3, Forbes-George, nat. 1843; 4, Granville-William, nat. 1845; 5, John Francis-Henry, nat. 1848; Louisa-Emily, married 1863 at St. James' Westminster, George-William, second son of Edward Cuppage, of Clare Grove, co. Dublin, Esq.

Eliza-Charlotte Vernon, second daughter of George Vernon, Esq., married 1853, the Right Hon. John Parker, of Darrington Hall, (formerly the seat of the Sotherons and Admiral Sotheron), Onslow Square, London, and Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-law, sometime M.P. for Sheffield, a Lord of the Treasury, and Secretary to the Admiralty. "The family of Parker resided at Norton-Lees, on the borders of the counties of York and Derby, in the time of Richard II., from whence descended Thomas Parker, first Earl of Macclesfield, Lord Chancellor of England. From this family too the Parkers of Little-Norton appear to have separated about the time of Elizabeth." John Parker of Little-Norton, co. Derby, Esq., viv. temp. Queen Elizabeth, was the lineal ancestor of the Right Hon. J. Parker, whose father Hugh Parker of Woodthorpe, co. York, Esq., J.P. and D.L. (vide Burke's Landed Gentry, article 'Parker of Woodthorpe and Streetthorpe') married Mary, daughter of Samuel Walker, of Masborough, co. York, Esq., and had issue—three sons and five daughters, the youngest of whom, Margaret-Caroline, married 1842, Charles Jackson, of Doncaster, Esq., J.P., a Barrister of the Hon. Soc. of Lincoln's Inn, and editor of 'The Diary of Abraham de la Pryme,' for the Surtees Society; I here publicly tender my thanks to Mr. Charles Jackson for the many occasions on which he has, at great trouble to himself, favoured me with genealogical and historical information, and also for the courteous manner in which that information has always been imparted; the father of Mr. Jackson was James Jackson, of Doncaster, Esq., Alderman, J.P., and twice Mayor of Doncaster, who married 1800, Henrietta-Priscilla, second daughter of Freeman Bower of Bawtry, co. York, Esq., and who was descended from the ancient family of Jackson, which has been seated on their own property at Fairburn Old Hall, in the parish of Ledsham, co. York, from early in the sixteenth century—a full account of this family will be found in 'Burke's Landed Gentry,' article 'Jackson of Doncaster.'



Jackson, impaling Parker.

Jane Braddyll, eldest daughter of Wilson Gale-Braddyll, Esq., was baptized 1777, ob. s.p. 1841, and married 1813, as his second wife, Admiral Frank Sotheron, of Darrington, whose only child, by Caroline-Matilda his first wife, was—

Lucy-Sarah Sotheron, ob. s.p. 1870, and the wife of the Right Hon. Thomas-Henry-Sutton Sotheron-Estcourt.

(η.)—"Yesterday in the 75th year of her age Mrs. Catherine Sotheron, of this place. The loss of this lady will be severely felt by the poor, to whom she was a liberal benefactor."—'Doncaster Gazette,' Oct. 19, 1832.

(θ.)—Lucy Thompson, his daughter, married 1725 at Marston, co. York, William Sotheron of Hook and Pontefract, Esq., who was born 1692 and died 1762. Alathea, daughter of Sir Henry Thompson of Marston, married Henry Tempest, Esq., who ob. 1685, and was the son of Sir John Tempest of Tong Hall, co. York, Bart., ob. 1693, and Henrietta, his wife, daughter of Sir Henry Cholmley. Susan, sister of Edward Thompson, of Marston, Esq., was the wife of John Clavering of Chopwell, co. Durham, Esq., and mother of Ann Clavering, who married Henry Liddell, of Carbrook, co. York, Esq., second son of Sir Henry Liddell of Ravensworth Castle, co. Durham, ob. 1753, by Catherine, his wife, daughter of Sir John Bright, of Carbrook, co. York, Bart., and Catherine, daughter of Sir Richard Hawkesworth, of Hawkesworth, co. York, Knight, and relict of William Lister, of Thornton, co. York, Esq.

(ι.)—Edmund Dunch, of Little Wittenham, co. Berks, Esq., Master of the Household of Queen Anne, had besides Mrs. Thompson, of Marston, and Harriot, Duchess of Manchester, previously mentioned, another and elder daughter, Elizabeth, who married 1729, Sir George Oxenden, fifth Bart., M.P. for Sandwich, son of George Oxenden, LL.D., Master of Trinity Hall, Cantab., by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Sir Basil Dixwell, of Brome, co. Kent, Bart. Sir William Dunch, of Little Wittenham, married Mary, tenth daughter of Sir Henry Cromwell, of Hinchinbrooke, Knight of the Bath, and aunt of Oliver Cromwell, the Lord Protector; Mary, daughter of Edmund Dunche, of Little Wittenham, married, I. William Winchcombe, of Bucklebury, co. Berks, Esq., and II. Sir Edward Clarke, of Ardington, co. Berks, Knight, and Sheriff of Berkshire in 1626, Sir Edward was thrice married.—1, Mary, daughter of Edmond Wiseman, of Steventon, Esq.; 2, Susanna, eldest daughter of Sir Thomas Temple, of Stowe, Bart., ancestor of the Duke of Buckingham; and 3, Mary Dunche, as above. Walter Dunch, of Avebury, co. Wilts., Esq., had two daughters.—Deborah, wife of Sir Henry Moody, of Garesdon, co. Wilts., created a Baronet 1621-2, and—Ruth, wife of Sir William Button, of Alton Priors, co. Wilts., Bart., ob. 1654, and a member of "the ancient and knightly family of Button, derived from Sir Walter de Button or Bitton, who flourished in the reign of Henry III., and whose descendants gradually augmented their estates by alliance with the heiresses of Furneux, Bryan, Turberville, Bassett, &c." Margaret, daughter of Philip, Lord Wharton, and relict of Major Dunch, of Pusey, co. Berks, was the second wife of Sir Thomas Sylyard, of Delaware, co. Kent, who ob. 1692, and married, first, Frances, daughter of Sir Francis Wyatt, Knight.

(κ.)—Helen or Eleanor Hodgson, the widow of Thomas Hodgson of Haxby, co. York, gent., died 1834, at Wigginton, co. York; she was the eldest daughter of John Sootheran of Ampleforth Lodge, gent., by Eleanor (née Flintoft) his wife, and was sister to George Sootheran of Ampleforth Lodge, gent., Lord of the Manor of Oswaldkirk, who died in 1834.

(λ.)—Lydia, daughter of Capt. Easterby, of the 3rd Dragoon Guards was the wife of John Sootheran of Ampleforth and Easingwold, gent., only son of Thomas Sootheran, of Ampleforth, gent., by Ruth, his wife,—Arthur-John Sootheran, of Liverpool, the only surviving son of John and Lydia Sootheran, ob. July 24, 1872, at Easingwold, æt. 34.

μ.—John Sotheran of Prospect House, Ampleforth, Esq., left issue, two daughters—Frances, wife of her cousin, Richard Sootheran, of Ampleforth Lodge, Esq., Lord of the Manor of Oswaldkirk; and Mary-Ann, married to Joseph Spensley, of Oldstead and Shandy Hall, co. York, Esq., Surgeon. The annexed facsimile signatures of the Sootheran family have been taken from an early edition of 'The Practice of Piety,' by Lewis Bayly, Bishop of Bangor, formerly in the possession of the late John Sotheran, of Prospect House, Esq., and now in that of his grandson, my cousin, Richard-Huggan Sootheran, of the city of York, Esq., son of Richard Sootheran of Ampleforth Lodge, Esq.; the date of publication cannot be given, as the title-page of the volume is unfortunately missing, it is stated in Lowndes' 'Bibliographer's Manual,' by Bohn, that the eleventh edition of this work was printed at London in 1619; Timothy Sootheran, whose autograph is above, is believed to have been identical with a Timothy Sootheran of whom a tradition is handed down in the family, to the effect, that he resided at Gilling, and getting into trouble about the time of the Commonwealth was sheltered for many years in Gilling Castle.

(ν.)—This memorial window, which represents the Evangelists SS. Luke and John, was executed by Messrs. John Hardman and Co., of Newhall Hill, Birmingham, and was designed by a member of that firm, John-Hardman Powell, Esq., who was a pupil of the late Augustus-Welby Pugin, and married that gentleman's eldest daughter.

(ξ.)—My cousin, Henry Sotheran, Esq., of Bootham, in the city of York, has informed me that when young he had in his possession his grandfather's watch, on the back of which was engraved Henry Sootheran; in going over an old file of the 'York Courant Newspaper,' he found that in 1760 his grandfather spelt his name Sootheran, but that in 1764 he had changed it to Sotheran.

(ο.)—This monumental inscription is also printed in Cansick's 'Epitaphs of Middlesex,' Vol. ii. pp. 44-5, together with a short account of the family, its origin, etc.

(π.)—Charles Price, Esq., the maternal grandfather of Charles Sotheran of Trinity Square, Newington, co. Surrey, gent., (ob. 1851), and the father-in-law of Thomas Sotheran of Lewisham, Kent, gent., who ob. 1866, and was the son and heir of Thomas Sotheran, of Outhouses, Ampleforth, gent., by Sarah Harrison, his wife, who married secondly Mr. Coxe.

PARISH REGISTERS,

The value of these, in tracing the lineage and history of families has not, probably been sufficiently recognized. There are, I believe, many descendants of ancient families, from which the names of villages and towns have been derived, still living, though, it may be, in very humble circumstances. In many country parishes will be found persons bearing the name of their own or some neighbouring village or hamlet, probably descendants of families who once possessed the village or hamlet. Thus, there are still in villages contiguous to Hardwick Hall, which was formerly, although not for 300 years past, held, through several generations, by a family of the name of Hardwick, persons of the name of Hardwick. At Awre, in Gloucestershire, there was a farmer of the same name, whose ancestors once undoubtedly held the Manor; at Exford, Somerset, was a large farm, Court, known to have been formerly much larger, held until 1862, by a family of the same name, and which could be traced back, in the Parish Registers for 200 years or more, as the Courts of Court. At Pulford, Cheshire, was a family, Pulford; at Howes, Norfolk, a family, Howe; and, speaking only from memory, I believe that in some fifty parishes or more with which I have become acquainted, it has been quite exceptional not to find some family of the same name as their own, or some neighbouring parish, and such families could be traced back for several generations in the Parish Registers. Probably, most incumbents of country parishes could furnish examples of this, if they would search their Registers carefully; remembering how frequently names become slightly altered and mis-spelt, and even, in process of time, almost completely disguised, through the too common inability in times past, even of respectable yeomen, to write, or at any rate, correctly spell their own names.

Northants. by his wife Elizabeth daughter of Clement Vincent, Lord Keeper to Charles I. The Lord Keeper Lane was born at Harpole, Co. Northants (his mother's native place) & baptized there 12 November 1584. He died 22 April 1651 in Jersey having had issue.

Waterman.—I should be glad of any additions to the subjoined Pedigree. The family of Waterman is met with at an early period in Kent, and there is a pedigree of four descents in the Visitation of Berks, 1665. John Waterman is rated for two hearths in Stoke next Guilford, temp. Charles II., who, there is reason to believe, is connected with the undermentioned.

John Waterman vintner at the King's Arms in Southwark (Stow), Bur. in St. Saviour's, Southwark.=

He seems to have married twice, but the accounts vary; one says one wife was widow of Robert Russell; another that his widow remarried Robert Russell of London merchant skinner, and that she was d. of John Wood of Carshalton.	=Sir George Waterman, Sheriff of London; Lord Mayor 1672. Knighted at Whitehall 10 June 1665. Sold ropes & iron work in Thames St.; was a wholesale ironmonger at the sign of the Doublet, which they say was in memory of the leathern doublet he brought with him to London & which he used to show. Ob. 1682, bur. in St. Saviour's church. (A skinner lived at the Helmet in Thames St.) =	A daughter ux. — Howard, gent. Yeoman of the Tents & Toits to Charles II., James II., Wm. and Mary, and Queen Anne. =
Anne Waterman, will dated 15 May 1734; pr. 17 Jan. 1738 by John Howard her cousin & sole exor. She died cœlebs Nov. 19, 1737 & was bur. at Plaistow in West Ham co. Essex.	Elizabeth, legatee to her sister, marr. John Carter Esq.	His descendant John Trisdale Howard, bo. at Uxbridge Apl. 29, 1781 and living unmarried 1812, is said to have possessed portraits of the Watermans.

„ . . . . Thomas Gorton do. do. do.

1753. May 1. Richard, son of Thomas Gorton of Salford and Ann his wife, bap. C. C.

1753. Nov. 17. Robert Gorton of Manchester and Margaret Wilkinson of Manchester obtained a license from Chester to marry at Manchester C. C. Oath and bond given by the same and John Higson.

1753, 5. John Gorton of Manchester, one of the "Commissioners" for rebuilding Gorton Chapel. Though his place of business was in Manchester, he resided at Gorton Hall. Either he or his son John is mentioned in 1765; and he died before April, 1774, leaving three sons, viz. John, Robert, and Thomas. Gorton old Chapel, dedicated to S. James, was a small half-timbered structure, with overhanging eaves, and very picturesque. The entrance door was very narrow, and some of the female members of "Old John's" family being dressed in tip-top fashion, had to hold their hoops on one side when obtaining ingress within the sacred edifice.

1755. Jan. 2. Robert Gorton and Mary Davidson, both of Salford, mar. C. C., per licence. The local newspaper of the 7th inst. thus chronicles the event:—"On Thursday last was married here Mr. Robert Gorton of Salford, to Miss Davison of the same place, an agreeable young lady with a handsome fortune." [See 1760.]

1758. . . . . Thomas Gorton, boroughreeve of Salford. He was chapel warden of Gorton Chapel in 1774 and again two years later. He was a trustee of the parsonage estate, Gorton, in the former year (1774), when he is described as of Salford, merchant. He was a Gorton landowner in 1770, being the Thomas, son of John Gorton, as mentioned above. He left a son Richard. [Vide 1772.]

1760. Robert Gorton, boroughreeve of Salford, in which town he possessed considerable property, and conferred designation on "Gorton Street." This year the "Devil" was painted for him by "Tim Bobbin," of whom he was a friend and patron, if not relative by marriage. [See 1755.]

1761. Sept. 7. James Gorton, Attorney-at-Law, bur. C. C.

1769. Apl. 17. Betty, dau. to William Gorton of Failsworth, son of James G. [ob. 1777] died, aged 3 yrs. 7 wks., buried at Newton Heath Chapel.

„ Dec. 27. John Dyson of Halifax and Mary Gorton of Manchester, mar. C. C., per licence.

1772. . . . . When Richard Gorton came to age, it is said that his father Thomas [v. 1758] presented him with a cheque for £20,000, saying, "Now, Dick, thou'rt Gorton's Gorton," &c. He was constituted one of the trustees for the parsonage estate, in April, 1774, and described as Richard Gorton of Gorton, gentleman. Two years later his name appears in Gorton town's books as a ratepayer. His marriage is thus chronicled in the local paper of Sept. 28, 1779:—"On Tuesday last, at Bradford, Yorkshire, Mr. Richard Gorton, son of Mr. Thomas Gorton, merchant in Salford, to Miss Atkinson of Bradford." They had a family of ten children. He seems to have been the Richard Gorton, Esq., who was boroughreeve of Salford in 1785, and lived in that town the year after. He commenced the silk business at Cupnall, near Nottingham, where he lost all his money, the mill being burned down by a fire caused through some live embers being dropped from a coalbox upon the landing of the stairs.

1780. March — Mr. John Gorton of Gorton, formerly an eminent check manufacturer, a gentleman universally esteemed for his social virtues, died a few days since, says Harrop's 'Manchester Mercury,' March 7th.

1777. Jan. 30. James Gorton of Newton Heath, died, aged 90, buried Newton Chapel.

1783. Feb. 20. James Hampson of Standish and Love Gorton of Salford, mar. C. C.

1785. April — Mr. Holden of ——, Yorkshire, mar. C. C. to Miss Gorton, dau. to Mr. Thomas Gorton, smallware manufacturer of this town. (V. Harrop's M.M., April 12th.)

1788. Mar. 27. William Parkinson of Salford and Olive Gorton of Manchester, mar. C. C.

1789. .... John Gorton (son of John Gorton) resided at Gorton Hall. He is said to have had an annual income of £2,200, arising from rents of land and buildings. Not having issue, he entailed his property on his nephew, Richard Gorton. He was a plain country squire, and might be seen on a Saturday riding to Manchester, whilst behind him sat the son of one of his tenants, in the shape of a barefooted and barelegged lad, who, upon arriving in town, acted in the capacity of messenger and footboy. Messrs. John Gorton and Co. had a warehouse in Market St., Manchester, which took fire, when damage was sustained to the amount of £30,000, and, unfortunately, the place was not insured. This information was partly derived from a son of Mr. Peter Jackson, who died about 1837, aged 80, and had been employed by Messrs. John Gorton and Co. for 32 years (from about 1773 to 1805), part of the time as a highly confidential servant, having the management of the business. About the close of last century, Jackson used to visit the "Black Horse," Gorton, in order to pay the wages of such of their silk-smallware weavers as resided in the locality. Once a year a treat was given to them at the above house. It took place about the wakes, the first week in September, and from the abundance of one edible was called "The Bean Feast." Of course it was always enlivened by the presence and reminiscences of many old men and women.

1799. May 26. Alice, wife of Thomas Gorton of Failsworth, joiner, died, aged 45, buried Newton Chapel.

1803. Nov. 8. Jane, wife of William Gorton of Failsworth, died, aged 69, buried Newton Chapel.

„ Nov. — Mr. Gorton, of London, wholesale tea-dealer, mar. to Miss Bushell, dau. of Mr. George Bushell, of Chester, attorney, on Tuesday se'nnight. (Vide Harrop's M. M., Nov. 29th.)

1805. .... Thomas Gorton [son of Richard Gorton] of Gorton Hall declared bankrupt. The several estates in Gorton were sold by public auction, and thus closed their connection with the township.

1810. Nov. 23. William Gorton of Failsworth, died, aged 79, buried Newton Chapel.

1815. Oct. — Mrs. Gorton, relict of Robert Gorton, late of Rusholme, Esq., died on Wednesday week, at her house at St. John's Street. (Vide H. M. M., Oct. 28th.)

1690. Dec. 27 Edward, son of Edward Boyle.

Who was Edward Boyle, the father of the children mentioned above? Was he the eldest son of John, Bishop of Cork, Cloyne and Ross? In Harl. MSS. 1543, this Edward Boyle is given one child Richard, who is stated to have "dyed young:" and in the matriculation books of T. C. D. occurs the entry of Richard, son of Edward Boyle, as a Pensioner, aged 17, 4 Feb. 1697. I should be glad of any further information concerning this Edward Boyle and his family,

PICKERING, WINTERBOURNE, AND HANDLEY FAMILIES.—In the early part of the last century these families, resident in London and its neighbourhood, were closely connected together by marriage. If those of your correspondents who have made collections from London and suburban parish Registers would favour me with any entries of the names about the period indicated, I should be greatly obliged and happy to reciprocate their attentions by similar searches among my Herefordshire collectanea. The arms of Handley (as borne by Thomas Handley, Sworn Clerk of the Court of Chancery, 1788) are; gules a fess or, between six mascles of the second. I think the grandfather of Thomas Handley lived in Lincoln's Inn and married a Winterbourne, and the father (resident at Barnes, co. Surrey, 1738) married a Pickering. I observe that Sir John Pickering of Titmarsh had, with other issue, a son Edward Pickering, of Lincoln's Inn Fields, aged 64 in 1681, and married to Dorothy, sister of Humphrey Weld of Weld-house. Was there any issue of this marriage?

Norton Canon, Hereford. C. J. ROBINSON, M.A.

JOHN PHILIPS, M.D. 1779.—I shall be much indebted to any one who can kindly give me any information respecting the marriage and place of burial of John Philips, M.D., Surgeon to the train of Artillery in Ireland, who died at Dublin in 1779. He was succeeded by his son Molesworth, of Belcotton, co. Louth, afterwards a Colonel in the Royal Marines, who accompanied Captain Cook in his voyage round the world. He married Susan, third daughter of Dr. Burney, and sister of Madame D'Arblay. This lady died at Parkgate, in 1800, on her way from Ireland to visit her father at Chelsea Hospital, and is buried at Neston, Cheshire (see Life of Dr. Burney). Mr. Philips had two daughters, the elder of whom married Rev. Walter Shirley, brother of the fourth, fifth, and sixth Earls of Ferrars, and grandfather of the late Bishop Shirley. The younger married George Kiernan, Esq., Dublin (see Memoir of Kiernan Family, by Rev. R. J. McGhee, late Rector of Holywell-cum-Needworth, Hunts).

GRANT OF ARMS BY SIR HENRY S^{t} GEORGE, GARTER, AND JOHN VANBRUGH, CLARENCEUX, TO THE SURVIVING ISSUE OF FRANCIS COOK OF KINGSTHORP, 1711.

To all and singular to whom these presents shall come, S^{r} Henry St. George, Knt., Garter Principal King of Arms and John Vanbrugh, Esq^{r} Clarenceux King of Arms send Greeting. Whereas the Right Hon^{ble} Henry, Earl of Suffolk and Bindon, one of the Lords of her Ma^{ties} most Honourable Privy Council, and Deputy (with the Royal Approbation) to his Grace Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal, and Hereditary Marshal of England, hath by Warrant or Order under his hand and Seal, bearing date the 8th day of this instant May, signified unto Us, That Dame SARAH PRICHARD, Relict of S^{r} William Prichard, Knight, Alderman, and sometime Lord Mayor of the City of London, had (by reason of her age) made application to His Lo^{p} by Letter, sign'd by her nephew Charles Cook, son of her brother Thomas Cook, late of Hackney in the County of Middlesex deceased, setting forth That the Family of Cook of Kingsthorp in the County of Northampton, of which He is descended, hath resided at Kingsthorpe aforesaid, and been Possess'd of an Estate in the said Town for upwards of 200 years past, where they have constantly lived in the Quality and Reputation of Gentlemen, and been so wrote in the Church Register of that Parish ever since the year 1608, which is 102 years, as appears by a Certificate of the Baptisms, Marriages and Burials of the same Family of Cook transmitted to his Lo^{p} under the hands of the present Minister and Churchwardens of Kingsthorp, which Family of Cook the said Lady Prichard (by her Nephew aforesaid) affirms to have borne and used for their Armes, Party per pale Gules and Blew three Golden Eagles Displayed, and a like Eagle for their Crest. But for want of due Entries of the said Family and Arms in the Books of the Heralds' College, the Right of the Cooks of Kingsthorp to the foremention'd Arms is become disputable; And the said Lady Prichard being unwilling to continue the use thereof without the consent and allowance of the said Earl of Suffolk and Bindon, and being desirous to settle the same before her death so as to prevent any dispute of the like nature hereafter, hath pray'd his Lo^{ps} order and direction, that the foresaid Arms and Crest varied or diversified as is agreeable to the Usage in such case, might be assign'd and confirm'd unto the surviving Issue of her Father Francis Cook of Kingsthorp aforesaid and their Descendants respectively, to be borne and Used by them with their due differences according to the Law of Arms: His Lo^{p} having considered the request of the said Dame Sarah Prichard, did by his said Warrant, Order and appoint Us to Grant and Assign the foresaid Arms and Crest, in such manner as is proper, to the surviving Issue of the foremention'd Francis Cook of Kingsthorp, Father of the said Lady Prichard and to their descendants respectively, to be borne and Used by them (after His Lo^{ps} Consent to and Approbation thereof) with their due Differences according to the Law of Arms. Know ye therefore that We the said Garter and Clarenceux, in pursuance of the Consent of the said Earl of Suffolk and Bindon, signified as aforesaid and by virtue of the Letters Patents of our Offices, to each of us respectively Granted under the Great Seale of England, have Assign'd and with his Lo^{ps} Approbation do Grant and Assign unto the said CHARLES COOK and to the other surviving Issue of the said Francis Cook of Kingsthorpe, Father of the said Sarah Lady Prichard, the Arms and Crest hereafter mentioned, viz. Party per pale Azure and Gules, three Eagles Display'd and Armed Or, Gutty de Poix, each having about his neck a Collar Sable. And for the Crest, On a Wreath Or and Azure an Eagle Display'd Or, Gutty de Poix, armed Sable, having about his neck a like Collar, as in the margin hereof is more plainly depicted: To be borne and used for ever hereafter by him the said Charles Cook and the other surviving Issue of the foresaid Francis Cook of Kingsthorp, Father of the said Sarah Lady Prichard, and the Heirs and other Descendents of his and their Bodies respectively, with their due differences according to the Law and practice of Armes without the lett or Interruption of any person or persons whatsoever: In witness whereof We the said Garter and Clarenceux Kings of Armes, have to these presents severally set Our names and Affixed the Seals of Our respective Offices this Twelfth day of May in the 10th year of the Reign of Our Soveraign Lady Anne by the Grace of God Queen of Great Britain France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith etca Annoque D'ni. 1711.

HEN. ST. GEORGE, Garter Principal King of Arms.

JOHN VANBRUGH Clarenceux King of Arms.

GRANT OF ARMS BY SIR HENRY St GEORGE, GARTER, AND JOHN VANBRUGH, CLARENCEUX, TO DANIEL KING OF ELTHAM, 1707.

To all and singular to whom these presents shall come, Sr Henry St George, Knight, Garter Principal King of Arms, and John Vanbrugh, Esqr Clarenceux King of Arms, send Greeting. Whereas the Right Honble Henry, Earl of Bindon, Deputy (with her Majesties approbation) to the Most Noble Thomas, Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal and Hereditary Marshal of England, hath by Warrant or Order under his hand and Seal, bearing date the 7th day of this instant June, signified unto Us that DANIEL KING of Eltham in the County of Kent, Nephew and one of the Heirs to Sir William Prichard, Knt, Alderman and sometime Lord Mayor of the City of London, has made application to his Lop that such Arms and Crest might be assign'd to him, which after his Lops consent to and approbation thereof, may be lawfully borne by him and his Descendants, And whereas his Lop is well satisfied by a Certificate annexed to his Petition, that the said Daniel King is duly qualified to support the state of Gentility, the said Earl of Bindon did by his Warrant, dated as aforesaid, Order and Appoint Us to devise, Assign and Grant unto the said Daniel King after his Lops consent to and approbation thereof, such Arms and Crest accordingly. Know ye therefore that We the said Garter and Clarenceux, in pursuance of the Consent of the said Earl of Bindon, and by virtue of the Letters Patents of our Offices to each of us respectively granted under the Great Seal of England, have devised, and with his Lops approbation, do Grant and Assign unto the said Daniel King the Arms and Crest hereafter mentioned, viz.: Party per Fess indented Gules and Sable, a Lion Rampant Or, crown'd with a Ducal Coronet Argent, between three Cross-Crosslets fitchée Silver. And for his Crest, On a wreath Or and Gules, an Ostrich head coupé at the neck proper, gorg'd with a Ducal Crown Gold, between two Ostrich Feathers Argent as in the Margin hereof is more plainly Depicted: To be borne and used by him the said Daniel King and the heirs and other Descendants of his Body lawfully begotten and to be begotten, with their due and proper differences according to the Usage and Practice of Arms, without the Lett or Interruption of any person or persons whatsoever. In Witness whereof We the said Garter and Clarenceux Kings of Arms have to these presents subscribed Our Names and affixed the Seals of Our respective Offices this 14th day of June in the Sixth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady Anne by the Grace of God Queen of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c., Annoque D'ni. 1707.

WATERMAN—Miscellanea Genealogica, p. 316.—Anne, a sister of Sir George Waterman, married John Blake, of Rotherhithe, commander of the good ship "The Dove of London;" he traded to Guinea and the East Indies, and died about 1658.* Her Will was proved 1681; she is styled in it "Anne Blake of Rotherhithe, co. Surrey, widow." Strype mentions her monument in Rotherhithe Churchyard, where she is called Anne, widow of Capt. John Blake; it bears the following curious lines, viz.

"In Jettipore the head, in Callibar the heart,
The body here entombed, must meet tho' far apart."

One of her children was a daughter, Anne, ux. Rev. Dr. William Assheton, Rector of Beckenham, Kent, a man of some note, 1st cousin to S^{r} Raphe Assheton of Middleton, 1st Bart. Sir George Waterman's will bequeaths his landed property to his son Christopher Waterman, and mentions an elder son George, who had died in his father's lifetime. The will also mentions his two daughters Anna Waterman and Elizabeth Waterman, and also mentions a son-in-law, Sir William Russell, who is appointed overseer of his said will. He bequeathed the residue of his estate to "his said three children," and appointed his two daughters executrices. Will proved 16 Jan. 1682–3.

According to an early edition of "Foxe," two leaves from which, relating to Amersham and the "Harding" family, I have:

"in the dayes of kinge Henrie the seuenth, Anno 1506 . . . . . one William Tylsworth was burned in Amersham, in a Close called Standley . . . . At which time one Joane Clerke, being a married woman, which was the onely daughter of the said William Tylsworth and a faithfull woman, was compelled with her owne hands to set fire to her deare father: and at the same time her husband John Clerke did penance at her fathers burning, and bare a fagot, as did also Thomas Harding and his wife; Henry Harding; Richard Harding; Robert Harding," &c. And again,

"Thomas Harding being one of this company, thus molested and troubled, as is aforesaid, in the towne of Amersham, for the truth of the Gospell, after his abjuration and penance done, was againe sought for and brought to the fire, in the dayes of King Henry the eight, and vnder D. Longland then bishop of Lincolne, succeeding after cardinall Wolsey. Of whose death and martyrdome wee shall likewise record (Christ willing and granting) in order when wee shall come to the time and yeere of his suffering."

I believe there is a place called the "Martyrs' Field" at Amersham, at the present day, on the "Bury" Farm, where tradition says William Tilsworth was burnt. The spot of ground forms a circle, and is about twenty-four yards in circumference; and although the earth has been taken away to a considerable depth and replaced with the most fertile soil, it has "baffled every attempt" at cultivation, and "when the rest of the field begins to look green, the blades in this mysterious part begin to dwindle and look unhealthy."

ABSTRACTS OF "INQUISITIONES POST MORTEM."

14th October, 4 Hen. VIII. (1512) No. 74.

INQUISITION taken at Devizes in the County of Wilts after the death of WALTER MERVYN.

The jurors found that Walter Mervyn was seized of the Manors of Fontell Gyfford and Farnehyll in co. Wilts in his demesne as of fee, and that on 9th April 1 Henry VIII. (1510) he enfeoffed Henry Bodenham, Ambrose Dauntsey, William Dauntsey, and others, of the same Manors for the fulfilment of his last Will; which he afterwards made, on 20th November 2 Hen. VIII. (1510), whereby he willed that Elizabeth Mervyn widow of John Mervyn deceased should receive the issues and profits of the said Manors as long as she remained sole, and after her death, or if she married, the said issues and profits were to go to John Mervyn, kinsman and heir of the said Walter (to wit) son of John, son of the said Walter, and his heirs. And the jurors found that the said Elizabeth was then still living and unmarried. The jurors also found, that said Walter was also seized of the Manor of Hardenhewyssh &c. in Stopp in the Parish of Fontel Giffard in the said County; and that by his Charter indented dated 30th July 14 Henry VII. (1499) he granted the same to William Frost and others to the use of John Mervyn then deceased, (son and heir apparent of the said Walter,) and Elizabeth then wife of the said John, and the heirs of the body of the said John; and in default thereof, to the use of the right heirs of Walter Mervyn: and the jurors further found that said John Mervyn afterwards had issue, one John; and died. And the jurors further found that said John, son of said Walter Mervyn, John Jenour and Thomas Sprott, were seized of messuages, &c. in Sembeley, and West Knoyle, otherwise Knoyle-Odyern, in the said County; and that they being so seized, John Mordaunt, William Mordaunt, Wistan Brown, William Gascoign, John Vynter, and Thomas Chaffyn, recovered the same tenements against the said John Mervyn, John Jenour, and Thomas Sprott, by writ of entry sur disseisin in le post (to wit) in Michaelmas term 18 Henry VII. (1502); which Recovery was to the use of the said Elizabeth and the heirs of her body; and in default thereof, to the use of Cecily Clifford, widow, and the heirs of her body; and in default thereof, to the use of the said John Mordaunt, William Mordaunt, and the other recoverers aforesaid, and their heirs, to sell the same and fulfil therewith the last Will of John Grene, late of Stotfold. And the jurors also found that said Walter Mervyn was also seized of the Manor &c. of Wydecombe in the parish of Helmerton, and of lands in Crokerton, both in the County of Wilts, in his demesne as of fee; and that, by Charter dated 14 September 3 Hen. VIII. (1511) he enfeoffed thereof, Richard Bishop of Winchester, Thomas Welle Esquire, Henry Bodenham Esquire, William Hawles, Tristram Fauntleroy, Ambrose Dauntsey, Thomas Mompesson, and William Pyrke, and their heirs; to the use of the said Walter Mervyn during his life, without impeachment of waste; and after his death, to the use of Edmund Mervyn (son of the said Walter) and Eleanor Fauconer and the heirs of the body of the said Edmund; and in default thereof, to the use of the right heirs of the said Walter; as appeared by a charter of covenants indented made between the said Bishop and Thomas Welle of the one part and the aforesaid Walter and Edmund of the other part, dated 8th Sept. 3 Hen. VIII. (1511). And the jurors further found that Thomas Browne chaplain and William Hendelowe being seized of lands and hereditaments in Lavyngton Epyscopi, Worton, Mershton, Hurst, Stert, Fedyngton, and Southbrome, in said county of Wilts, as also of lands in Erylstoke and Potern &c., did, by charter tripartite indented, dated 7 Sept. 6 Edw. IV. (1466) grant the same property to said Walter Mervyn and Joan his wife, and the heirs of the body of the said Joan; and that if the said Walter and Joan died without such heir, the premises in Potern were to remain to Thomas Roger of Bradford in the County of Wilts, his heirs and assigns; and the premises in Lavyngton and the other places, were to remain to Nicholas Hall, his heirs and assigns. And the jurors found that said Joan died without heir of her body, and that Walter Mervyn died on the 12th day of July then last (1512) so that the premises in Lavyngton &c. remained to Thomas Hall as son and heir of the said Nicholas Hall, the same Thomas being 50 years of age and upwards. And that the premises in Potern remained to William Roger as son and heir of the said Thomas Roger, the same William Roger being 50 years of age and upwards.

And the jurors further found that John Mervyn was "consanguineus" and heir of the said Walter Mervyn, viz. son of John Mervyn, the son of said Walter; and that he was then of the age of 9 years and upwards.

17th October 12 Elizabeth (1570) No. 116.

INQUISITION taken at New Sarum in the County of Wilts after the death of Sir JOHN MERVYN Kn^t^

The jurors found that Sir John Mervyn was seized in his demesne as of fee tail, (to wit, to him and the heirs of his body, with remainder to his right heirs,) of the Manor of Wydcombe in County Wilts and of lands &c. in Helmerton and Crokerton, and of one watermill in Tysburye next Fountill Gifforde. And that said John Mervyn was also seized in fee tail as above, with remainder to the right heirs of Walter Mervyn deceased, his grandfather, whose heir he was, of the Manor of Hardenhuishe, with the advowson of the church there, and of hereditaments in Stoppe within the parish of Fountell Gifforde And that said John Mervyn was also seized to him and his heirs male (with remainder to the right heirs of John Mervyn deceased, his great grandfather, whose right heir he was) of the Manors of Fontel-Giffard and Farmehull with the advowson of the church of Fontel-Giffard &c., and also of hereditaments in Tisbury over Fountell and Swallowcliffe. And further that said John Mervin was also seized, in his demesne as of fee simple, of the Manors of Hatch, Swallowcliffe and Compton Bassett, and of divers pastures woods and woodlands in the parish of Tisburie called Rowcombparke and Wike &c. and also of hereditaments in Fontel-Giffard, (formerly parcel of the late Monastery of Charterhouse Witham in Co. Somerset) And of meadow and pasture in Bishops Knoyle and West Hatche in Co. Wilts. And further that said John Mervyn was seized, in his demesne as of fee tail, of hereditaments in Semble. And the jurors found that the said before mentioned premises descend to James Mervin Esquire for the Queen's Body, as son and heir of said John Mervyn.

And the jurors also found that said Sir John Mervyn had died on the 18th June 8 Elizabeth (1566), and that since his death, Elizabeth Mervine, widow of the said John, had received the issues of the Manor or farm of Compton Bassett; and that John Rives had received the issues of the Manors of Hatche and Swallowcliffe; except certain sums which said James Mervyn had received, he having also received the issues of all the other premises.

4th December 24 Elizabeth (1582) 1st part No. 91.

INQUISITION taken at Devizes in the County of Wilts after the death of Lady ELIZABETH MERVYN.

The jurors found that Lady Elizabeth Mervyn was a widow, and late the wife of John Mervyn, Knight, deceased; That she died siezed, in her demesne as of fee, of the Manor of Bathampton &c. which on her death on the 25th of September then last (1581) descended to Susannah Mompesson her sister, and to the issue of Anne Wayte another sister (then deceased), and to the son of Mary Wells another sister (then also deceased), as the coheirs of said Lady Elizabeth Mervyn.

27 June 13 James I. (1616) 2nd part No. 130.

INQUISITION taken at Devizes in the County of Wilts after the death of Sir JAMES MERVYN Knt.

The Jurors found that Sir James Mervyn had died seized, in his demesne as of free tenement for term of his life, of the chief messuage and manors of Fontel-Giffard and Fernehull and of certain messuages lands and tenements called Founthill Charterhouse late parcel of the possessions of the Monastery of Charterhouse Witham in Co. Somerset, and afterwards parcel of the possessions of Thomas Arundell Knight, attainted of felony, and which, afterwards, King Edward VI. by his letters patent dated 24th February in his 7th year had granted to John Mervin, Knight, father of said James. And the jurors also found that said Sir James Mervyn had also died seized of the Manors of Hatche and Swallowcliffe; and of one messuage and tenement in Over Founthill; and of divers lands woods &c., called Rowcombe Parke in the parish of Tisburie, and of two messuages in Sembly; and of a messuage in East Knoyle, and of certain lands woods &c. called Ashell's Wood in the parish of Tisburie: the remainder pertaining to one Henry Mervin Esquire and his heirs male begotten of Christiana "then and now his wife"; with further remainder to other persons [not named] in fee tail; and with further remainder to the right heirs of the said James. And the jurors further found, that in Trinity Term 5 James I. a fine had been levied, between Thomas Thynne Knight, and Hugh Hill Esq., plaintiffs and said James Mervin, Henry Mervin, and Christiana, deforciants, concerning the premises; (by a somewhat different description, Fountel Episcopi, Berwick St. Leonard's and Hindon being mentioned in addition to the foregoing places) whereby the deforciants quitclaimed to the plaintiffs and the heirs of Thomas; which Fine was levied to the use of the said James during his life, and after his decease (with regard to all the premises except those known by the name of Week) to the use of Henry and Christiana and the heirs male of the said Henry begotten of the said Christiana; with remainder to "divers other persons" in fee tail; and then, to the right heirs of said James; and with regard to the premises called Week, after decease of James Mervyn, to the use of the said Henry Mervyn and his heirs male &c. as above, as appeared by a quadripartite Indenture dated 7th May 6 James I. (1609) between the said James, Henry, and Christiana, 1st part; Thomas Thynne and Hugh Hill, 2nd part; Edward Blount, and William Goddard, 3rd part; and Richard Warman, and William Weeksteed, 4th part; By virtue whereof, and of the Statute of Uses, the said Sir James Mervyn was seized of the premises.

And the jurors also found that said Sir James Mervyn was also seized in his demesne as of fee of the Manors of Compton Bassett, and Widcombe, and of a messuage, lands, &c. in Crokerton; and that he, being so seized, a Fine was levied between Hugh Hill and John Greene, plaintiffs, and said James Mervyn deforciant, whereby the latter quitclaiming the said Manor of Compton Bassett and the advowson of the church there to the plaintiffs, to their own use; to the intent that they should permit Sir Mervyn Audelay Knight to recover the said Manor and advowson; which he did in Hilary term 6 James I.; being seized to the use of the said James Mervyn during his life, and after his decease to the use of Lucy, Lady Audelay, mother of the said Mervyn Audelay, for term of her life; and then to the use of the said Mervyn Audelay and his heirs male; and then, to the use of the right heirs of the said Lady Lucy, and Mervin Audelay; as by an Indenture tripartite dated 20th January 6 James I. appeared. And the Jurors further found that by another Indenture of the same date, said Sir James Mervin had bargained and sold said Manor of Widcombe to said Hugh Hill, and John Greene, and their heirs; to the intent that they should permit said Mervyn Audelay to recover same; which he did in the same term; to the use of said Sir James Mervyn for term of his life; remainder to the use of George Lord Audelay for life; remainder to the use of the said Lady Lucy, wife of the said George, for life; remainder to the use of the said Mervin Audelay, and his heirs male; then to the heirs of his body; then to the right heirs of the said Lucy, and Mervin, as appeared by an Indenture of 20th January 6 James I. (1609).

And the Jurors also found that said Sir James Mervyn died on the 1st of May 9 James I. (1611) at Fountel aforesaid.

And the Jurors further found, that said Mervyn Audelay Knight was the grandson ("nepos") and next heir of the said James, (to wit) son and heir of Lucy Lady Audelay, daughter and heir of the said James; the said Lady Lucy having died in the lifetime of her father; and that, the said Mervyn Audelay was of the age of 23 years. And the Jurors lastly found that said Mervyn Audelay had received the profits of the Manors of Compton Bassett and Widcombe from the death of Sir James Mervyn, and that Henry Mervyn had received the profits of the remainder of the premises since the same time.

Witnesses, Alice Lake & 2 others.

Finnamore of Whetham, Co. Wilts.—I am anxious to obtain a pedigree of the above family. Burke's General Armoury has the following evidence:—"Finnamore (Whetham, co. Wilts traced to the year 1300. The heiress, Mary only daughter of Roger Finnamore, of Whetham, esq., married Michael Ernle, of Bourton, esq., High Sheriff of Wilts 22 Eliz., and had a son Sir John Ernle of Whetham, Knt. now represented by Maj. Gen. Sir James Kyrle Money Bart.) see under quarterings of Money." The arms of Finnamore (Erm. two chev. gules) are quartered by Ernley in the pedigree entered at the Heralds' Visitation of Wilts, 1623. The same coat is ascribed by Burke to families of Norfolk and Suffolk named Fermer, Fenmer, Ferimor, Femynor, and Fanner. It also occurs on a mural monument in Hincksey Church, co. Berks, to William Fynmore, who died 1677.

Sandgate, Kent. R. J. Fynmore.

* Geo. Howard (uncle of Francis created Earl of Effingham) married Anne daughter of Thomas Kidder Esq. of Lewes. This was probably Thomas, citizen and Merchant Taylor of London, who died 1656 and had a son Edward. He was son of Richard Kidder of Lewes, who was living 1653 and married Mary sister of Rebecca Elphick, widow. A full account of the family of Kidder is in Sussex Archæological Collections (ix. 125-38). A branch settled in America.

† Wm. Lane of Southover, Lewes, gent. (whose representative is Henry Charles Lane, Esq. of Westmeston, Sussex) died 1687, and in his will mentions his kinsmen Edward Lane of Tooley St. Southwark and Sir Richard Lane of Northamptonshire. Rebecca Elphick of Lewes, widow, in her will, dated 1632, mentions her sister's husband Richard Kidder and his three sons, her cousin Ellen Holmwood, and her cousin Susan Lane, and her son William.

‡ John Cornwell of Marden mar. Bridget, daughter of Wm. Fowle of Riverhill (Vis. of Sussex, 1634).

Tho. C., Tho. C. jun., Mathew C. and Francis C. were Parliamentarians 164—. Francis Cornwell of Marden was Overseer of the will of John Jeffry of Sevenoaks 1680.—Cornwell was presented Rector of Speldhurst 1720. Jeremiah C. and Francis C. voted at the Election for Kent in respect of freeholds in Marden, 1790.

Francis Cornwell, M.A., of Emanuel Coll. Camb. was Minister of Orpington and of Marden; was imprisoned 1644, and afterwards became a Nonconformist [Query, was he Vicar of Horton Kirby 1627?]. His son succeeded him as Nonconformist Pastor (Neal's 'History of the Puritans,' v. 193).

HIBBERT.

The following pedigree is constructed from entries in the parish registers of Preston-in-Holderness, co. York:—

Rev. Henry Hibbert, Vicar of Preston-cum-Hedon, 1624, bur. 22 Jan., $165\frac{8}{9}$ (see Poulson's Holderness, ii. 185.) = Barbara . . . . . bur. 10 Dec., 1666.

- Henry Hibbert, bap. 21 Nov., 1626, bur. 4 June, 1672. = Katherine, dau. of John Burrill (or Burrell) of Preston: bap. 27 May, 1637, mar. 10 Feb., $165\frac{8}{9}$; bur. 14 April, 1680.
  - Henry Hibbert, bap. 2 buried 10 July, 1660.
  - Henry Hibbert, bap. 14 Oct. 1661, bur. 18 Aug. 1665.
  - Frances Hibbert, bap. 18 Jan. $166\frac{3}{4}$ bur. 20 June, 1665.
  - Anne Hibbert, bap. 18 Jan. $166\frac{3}{4}$ bur. 27 Jan. $166\frac{3}{4}$
  - John Hibbert, bap. 28 Jan. $166\frac{5}{6}$
  - Mary Hibbert, bap. 28 May 1668 bur. 6 Oct. 1679
  - Barbara Hibbert, bap. 3 Sept. 1670. bur. 20 Dec. 1673
  - Henry Hibbert, bap. 20 Jan. $167\frac{2}{3}$ bur. 17 March, $167\frac{2}{8}\frac{9}{0}$.
- John Hibbert, bap. . . . 1627.
- Grissell Hibbert, bap. . . . 1633, bur. 26 May, 1668.
- Francis Hibbert, bap. 14 Mar., $163\frac{6}{7}$, bur. 14 Mar., $168\frac{2}{3}$, in the chancel of Preston Church.

I am unable to appropriate the following entries:—

$167\frac{0}{1}$. ffrances Hybbert was buried January 16.
1682. September 8. Elizabeth Hybbert was Buryed, [the affidavit book adds "in y^e^ School House," i.e., the vestry, I believe.]
1693. No. 18. Buryed then John Hibbart.

The Rev. Henry Hibbert, whose name stands at the head of this pedigree, must not be confounded with another Rev. Henry Hibbert, his contemporary and neighbour, of whom I subjoin a few particulars. Henry Hibbert, native of Cheshire, entered Brazen. Coll. Oxon. 1618, aged 18; B.A. 27 June, 1622; minister of Settrington (Hadley says Patrington) co. York; afterwards of Holy Trinity, Hull (Hessle-cum-Hull), 1651, whence he was ejected 1660; of Allhallows-the-less, London, 1662 (S. Joh. Camb. B.D. per lit. reg. 1664, D.D. 1665); preb. of Chamberlanes Wode, 12 Jan., $166\frac{8}{9}$.; and lastly, minister of S. Olave, Old Jewry, where he was buried 1678; admon. 18 Dec., 1678, to his 2 dau^rs^ Hannah and Mary. He printed some sermons, Waters of Marah, Lond., 1654, Regina Dierum, Lond., 1661, and Syntagma Theologicum; or, . . . Body of Divinity, Lond., 1662, fol., with his portrait by Logan. On the title-page of this last he is described as "late Pastor of Trinity-Church in Kingston-upon-Hull, and now at St. Alhallowes the Less, London," which dispels any doubt that might arise from Ant. à-Wood's cautious statement. My authorities for this concise biography are Ant. à-Wood's Athen. Oxon. (Bliss) iii., 1178; Ibid., Fasti Oxon., i. 405., iii. 971; Thompson's ed. of Marvell's Works, 1776, i. 21; Hadley's Hist. of Hull, 1788, pp. 220, 221, 763, 765, 791; Tickell's Hist. of Hull, 1798, pp. 504, 505, 518, 804, 879; and Graduati Cantab., 1787, p. 192. I shall be glad to know more of both, and whether they are related to each other. There is no monumental inscription bearing the name Hibbert at Preston or Hull.

Dr. "Ryves" (mentioned in page 199), who married James Etheredge and Mary Mawhood in 1657, was afterwards collated to the living of Waltham Abbey. In 1662 his name occurs in the Register. He died, and was buried in Waltham Abbey Feb. 29, 1671. Dr. Thomas Reeves published several sermons entitled "God's Plea for Ninevah" (printed by William Wilson for Thomas Reeve, living at the Bunch of Grapes in Chancery Lane, near Lincoln's Inne). This volume is now rather scarce; I have an imperfect copy. I have another volume of Sermons entitled "England's Beauty in seeing King Charles the Second Restored to Majesty, preached by Tho. Reeve, D.D., in the parish Church of Waltham Abbey, in the County of Essex" (1661). A few other sermons were also published by him. The Winspears were very numerous in Waltham Abbey during the 17th and 18th centuries. Also the Greens. Dr. Fuller was at Waltham Abbey. His name occurs in the Parish Register for the first time July, 1654. Newcourt states that he was collated to the living in 1640.

THE KILLIGREW BIBLE.

The following entries are copied from an old Bible which formerly belonged to a man far more famed for his wit than he ever would have been for the correctness of his orthography, which is even below the by no means high level of his generation. They are interesting, not only in themselves, but in their association with a once distinguished but now extinct family :—

I was maried to Mada' Charlot de Hesse of Persaell in the Hayeg the 28 of January 1655 nue stiell. Thomas Killigrew.

I was born in Loth berrey in London Febbruarey the 7 1611 being a friday at 3 in the morning. died in Oct. 1682.

My soenne Charels Killigrew was boren in Masberike the 29 of Dessember being Wensday Anno Do. 1655 at 3 ocloake and quarter in the morning, stillo Nova. Thomas Killigrew.

I was maried to my First wife M^{s} Cissillia Croftes of Saxsame in Suffoke at Otlands apone Sent Peiteres day being the 29 of Juene 1636.

Tho. Killigrew.

My suenne Harrey Killigrew was borrne apoen Esterday folloing being the 9 of Aprill and Sunday 1637. Tho. Killigrew.

My wife diede apoen Nue yeares day after being the 1 of Januarey and apone a Monday 16$\frac{37}{38}$ nue stiell in London and lies berried in Westminster Abbey.

Tho. Killigrew.

My suen Thomas Killigrew was boren in Masluke Febbruarey 1657.

My mother Charlotte de Hesse wife of Thomas Killigrew was born the 16th of July 1629.

These entries are the work of two hands. First, Thomas Killigrew, the celebrated wit of Charles the Second's Court. Second, one of his sons—which, does not appear—who added the date of his father's death, and that of his mother's birth. The Killigrews were one of the most ancient and honourable families of Cornwall. The elder house is now represented by the Earl of Kimberley; the younger, to which Thomas Killigrew belonged, is extinct. Some little time since a curious MS. history of the family, written by Martin Lister, who took the name of Killigrew on his marriage with Ann, daughter of the last Sir Peter Killigrew, of Arwenack, fell into my hands, and the more important portions were prepared by me for publication in the "Journal of the Royal Institution of Cornwall." From that memoir I make a few notes in illustration of these entries:—The Killigrews, who, according to Martin, received their arms—"y^{e} spread eagle with the border of Cornwall"—from Richard, Duke of Cornwall and King of the Romans, dwelt at Killigrew until the reign of Henry VIII., when they moved their residence to Arwenack on the shores of Falmouth harbour, the heiress of which they had married. Here they lived in good repute and dignity until, by extravagance and other untoward circumstances, their fortunes became reduced. The family was at the zenith of its prosperity from the reign of Henry VIII. to far on in that of Elizabeth, having "y^{e} finest and most costly" house in the county; being Captains of Pendennis Castle, erected hard by, and "having an estate of £6,000 a year." Sir John Killigrew, second governor of Pendennis Castle, who died 26th Elizabeth, placed two of his sons, Thomas and Simon, at Court, where they were held in great esteem by the Queen, acquired a great estate, and thus founded the younger branch.

Sir John Killigrew, elder brother of Thomas and Simon, married into the Monck family, and wasted his affairs by gaming. His eldest son, the last Sir John, made an unfortunate marriage, and obtained a divorce. When he died the £6,000 a year had dwindled to £80. He was succeeded by his next brother Sir Peter Killigrew; who was the founder of Falmouth, and obtained the charter of incorporation for that then infant town, which is built upon the Arwenack Manor. To him again succeeded his son, also Sir Peter, with whom the male line of the elder branch ended. He set himself to work to carry out his father's projects at Falmouth, but was harassed with troubles on every side. Costly lawsuits were fomented against him in the rising town; he laid out large sums upon a public Quay, which did not answer expectation; his only surviving son George was killed in a tavern brawl, leaving but a daughter; his daughter Frances was compelled to leave her husband, the only issue of the marriage being one daughter, Mary; and the marriage of his other daughter Ann to Martin Killigrew (Lister), though happy, was barren. "Thus you see an end of a Family in y^e^ elder house ancient and honorable and as unfortunate." The Earl of Kimberley inherits the property through Mary Killigrew, daughter of Frances.

Whilst the elder branch of the family was sinking, the younger continued to rise. Sir Robert Killigrew, Chamberlain to Queen Henrietta, was at its head, and left his great possessions to his eldest son Sir William Killigrew. "All Lothbury in the City was their town house; Kineton Park, near Hampton Court, their country seat; the Manor of Kirton in Devon was theirs, with several lands in y^e^ East part of Cornwall, also a large estate in Lincolnshire." All this, with £30,000 more, the portions of his two wives, Sir William got through before he died. He had several brothers and sisters, the former "making great figures in the world," and the latter "famed for their wit and beauty, and from thence preferred in marriage." These sons made "their way at Court by their wit, w^ch^ for want of prudence was y^e^ ruin of y^e^ second branch of this family," with the single exception of Dr. Killigrew, Master of the Savoy. The eldest of them, and likewise the most famous, was Thomas, the owner of the Bible, and the writer of the principal entries above quoted. Many stories are told of him; one of the most telling being certainly his happy sarcasm upon Louis Quatorze, when that monarch shewed him a picture of our Lord on the cross, hung between two portraits, one of the Pope, and the other of himself. Killigrew's remark was that he had often heard that Christ was crucified between two thieves, but that he had never known who the latter were before. Two grandsons and a great grandson of Thomas Killigrew were the last of the younger branch when Martin Killigrew wrote his "Memoir" (1738), and they between them, according to him, had only £500 a year in estate, which had come through a marriage.

The Rev. Sam. Reynolds, father of Sir Joshua Reynolds, married Theophila, daughter of a Rev. Mr. Potter, Rector of some parish in the North of Devon. Can any one inform me of what parish he was Rector, and whether he was connected with the Visitation Family?

F. T. COLBY.

FOSTER.—I shall be glad of any information concerning a family by name Foster, who for the last 150 years have lived in the southern district of the West Riding of Yorkshire. Their arms are—Sa., 3 pheons or.

The present representative has in his possession the following portraits:—

Two Miss Phipps's.
Sir Edward and Sir Robert Walpole.
Horatio and Robert Lords Walpole.
The first Lord Montford.
William, 2nd Duke of Portland.
Honble. Thomas Townshend, 2nd son of Charles, Viscount Townshend; and Lord Charles Cavendish.

I have traced out the connection with the Phipps's, but have failed as yet in the others.

COTTERELL FAMILY.

Communicated by J. Franklin Fuller, Esq., F.S.A., and extracted from the Diocesan Library, Cashel, by John Davis White, Esq.

In a copy of Mathew's Bible, which is Tyndale's translation, printed in 1549, preserved in the Diocesan Library, Cashel, there is a fly leaf upon which a family register was written, 200 years ago. In the same handwriting as the entries is 'In the name of God and Jesus Christ, this is John Cotterells Booke, In the 22nd day of October and in the XXXIInd (?) yeare of King James.'

1671. June ye fift munday aboute one of ye clocke att noune, my first borne son came in to ye world, Borne att Cort m Sherry* in ye Kingdom of Ireland. 1671, named James.

Aprell ye 9 1673. aboute seaven a clocke att night, being Thuresday, my second child being a dagter was borne att ye sd Cort m sherry, called Mary.

Aprell ye 4 1674. Satterday in ye morning some littel time before ye sun was up, my third child was borne att ye sd Cort m Sherry, named hellen.

Aprell ye 6 1675. my dagter hellen died & was buried friday ye 8th at Kilnegross.

May ye 11 1675. Tuesday aboute two of ye clocke in ye morning my forth child was borne at Bandon, named Robert.

Jan. ye 5 77. Satterday, aboute eleaven a clock att night my fift child was borne att Bandon, a daghter named Elizabeth.

July ye 30 1679. Thuresday aboute ten a cloke in ye fforenoune my sixt child was borne in to ye world att Bandon, named Thomas.

July ye 13 1681. Weddenesday, aboute two a cloke m d my seaventh child was borne att Bandon named Mara.

June ye 30 1683. Satterday twenty minutes past seaven in the morning my eight child was borne att Bishops hall in ye parrish of Stepney London, named Ichabod.

This ends the leaf; it would seem however not to end the record, for on another leaf is 'Henry Cotterel the tenth of these names,' and 'Joseph Cotterells Booke.' Probably Henry was the tenth child of John, and Joseph son to Henry.

NOTES RELATING TO THE ELMY AND FREEMAN FAMILY.

Copied from a Bible, Genevan Version, date circa 1600, formerly in the possession of the Venerable Archdeacon Rose.†

John Freeman, His Book, the 20th July, 1734.

Henry Elmy, my dear Grandfather, departed this Life September 19th, 1729, at Rickinghall Supr, and was Buried there in the Chancel between his two Last Loving Wives, aged 84.

* The Eliots of Newland Hall, in the Parish of Roxwell, Essex (from whom some have asserted that John Eliot, the celebrated "Apostle to the Indians," sprang), held the manors of Wickham, Margareting, and Newland Hall in the county of Essex, together with the rectory of Norton Mandeville. In 1577, Queen Elizabeth let the Manor of Farnham to Edward Eliot, Esq., above named, prior to which she granted him a confirmation of free warren. John Eliot, the father of this Edward, resided at Bishop Stortford temp. Hen. VIII., where he died, and was buried with his brother, George Eliot. Salmon informs us that "An old stone in the chancel had lately this inscription: 'Here under this stone lieth buried in the Mercies of God the Bodies of George Elyot and John Elyot, Gentlemen, being two Brothers; which George deceased the 6 of Sept. 1551. The said John Oct. 20, 1557. Whose Death have you in Remembrance, calling to God for Mercy.'"

Edward Eliot of Newland Hall died at Writtle in this county, where he was interred. A monumental brass records the following:—

"Neere unto this place resteth in peace the body of Edward Eliott, late of Newland, in the countye of Essex, Esq., son of John Eliott of Stortford, in the countye of Hertford. He tooke wyfe Jane, one of the daughters of James Gedge, son and heire of Margaret Gedge, one of the daughters and heire of Thomas Barfield, of Shenfield; by whom he had yssue 4 sonnes and 6 daughters. They lived together in married estate 33 yeres, and he decesed the 22 day of Decemb. in the yere of our Lorde 1595. Ætatis suæ 60."

I give unto Mr. Clement Stoner of Bowchurch yard in London and to his wife two mourning rings.

All the rest and residue to my loving Wife Susan whom I constitute sole executrix and my desire is that neither my Executrix nor legatees may be too strict with those from whom I have rent charges in taking forfeiture for a short delay of payments as I have never in my life practised ill to any.

In Witness &c. &c. July 31, 1657.

Will. Disney, }
John Templer. } This will is confirmed by mee Thomas Sclater.

* Bradley Hall was anciently the seat of the Molyneux family of Sephton, from whom it passed to Rev. Adam Rigby, rector of Eccleston, whose great nephew is the Alexander Rigby above named, and who was the eldest surviving son of Baron Alexander Rigby of Middleton in Goosnargh in Lancashire. Both the father and son served in the Parliamentary Army, the former as Colonel and the latter as Lieut-Colonel. By the deed above named Alex. Rigby sold Bradley Hall for 99 years to Sir Thomas Sclater, subject to a peppercorne rent; and on 26 May, 1658, Sir T. Sclater leased the premises to Alexander Rigby at an annual rental of £100. In 1663, the rents not being paid, Sir T. Sclater re-entered and took possession, and ultimately resold the estate. An account of the Rigby family, with pedigree and portrait of Baron Rigby, will be found in 'History of Goosnargh,' p. 141, et seq.

Frederick J. Chester, of Clapham Common, and now of Poyle.

= Charlotte Ellen, da. of . . . .

1. The Woodroffes of Poyle, Surrey, claimed descent from the Woodroffes of Wolley, Yorkshire; probably from James, or John Woodroffe, 2nd son of Sir Richard W. by Beatrix, daughter of Thomas Fitzwilliam, of Mabblethorpe, co. Lincoln. [See Visitation of Devon. Harl. MSS. 1163–1164, publ. by Harleian Society, p. 315.] According to Rev. Joseph Hunter, the family suddenly disappeared from Yorkshire in 1599, when Francis Woodroffe obtained a license, 1 Sept. 41 Eliz., to sell Wolley and his other estates to Michael Wentworth, with whose family the Woodroffes were connected by marriage. Francis Woodroffe's brother Richard married Lady Elizabeth Percy, daughter and coheir of the attainted 7th Earl of Northumberland, and their descendants, if living, are probably the eldest coheirs to the Baronies of Percy and Poynings.

2. The Manor of Poyle in the parish of Seale, near Farnham, belonged originally to the Gaynsfords of Crowhurst.

3. Sir John and Sir Thomas White were of different families, but there were intermarriages by which they were connected.

3A. Alvington no longer belongs to the Woodroffes, but the descendants of Sir Robert W. are still settled in the neighbourhood—at Woolaston, Gloucestershire.

4. See Pedigree of Sheffield in Visitation of Rutland, Harleian Society's Publ. vol. iii.

5. The Duncombes, probably descended from the De Huntercombes of Burnham, are an old Buckinghamshire family who held lands at Ivinghoe, 12 Henry VIII. (1521) till 1810. The Duncombes of Surrey (Extinct Baronets) were descended from Roger D., third son of William Duncombe of Ivinghoe, co. Bucks (died 1576), by Mary, daughter and coheir of Richard Reynes, of Clifton Reynes, co. Bucks; from John Duncombe, of Barley End, Ivinghoe (died 1594), the brother of the above William, descended Francis Harold Duncombe, who married Mary Theresa Woodroffe in 1827; and through a female, the Duncombes, of Duncombe Park, Yorkshire (Earl of Feversham).

6. "This Order of Knighthood, projected by Charles II. on his restoration to perpetuate the loyalty of his faithful adherents, was wisely abandoned, under the apprehension that it might perpetuate likewise dissensions which were better consigned to oblivion."

7. By her first husband John Glynne, Mrs. Woodroffe was ancestress of Catherine Tylney Long, the great heiress, who married Wm. Wellesley Pole, 4th Earl of Mornington.

8. The Billinghursts appear to have come from Normandy, where the family of Billeheust were "Seigneurs du Manvyr, d' Argenton, etc., portant pour armes d'azur un chevron d'argent, accompagné de trois roses de même." The arms of the family in England were:—Vert, on a fesse arg., between two bills saltireways in chief, and another erect in base of the last, a human heart between two roses gu. barbed ppr. seeded or. The Billinghursts were settled in Surrey at an early period, for by a deed dated 29 Hen. VI., William Byllinghurst appears to have held lands at Shalford, Surrey, in 1450.

9. By his first wife, Gen. Maitland was the father of the 11th and present Earl of Lauderdale.

10. George Bellas was a Registrar in Doctors' Commons, and his surly and tyrannical conduct in his own family is dwelt upon in an account of his strange character in Beloe's "Sexagenarian," vol. ii., pp. 27, 28. Another of his daughters married the Rev. Edward Smedley, grandfather to the late distinguished novelist Francis Edward Smedley, who wrote under the name of Frank Fairleigh. His grandson was the well-known Geographer and Geologist, George Bellas Greenough, who died 1855, for some years President of the Royal Geographical Society.

11. The Hawkins were of Nash Court, Boughton-under-Blean, Kent, from 4 Richard II. (1380) to 1864, when the estate was sold by the children of the four daughters and coheirs of Thomas Hawkins, of Nash, who died 23 Sept., 1800. The four daughters were: 1. Bridget, married to Henry Roper-Curzon, 14th Lord Teynham; 2. Mary, married to Sir Edward Knatchbull, Bart.; 3. Anne, married to Colonel Woodroffe; 4. Eleanor, married to Henry Michael Goold, brother to Sir George Goold, Bart. (See Hasted, Hist. of Kent, vol. iii., p. 4.)

11A. Robert Billinghurst, who was not born until after the date of George Woodroffe's will, 1778, and consequently was not in the entail, married Frances Agrelo, a Spanish lady, 9 Feb. 1810, and left three sons and two daughters. They have had many children, who are now settled at Buenos Ayres, Corrientes, etc., in the Argentine Republic, some of them holding important public positions.

12. The Colthursts, originally from England, settled in Ireland in 1641. Major Colthurst's grandfather was brother to Sir John Conway Colthurst, created a Baronet in 1744.

13. The Wainmans, formerly of Fringeford and Thame Park, co. Oxford, settled at Draughton in Craven, Yorkshire, in 1610, and obtained Carrhead by marriage with Mary, eldest daughter and coheir of Edmund Laycocke, of Laycocke and Carrhead.

Abstract of the Will of George Woodroffe, of Poyle.

Abstract of the will of George Woodroffe, of Poyle, who died 30 Nov., 1779. Commends his soul to the Almighty, and desires that his body may be interred by daylight within the rails of the Altar in the Chancel of the Church of Seal, as near to his late two wives as may be. Leaves his Manors and Estates in the parishes of Seal, Ash, Worplesdon and Alford in Surrey or elsewhere to Nicholas Nicholas, of Argyle Buildings, St. James, Westminster, Esquire, and James Batson, of Binfield, Berks, upon Trust, after payment to his nephew the Rev. William Billinghurst, late of Mitchenhall, Godalming, now of Seale, Clerk, during his life of an annual sum of £200, to the use of his great-nephew William Billinghurst, the younger, eldest son of the Rev. Wm. Billinghurst, and his heirs male. In default of such issue the estates to go to his great-nephew George Billinghurst, 2nd son of the Rev. Wm. Billinghurst, and his heirs male; and in default of such issue to his great-nephew Henry Chester, the younger, son of Henry and Hetty Chester, late of Old Basing, Hants, but now of West Lavington, Wilts, and his heirs male; and in default of such issue to his own right heirs for ever. Gives power to William Billinghurst, the younger, and the several other persons to whom he has devised his estates for life, to charge them with a jointure for any woman they may marry, but such annuity not to exceed £100 for every £1000, which they shall respectively receive in marriage, and not to exceed in the whole £400, and so as no more than one such jointure be payable at one time. He directs that every person who shall become entitled to his real estate shall on coming into possession thereof assume the name and Arms of Woodroffe only. He devises the Manor and impropriate Rectory and great Tithes of Farnham, Surrey, to his nephew William Billinghurst, the Elder, and to his niece Ann Walker, wife of Rev. Thomas Walker of Tilehurst, Berks, Clerk, as tenants in common, charging the same with the payment of an annuity of £200 for his sister Hester Caverley, widow. He gives his furniture, plate, books, pictures, linen, china, etc., to his great-nephew William Billinghurst, giving authority to the Trustees to let the Mansion House of Poyle ready furnished until the said W. Billinghurst, the younger, shall attain 21 years; and to pay £300, as the sum at which he values his plate, out of the rents of his real estate in augmentation of his personal estate; and to apply such sum as they think proper towards the maintenance and education of the said Wm. Billinghurst during his minority. He directs that his debts, funeral expenses, and legacies be paid out of his personal estate: refers to a suit then depending between the Vicar of Farnham and himself relative to the Tithes of Hops, and gives to his Executors £1000 to carry on and defend that suit. Gives to the son and two daughters of Henry and Hetty Chester £1000 each; to the second son and two daughters then living of the Rev. Wm Billinghurst £1000 each; to the two daughters then living of his niece Emma Barker, by her former husband Richard Chitty, £1000 each; to Catherine,* daughter of Charles Baldwin, of Aqualate, Staffordshire, Esquire, £1000; to Rev. Thomas Heath, Rector of Lavant, Sussex, £1000; to the Rev. George Chatfield† 100 guineas; to his God-daughter Frances Newnham, of Ash, £50; to Mrs. Nicholas, wife of his Trustee, his set of Dresden China in his house in Hill Street, Berkeley Square; to his Executors, Thomas Walker (above named) and William Moore Newnham, £250 each; to the Poor of the Parish of Seal £10, of Ash £10, of Worplesdon £10, of Alford £10, of Farnham £10; to his servants Elizabeth Younge £20, Susan Newman £10, Thomas Turner £20, to the widow of his late servant John Challenger £10; to his Trustees £20 each for rings. All the rest of his personal estate he bequeaths to the son and two daughters of the above named Henry Chester by Hetty his wife, and the second son and two daughters of the said William Billinghurst the elder, and two daughters of the said Emma Barker, share and share alike. Appoints the Rev. Thomas Walker, and William Moore Newnham of Ash, Surgeon, his Executors. Signed by the said George Woodroffe the 3rd day of April, 18th George III., and in the year of our Lord 1778, in the presence of William Bray, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, and Henry Boulton and John William Davis, his Clerks.

Proved at London 15 December, 1779, by both Executors, to whom administration was granted.

* Edward Griffen, Esq., was capital seneschal of the borough of Stamford. In my extracts from the municipal records, which commence in 1461, is this entry sub anno 1547, that on the 17th September in that year Robert Lacye, who had been elected clerk of the peace, Ralph Harrope and John Ryder, the chamberlains, were sworn into office before "Edward Gryffyn, armigeri, capitali sen^l^ ib^m^ in castro Staumfordiæ." Weston, Northamptonshire, was the property of Edward Griffin, Esq., in the 2nd Ed. VI., to whom it was conveyed by Thomas Dynham, Esq.

† The Durants resided in the adjacent village of Barrowden, a pedigree of whom is given in the Visitation of Rutland (see vol. iii. Harl. Soc. Publications). Unfortunately the registers of Barrowden do not commence before 1604. In the north aisle of this church is a monument to this Rowland Durant, who died April 18, 1588. On the 15th March, 1552-3, he and John Allen, mercer, were elected by the burgesses of Stamford their representatives in parliament.

‡ Thomas Lord de la Warr, K.B. in the 8 Henry VII., being in France, constituted Reginald Conyers his auditor of all and singular the accounts of his receivers, bailiffs, and tenants, with an appointment of £10 as the salary of his office. In 15 Henry VII. a fine was levied of the manor of Wakerley and advowson of the church, between Sir William Conyers, knt., and Reginald Conyers, esq., and others, demandant, and Sir Tho. West and Elizabeth his wife. deforciants, to the use of the said Reginald Conyers. By his will, dated 2 April, 24 Hen. VII., he gives this manor of Wakerley and mises lands in Wakerley which were sometime Tho. West's, knt. Lord la Warr, to Francis his elder son, with remainder to John Conyers and the heirs of his body, with remainder to Dorothy, daughter of the said Reginald, and the heirs of her body; and if his said children died without issue, he gives his estate to the Abbat of Peterburgh and the Master of Fodringhay (Fotheringhay) College, to be sold by them. He died seised of these premises in the 6 Hen. VIII., and was succeeded by Francis, his son and heir. In the 3 & 4 of P. & M. succeeded Reginald Conyers his son, who in the year following levied a fine of this estate and left it at his death, 2 Eliz., to Francis his son and heir, a minor seven years of age. He died under age in the 15 Eliz., when the manor and advowson devolved to Lucy, his sister and sole heir, the wife of Edward Griffin, Esq. By the inquisition then taken they were certified to be held of the Crown in capite by the service of a fourth part of one knight's fee. (See Bridges' Northants, ii. 343.)

* The arms of the Hall family of Grantham are, arg. on a chevron engrailed, between three talbots' heads erased, sable, an estoile. Francis Hall, Esq., was Comptroller of Calais temp. Hen. VIII., and married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir John Wingfield, Knight, by Susan, widow of Reginald Earl of Kent, and daughter of Richard Bertie, Esq. As Robert Wingfield, of Upton, Esq., a member of the Letheringham branch of the family, who died in 1580, married Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Cecil, Esq., and sister of William Cecil, the Lord Treasurer, this accounts for the above-named Cecil Hall receiving that Christian name. Edmund Hall, of Gretford, co. Lincoln, Esq., fourth son of the Comptroller, was buried there 24 Nov. 1592. The old hall at Gretford, in which the family resided, still remains. Over the mantel-piece in the dining-room is some fine old oak carving; in one compartment is a half-length figure, intended, I am inclined to believe, as representing the Comptroller, as he wears a chain round his neck; in another compartment is a woolpack, and in the centre the following coats of arms: 1. a chevron engrailed between three talbots' heads erased; 2. nebulée on a chief three cross-crosslets; 3. a cross engrailed; 4. a cross cercelée; 5. quarterly 1 & 4, a lion rampant double queued: 2 & 3, fretty; 6 as 2; 7 as 1; 8. a lion rampant double queued; 9. a fess dancettée between three cross-crosslets; 10. ermine, between two bars three crescents.

† In my notes from the parish registers of North Luffenham, Rutland, are extracted the two following entries from the burials: "1674. The Lady Margaret Wale, the wife of Sir William Wale, bur. Nov, 27;" "1677. The Hon. Henry Noel, Esq., bur. Sept. 23."

‡ Sir Richard Cecil of Wakerley, Knight, so created by James I. at Woodstock 28th Aug, 1616, the second son of the first Earl of Exeter, was M.P. for the city of Westminster in the 32nd Eliz.; for Peterborough, 39th Eliz. and 1st James I.; and for the borough of Stamford in the 12th and 18th James I. The second time he was returned for Stamford is thus quaintly entered in the Corporation books: "1619. Dec. 19. At this halle the Right Honble Sir Richard Cecill, Knt. & John Wingfield, of Theckencoate, Esq., were chosen by the whole assembly to be burgesses for the said borough in the next p'liamt. to be holden at the famous cyty of Westminster to begin the sixteenth day of January next accordinge to a warrant sent by the high sheriff of the county of Lincoln openly read." At the same time the corporate body received a letter from the Earl of Exeter, wishing to be allowed to nominate the two members.

§ He was John Brooke, son and heir of Henry Brooke, youngest son of George, 6th Baron Cobham. He was created Baron Cobham 3 Jan. 1645 at Oxford, to him and the heirs of his body. Courthope says he died in 1651; Dugdale says he died s. p., but does not say where, He is mentioned in the will of Dame Ann Lyster, relict of Sir Matthew Lyster, Knt., dated 18 July 1657. She gave the residue of her property to her daughter Lady Frances, wife of John Lord Cobham. Administration of the effects of John, Lord Cobham was granted in the P. C. C. in 1659–60.

1673. The Honble. Thomas Wharton, Esq., eldest son of the Lord Wharton, married to Ann Lee, the younger daughter of Sir Henry Lee, Bart., September 16th.

* Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Giles third Lord Chandos. She married Sir John Kennedy, Kt. and died s. p.

† Probably William, the youngest brother of Giles, third Lord Chandos, who succeeded as fourth Lord Chundos.

‡ Sir Matthew Carew, Kt., the younger, of whom and of his father, Sir Matthew Carew, LL.D., notices occur in the Coll. Top. and Gen. v., 206, 372.

§ Lucy, eld. dau. of John Dutton of Sherborne, Esq., by his 1st wife, Eliz., dau. of Sir Henry Baynton, Kt. She was bapt. at Sherborne 9 April 1624, and married there 26 Nov., 1638, Thomas Pope, 2nd Earl of Downe, by whom she had an only dau. and heir, Elizabeth, who marr. 1st, Sir Francis Henry Lee of Ditchley, Bart., and had issue ; and 2nd, Robert Bertie, Earl of Lindsey.

‖ Charles, 3^{d} Earl of Rochester and Baron Wilmot of Adderbury in the peerage of England, and 4th Viscount Wilmot of Athlone in the peerage of Ireland. He ob. under age and unmarried 12 Nov., 1681, and was buried beside his father and grandfather at Spelsbury, in the vault of the Lees of Ditchley, on 7 December following. The date of his birth is not given either in Ant. à Wood's Athenæ Oxonien. or in Dugdale's MS. additions in the Bodleian copy of his Baronage.

¶ Eleanor Lee, eldest daughter and coheir of Sir Henry Lee, 3rd Bart of Ditchley, Co. Oxford. He was uterine brother of John Wilmot, Earl of Rochester, "the Poet and Wit," who resided at Adderbury. As both her parents died in 1659, when she was in her 2nd year, it is probable that she and her sister, Ann Lee, were brought up by their grandmother, the dowager Countess of Rochester. The connection between the Lees and the Wilmots is shewn in the accompanying form of pedigree.

 Ann Lee was bapt. the day of her mother's funeral, who was buried at Spelsbury, Co. Oxford, 24 July, 1659. She died at Adderbury 29 October, 1685, s. p., and was buried at Winchenden, Bucks, 10 November following. Her husband, Thos. Wharton, Esq., who married, secondly, Lucy Loftus, dau. of Adam, Lord Lisburne, succeeded his father in 1695 as 5th Baron Wharton ; and dying 12 April, 1715, was succeeded by his son Philip, who was created Duke of Wharton, and ob. 1731, s. p.

TABULAR PEDIGREE
OF
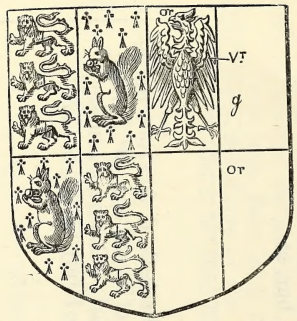
The Mervyn Family.

NOTE.—This Pedigree is based upon one compiled about 1799, by G. F. Beltz, Lancaster Herald (MS. Coll. Arm. A. ix., J.P. 9), being an elaboration of Vincent's Pedigree of the Mervyn family (MS. Coll. Arm., "Vin. Sussex 121," p. 392). Corrections in, and additions to, it have been made from original documents and records. It may be noted that Dallaway, in his 'History of Sussex' (vol. i. p. 212), has printed a pedigree of this branch of the Mervyn family, which is not only meagre and imperfect, but very erroneous.



Pakenham.

2nd wife.
Elizabeth, 3rd daughter and coheiress of Sr Edmund Pakenham, Knt. of Bramshot, co. Sussex. (Visit. Sussex, 1530.) She survived her husband, and is mentioned in his will (1550).

=Sr Edmund Mervyn, Knt, 2nd son of Walter Mervyn, of Fountel-Giffard, by his wife Elizabeth Mompesson. He was one of the Judges of the King's Bench (1540), and the grantee from the Crown of the demesnes of Durford Abbey, co. Sussex. Will dated 24 July, 1550; proved in P. C. C. 16 Nov. 1553.

1st wife.
=Eleanor, daughter of Thomas Welles. (Visit. Sussex, 1530.)

Windsor.

William Mervyn mentioned in his father's will (1550) as being then married, and having a son living.

Edmund Mervyn, Clerk. Appointed by his father one of the executors of his will (1550), in which he is described as "Parson of Bramshot," co. Sussex.

3. Edward.
4. Francis.
5. Nicholas. (Visit. 1530.)

Elizabeth.

Eleanor living 1550. (Visit. Sussex, 1530.)

EXTRACT FROM VISITATION OF SUSSEX.

The four Heralds' Visitations of the County of Sussex were:—

1. In 1530; taken by Benolte, Clarencieux (Ms. Coll. Arm. "D 13.")
2. In 1574; taken by Cooke, Clarencieux (Ms. Coll. Arm. "D 11.")
3. In 1633; taken by Philipot, Som'set Her. & Owen, York Her. (Ms. Coll. Arm. "C 29.")
4. In 1662; taken by S^r^ Edward Bysshe, Clarencieux (Ms. Coll. Arm. "D 16"),

I have, by the courtesy of Sir Albert Woods, Garter, examined the above records, and the only entry to be found in them relating to the Mervyn family is in the Visitation of 1530, as follows:—

"Edmonde Marvyne maryede furst Elyanor, dowghter vnto Thomas Wellys, and hath yssewe Willyam, Edmonde, Edwarde, Fraunceys, Nicholas, Elysabeth, Elyanor, and Augnes."

"The seconde wyffe Elysabeth, thyrde dowghter vnto Syr Edmonde Pay'nam, Knyght, and hath ysshewe Henrye and Jefferey."

COPIES OF FUNERAL CERTIFICATES.

JOHN EVATT. 1634. Betham's Irish Fun. Cert. Coll. Arm. vol. vi., No. 187.

JOHN EVATT, Dean of Elphine, born at . . . . . took to his 1st wife Joane, daughter of Roger Bager, of Knockviecar, in the county of Roscommon, by whom he had issue one son and one daughter, vizt. Edward the son and Edith the daughter, both as yet unmarried. The sd John took to his 2nd wife Blanch, daughter of Edward Mervin, of Pettersfield, in Hampshire, in England, by whom he had issue three sons and two daughters, vizt. Thomas eldest son; Philip 2nd son; Humphry 3rd son; Catherine eldest daughter; and Jane the youngest; all as yet unmaraied. The sd John departed this mortal life at Porlitan-caslane in the county of Leitrim, on Friday in Easter week, 1634, and was interred in the parish church of Kiltaghock in the sd county of Leitrim. The truth of the premisses is testified by the subscription of Humphry Reynolds, Esqre who hath returned this certificate into my office to be there recorded. Taken by me, Thomas Preston, Esqre Ulster King of Arms, the 9th of May, 1639. ("W. B." William Betham.)

EDMOND MERVIN. 1634. Ms. Coll. Arm. Fun. Cert. Ireland, p. 19.

CAPTAIN EDMOND MERVIN of Founthill, in the County Wilts, Esq., deceased the 14th of August, 1634, he had to wife [Mary] daughter of Sr Alexander Clifford, of London, Knt., by whom he had issue Clifford Mervin, and one daughter being in London; he was buried in St. John's Church, Dublin, ye 19th of August. WM. RYVES.

ELIZABETH MERVYN. 1640. Funeral entries Ulster's Office, Dublin. vol. ix., p. 42.

ELIZABETH, the daughter of Sr John Philipott† of Thaxton, [Thruxton,] in Hampshire in the Kingdome of England, Knight, wife of Captaine James Mervine, eldest sonne and heire apparent of Sr Henry Mervine, Knight, Admirall of the Narrow Seas, by whome she had noe issue. The said Elizabeth departed this mortall life upon Wednesday the 13th of May, 1640, and was interred in the parish church of St. Warborowes in Dublin upon the —— day of the same monneth. The truth of the premisses is testified by the subscription of Captaine James Mervin, whoe hath returned this certificat into my office to be there recorded. Taken by me, Thomas Preston, Esqr, Ulvester King of Armes, the 16th of May, 1640.

JAMES MERVYN. 1641. Betham's Irish Fun. Cert. Coll. Arm. vol. ix., p. 59.

CAPTAIN JAMES MERVIN, eldest son and heir apparent of Sir Henry Mervin, Knt, Admiral of the Narrow Seas. The said James took to wife Elizabeth, the daughter of Sir John Philpott, of Thruxton in Hampshire, in the Kingdom of England, Knt., by whom he hath no issue. The said Elizabeth departed this life upon Wednesday the 13th of May, 1640, and the said Captain James departed this life at Dublin upon Thursday the 10th of July, 1641, and is to be interred in St. Warborough's church in Dublin the 12th of the same month. The truth of the premisses is testified by the subscription of Captn Audley Mervin, second brother and heir of the defunct, who hath returned this certificate into my office, there to be recorded. Taken by me Thomas Preston, Esq., Ulster King of Arms, the 12th of June, 1641. AU. MERVIN.

* The Arms borne by Sir Henry Mervyn, who married Christian, the daughter of Lord Audley, differ altogether from those theretofore borne by the Mervyn family. Sir Henry adopted, as is shewn by his seal attached to an original letter from him to the Admiralty Commissioners, 13 November, 1636 (State Papers, Dom. Ser. Chas. I., vol. 335, No. 52), "Or, a chevron sable." The coat thus adopted appears to have been uniformly borne by Sir Henry's descendants who settled in Ireland; it is similar to the arms used by the family of Mirfyn of Kent and London.

† A pedigree of the Philipott family will be found in the Visitation of the County of Southampton, MS. Coll. Arms, "C 19," p. 16.

BODDINGTON OR BODINGTON GENEALOGY. — Can any of your correspondents give me any information—the fuller the more valued—as to what families the persons referred to below belonged, and as to their ancestors, marriages, descendants, etc. ? I shall be glad of as full particulars as possible, with dates.

15 Markham Square, London. R. S. BODDINGTON.

George Bo*dd*ington, who, about 1550, married Elizabeth, daughter of Thos Falconer of Covyngton Grange, Cubbington, Co. Warwick—her sister Agnes married .... Fermour.

William Bo*dd*ington, born 1580 at Brinklow, Co. Warwick, where he possessed a good estate, and died Dec. 1647. He married Katherine Townsend, who had a brother with some means, but what family of Townsend they belonged to I have failed to discover. She died May 1665, and was buried with her husband at Brinklow.

Anne Bo*dd*ington, baptized at Burbage, Co. Leicester, 14 July 1650.

John Bo*d*ington of Sidney College, Cambridge, Rector of Newton Blossomville, Co. Bucks, author of "The Mystical Solomon's Coronation and Espousals, 1662."

Robert Bo*d*ington, who died 1701, and whose widow remarried Alexander, son of Sir Charles Pitfield.

William Bo*d*ington, Cursitor, who died 25 November 1703, and was buried at Croydon. His mother also buried there, although stated to have been of Bracknell, Co. Berks.

Colonel James Bo*dd*ington, Muster Master of the City of London ; died December 1731, and had a son Henry.

James Bo*dd*ington, who died at Exeter, July 1758.

George Bo*dd*ington of Argyle Buildings, about 1770.

John Bo*dd*ington, who married Sarah, daughter of the Rev^{d} .... Oare of Maidstone, November 1772.

John Bo*dd*ington, Secretary to Board of Ordnance, about 1777.

John Bo*dd*ington, who possessed the Manor of Brown's Lingfield, Surrey, and whose daughter Harriet married, Feb. 1786, the Hon. Frederick Lumley, 5th son of 4th Earl of Scarborough.

.... Boddington=....

James Boddington Citizen & Clothworker of London ; died 27 Nov. 1747. = Ann .... (? surname) ; will proved 1767. See note at foot.

WILL OF MATTHIAS BROWN OF HORBLING, 1662.*

Matthias Brown of Horbling, in Lincolnshire, was one of those gentlemen "of good estate who had contributed in money to the cause of the Parliament, or had in person taken up arms against the King," and were therefore indicted at Grantham for High Treason at the Easter Sessions, 1643, by Sir John Brookes and Sir Peregrine Bertie, His Majesty's Commissioners for Lincolnshire.

The family of Brown have been settled at Horbling from a very remote period, and are still Lords of that Manor. They lie buried in a chapel in Horbling Church, which is called Brown's Chapel, and contains many monumental inscriptions, amongst which are the following on two flat stones:—

Matthias Brown, Gent., died June 1662.
Frances, late wife of Matthias Brown, Gent., died 2 March 1652.

Edward Brown, the grandson and heir of Matthias Brown the Testator, has a monument on the wall of the same chapel with this inscription:—

Mr. Edward Brown died 27 March, 1692, aged 49. He married Philippa, daughter of Mr. Yorke of Leesingham.

* Communicated by R. E. Chester Waters, Esq., of Upton Park, Dorset.

Abstract of the Will of Matthias Brown, of Horbling, from the Registry of the Bishop of Lincoln.

In the name of God, Amen. I, Matthias Brown of Horbling, in the County of Lincoln, Gent., make this my last will & testament. I commend my soul unto the hands of God my Maker, through whose mercy and the merits of his blessed Son my Saviour, I hope for the eternal salvation thereof, & my body I leave the interment thereof to the discretion of my Executors hereinafter named.

As to my real estate not already settled amongst my children & grandchildren, I give & bequeath unto my son Nathaniel Brown & his heirs for ever all that cottage & its appurt. in Horbling now in the tenure of John Benson the younger, laborer, & all that other cottage in Horbling now in the tenure of W^{m} Foster, laborer; all that close of pasture in Horbling containing by estimation 3 acres & a half abutting on the field there called East Field on the west & south, & upon certain closes to the west & north called the Grange Closes; and all that land arable within an inclosed wong called the Hazel Wong, with the kill thereunto adjoining, which were by me purchased of Vincent Randyll, Esq., together with the Commons & Common pasture thereunto belonging.

And as for all that messuage & tenements in Horbling called Poole's Farm, together with a toftstead & a piece of pasture ground thereunto belonging, & a kill-house thereupon to the said messuage adjoining, and also one cottage & tenement & appurts. having the common highway upon the west & the land late Greggs on the east, all which lieth in Horbling & are now or were late in the tenure of Rich^{d} Runton & Thomas Wright, with the commons and common pasture thereunto belonging; and, all that messuage with the lands, rents, & commons & common pasture, which I late purchased of W^{m} Andersbie, Gent., lying within the fields of Donington, Quadring, & Swineshead, in the parts of Holland, co. Lincoln, I give and bequeath unto my son Edward Brown, & unto the heirs of his body lawfully begotten, & in default of such heirs the same shall remain unto my grandson Edw^{d} Brown & his heirs for ever.

And as for my lands in Pickworth co. Lincoln, I give them unto my grandchild Sam^{l} Brown & his heirs for ever.

And as for all other of my lands & heredits. not before given, I will that they descend to Edward Brown my grandson & his heirs for ever, nevertheless charged with the sum of £150 to my grandchild Mary Brown at 21, or the day of her marriage; & also charged with the sum of £600 to my two daughters Bridget & Elizabeth, each at 21, or on the day of their marriage, & to each of them £20 per annum during the said time towards their maintenance, out of my said lands given to my grandson Edward Brown, in case my son Matthias Brown be then living & not otherwise; also I will that the profits of my said lands given to my grandson Edward Brown shall for the first 2 half years after my decease be with my Executors for the payment of my several charges.

And as for the houses & lands, which by my deed I have given to my son Nathaniel Brown and Frances Brown his wife & their heirs, with remainder to my heirs for ever, I will, if my said son Nathaniel Brown shall have no issue by the said Frances, that after the death of both of them the same shall remain to the heirs of my said son Nathaniel for ever.

And as for my personal estate, I do hereby thus dispose of the same,—I give unto the poor of Horbling £5 to be distributed amongst them by my Executors at their disposition. I give unto Mr. James Morton, Preacher of the Gospel at Billingborough £5, to be paid within one year after my decease. I give unto Bridgett my dear wife £10, to be paid within 3 months after my decease. I give my s^{d} wife & my s^{d} two daus. Bridget & Elizabeth, all the household stuff & plate that was hers at the time of our inter-marriage, that remains & is not worn out, with that she hath made since, equally to be divided amongst them, my said wife to have the usage of them until my daughters shall marry or accomplish their several ages of 21. I give unto my s[d] wife my best Bible. I give unto Matthias Brown my s[d] son £10 to buy a gelding, if he shall live to the age of 15, to be paid to him or his guardian for his use. I give unto my two daus. Bridget & Elizabeth £200 to be paid unto my brother their uncle Thomas Randes of Highcombe, or to my nephew Edward Brown of Stamford, Clerk, or to the guardian or guardians of my s[d] daughters, to be put forth for their maintenance, within two years after my decease, and £200 more within two years after, in case they shall so long live, & if either of them die, then my Executors shall pay but £300 to the survivor & £100 to my son Matthias when he shall be 21.

And whereas there is a proviso in the jointure I made unto my wife for the payment of £1000 to my daughter or daughters, by me in my life time, or by my heirs or assigns after my death, in case I die without issue male by my said wife, or that issue male die without issue male, as in the said jointure more fully & plainly appears, then the £400, household stuff, plate, etc., before given to my two daus. shall not be accounted any part of the said £1000. My wife shall have her liberty to continue in my new dwelling house, or in so much thereof as may be for her convenience, 12 months after my decease, & also to have use of the yards & gardens for her convenience for the said time for herself & her friends as they shall have occasion to come to visit her.

I give unto my cousin Nathaniel Brown son of my said brother Edward Brown the sum of £20 to be paid unto his father till such year as he shall appoint for his age, within 3 years after my decease. I give unto my said son Edward Brown £100 when 21, in lieu of the engagements I made to his mother. I give to Edward Brown my son all that plate & household stuff & apparel that is now left & unworn out that was his said mothers. I give to my cousin Robert Bryan & to my cousin Esther Bryan each £5. I give unto my cousin Eliz[th] Lawson & my cousin Esther Gibbon each 10s., & to my daughters-in-law Mary Toller and Frances Brown 10s. a piece; to my two nephews John & Edward Brown each 10s.; to each servant 10s.; to my shepherd W[m] Forman 10s.

The residue of all personalty to my son Nathaniel Brown & my s[d] grandson Edward Brown, for the payment of my debts, & I make them my joint Executors. In case of any difference among my children & grandchildren & my Executors it shall be determined by my nephew Edward Brown, whom I have made acquainted with my mind.

In witness whereof I have set my hand & seal this 29[th] day of April, 1662.

Proved at Lincoln, 29[th] of August, 1662.

† "The Westbys were originally from Yorkshire, but had a settlement in Lancashire prior to the Conquest, and are of Saxon descent. On the general survey, the township and lands of Westby are distinctly set forth as then existing in the hundred of Amounderness, in the north-western part of Lancashire. All these lands were once held under the great Saxon chief Tosti, the brother of Harold; afterwards by Roger de Poictou, the Norman, and are now (1846) in the possession of J. Clifton, Esq., of Lytham. The Westbys have, at various periods, held lands at Mowbreck, near Kirkham, Bourn in Poulton, Much Urswick in Furness, in Alston, Balderston Thorton, Thornton Stanoe, and Great and Little Eccleston, co. Lancaster, and at Westby, near Gisbourn, in Yorkshire; but they (the Lancashire branch) have been deprived of the greater portion of these broad and fertile domains by religious persecutions, and for their active zeal in support of the ill-fated house of Stuart."

The names of the following members of the family who were living antecedent to 1584, and whose existence, on reliable authority, there can be no doubt of, do not appear in the pedigree of Westby of Ravenfield in the Visitation of Yorkshire of that year (vide 'Miscel. Gen. et Her.,' Quarterly Series, vol. ii., p. 217):—

Gilbert Westbye, viv. temp. Henry III., High Sheriff co. Lanc. for 12 years, 1233-46.

Thomas Westeby of co. York, viv. ante 1328. "July, A.D. 1328, a certificate was returned to the Dean and Chapter, that the Chapel yard of Haxby" (co. York) "wanted its dedication; and the Jury said, that it would be no prejudice to the Prebendaries of Strensall" (co. York) "and Driffield," (co. York) "or to any other church, to grant right of sepulture thereunto; for it was cause of scandal, and a fact detestable, to have the corpses of the dead casually lost, as they were carried on the way to be buried, by reason of the very great distance and badness of ways, &c., as the case once actually happened, by the body of Thomas Westeby, which, as they were carrying to Strensall Church to be buried, fell into the river Foss," etc., etc.—Vide George Lawton's "Collect. Rer. Eccles. de Diœc. Ebor.," pp. 461-2.

William de Westeby, viv. temp. Edw. III., Under-Sheriff co. Lanc. 1344.

Thomas Westeby of Firsby, co. York, who with John Vavasor of "Denygby," co. York, by deed dated 2 Henry IV., gave lands in "Conesburgh" to Agnes formerly w. of Richard Glomar of "Denygby," with remainder to William and John her sons; a witness to this deed is John Wessy.

William Westbe and Matilda his w., viv. ante 1486, as appears from the following inscription on a memorial brass in the church of St. Mary's-Bishophill-the-Elder, in the city of York:—

"✣ Hic jacet Matilda Westbe quondam uxor Willielmi Westbe qui obiit xiii. die mensis Augusti an. dom. mcccclxxxvi. cujus anime, etc. Amen. ✣"

Bartholomew Westby, Baron of the English Exchequer in 1509—"was a Member of the Middle Temple, for the complimentary address to the three members of that house, who were called serjeants in 19 Henry VII., was delivered by him. Three years before, on May 12, 1501, he had been raised to the Bench of the Exchequer as second baron, and he received a new patent on the accession of Henry VIII. In the third year of that reign he and Sir Robert Southwell were appointed general surveyors and approvers of the king's manors, &c. In 1514 he was made one of the 'almess' knights of Windsor, but did not on that account vacate his seat in the exchequer, no new second baron being named till 1521 (Dugdale's Orig. 113; Ashmole's Order of the Garter, 95)."—Vide Foss's 'Biographia Juridica.'

Will of Humphrey Hall, 1641.

In the name of God Amen the nyne and twentyth day of December Anno Domini 1641 and in the seaventeenth yeare of the raigne of our Soveraigne Lord Charles by the grace of God king of England Scotland ffraunce and Ireland defender of the ffaith &c. I Humphrey Hall Citizen and Girdler of London being at the present sicke and weake in body but of perfect mind and memory (praised bee God for the same) doe make and declare this my present Testament conteyning therein my last will in manner and forme followinge That is to say first and principally I comend my sowle into the handes of Almighty God my heavenly ffather and Jesus Christ his only sonne my blessed Saviour and Mediatour by whose precious Passion death and meritts I trust and firmly beleeve to receive full and free pardon and forgivenesse of all my sinnes and lyfe everlastinge. My body I committ to the earth from whence I received the same to bee buryed in decent and Christian man'er wheresoever ytt shall please god to call mee wthout any Costly solemnity to bee vsed. And whereas by deeds bearing date the ffowre and Twentyth day of this instant moneth of December I have assigned and conveyed vnto Richard Bateman William Bateman and Antony Bateman sonnes of the wor^{ll} my good friend Robert Bateman Esq. Chamberlyn of London their Executors and Assignes all my estate and terme of yeares to come to and in those my Two Tennements wth the Appurtennes scituate in the Parishes of St. Nicholas Acon and St. Mary Abchurch London to mee demised by lease by my late ffather John Hall deceased vppon sundry trusts in the sayd deede vnder my hand and Seale expressed and after p'formance and accomplishment thereof then to such vses as I shall lymitt and appoint by my last will and Testament or any other wryting vnder my hand and Seale. I will therefore first that owt of the rents thereof such debts as I shall owe att the time of my decease shalbee payde by my Executors hereafter named. And I doe hereby give appointe and bequeath vnto my sayd deare and lovinge freindes Richard Bateman William Bateman and Anthony Bateman sixe poundes therteene shillinges and ffowre pence a peece to buy each of them a peece of plate in Remembrance of mee. Item I give and appoint vnto my two daughters Elizabeth Barnes and Sarah Griffith ffive poundes a peece in full satisfaction of whatsoever they might cleyme into or ont of my estate. Item I give and appoint unto my deare and lovinge wyfe Mercy Hall the yearely annuity of ffourteene poundes p' Ann' of lawfull money of England to bee yssuinge and goinge yearly forth of the Rents of the sayd two Tenements in London from and after my decease duringe the terme of yeares then to come in my sayd Lease yf she shall soe longe live: the same to bee payd vnto her yearly on the first day of January. Item I give and appointe vnto Mary Townley now the wyfe of Mr. Laurence Townley of Norwich who was heretofore the wyfe of my sonne John Hall (accordinge to and in performauce of my promise and covenant vnto her att her intermaryage wth my sayd sonne) the yearly Rent or Annuitye of Tenne poundes p' Ann' to be allsoe yssuinge and payable to her owt of the Rents and yssues of my sayd two howses duringe the continuance of my Terme and estate therein (yf she shall soe long live) and to bee payd vnto her yearely at Christmas and Midsomer by equall portions And after the decease of the sayd wyfe of Mr. Townley the sayd Tenne poundes p' Ann' to bee payd to my wyfe in increase of her livelihood during her naturall lyfe (yf she doe overlive the sayd Mrs. Townley). And whereas by the Deedes afforesayd vnder my hand and Seale I have appointed moneys to bee raised to purchase ffower and Twenty poundes rent p' Ann' for ever for the use of the poore that shalbee from time to time placed in the Hospitall that I have built att Brandon neare Brandon fferry in Suff. Nowe I doe declare that I have allready purchased six poundes p' Ann' in Brandon for my selfe and my wyfe during owr lives and the lyfe of the longer liver of vs and after our decease to the vse of the Poore of the sayd Hospitall for ever and therefore I appoint the sayd Assignees in the sayd deede named and the Executors or Administrators of the survivors of them by the Remaynder of the Rents of my sayd two Howses in London to raise only soe much money as my purchase landes of Inheritance of the cleare yearly value of eighteene poundes p' Ann' of lawfull money of England to make vpp the sayd poores landes the full value of ffowre and Twenty poundes per ann' to bee disposed and ymployed to the vses followinge that is to say to three poore men and to ffowre widdowes to bee from time to time harboured in the sayd Hospitall fforty shillinges a peece for reparacion of and necessaryes for the Howse three poundes yearly to be layd vpp in a Chest and expended as neede or conveniency shall require Twenty shillinges more to bee spent yearly for intertaynment of the worthy Gent that shall take paynes to repayre to the howse whom I entreate to vouchsafe to survey the same, and to heare and dertermine the differences and disorders amongst those poor people and to take order that noe prophane blasphemer Sabbath breaker Drunkard or ill liver be admitted into or continued in the sayd Howse which sayd Gentleman I desire to bee for the time present and duringe their lives the Right Wor^{ll} Sir Roger North Sir Edmond Mountford and Sir John Heningham Knights and after their decease the three Justices of the Peace being next to the sayd Towne either in Norff. or Suff. and to the Curate ffoure poundes p' ann' and his dwelling for ever. And I will that yf the sayd three poore men and Curate from time to time to bee elected to the sayd howse have wyues then their wyves may come in with them to inhabite but yf any of them doe marry after their cominge in then both they and their wyues to depart and Allsoe yf any widdowe of the Howse doe marry she shall presently depart the howse and both the men and women for marryinge to have noe further benefitt of this my will. And my desire and direction ys that my brother Danyell Hall whom God hath in his mercy chastized by taking from him his estate may duringe his lyfe bee Reader of divine service to the Poore of the sayd Hospitall and to receive his convenient dwelling in the sayd Hospitall with the sayd ffower poundes p' Ann' in money and the benefitt of the ffenns belonging to the sayd Hospitall. And I will that after my death the Ministers of Brandon Wangford and Weeting St. Maryes wth the advice of the Churchwardens of the Parish of Brandon shall from time to time have the nominacon and choyce of the Poore that shalbee placed in the sayd Hospitall except those which shalbee there by mee placed in my lyfetime. And I will that the sayd Assignes doe allowe for vse of the moneys yearly to bee raysed towardes the sayd purchase till the same can bee layd forth after the rate of ffiue poundes per Cent^{m} p' Ann'. And as touching the rest and surplusage of the Rents of the sayd two Howses in London after the payment of my debts Legacyes and ffunerall Chardges and raysing of the said moneys for purchase of the sayd eighteen poundes p' An'um in landes of Inheritance and settling of the same vpon the Poore of the sayd Hospitall in Braadon for ever in such maner as my sayd Trustees or the Executors or Administrators of the Survivour of them shalbee by learned councell advised the Charges whereof I allsoe will to bee borne by and out of the Rents of my sayd twoe Houses in London. And allsoe after my sayd wyfes and M^{rs} Townleys Ann'ity deducted as afforesayd I give and appointe (I say) the rest and residue and surplusage of the sayd Rents of the sayd two Howses (yf and shalbee) vnto and amongst my children Elizabeth Barnes and Sarah Griffith and their children to bee equally devided amongst them. And whereas allsoe I have a share in the Decre obteyned in the Court of Wardes and Liveryes by my selfe and my brother John Hall against James Lawson and John Humphry Proctor for certaine moneys there by us against them recovered I doe nowe give and bequeath my share in the sayd moneys and all the benefitt vppon the sayd suite and Cause accruinge and allsoe all Assurances concerning the same vnto and amongst my Graundchildren the Children of my sayd twoe daughters Elizabeth Barnes and Sarah Griffith to bee equally parted and devided among them. Item I give and bequeath to my sayd deare and lovinge wyfe Mercy Hall all my plate and Howshold stuffe of what kind soever in and aboute my dwellinge Howse att Brandon aforesayd or elsewhere willing and requiring my sayd children having heretofore had and received their full portions and advancement out of my small estate to suffer her peaceably to enioy the same and to content themselves with this my will. And I hereby make ordaine and appoint my sayd deare friendes Richard Bateman William Bateman and Anthony Bateman Executors of this my pressnt Testament and last Will hereby revoking renouncing and makinge voyd all former wills legacyes and bequestes att any time heretofore by mee made and pronouncinge publishinge and declaring this my present Testament to be my last will and none other. And to the poore prisoners in Newgate tenn shillings. Item I give to the poore of the parish of St. Hellen's where I late dwelt twenty shillings. And to the poore of the parishes of St. Botolphes Without Bishopsgate and Aldgate tenn shillings to each parish To be distributed among them by the discrecon of the Churchwardens of the severall parishes aforesaid respectively. Item I give to Doctor Gonge Mr. Byfield of ffulham Mr. Walker Mr. Viners Doctor Clewett and Mr. Joseph Browne Preachers of Gods Word tenn shillings apiece. ItemWhereas I have recovered or am neere upon recovery in the High Court of Chancery of and from my brother in law Sir Martin Lumley a share of the personall estate of my late father in law Sir Martin Lumley deceased which he promised mee vpon my marriage with his daughter my wife and was due by Custome And a share of the personall estate of my Aunt Alice Wooderow deceased Now my will is that my Executor shall prosecute the recovery and receipt of the said shares and each of them And out of the first monies which shall be received out of my said father in law Sir Martin Lumley's estate I will shall be paid and I giue and bequeath vnto the Master Wardens Brethren and Sisters of the fraternity of the virgin Mary of the mistery of the Drapers of London the sume of two hundred pounds to be for ever from time to time lent out and imployed by the said Corporacon of the Drapers (by what name so ever incorporated) and their successors in manner following (that is to say) the said two hundred pounds upon the receipt thereof shall be lent out vpon good security vnto foure young men free of the same company by fiftie pounds in a some to each of them for three yeares gratis and then to be paid in by those fower and lent againe in like manner and for like tyme to fower other young men free of the same company and so from time to time for ever Noe young man to have any part thereof for any more time than three yeares together. Item my will and mind is and I do hereby appoynt that all the residue of the share of my said father in lawe's estate which shall be received over and above the said two hundred pounds And all the share of the estate of my said Aunt Wooderow which shall be received (the charges which shall be expended by my Executor about the recovery and receipt thereof being deducted) shall be parted and divided into two equall moyties or parts one of which moyties I giue and bequeath vnto the said Sara my wife and the other moytie thereof I will shall be divided into seaven equal parts six of which parts I give and bequeath vnto my six children Martin Humfry James Alice Elizabeth and Mary equally among them part and part alike and the other seaventh part which remaines I give and bequeath unto my said wife Sara my said sonne Martin Hall and my said sonn in law Gervas Blackwell upon trust and confidence and to the intent and purpose that they their Executors and Assignes shall dispose of the same and the profitts thereof to and for the good and benefitt of my said daughter Sara during her life and also the remainder thereof after her death in such and the same manner and with the same limitations and cautions in every respect as the share of the residue of my other estate which I have before in this my Will giuen unto them three for the good of my daughter Sara is to be by them disposed and not otherwise nor in any other manner nor to any other persons. And I doe hereby declare that my said daughter Sara hath been fully advanced by me vpon her mariage. Also I declare that what I have given in this my Will to any other of my children is in lew and recompence of whatsoever is or can be pretended to be due or coming unto them from mee or out of my estate or to any of my daughters housbands by the Custome of London or by any engagm't promise or agreem't if any such be And my Will is that every of them shall soe accept and accompt the same and rest satisfied therewith. Item my Will and mind is that if my son James decease before he attaine to the age of one and twenty yeares then his part and share of my estate before in this my Will limitted vnto him shall be and remaine and I giue the same vnto and among all my other children (now living) equally part and part alike. Item I giue devise and bequeath all those my two Mesuages or Tenements set and being in Lumbard Street London the one of them commonly called or knowne by the name or signe of the black swan and the other by the name or Signe of the golden flying horse with theire and either of theire app'tenances (my wives dower thereof only excepted) vnto my said sonn Martin Hall and to the heires males of his body lawfully begotten And for default of such issue then vnto my sonn Humfry Hall and to the heires males of his body lawfully begotten And for default of such issue then vnto my sonn James Hall and to the heires males of his body lawfully begotten And for default of such issue then vnto my fower daughters Sara Alice Elizabeth and Mary equally each of them a fourth part thereof to her and her heires for ever. Item for the full advance of my son James Hall and in recompence of what he may clame out of my estate by the custome of London more than I haue giuen him in this my Will I giue devise and bequeath vnto him my said sonn James and to his heires for ever All that my messuage or tenement now made into two tenements with the gardens thereto belonging or used with theire app'tenances scituate and being in lambe Alley in the parish of St. Botolph w'thout Bishopsgate London now in the tenure of Charles Jaquart Silckstuffe weaver or of his under Tenants out of which also my wife is to have her dower and my will is that my wife shall untill my said sonn James attaine to the age of one and twenty yeares if she live so long be his gardian and receive the rents of the premises divised vnto him towards his education and bringing vp and placing forth. And I do make and ordaine my said sonn Martin Hall sole Executor of this my last Will and Testament. And I entreate and nominate my two brothers in law Sir Martin Lumley Knight and Sir George Garrett Knight to be Overseers of this my Will. And as a small remembrance for theire paines therein to be taken I giue vnto them fifty shillings apeice. And whereas Mr. Dyke and Mr. Houghton haue assigned vnto mee a lease of a Mesuage or Tenem't with th'app'tenances in Newgate Markett now I doe declare that the said Assignm't was and is made and taken in my name in trust by the appoyntm't and for the benefitt of my sonn in law Gervas Blackwell before named And the monies menconed in the said assignm't are properly belonging vnto him And therefore my Will is that my Executor shall dispose of the same as my said sonn Blackwell his Executors or Administrators shall appoynt. Item my Will and mind is that after my wives decease (who is to enioy it for her life) the Messuage or Tenement with th'app'ten'nces in the parish of St. Hellen in London wherein I late dwelt shall goe and remaine vnto my foure daughters Sara Alice Elizabeth and Mary and to theire heires for euer. And I do hereby revoke all former Wills by me made. In witnesse whereof to this my last Will and Testament contained in the five preceding sheets and in this present sheet of written paper I the said John Hall haue sett my hand and seale the day and yeare first before written. p. Item, I doe give unto and amongst twenty poore householders inhabiting within the parish of Saint Peter, wheere I doe now dwell, tenne poundes, that is to say, to every of them tenne shillings a peece. Item, I doe give unto my sonne-in-law John Hall, and unto my daughter

Sara his wiffe, and unto all their children mourneing to weare at my funerall. Item, I doe give to my cozen Juge, and her husband mourneing. Item, I doe give unto Mr. Kerridge and his wife and unto Mr. Hailes and his wife mourning to weare att my funerall. And I doe will that my Executor doe alsoe give unto soe many of their servants as he shall think fitt mourning. Item, I doe give unto Richard Rochdale tenne poundes. And I doe also give him mourning to weare att my funerall. Item, I doe give and bequeath unto ffrauncis Booren the wife of John Booren one Annuity or yearely payment of ffive poundes by the yeare of lawfull money of England for and dureing the terme of the naturall life of her the said ffraunces and to be payed unto her att fower feastes or tearmes in the yeare that is to say Saint Michael th' Archangell the birth of our Lord God Th' annunciacon of our Lady St. Mary the Virgine and the nativity of St. John Baptist by even and equall portions. The first payment thereof to beginne, and be made at that feast of the feasts aforesaid, which shall first and next happen and come after my decease. And I doe alsoe give and bequeath unto Edward Litton one Annuity or yearely payment of three poundes by the yeare for and dureinge the terme of the naturall life of him the said Edward. And I do alsoe give unto Judith Raymond the like Annuity or yearely paymente of three poundes by the yeare for and dureing the terme of the naturall life of her the said Judith and to be payd unto them the said Edward Litton and Judith Raymond severally and respectively in such manner and forme and on such dayes and tymes as I have before herein appoynted the said Annuity of ffive poundes hereby given to the said ffraunces Booren to be payd. The rest and residew of all and every my goodes and Chatells household stuffe plate ready money and personal estate whatsoever I doe give and bequeath unto my sonne and heire Martyn Lumley, and I doe nomynate make and appoynt my said sonne and heire Martin Lumley the full and sole Executor of this my last will and testament. And I do utterly revoke all former wills by mee made and doe publishe and declare this to be my last will and testament. And whereas I the said Sir Martyn Lumley Knight stand seised of an estate in fee simple to me and my heires forever of and in a messuage or tenement with th' appurten'nces wherin I did late inhabitt and dwell scituate and being in the parish of Saint John Evangelist within the city of London, comonly called or knowne by the name or signe of the blacke boy and now or late in the tenure or occupation of George Garrett. My will and my mynd is And I doe hereby give will devise unto the Churchwardens of the parish church of Sainte Hellen in the neare Byshoppes-gate-streete London, and to their successors Churchwardens of the same parish church for ever one Annuity Annuall or yearly rent charge of twenty poundes of lawfull money of England to be issuing goeing out and yearely to be revewed perceived had and taken of out and uppon the foresaid messuage or Tenement with the appvrten'nce scituate and being in the parish of Saint John Evangelist aforesaid, by the churchwardens of the said parish Church of Saint Hellen for the tyme being forever att the two most usuall feasts or tearmes in the yeare that is to say the birth of our Lord God and th'annunciac'on of our Lady Saint Mary the Virgin or within thirty dayes next and im'ediatly ensuing after either of the said ffeast dayes by even and equall portions. The first payment thereof to beginn and be made at that feast of the feasts aforesaid which shall first and next happen and come after my decease or within thirty dayes next ensueing the same feast daye vpon special trust and confidence which I have and doe repose in them and to this end and purpose for the establishing and setling of a lecture or a sermon forever to be preached within the said parish church of Saint Hellene upon the Tuesday in every weeke weekly and in the evening of the same day from the feast day of Saint Michael th' Archangell unto the feast day of th'annunciacon of our blessed Lady Saint Mary to the honour and glory of God and comfort of the Auditory. And I doe further will and devise that the Churchwardens of the said parish church of Saint Helline and their Successors Churchwardens of the said parish Church for the tyme being shall forever pay the same Annuity Annuall or yearely rent chardge of twenty po'nds alwayes att the said ffeast dayes of the Birth of our Lord God, and th' Annunciac'on of our blessed Lady Saint Mary the Virgine, or within thirty dayes next ensueing the same feast dayes by equall and even portions unto a good and Godly religious divine in considerac'on of his paynes to be taken in preaching of a Sermon or Lecture within the said parish Church of Sainte Heline alwayes on the Tuesday in every weeke and in the evening of the same day from the feast day of Sainte Michael th' Archangell unto the feast of th'annunciacon of our blessed Lady the Virgin Mary for ever. The said Sermon or Lecture alwayes to beginne about ffive of the clocke in the evening of the same day. And I do further will and devise, that my said sonne Martyn Lumley and his heires, and the heires of such heires, shall and may have full power and authority in him and themselves forever in the preferring and placeinge of a sufficient divine to preach and p'forme the said sermon or lecture and from tyme to tyme soe often and when as the same shalbe come voyd And likewise for y^e^ displacing of any such preacher soe to be admitted upon a iust and lawfull cause. And if it shall soe happen the said place of a Preacher or Lecturer to become void at any tyme during the minority of any said heire which I have in and by this last will and testament expressed and appoynted to have the preferring and placeing of one for performance thereof, then my will and meaning is that the guardian of such heire, which by the intent of this my last will and testament herein sett downe ought to have the placeing of a preacher to preach the said sermon or lecture (if he were at full age) shall and may dureing the minority of such heire and continuance of his guardianship and for noe more nor longer tyme by and with the consent of the Churchwardens of the said parish Church of St. Hellin have the preferring and placeing of a preacher to performe the said exercise within the Church aforesaid in such manner as is before declared and displaceing vpon iust cause. And if it shall happen the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charge of twenty poundes, or any part thereof to be behinde and vnpayd in p'te or in all by the space of thirty dayes next over or after any feast day for payment thereof alone lymitted in such as aforesaid the same ought to be payd that then and from thence forth it shall and may be lawfull vnto and for the Churchwardens of the said parish Church of Saint Helline for the tyme being and their successors Churchwardens of the said parish Church into and vpon the said messuage or tenement with th' appurten'nce and into and vpon every or any parte or parcell therof to enter and there to distrayne as well for the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charge of twenty poundes soe often and when as the same or any parte of the arreare be behinde and unpaid with the arrearayes therof (if any shall be). And the distresse and distresses there had and taken lawfully to beare and carry away and the same with him and them to detayne and keepe vntill such tyme as they shalbe of the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent chardge of twenty poundes with the arrearayes therof (if any shall be) fully satisfied and paid. Item, I doe give and bequeath vnto the Churchwardens of the said p'ish church of Saint Helline and to their Successors Churchwardens of the said p'ish churche forever one other Annuity Annuall or yearely rent chardge of ffower poundes of lawfull money of England by the yeare to be likewise issuing and going out and yearely to bee received p'ceived had and taken of in and upon and out of the foresaid messuage or tenement with the appurten'ncy scituate and being in the parish of Saint John Evangelest aforesaid, by the Churchwardens of the said p'ish church of Saint Helline for the tyme being forever at two most usuall feasts or termes in the year, that is to say, the birth of our Lord God and th'annunciacon of our blessed Lady the Virgine Mary or within thirty dayes next and im'ediatly ensuing after either of the said feast dayes by even and equall porc'ons. The first payment therof to beginne and be made at that feast of the feasts afores[d] which shall first and next happen and come after my decease or within thirty dayes next ensuing the same feast day vpon this farther trust and confidence w'ch I have and doe repose in the said Churchwardens and to this end and purpose that is to say, that the Churchwardens of the said parish Church of Saint Helline shall yearely forever distribute and give the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charge of ffower poundes p. Annum unto and amongest the poore householders inhabiting within the said p'ish of Saint Helline such as the Churchwardens of the same parish shall in their discrecons thinke fitt to bestow the same and to be distributed and given att the feasts of the birth of our Lord God and th'annunciac'on of our Lady Saint Mary the Virgin by equall and even portions. And if it shall happen the said Annuity Anuuall or yearely rent chardge of ffower poundes or any parte thereof to be behinde and unpaid in p'te or in all by the said space of thirty dayes next over or after any feast day for payment therof above lymitted in w'ch as aforesaid the same ought to be paid that then and from thenceforth it shall and may be lawfull unto and for the Churchwardens of the parish Church of Saint Helline for the tyme beinge and their Successors churchwardens of the said p'ish church into and upon the said messuage or tenement with th'appurten'nces and into and vpon every or any part or parcell therof to enter, and then and there to distraine as well for the said Annuity Annuall or [yearely] rent chardge of ffower poundes soe often and when as the same or any part therof shall arreare be behinde and unpayd with the arrearayes (therof if any shall be). And the distresse and distresses there had and taken lawfully to beare and carry away and same with him and them to detayne and keepe untill such tyme as they shall be of the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charg of ffower poundes with the arrearayes therof (if any shalbe) fully satisfied and payd. Item, I give and bequeath unto my daughter Sarah Hall the wife of John Hall for and during the terme of the naturall life of her the said Sarah one Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charge of one hundred poundes by the yeare of lawfull money of England to be issuing and yearely to be received perceived had and taken by the said Sarah Hall and her assignes for and during the terme of her naturall life of in upon and out of all that the mannour Lordshipp cheife messuage and Grange called or knowne by the name of Middlehoo al's Medlow or Midlowe and ffarme and pasture called Mulshoo alias Moulsoo in the County of Hunt[d] and of in upon and out of all and singular messuages lands meadowes pastures arrable grounds woods hereditaments and appurten'nces whatsoever to the said Mannor and farme and other the premisses aforesaid or to either or any of them belonging or appertayning or of in upon or out of any part or parcell therof att two ffeasts or termes in the yeare that is to say att the ffeasts of Saint Michael th'archangell and th'annunciac'on of our Lady Saint Mary the Virgin or within thirty dayes next ensuing the same feast dayes by even and equall portions. The first paym[t] therof to beginne and be made att that feast of the feasts aforesaid w[ch] shall first and next happen and come after my decease or within thirty dayes next ensuing the same day. And if itt shall happen the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charge of one hundred poundes or any part therof to be behinde and unpayed in part or in all by the said space of (sic) dayes next over or after any feast day for payment there of above lymitted in which as aforesaid the same ought to be payd that then and from thenceforth itt shall and may be lawfull vnto and for the said Sarah Hall and her assignes into and upon the said Mannour Messuage and Grange landes meadows pastures woodes wood groundes ffarme and pasture and other the premisses aforesaid with th'appurten'nces to the said Mannor and farme of pasture appertayning and belonging and into every or any parte or parcell therof to enter and thereto to destrayne as well for the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charge of one hundred poundes soe often and when as the same or any part therof shall arreare be behinde and unpayd with the arrearayes therof (if any shall be). And the distresse and distresses there had and taken to impound cary and drive away detayne and keepe untill such tyme as shee the said Sarah Hall and her assignes shall be of the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charge of one hundred poundes with the arrearayes therof (if any shall be) fully satisfied and payd. And it is the true intent and meaning of mee the said Sir Martyn Lumley Knight And I doe give and bequeath the said Annuity Annuall or yearely rent charge of one hundred poundes unto my said daughter Sarah Hall the wife of the said John Hall with uppon and under this condic'on That if the said Sara Hall or the said John Hall her now husband or any other person or persons which the said Sarah Hall shall happen to marry and to take to her husband in case the said John Hall her now husband shall happen to decease, or any of them shall att any tyme
